DEDICATION.

To the Holiness People in all lands, regardless of nationality, race, color, sect, or creed, we lovingly and joyfully dedicate this translation, along with the nineteen books which have preceded it, all telling people how to be saved and to save others.

W. B. GODBEY.

PROLOGUE.

I GRADUATED from college in 1859. The same year is quite memorable in the history of Biblical criticism in the discovery of the Sinaic Manuscript in the convent of St. Catharine, on that notable mountain, by Dr. Tischendorf, the learned German critic, after spending forty years searching through Bible lands for everything competent to throw light on the blessed Scriptures, which suffered so much interpolation and omission, especially during the Dark Ages, when not one man in a thousand could read or write and the world was filled with violence and beclouded with ignorance and superstition, with no cessation of the flowing blood and consuming fires, which everywhere hounded the saints of God to martyrdom and heaven.

Very soon after this glorious discovery the Lord permitted a copy of the critical Greek Testament, founded on the Sinaic manuscript, by Tischendorf, to reach me. I have been reading it ever since. I suppose it has never been published out of Germany. Since the death of Tischendorf, Westcott and Hort have published his Testament under their own names. I have been reading the New Testament in Greek more than forty years; during the last twenty-five years making no use of any other. When Bishop McTyeire, in 1884, put me in the evangelistic work, I soon found myself in great camp-meetings in the summer and the cities in the winter, surrounded by the Lord's people of all denominations, listening, spellbound, to the exposition of the Scriptures from the original Greek. Soon they began to solicit me to translate the beautiful, inspired original into the plain diction of the current English, giving them the benefit of my opportunities to understand the real meaning of the precious Word. More than twenty years I waived these solicitations, feeling my unworthiness and shrinking from the responsibility. Finally the pressure seemed to become irresistible. From ocean to ocean my daily Bible readings were vocal with importunate clamors for me to translate the blessed Word. This is my only apology in the case. The matter reached a climax where I feared to resist lest I might grieve the Holy Spirit, and after all the maxim "Vox populi, vox Dei,—the voice of the people, the voice of God," might turn out to be true, and I would make a sad mistake by neglecting an opportunity to glorify Him.

1. Let me here say, once for all, I have neither the desire nor the expectation that this translation shall supersede your good Old English Bible; but, like the Revised Version and other translations, help you to understand it. It is said that two thousand mistakes have been found in the English Version, of which nine hundred and four are corrected in the Revised Version. These errors, in the vast majority, are of no importance; and really none of them affect any cardinal truth of God's Word. These errors are divisible into two general classes; i. e., the omissions and the interpolations, of which the latter are by far the more important.

2. THE OMISSION. The tendency on the part of transcribers during the intervening ages has never been to omissions, but to interpolations. I Thess. iv, 1: "Therefore, brethren, finally let us beseech and exhort you through the Lord Jesus, that as you receive from us how it behooves you to walk about and please God, as you do also walk, in order that you may abound more and more." In this verse, in some way the important clause, "as you do also walk," was dropped out, and does not appear in the English Version, but was restored in the Revised Version. It is of infinite value, as it settles the controversy in reference to the Thessalonians, establishing the fact that they were not in a backslidden state, but well up in justification when they got sanctified. I Peter ii, 2: "As newly born babes desire the pure milk of the Word, that they may grow thereby unto salvation." In this verse cis sooteerian was omitted by some careless transcriber. It is very important, showing up the fact that even after entire sanctification, follows the growth period, developing into the final salvation of glorification.

3. INTERPOLATION. N. B.—In the following translation none of the interpolations will appear. They are all given in the Revised Version, and marked as interpolations. As I have nothing before me but the inspired original, which is precisely what the Lord gave us, I do not feel that He wants me to give you anything else. The translators of the Revised Version followed the Sinaic Greek, by Tischendorf, as I do, which contains none of the errors. Consequently they did not get them out of the original Greek, which they followed, but copied them from the English Version, retaining them by way of accommodation to the readers. I proceed now to notice a few of the most prominent interpolations; as you must remember that we will not give any of them in the following translations, as I feel the Lord wants me to give you His Word and nothing else.

a. The largest interpolation is found in Mark xvi, 9–20, including twelve verses, at the conclusion of this Gospel, which winds up with the eighth verse. Of course no one knows who wrote these twelve verses. It is certain Mark never wrote them, as they do not appear in his Gospel. Besides they have internal evidence against the authorship of Mark, containing seventeen words which do not elsewhere appear in Mark's Gospel. Again, Mark is a very plain writer, this is turgid and grandiloquent. Some think that the martyrdom of Peter, who is said to have dictated Mark's Gospel, stopped it abruptly at verse 8, and some other person finished it. Others have supposed that the death of Mark produced the cessation. You observe, upon a brief analysis, that this interpolation contains nothing which is not repeatedly given in other Scriptures, except the drinking of poison and handling serpents, which you will doubtless feel relieved to think are no part of the inspired Word.

b. John viii, 1–11, does not appear in the original. It contains nothing but the account of the adulterous woman, and was doubtless inserted by a corrupt clergy after the apostasy of the Church, by way of apology for sin.

c. Acts viii, 37. This verse, containing the eunuch's confession, is not in the original. It so happens that we know how it originated. Erasmus, a learned contemporary of Martin Luther, while transcribing the Greek Testament, studying over it, concluded that the connection required a confession here. Consequently, supposing some careless transcriber had left it out, he composed that verse according to his own godly judgment and inserted it. The subsequent discovery of older manuscripts, none of which contained it, established the fact that the good man was mistaken and it was no part of the original.

d. Acts xv, 34, which simply states that "Silas remained," is not in the original. When Silas and Judas, who were sent by the Jerusalem council along with Barnabas and Paul, to carry the apostolical decrees to Antioch, and verse 33, "And having spent the time, they were sent away with peace, by the brethren, to those who sent them." Now the simple fact is, that the narrative goes on to speak of Paul and Barnabas separating, and going out in two evangelistic bands instead of one; some transcribers concluded because Silas went away with Paul on that great tour into Europe, that he did not return to Jerusalem with Judas, bearing the report to the apostles. Hence the interpolator ventured to improve the Scripture, as he thought, by stating that "Silas remained." The solution of the matter is, Paul delayed at Corinth till Silas had time to go to Jerusalem and return.

e. 1 John v, 7. "For there are three that bear witness in heaven: the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost." This verse is not in the original. Of course it is true. We are not making inquiry about what is true and in harmony with the Scriptures; but what is Scripture. This verse contains the three heavenly witnesses. There is no doubt but it was invented and inserted by the Trinitarians, during the great controversy with the Arians, in order to sustain the Bible doctrine of the Trinity. They made a mistake, as we have no right to add anything to the Bible, even to sustain the most important truth. God made the Bible, and put everything in it which ought to be there. This is one case where sectarian zeal went too far, and added a verse to the Bible.

f. 1 Thess. iv, 3. "For this is the will of God, your sanctification." The English Version says "even" your sanctification, inserting an adverb of surprise, as if sanctification was not for everybody, but only a favorite saint here and there.

g. 1 Cor. xiii, 5. "Divine love is not provoked." The English Version here has the adverb "easily," which is not in the original. It is said that the translators inserted that word to save the Christian character of King James, who had a very high temper. You see it softens that which God made hard, and smoothes that which God made rough; thus letting down God's standard of Christianity to the level of human infirmity. We might pursue this catalogue of interpolations more extensively, but this is enough to illustrate the matter. Suffice it to say that when you want the errors which occur so frequently in the English Version, you will have to go thither and read them; as in the following translation we do not feel that the Lord wants us to devote any time to them. We have enough to do to translate His precious Word.

4. I am well apprised that some good, honest people will censure me, and, perhaps, severely, for violating the last solemn warning that God gave us in the Bible, Rev. xxii, 18, 19, in which terrible woes are pronounced on the man who adds to the Word or takes from it. Of course, all of these criticisms will simply come by the way of ignorance. Many people are so ignorant that they actually look upon the English Bible as the original, and think every conceivable deflection from it to involve the party in the awful guilt of "adding to" or "taking from" God's Word.

N. B.—Your Bible was all written by infallible inspiration, in languages unknown to the English-speaking millions of this continent and the British Empire. Therefore the people are dependent on translators to bring the Scripture within the sphere of their investigation. The English Version was translated in 1611, almost three hundred years ago. Consequently the language has undergone many changes, actually doubling its vocabulary in this time; besides many words have become obsolete, and others have turned a literal summersault, reversing their meaning. I believe, by the help of the blessed Holy Spirit, that we will, in the good providence of God, give you the plainest, most literal and luminous translation there is in print. We are living in the last days, when the battle with sin and Satan is waxing hot, and in this eleventh-hour movement of the gospel dispensation, we no longer need preachers by dozens, scores, hundreds, and thousands, but by millions, to flood the heathen world with light, truth, and holiness, and inundate the globe with salvation. In this translation I respond to the clamor of the thousands who, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, have heard the translation and exposition of the New Testament, and in whose ears the bells of heaven are ringing and the bugle notes sounding, calling them to the front to preach the everlasting gospel, evangelize the globe, and hasten the coming of the Lord. As they will never read the Greek we are doing our utmost to bring it to them in the beautiful, copious, and versatile English language.

HARMONY. While the harmonization of the Gospels adds labor to us, it will be of incalculable utility to the reader, doubling the actual value of the book. Many years I have been constantly reading the Gospels of our Lord in the Greek harmony, by E. Robinson. So you will find it intensely interesting and valuable in the intelligent understanding and appreciation of our Lord's ministry.

PART I.

EVENTS CONNECTED WITH THE BIRTH AND CHILDHOOD OF OUR LORD.

TIME: About Thirteen Years and a Half.

§ 1. PREFACE TO LUKE'S GOSPEL.

Luke 1. 1-4.

INASMUCH as many took it in hand to present a history concerning these things which have been fulfilled among us, ²as those being eyewitnesses and ministers of the Word have delivered unto us; ³it seemed good to me also, having followed carefully all things from the beginning, to write unto thee consecutively, O most noble Theophilus, ⁴in order that thou mayest know the certainty of the words concerning which thou hast been instructed.

§ 2. AN ANGEL APPEARS TO ZACHARIAS—at Jerusalem.

Luke 1. 5-25. ⁵There was in the days of Herod, the king of Judea, a certain priest, by name Zacharias, of the course of Abijah, and his wife of the daughters of Aaron, and her name Elizabeth. ⁶And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord, blameless. ⁷And there was no child to them, as Elizabeth was barren, and both were advanced in their days. ⁸And it came to pass, while he was officiating in the order of his course before God, (according to the custom of the priesthood he was chosen by lot to offer incense), having gone into the temple of the Lord; ¹⁰and all the multitude of the people were praying without at the hour of incense; ¹¹the angel of the Lord appeared unto him standing on the right hand of the altar of incense: ¹²and Zacharias was troubled seeing him, and fear fell on him. ¹³And the angel said to him; Fear not, Zacharias; because thy prayer has been heard, and thy wife Elizabeth shall bring forth a son to thee, and thou shalt call his name John. ¹⁴And there shall be joy and rejoicing, and many shall rejoice at his birth. ¹⁵For he shall be great before the Lord; and he shall not drink wine and strong drink; and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost^a even from the womb of his mother. ¹⁶And he will turn many of the sons of Israel to the Lord, their God. ¹⁷And he will go before Him in the spirit and ^apower of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient unto the understanding of the righteous, to prepare a people made ready for the Lord. ¹⁸And Zacharias said to the angel: According to what shall I know this? for I am old and my wife advanced in her days. ¹⁹And the angel responding said to him; I am Gabriel standing in the presence of God, and am sent to speak to you and to preach to you these things. ²⁰And behold thou shalt be dumb and unable to speak, unto the day upon which these things may take place; because thou didst not believe my words, which shall be fulfilled in their time. ²¹And the people were waiting for Zacharias, and were wondering because he tarries in the temple. ²²And having come out he was unable to speak to them; and they recognized that he had seen a vision in the temple; and he was beckoning to them and remained dumb. ²³And it came to pass when the days of his ministry were fulfilled, he went away to his own house. ²⁴And after these days Elizabeth, his wife, conceived, and hid herself five months, saying, ²⁵That the Lord so hath done unto me, in the days in which He condescended to take away my reproach among men.

‡ 3. AN ANGEL APPEARS TO MARY.—Nazareth.

Luke 1. 26-38. ²⁶And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God to a city of Galilee, to which was the name ²⁷Nazareth, to a virgin betrothed to a man, to whom was the name Joseph of the house of David; and the name of the virgin was Mary. ²⁸And the angel having come to her said; Hail, thou blessed one; the Lord is with thee; blessed art thou among women. ²⁹And she seeing was troubled over his word, and was reasoning what kind this salutation might be. ³⁰And the angel said to her; Fear not, Mary; for thou didst find favor with God. ³¹And behold, thou shalt conceive and bear a son, and thou shalt call His name Jesus. ³²He shall be great and shall be called the Son of the Highest; and the Lord God shall give unto Him the throne of His father David: ³³and He shall reign over the house of Jacob forever, and of His kingdom there shall be no end. ³⁴And Mary said to the angel; How shall this be, since I know not man? ³⁵And the angel responding said to her; The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee; therefore, indeed, that holy thing that is begotten shall be called the Son of God. ³⁶And behold Elizabeth thy kinswoman, indeed, herself having conceived a son in her old age; and this is the sixth month, to her who is called barren. ³⁷Because no word shall be impossible with God. ³⁸And Mary said; Behold the handmaiden of the Lord; may it be done unto me according to thy word. And the angel went away from her.

‡ 4. MARY VISITS ELIZABETH.—Jutta.

Luke 1. 39-56. ³⁹And Mary, rising, departed into the mountainous land, with haste, into a city of Judah. ⁴⁰And she came into the house of Zacharias and saluted Elizabeth. ⁴¹And it came to pass when Elizabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the infant in her womb leaped; and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy ^aSpirit; and she spoke with a loud voice and said; ⁴²Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb. ⁴³And whence is this to me that the mother of my Lord may come unto me? ⁴⁴For behold when the voice of your salutation came into my ears, the infant in my womb leaped with joy. ⁴⁵And blessed is she that believeth, because there shall be a perfection to those things having been spoken to her by the Lord. ⁴⁶And Mary said; My soul doth magnify the Lord, ⁴⁷and my spirit rejoices in God my Saviour, ⁴⁸because He looked upon the low state of his handmaiden. ⁴⁹For behold from now all generations call me blessed; because the Mighty One did great things unto me, and His name is holy; ⁵⁰and His mercy unto generation of generations to them that fear Him. ⁵¹He wrought power by his own arm; he dispersed the proud in the thought of their heart. ⁵²He cast down the mighty from thrones and exalted the humble. ⁵³He filled the poor with good things, and sent away the rich empty. ⁵⁴He delivered his son Israel, to remember mercy, ⁵⁵as he spoke to our fathers, to Abraham and his seed forever. ⁵⁶And Mary remained with her about three months, and returned to her own house.

‡ 5. BIRTH OF JOHN THE BAPTIST.—Jutta.

Luke 1. 57-80. ⁵⁷And the time of her parturition was fulfilled unto Elizabeth and she brought forth a son. ⁵⁸And the neighbors and her relatives heard, that the Lord was magnifying His mercy with her, and they continued to rejoice with her. ⁵⁹And it came to pass on the eighth day, they came to circumcise the little child; and they were calling him Zacharias, after the name of his father. ⁶⁰And his mother responding said; No, but he shall be called John. ⁶¹And they said to her; That there is no one among thy kindred who is called by this name. ⁶²And they were beckoning to his father, what he might wish to call him. ⁶³And having asked for a writing tablet, he wrote saying; His name is John. ⁶⁴And all marveled. And his mouth immediately opened and his tongue loosed, and he continued to speak, praising God. ⁶⁵And fear came upon all of those dwelling around; and all these words were spoken abroad in all the mountainous regions of Judea. ⁶⁶And all those hearing placed them in their heart, saying; What then shall this little child be? And the hand of the Lord was with him.

⁶⁷And Zacharias his father was filled with the Holy Ghost, and prophesied saying; ⁶⁸Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, because He looked upon us and wrought redemption to His people, and raised up unto us a horn of salvation ⁶⁹in the house of David His son. ⁷⁰As he spoke through the mouth of His holy prophets from the beginning; ⁷¹salvation from our enemies, and from the hand of all those who hate us, ⁷²to execute mercy with our fathers, and remember His holy covenant, ⁷³the oath which He swore to Abraham our father: ⁷⁴to grant unto us, having been delivered out of the hand of our enemies, to serve Him without fear, ⁷⁵in holiness and righteousness before Him all the days of our life. ⁷⁶And thou, little child, shall be called a prophet of the Highest; for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare His ways, ⁷⁷to give knowledge of salvation to His people in remission of their sins, ⁷⁸through the bowels of mercy of our God, in which the dayspring from on high looked upon us, ⁷⁹to appear unto those sitting in darkness and in the shadow of death, to direct our feet in the way of peace. ⁸⁰And the little child continued to grow and waxed strong in spirit; and was in the ^adeserts until the day of his showing unto Israel.

§ 6. AN ANGEL APPEARS TO JOSEPH.—Nazareth.

Matt. 1. 18-25. ¹⁸The birth of Jesus Christ was thus: His mother Mary, having been betrothed to Joseph, before they came together, was found having gestation from the Holy Ghost. ¹⁹And Joseph her husband, being righteous and not wishing to expose her publicly, determined to send her away secretly. ²⁰And he meditating on these things, behold an angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying; Joseph, son of David, do not fear to receive Mary thy wife; for that which is begotten in her is of the Holy Spirit; ²¹she shall bring forth a son; and thou shalt call his name Jesus; for He will save His people from their sins. ²²And all this took place in order that the Word, having been spoken by the Lord through the prophet, might be fulfilled, saying; ²³Behold, the virgin shall have gestation and bring forth a son, and they will call his name Emmanuel, which is interpreted, God is with us.

²⁴And Joseph rising from sleep did as the angel of the Lord commanded him; ²⁵and he took his wife to himself, and did not know her until she brought forth a son, and called his name Jesus.

§ 7. THE BIRTH OF JESUS.—Bethlehem.

Luke 2. 1-7. ¹It came to pass in those days, a decree went out from Augustus Cæsar, to enroll all the world. ²This was the first enrollment, Cyrenius being governor of Syria. ³And all were going forth to enroll, each one into his own city. ⁴And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city Nazareth, into Judea, into the city of David which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and family of David, ⁵to enroll himself along with Mary, the wife having been betrothed to him, being in an advanced state of pregnancy. ⁶And it came to pass while they were there the days of her parturition were fulfilled. ⁷And she brought forth her firstborn son, and she wrapped Him in swaddling clothes and laid Him in a manger, because there was no place for them in the inn.

‡ 8. AN ANGEL APPEARS TO THE SHEPHERDS.—Near Bethlehem.

Luke 2. 8-20. ⁸And the shepherds were in that country, tenting out and keeping guard over their flock by night. ⁹And behold an angel of the Lord stood over them and the glory of the Lord shone around them; and they feared with great fear. ¹⁰And the angel said to them; Fear not; for behold, I preach unto you the gospel of great joy, which shall be to all people; ¹¹because this day a Savior is born unto you, who is Christ the Lord, in the city of David. ¹²And this shall be the sign unto you; you shall find an infant lying in a manger, wrapped in swaddling clothes. ¹³And immediately a multitude of the heavenly host was with the angel, praising God and saying; ¹⁴Glory to God in the highest, and peace on earth; good among men. ¹⁵And it came to pass, when the angels departed from them into heaven, indeed, the shepherds said to one another; Now let us go unto Bethlehem and see this word which has taken place, which the Lord made known to us. ¹⁶They went making haste, and found both Mary and Joseph, and the infant lying in the manger. ¹⁷And seeing, they made known concerning the word which was spoken to them about this little child. ¹⁸And all hearing wondered concerning the things which were spoken to them by the shepherds. ¹⁹And Mary kept all these words laying them up in her heart. ²⁰And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God, for all things which they heard and saw, as it was spoken to them.

‡ 9. CIRCUMCISION OF JESUS.—Bethlehem.

Luke 2. 21And when the eight days of ^acircumcising Him were fulfilled, and His name was called Jesus, having been called by the angel before He was conceived in the womb.

PRESENTATION OF JESUS IN THE TEMPLE.—Jerusalem.

Luke 2. 22-38. ²²And when the days of their ^bpurification were fulfilled, according to the law of Moses, they carried him up into Jerusalem, ²³to present him to the Lord, as it was written in the law of the ^cLord; ²³That every male opening the womb shall be called holy to the Lord; ²⁴and to offer a sacrifice according to that which has been written in the law of the ^dLord, a pair of turtle-doves, or two young pigeons. ²⁵And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem whose name was Simeon; and the same man was righteous and godly, awaiting the consolation of Israel, and the Holy Spirit was on him; ²⁶and it was revealed unto him by the Holy Spirit, that he should not see death before he may see the Christ of the Lord. ²⁷And he came in the Spirit into the temple; and while the parents are bringing in the little child Jesus, that they may do according to the provisions of law concerning Him, ²⁸he received Him into his arms and blessed God and said; ²⁹Now, O Lord, thou art letting thy servant depart in peace according to thy word; ³⁰because mine eyes saw thy salvation, ³¹which thou didst prepare before the face of all peoples; ³²a light unto the revelation of the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel. ³³And His father and His mother were marveling at the words spoken concerning Him. ³⁴And Simeon blessed them and said to Mary, His mother; Behold, he is appointed unto the fall and rising of many in Israel, and unto a sign which is spoken against; ³⁵and a sword shall go through thy soul, in order that the reasonings of many hearts may be revealed. ³⁶And Anna was a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel of the tribe of Asher, herself being advanced in many days, having lived with her husband seven years from her virginity; ³⁷and she a widow of about fourscore years, who did not depart from the temple, worshiping night and day with fastings and prayers. ³⁸And she, at the same hour, standing up continued to praise the Lord, and speak concerning Him to all those awaiting the redemption in Jerusalem.

ship Him. ³And Herod the king having heard, was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him, ⁴and gathering together all the chief priests and scribes, inquired with them where Christ should be born. ⁵And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea; for thus it has been written by the ^aprophet; ⁶And thou, Bethlehem, the land of Judea, art by no means the least among the princes of Judah; for out of thee shall come a leader, who will shepherd my people, Israel. ⁷Then Herod secretly calling the wise men, inquired with them the time of the appearing of the star, ⁸and sending them to Bethlehem he said; Having gone search diligently for the young child; and when you may find Him, notify me, in order that I, having gone, may worship Him also. ⁹And hearing the king they departed, and, behold, the star which they saw in the east went before them, until having come, it stood above where the young child was. ¹⁰And seeing the star they rejoiced with exceedingly great joy. ¹¹And having come into the house they saw the young child with Mary His mother, and having fallen down they worshiped Him, and opening their treasures they offered Him gifts, gold and frankincense and myrrh. ¹²And having been warned in a dream not to return to Herod, they departed into their own country by another way.

§ 11. THE FLIGHT INTO EGYPT. HEROD'S CRUELTY.—Bethlehem.

Matt. 2. 13-23. ¹³And they having gone away, behold, the angel of the Lord appears in a dream to Joseph, saying; Having arisen, take the young child and His mother, and fly into Egypt; and be thou there until I may speak to thee; for Herod is about to seek the young child in order to destroy Him. ¹⁴And having arisen, he took with him the young child and His mother by night and departed into Egypt; ¹⁵and was there until the death of Herod: in order that the Word, having been spoken by the Lord through the prophet, might be fulfilled, ^bsaying; Out of Egypt have I called my son. ¹⁶Then Herod, seeing that he was mocked by the wise men, became exceedingly angry; and having sent forth, he slew all the children in Bethlehem and in all its boundaries, from two years old and under, according to the time which he inquired with the wise men. ¹⁷Then the word having been spoken by Jeremiah the prophet was fulfilled, ^csaying: ¹⁸A voice was heard in Ramah, lamentation and weeping and great mourning; Rachel weeping for her children; and was not willing to be comforted, because they are not.

¹⁹And Herod having died, behold, the angel of the Lord appears to Joseph in Egypt in a dream, saying; ²⁰Having arisen, take with you the young child and His mother, and depart into the land of Israel; for those seeking the life of the young child are dead. ²¹And having arisen he took with him the young child and His mother and came into the land of Israel. ²²And having heard that Archelaus reigns over Judea instead of Herod his father, he was afraid to depart thither; and being warned in a dream he departed into the regions of Galilee. ²⁵And having come, he went down into the city called Nazareth, in order that the words spoken by the prophets might be fulfilled, that He shall be called a ^dNazarene.

Luke 2. 39, 40. ³⁹And when they finished all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee into their own city Nazareth. ⁴⁰And the child continued to grow and waxed strong in spirit, being full of wisdom; and the grace of God was on Him.

§ 12. JESUS, TWELVE YEARS OF AGE.—Jerusalem.

Luke 2. 41-52. ⁴¹And His parents were going, according to custom, into Jerusalem at the feast of the passover. ⁴²And when He was twelve years old, they going up to Jerusalem according to the custom of the feast, ⁴³and having completed the days, while they were returning the boy Jesus remained in Jerusalem. And His parents knew it not. ⁴⁴And thinking that He is in the crowd, they came a day's journey, and were seeking Him among His relatives and acquaintances. ⁴⁵And not having found Him, they returned to Jerusalem seeking Him. ⁴⁶And it came to pass, after three days they found Him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, both hearing them and asking them questions. ⁴⁷And all hearing Him were astonished at His wisdom and answers. ⁴⁸And seeing Him they were astonished, and His mother said to Him; Child, why did you thus do unto us? Behold, thy father and I were seeking thee, sorrowful. ⁴⁹And He said to them, Why were you seeking after me? Did you not know that it behooved me to be in the affairs of my Father? ⁵⁰And they did not understand the word which He spoke unto them. ⁵¹And He went down with them and came to Nazareth; and was subject unto them. And His mother continued to keep all these words in her heart. ⁵²And Jesus continued to grow in wisdom and stature and favor with God and men.

13. THE GENEALOGIES.

Matt. 1. 1-17. ¹The book of the generation of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham.

²Abraham begat Isaac; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat Judah and his brothers; ³And Judah begat Phares and Zara from Thamar; and Phares begat Esrom; and Esrom begat Aram; ⁴and Aram begat Aminadab; and Aminadab begat Naasson; and Naasson begat Salmon; ⁵and Salmon begat Booz of Rachab; and Booz begat Obed of Ruth; and Obed begat Jesse; ⁶and Jesse begat David the king; and David the king begat Solomon of her who was the wife of Uriah; ⁷and Solomon begat Roboam; and Roboam begat Abia; and Abia begat Asa; ⁸and Asa begat Josaphat; and Josaphat begat Joram; Joram begat Hozias; ⁹Hozias begat Joatham; and Joatham begat Achaz; Achaz begat Hezekiah; ¹⁰and Hezekiah begat Manasses; and Manasses begat Amon; and Amon begat Josiah; ¹¹and Josiah begat Jechonias and his brothers in the captivity of Babylon. ¹²And after the captivity of Babylon, Jechonias begat Salathiel; and Salathiel begat Zorababbel; ¹³Zorababbel begat Abiud; and Abiud begat Eliakim; and Eliakim begat Azor; ¹⁴and Azor begat Sadoc; and Sadoc begat Acheim; Acheim begat Eliud; ¹⁵and Eliud begat Eleazar; and Eleazar begat Matthan; and Matthan begat Jacob; ¹⁶and Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, from whom Jesus, who is called Christ, was born.

ANNOUNCEMENT AND INTRODUCTION OF OUR LORD'S PUBLIC MINISTRY.

TIME: About One Year.

Luke 3. 1-18.

¹AND in the fifteenth year in the reign of Tiberius Cæsar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and Philip his brother, tetrarch of Ituria and the Trachonitis country, and Lusanius tetrarch of Abilene, during the high-priesthood of Annas ²and Caiaphas, the word of God came to John the son of Zacharias in the wilderness.

Matt. 3. 1-12. ¹In those days comes John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judea, ²saying, Repent ye, for the kingdom of the heavens is at hand. ³This is the one, who is spoken of by Isaiah the prophet "saying,

Mark 1. 1-8. ¹The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God.—⁴John the Baptist came preaching in the wilderness the baptism of repentance unto the remission of sins.—²As has been written in the ^bprophets; Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, who will prepare thy way before thee; ³the voice of one roaring in the wilderness; Prepare ye the way of the Lord; make His paths straight.

³And he came into all the region round about the Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance unto the remissions of sins, ⁴as has been written in the book of Isaiah the prophet, saying;

The voice of one roaring in the wilderness; Prepare ye the way of the Lord; make straight His paths.

The voice of one roaring in the wilderness; Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight His paths. ⁵Every valley shall be filled up and every mountain and hill shall be cut down; and the crooked places shall be straight and the rough ways smooth. ⁶And all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

Matt. 3.

⁴And the same John had his raiment from camel s hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his food was locusts and wild honey. ⁵Then Jerusalem and all Judea, and all the region about the Jordan, were coming out to him, ⁶and were being baptized by him in the Jordan, confessing their sins.

Matt. 3.

⁷And seeing many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said unto them; O generations of vipers, who

Luke 1.

⁷Then he said unto the multitudes coming out to be baptized by him; O generations of vipers, who hath warned you to flee

And he said to them; Oppress no one, neither defraud; and be content with your wages. ¹⁵And the people waiting and all reasoning in their

Matt. 3. 13-17. ¹³Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to Jordan unto John, in order to be baptized by him. ¹⁴And John continued to forbid Him saying, I have need to be baptized by thee, and comest thou unto me? ¹⁵And Jesus responding said to him; Suffer it now; for thus it is becoming us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffers Him. ¹⁶And Jesus having been baptized, came up

⁷And he proclaimed, saying, I indeed baptized you with water; but One cometh after me more powerful than I; the latchet of His sandals I am not worthy, having stooped down, to loose, and He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost.

Spirit in bodily appearance like a dove descended on Him; and there was a voice from heaven, saying; Thou art my beloved Son, I am delighted in Thee.

‡ 16. THE TEMPTATION.—Desert of Judea.

Matt. 4. 1-11. ¹Then Jesus was led up into the wilderness by the Spirit, to be tempted by the devil. ²And having fasted forty days and forty nights, He afterward hungered. ³And the tempter having come to Him, said; If thou art the Son of God, speak in order that these stones may become bread. ⁴And He responding said; It has been written, A man shall not live upon bread alone, but upon every word coming forth through the mouth of God.

⁵Then the devil takes Him into the holy city and stood Him on the pinnacle of the temple, ⁶and says to Him; If thou art the Son of God, cast thyself down; for it has been written, ^bThat He will give His angels charge concerning thee, and upon their hand they will bear thee, lest thou mayest dash thy foot against a stone. ⁷Jesus said to him; Again it has been written,

^cThou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. ⁸Again the devil takes Him into an exceedingly high mountain, and shows Him all the kingdoms of the world and the glory of the same, ⁹and said to Him; All these things will I give unto thee, ¹⁰If having fallen down thou mayest worship me: then Jesus says to him, Get behind me, Satan; for it has been written; Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve. ¹¹Then the devil leaveth Him; and behold, the angels came to Him and continued to minister unto Him.

Mark 1. 12, 13. ¹²And immediately the Spirit casts Him out into the wilderness. ¹³And he was in the wilderness forty days being tempted by Satan, and was with the wild beasts; and the angels continued to minister unto Him.

Luke 4. 1-13. ¹And Jesus, full of the Holy Ghost, returned from the Jordan and was led by the Spirit into the wilderness, tempted by the devil forty days. ²And He ate nothing during those days; and they having been completed, He afterward hungered. ³And the devil said to Him, If thou art the Son of God, speak to this stone, in order that it may become bread. ⁴And Jesus responded to him, saying; ^aIt has been written, That man shall not live upon bread alone, but upon every word of God. ⁵And he led Him into Jerusalem, and placed Him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said to Him, If thou art the Son of God cast thyself down from thence; ¹⁰for it has been written, That He will give His angels charge concerning thee, in order to guard thee, ¹¹and they will bear thee upon their hands, lest at any time thou mayest dash thy foot against a stone.

¹²And Jesus responding said to him; That it has been said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. ⁵And the devil leading Him up, he showed Him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time. ⁶And the devil said to Him, I will give all the authority and glories of these to thee: because it has been given unto me: and I give it to whom I may wish; ⁷then if thou mayest worship before me all shall belong to thee. ⁸And Jesus responding said to him; It has been written, ^dThou shalt worship the Lord thy God and Him only shalt thou serve. ¹³And the devil having perfected every temptation, departed from Him for a season.

§ 17. PREFACE TO JOHN'S GOSPEL.

John i. 1-18. ¹In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. ²The same was in the beginning with God. ³All things were made by Him, and without Him nothing was made, that has been made. ⁴In Him was life, and the life was the light of the men. ⁵And the light shineth in the darkness, and the darkness comprehended it not. ⁶There was a man having been sent from God, whose name was John; ⁷The same came for a witness, that he might bear witness concerning the light, in order that all through him might believe. ⁸He was not the light, but came that he might bear witness concerning the light. ⁹That was the true light, which lighteth every man, coming into the world. ¹⁰He was in the world, and the world was made by Him, and the world knew Him not. ¹¹He came unto His own, and His own received Him not. ¹²But so many as received Him, to them gave He the right to become the children of God, to those believing on His name: ¹³who were born not of bloods, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. ¹⁴The Word was made flesh, and tented among us (and we beheld His glory, the glory as of the only begotten with the Father), full of grace and truth. ¹⁵John beareth witness concerning Him, and cried out saying; This is He of whom I spoke, He that cometh after me has been before me: ¹⁶because He was my Creator. And of His fullness we all received grace upon grace. ¹⁷Because the law was given by Moses; grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. ¹⁸No one has ever seen God; the only begotten Son, the one being in the bosom of the Father, He hath declared him.

§ 18. TESTIMONY OF JOHN THE BAPTIST TO JESUS.—Bethany beyond Jordan.

John i. 19-34. ¹⁹This is the testimony of John when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem, that they might ask him, ²⁰Who art thou? and he confessed that, I am not the Christ. ²¹They asked him, What then? Art thou Elijah? And he says, I am not. Art thou that prophet? ²²And he responded, No. Then they said to him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to those having sent us. What do you say concerning yourself? ²³I am the voice of one roaring in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as Isaiah the prophet^a said. ²⁴And those having been sent were of the Pharisees. ²⁵And they asked him, and said to him, Then why do you baptize, if you are not the Christ, nor Elijah, nor that prophet? ²⁶John responded to them, saying, I baptize with water: there standeth One in your midst whom you do not know, ²⁷the One coming after me, of whom I am not worthy that I may loose the latchet of His sandal. ²⁸These things took place in Bethany beyond the Jordan, where John was baptizing.

²⁹On the following day he sees Jesus coming to him, and says, Behold the Lamb of God, that taketh away the sin of the world. ³⁰This is He concerning whom I spoke, A man cometh after me who has been before me: because he was my Creator. ³¹And I did not know Him, but in order that He may be made manifest to Israel, on this account I came baptizing with water.^b ³²And John testified saying, I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and remained on Him. ³³And I did not know Him, but the One having sent me to baptize with water, He said to me, On whom you may see the Spirit descending and remaining on Him, He is the one baptizing with the Holy Ghost. ³⁴And I have seen, and testified that He is the Son of God.

§ 19. JESUS GAINS DISCIPLES.—The Jordan. Galilee.

John i. 35-52. ³⁵On the following day John again stood, and two of his disciples, ³⁶and looking upon Jesus walking about, says, Behold, the Lamb of God. ³⁷And the two disciples heard him speaking and followed Jesus. ³⁸Jesus turning and seeing them following, says to them, ³⁹What are you seeking? and they said to Him, Doctor, (which is said, being interpreted, Teacher), where dwellest thou? ⁴⁰He says to them; Come and see.

^bMatt. 3. 16; Mark i. 10; Luke 2. 22.

John 1.

Then they came and saw where He dwelleth, and they abode with Him that day: it was about the tenth hour. ⁴¹Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter, was one of the two hearing from John, and follows Him; ⁴²he first finds his own brother Simon, and says to him, We have found Messiah, which is being interpreted, Christ. ⁴³He led him to Jesus. Jesus looking upon him said; Thou art Simon the Son of Jonah, thou shalt be called Cephas (which is interpreted, Peter).

⁴⁴On the following day he wished to depart into Galilee, and he finds Philip. And Jesus says to him; Follow me. ⁴⁵Philip was from Bethsaida, of the city of Andrew and Peter. ⁴⁶Philip finds Nathanael and says to him, We have found Him, of whom Moses and the prophets, in the law, did write, Jesus the son of Joseph, who is from Nazareth. ⁴⁷Nathanael said to him, Is any good thing able to come out of Nazareth? Philip says to him, Come and see. ⁴⁸Jesus saw Nathanael coming to Him, and says concerning him, Behold, an Israelite indeed, in whom there is no guile. ⁴⁹Nathanael says to Him, Whence do you know me? Jesus responded and said to him, Before Philip called you, I saw you, being under the fig-tree. ⁵⁰Nathanael responded, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God, the King of Israel. ⁵¹Jesus responded and said to him, Because I said to thee, that I saw thee under the fig-tree, dost thou believe? thou shalt see greater things than these. ⁵²And He says to him, Truly, truly, I say unto you, you shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.

‡ 20. THE MARRIAGE AT CANA OF GALILEE.

John 2. 1-12. ¹On the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there: ²and Jesus and His disciples were invited to the marriage. ³And they had no wine, because the wine of the marriage was exhausted. Then the mother of Jesus says to Him, There is no wine. ⁴And Jesus says to her, What is that to me and to thee? O woman, my hour is not yet come. ⁵His mother says to the servants, Do whatsoever He may say to you. ⁶And there were six waterpots of stone sitting there according to the purification of the Jews, containing about two or three firkins. Jesus says to them, ⁷Fill the waterpots with water. They filled them to the brim. ⁸And He says to them, Now draw out and carry to the chief ruler of the feast, ⁹and they brought it to him. And when the ruler of the feast tasted the water, having been made wine, and did not know whence it is (but the servants having drawn the water knew), the ruler calls the groom, ¹⁰and says to him, Every man first sets forth the good wine; and when they have drunk freely, the inferior: but thou hast kept the good wine until now. ¹¹Jesus did this, the beginning of miracles, in Cana of Galilee, and manifested His glory; and His disciples believed on Him. ¹²After this He and His mother, and His brothers and His disciples went down into Capernaum, and abode there not many days.

PART III.

OUR LORD'S FIRST PASSOVER AND THE SUBSEQUENT TRANSACTIONS UNTIL THE SECOND.

John 2. 13-25.

A¹³ND the passover of the Jews were nigh, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. ¹⁴And He found in the ^atemple those selling oxen and sheep and doves, and the money-changers sitting: ¹⁵and having made a scourge of cords, He cast all out of the temple, both the sheep and the oxen, and poured out the money of the exchangers, and overturned the tables. ¹⁶And He said to those selling doves; Take these things hence, make not the house of my Father a house of merchandise. ¹⁷And His disciples remembered that it is written, The zeal of thy house doth eat me up. ¹⁸Then the Jews responded and said to Him, What sign do you show us, because you do these things? ¹⁹Jesus responded and said to them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will rear it up. ²⁰Then the Jews said, Forty and six years was this temple being built, and wilt thou rear it up in three days? ²¹But He spoke concerning the temple of His body. ²²Then when He arose from the dead, His disciples remembered that He said these things, and believed the Scripture and words which Jesus spoke.

²³And when He was in Jerusalem at the feast, during the passover, many believed on His name, seeing His miracles which He was doing; ²⁴and Jesus did not intrust Himself to them because He knows all men, ²⁵and because He had no need that any one should witness concerning man; because He was knowing what was in man.

‡ 22. JESUS PREACHES TO NICODEMUS.—Jerusalem.

John 3. 1-21. ¹There was a man of the Pharisees, the name to him Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews; ²the same came to Him by night, and said to Him, Rabbi, we know that thou hast come a teacher from God; for no one is able to do these miracles, which thou art doing, unless God may be with him. ³Jesus responded and said to him, Truly, truly, I say unto thee, unless any one may be born from above, he is not able to see the kingdom of God. ⁴Nicodemus says to him; How is a man able to be born, being old? whether he is able to enter the second time into the womb of his mother, and be born? ⁵Jesus responded, Truly, truly, I say unto thee, Unless any one may be born of water and Spirit, he is not able to enter into the kingdom of the heavens. ⁶That which has been born of the flesh is flesh; and that which has been born of the Spirit is spirit. ⁷Be not astonished because I said to thee; It behooveth you to be born from above. ⁸The Spirit^b breathes on whom He willeth, and thou hearest His voice, but dost not know whence He cometh and whither He goeth; so is every one who has been born of the Spirit.^b ⁹Nicodemus responded and said to Him, How are these things able to be? ¹⁰Jesus responded and said to him, Art thou a teacher of Israel and knowest not these things? ¹¹Truly, truly, I say unto thee, that we speak what we know, and testify what we have seen; and you received not our testimony. ¹²If I spoke to you things upon the earth, and you do not believe, how will you believe, if I speak to you of things in heaven? ¹³No one hath ascended up into heaven, but the one having come down from heaven, the Son of man, who is in heaven. ¹⁴And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, so does it behoove the Son of man to be lifted up: ¹⁵that every one believing in Him may have eternal life. ¹⁶For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that every one believing on Him may not perish but have eternal life. ¹⁷For God sent not His Son into the world that He may condemn the world; but that the world through Him may be saved. ¹⁸He that believeth on Him is not condemned; but he that believeth not, has already been condemned, because he has not believed on the only begotten Son of God. ¹⁹And this is the condemnation, that light has come into the world, and men love darkness rather than light; for their works are evil. ²⁰For every one doing evil hates the light, and does not come to the light, in order that his works may not be convicted; ²¹but every one doing the truth comes to the light, that his works may be made manifest, because they have been wrought in God.

§ 23. JESUS PREACHES IN JUDEA.

John 3. 22-36. ²²After these things Jesus and His disciples came into the Judean country; and there He was tarrying with them and baptizing. ²³And John was also baptizing in Enon near Salim, because there were many waters there: and they came and baptized. ²⁴For John was not yet cast into prison. ²⁵And there was a disputation of the disciples of John, concerning purifying. ²⁶And they came to John, and said to him, Rabbi, He who is with thee beyond the Jordan, to whom thou hast borne witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all are coming to Him. ²⁷John responded and said, No man is able to receive anything, unless it may have been given unto him from heaven. ²⁸You are witnessing to me, that I said, I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before Him. ²⁹The one having the bride is the Bridegroom: but the friend of the Bridegroom is the one standing and hearing him, rejoiceth with joy on account of the Bridegroom: This, my joy has been made complete. ³⁰It behooveth Him to increase, and me to decrease. ³¹He that cometh from above is above all; the one being of the earth is of the earth, and speaks of the earth. The one coming from heaven witnesses what He has seen and heard, and no one receives His testimony. ³²The one having received His testimony hath set his seal, that God is true. ³³For whom God sent speaketh the words of God: for He does not give His spirit by measure. ³⁴The Father loves the Son, and has given all things in His hands. ³⁵He that believes on the Son has eternal life; but he that believeth not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

§ 24. JESUS DEPARTS INTO GALILEE AFTER JOHN'S IMPRISONMENT.

Matt. 4. 12. And Jesus having heard that John was cast into prison, departed into Galilee.

Mark 1. 14. After that John was cast into prison, Jesus came into Galilee.

Luke 4. 14. And Jesus returned in the ^apower of the spirit into Galilee.

Matt. 14. 3-5. ³For Herod having arrested John, bound him, and put him in prison, on account of Herodias the wife of his brother Philip. ⁴For John said to him, It is not lawful for thee to have her. ⁵And wishing to kill him, he feared the multitude, because they esteemed him as a prophet.

Mark 6. 17-20. ¹⁷For Herod himself having sent, arrested John, and bound him in prison on account of Herodias, the wife of his brother Philip: because he married her. ¹⁸For John said to Herod, It is not lawful for thee to have the wife of thy brother. ¹⁹And Herodias hated him, and wished to kill ‡ 25. JESUS PREACHES IN SAMARIA.—Sychar.

John 4. 4-42. ⁴And it behooved Him to go through Samaria. ⁵Then He comes into a city of Samaria, called Sychar, near the place which Jacob gave to his son Joseph. ⁶And the well of Jacob was there. Then Jesus having become weary from the journey, was sitting thus by the well: it was about the sixth hour. ⁷A woman comes from Samaria to draw water. Jesus says to her, Give me to drink. ⁸For His disciples had gone into the city, that they might purchase food. ⁹A Samaritan woman says to Him, How do you, being a Jew, ask to drink from me, being a Samaritan woman? ¹⁰And Jesus responded and said to her, If you knew the gift of God, and the one who is speaking to you, Give me to drink; you would have asked him, and he would have given you living water. ¹¹The woman says to Him, Sir, thou hast no windlass, and the well is deep: whence hast thou living water? ¹²Art thou greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well, and himself and his sons, and his herds, drank of it? ¹³Jesus responded and said to her, Every one drinking of this water shall thirst again: ¹⁴but whosoever may drink of the water that I shall give to him shall never thirst; but the water which I shall give to him shall be in him a well of water springing up unto eternal life. ¹⁵Then the woman says to Him, Sir, give me this water, that I may not thirst, nor come hither to draw. He says to her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither. ¹⁷The woman responded and said, I have no husband. Jesus says to her, Well didst thou say, I have no husband: ¹⁸for thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: thou hast spoken this truly. ¹⁹The woman says to Him, Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet. ²⁰Our fathers worshipped in this mountain; and you say, that in Jerusalem is the place where it behooveth to worship. ²¹Jesus says to her, Believe me, woman, that the hour cometh, you will worship the Father neither in this mountain, nor in Jerusalem. ²²You worship, you know not what: we worship that which we know: because salvation is of the Jews. ²³But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers will worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such worshipping Him. ²⁴God is a Spirit, and it behooveth those who worship Him to worship in spirit and in truth. ²⁵The woman says to Him, I know that Messiah cometh (who is called Christ): when He may come, He will proclaim to us all things. ²⁶Jesus says to her, I who speak to thee am He. ²⁷And at this time His disciples came, and were wondering because He was speaking with the woman; no one said, What seekest thou? or, Why do you speak with her? ²⁸Then the woman left her waterpot, and went away into the city, and says to the men, ²⁹Come hither, see the man who told me all things which I did: Is not He the Christ? ³⁰They came out from the city, and came to Him. ³¹Meanwhile His disciples were asking Him, saying, Master eat. ³²He said to them, I have meat to eat, which you know not. ³³Then His disciples were speaking to one another, Whether has any one brought Him something to eat? ³⁴Jesus says to them, My food is that I may do the will of Him that sent me, and finish His work. ³⁵Do you not say, That it is yet four months, and the harvest cometh? Behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes and see the fields, because they are white unto the harvest ³⁶already. He that reapeth receiveth reward, and gathereth fruit unto eternal life; in order that both the sower and the reaper may rejoice together. ³⁷For in this the word is true, that there is one sowing, and another reaping. ³⁸I have sent you to reap that upon which you have never labored: others have labored, and you have entered into their labor. ³⁹But many of the Samaritans from that city believed on Him through the word of the woman, testifying that, He told me all things which I did. Then when the Samaritans came to Him they asked Him to abide with them: ⁴⁰and He remained there two days: ⁴¹and many more believed on Him through His word; ⁴²and they continued to say to the woman, We no longer believe through your talk; for we have heard and we know that He is truly the Savior of the world.

§ 26. JESUS PREACHES IN GALILEE.

John 4. 43-45. ⁴³And after two days He departed thence into Galilee. ⁴⁴And Jesus Himself witnessed, that a prophet has no honor in his own country. ⁴⁵And when He came into Galilee, Galileans received Him, having seen all things which He did in Jerusalem at the feast: for they also came to the feast.

Matt. 4. 17. From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, Repent; for the kingdom of the heavens draweth nigh.

§ 27. JESUS HEALS THE SON OF THE NOBLEMAN AT CAPERNAUM.

John 4. 46-54. ⁴⁶Then He came again into Cana of Galilee, where He turned the water into wine. And there was a certain royalist, whose son was sick in Capernaum; ⁴⁷he having heard that Jesus has come out of Judea into Galilee, came away to Him, and continued to ask Him that He may come down and heal his son; for he was about to die. ⁴⁸Then Jesus said to him, Unless you may see signs and wonders, you can not believe. ⁴⁹The nobleman says to Him, Lord, come down before my little child dies. ⁵⁰Jesus says to him, Go; thy son liveth. The man believed the word which Jesus spoke to him, and departed. ⁵¹And he already coming down, the servants met him, and reported, that the child lives. ⁵²Then he inquired the hour at which he began to improve; and they said to him, The fever left him at the seventh hour yesterday. ⁵³Then the father knew that it was at that hour at which Jesus said to him, Thy son liveth: and he and all his house believed. ⁵⁴Jesus, having again come out of Judea into Galilee, wrought this second miracle.

§ 28. JESUS AT NAZARETH: HE IS THERE REJECTED; AND FIXES HIS ABODE AT CAPERNAUM.

Luke 4. 16-31. ¹⁶And He came into Nazareth, where He was brought up: and according to the custom to Him, He came into the synagogue on the Sabbath-day, and stood up to read. ¹⁷And the Book of Isaiah the prophet was given to Him; and having opened the book, He found the place where it was written, ¹⁸The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor: hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to proclaim deliverance to the captives, and sight to the blind, and to set at liberty them that are bruised, ¹⁹to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord. ²⁰And having closed the book, and giving it back to the officer, He sat down: and the eyes of all in the synagogue were fastened on Him. ²¹And He began to say to them; This day has this Scripture been fulfilled in your ears. ²²And they all continued to witness to Him, and wonder at the words of grace proceeding out from His mouth: and say, Is not this the son of Joseph? ²³And He said to them, You truly speak to me this parable, Physician, heal thyself: so many things as we heard having been done in Capernaum, do also here in thy own country. ²⁴And He said, Truly I say unto you, that no prophet is acceptable in his own country. ²⁵And in truth I say unto you, There

Luke 5. 1-11. ¹And it came to pass, while the multitude is pressing on Him to hear the word of God, and He was standing by the lake of Gennesaret; ²and He saw two ships standing by the lake: the fishermen, having gone from them, were washing their nets. ³And having come into one of the ships, which belonged to Simon, He asked him to lead out a little from the land, and sitting down He was teaching the multitudes from the ship. ⁴When He ceased speaking He said to Simon, Lead out into the deep, and spread your nets for a draught. ⁵And Simon responding said to Him, Master, having

Mark 1. 21-28. ²¹And they come into Capernaum; and immediately on the Sabbath, He was teaching in the synagogue. ²²And they were astonished at His teaching; for He was teaching them as one having authority, and not as the scribes. ²³And there was a man in their synagogue with an unclean spirit; and he cried out, ²⁴saying, Let me alone; what is there to us and thee, thou Jesus, the Nazarene? You have come to destroy us; I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God. ²⁵And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Be silent, and come out from him. ²⁶And the unclean spirit, convulsing him and crying with a great voice, came out from him. ²⁷And they were all astonished, so that they were inquiring one to another, saying, What is this? what new teaching is this? Because according to authority He commands the unclean spirits, and they obey Him; ²⁸and His fame went out immediately into all the surrounding country of Galilee.

Mark 1. 35-39. ³⁵And in the morning, exceedingly early, while it was yet night, having arisen up He came out, and went away into a desert place, and was praying there. ³⁶And Simon and those who were with him followed Him. ³⁷And they found Him, and say to Him, All are seeking after thee. ³⁸And He says to them, Let us go into the surrounding villages and cities, that I may preach there; for unto this I have come out. ³⁹And He was preaching in their synagogues in all Galilee, and casting out the demons.

§ 36. THE POOL OF BETHZATHA, THE HEALING OF THE INFIRM MAN, AND OUR LORD'S SUBSEQUENT DISCOURSE.

John 5. 1-47.

A¹FTER these things was the feast of the Jews; and Jesus went up into Jerusalem. ²And there is a pool at the sheep-market, called in Hebrew Bethzatha, having five porches. ³In them a multitude of the sick, blind, lame, withered, were lying down. ⁵And a certain man was there, being thirty-eight years in his infirmity; ⁶Jesus seeing him lying down, and knowing that he already has much time, says to him; Do you wish to be whole? ⁷The sick man responded to Him, Lord, I have no man that may put me in the pool, when the water may be troubled: and while I come, another goes down before me. ⁸And Jesus says to him, Arise, take thy bed, and walk about. ⁹And the man was made whole, and he took up his bed and continued to walk about. And it was the Sabbath on that day. ¹⁰Then the Jews were saying to the healed man, It is the Sabbath, and it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed. ¹¹He responded to them, the one having made me whole, He said to me, Take thy bed, and walk about. ¹²They asked him, Who is the man who said to thee, Take thy bed, and walk about? ¹³And the sick man did not know who He is: for Jesus went out, the crowd being in the place. ¹⁴And after these things, Jesus finds him in the temple, and said to him, Behold, thou hast been made whole: sin no more, lest something worse may come on thee. ¹⁵And the man departed, and said to the Jews, that Jesus is the one having made him whole. ¹⁶And on account of this the Jews continued to persecute Jesus, because He was doing these things on the Sabbath. ¹⁷And He responded to them, My Father worketh until now, and I work. ¹⁸Therefore the Jews the more sought to kill Him, because He not only broke the Sabbath, but said that God was His Father, making himself equal to God. ¹⁹Then Jesus responded and said to them, Truly, truly, I say unto you, The Son is not able to do anything Himself, unless He may see the Father doing it: for whatsoever He may do, the Son likewise also doeth the same. ²⁰For the Father loveth the Son, and showeth Him all things which He doeth; and will show Him greater things than these, in order that you may be astonished. ²¹For as the Father raiseth up the dead and createth life in them, so the Son also createth life in whom He will. ²²For the Father judgeth no one, for He hath given all judgment to the Son; ²³in order that all may honor the Son, as they may honor the Father. He that honoreth not the Son honoreth not the Father who sent Him. ²⁴Truly, truly, I say unto you, that every one hearing my word, and believing on Him that sent me hath eternal life, and doth not come into judgment, but has passed out of death into life. ²⁵Truly, truly, I say unto you, that the hour cometh and now is, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God; and having heard will live. ²⁶For as the Father hath life in Himself, so also He has given to His Son to have life also in Himself. ²⁷And He hath given Him authority to execute the judgment, because He is the Son of man. ²⁸Do not be astonished at this: because the hour cometh, in which all who are in their graves will hear His voice, ²⁹and come forth; those having done good, unto the resurrection of life; and those having done evil, unto the resurrection of judgment. ³⁰I am not able to do anything of myself: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is righteous; because I do not seek my own will, but the will of the One having sent me. ³¹If I testify concerning myself, my testimony is not true. ³²There is another who testifieth concerning me; and you know that the testimony which He testifies concerning me is true. ³³You sent to John, and he witnessed to the truth: ³⁴but I do not receive the witness with man: but I speak these things that you may be saved. ³⁵He was a bright and shining light: and you were willing to rejoice for an hour in that light. ³⁶But I have a testimony greater than that of John: for the works that the Father hath given me that I may perfect them, these works which I do, testify concerning me, that the Father hath sent me. ³⁷And the Father having sent me, He hath testified concerning me: never have you heard His voice, neither have you seen His face: ³⁸and you have not His word abiding in you: because you do not believe Him whom He has sent. ³⁹Search the Scriptures, because in them ye think ye have eternal life; and they are they which testify concerning me; ⁴⁰and you do not wish to come unto me, in order that you may have life. ⁴¹I do not receive glory with men; ⁴²but I know you that you have not the love of God in you. ⁴³I have come in the name of my Father, and you do not receive me: if another may come in his own name, you will receive him. ⁴⁴How are you able to believe, receiving glory from one another, and do not seek the glory which is with God only? ⁴⁵Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father; there is one accusing you, in whom you have hoped. ⁴⁶For if you were believing Moses, you were believing me; for he wrote concerning me. ⁴⁷For if you do not believe his writings, how will you believe my words?

‡ 37. THE DISCIPLES PLUCKED THE EARS OF GRAIN ON THE SABBATH.—On the way to Galilee.

Matt. 12. 1-8. ¹At that time Jesus went on the Sabbath through the cornfields; and His disciples were hungry, and began to pluck the ears, and eat. ²And the Pharisees, seeing, said to Him, Behold thy disciples are doing what is not lawful to do on the Sabbath. ³And He said to them, Have you not read what David did, when he was hungry, and those with him? ⁴How he came into the house of God, and ate the shewbread, which was not lawful for him to eat, nor those with him, except the priests only? ⁵Have you not read in the law, that the priests in the temple do profane the Sabbath, and are blameless? ⁶But I say unto you, that there is One here

Mark 2. 23-28. ²³And it came to pass, that He was traveling through the cornfields on the Sabbath-day; and His disciples began to make the journey plucking the ears. ²⁴And the Pharisees continued to say to Him, Behold what they are doing on the Sabbath, which is not lawful. ²⁵And He said to them, Have ye not read what David did, when he had need, and was hungry, and those with him? ²⁶How he entered into the house of God, in the days of Abiathar, the high priest, and did eat the shewbread, which is not lawful to eat except for the priest, and he gave it to those being with him?

Luke 6. 1-5. ¹And it came to pass on the second Sabbath, He was going through the cornfields; and His disciples were plucking the ears, and eating, shelling them out with their hands. ²And certain ones of the Pharisees said to them, Why are you doing that which is not lawful to do on the Sabbath? ³Jesus responded and said to them, Have ye not read what David did, when he was hungry, and those being with him? ⁴How he entered into the house of God, and how he took the shewbread, and ate it, and gave it to those with him; which is not lawful to eat, except the priests only?

§ 38. THE HEALING OF THE WITHERED HAND ON THE SABBATH.

Matt. 12. 9-14. ⁹And having passed on thence, He came into their synagogue. ¹⁰And behold, there was a man having a withered hand. And they asked Him saying, Whether is it lawful to heal on Sabbath? that they might accuse Him.

¹¹And He said to them; What man shall there be of you, who shall have one sheep, and if it shall fall into a pit on the Sabbath, will he not lay hold of it and lift it up? ¹²Therefore how much more valuable is a man than a sheep? So it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath. ¹³Then He says to the man, Reach forth thy hand. And he reached it forth and it was restored. ¹⁴And the Pharisees, having gone out, took counsel against Him that they might destroy Him.

Mark 3. 1-6. ¹He came again into the synagogue, a man was there having a withered hand. ²And they were watching Him, if He will heal him on the Sabbath, that they might accuse Him.

³And He says to the man having a withered hand; Rise up in the midst. ⁴And He says to them; Is it lawful to do good or to do evil on the Sabbath; to save life, or to kill? And they were silent. ⁵And looking round on them with indignation, being grieved over the hardness of their hearts, He says to the man; Reach forth thy hand. And he reached it forth and it was restored. ⁶And the Pharisees, having gone out immediately along with the Herodians, took counsel against Him in order that they might kill Him.

Luke 6. 6-11. ⁶And it came to pass on another Sabbath, that He came into the synagogue and taught, and a man was there, whose right hand was withered. ⁷And the scribes and Pharisees were watching Him, if He will heal him on the Sabbath, in order that they may find accusation against Him. ⁸But He knew their thoughts, and said to the man having the withered hand, Rise up, and stand in the midst; and he having arisen stood. ⁹And Jesus said to them, I will ask you; What is lawful on the Sabbath; to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy? ¹⁰And looking around upon them all, He said to him, Reach forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored. ¹¹And they were filled with rage; and they were talking one to another what they might do to Jesus.

‡ 40. JESUS WITHDRAWS TO THE MOUNTAIN, AND CHOOSES THE TWELVE, THE MULTITUDES FOLLOWING.—Near Capernaum.

Luke 6. 12-19. ¹²And it came to pass in those days, that He went out into the mountain to pray; and was there through the night in the prayer of God. ¹³And when it was day, He called His disciples to Him: and having chosen twelve from them, whom He also named apostles; ¹⁴Simon, whom He also named Peter, and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholomew, ¹⁵Matthew and Thomas, James the son of Alpheus, and Simon called the Zealot; ¹⁶and Judas the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot, who also became His betrayer.

Matt. 10. 2-4. ²And these are the names of the apostles: first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother; James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother; ³Philip and Bartholomew; Thomas and Matthew the publican; James the son of Alpheus, and Lebbeus called Thaddeus; ⁴Simon the Zealot; and Judas Iscariot, the one also having betrayed Him.

¹⁷And having come down with them, He stood upon a level place, and a great multitude of His disciples, and a great crowd of people from all Judea and Jerusalem, and Tyre and Sidon by the sea, who came to hear Him, and to be healed of their diseases; ¹⁸and those troubled by unclean spirits; and they were getting healed. ¹⁹And the whole multitude sought to touch Him: because ^bpower was going out from Him, and was healing all.

to the prophets. ²⁴ Moreover woe unto you rich ! because you exhaust your reward. ²⁵ Woe unto you who are full ! because you shall hunger. Woe unto you who are now laughing ! because you shall weep and mourn. ²⁶ Woe unto you when all the people may speak well of you ! because according to the same things their fathers were accustomed to do to the false prophets.

¹³ Ye are the salt of the earth ; and if the salt may lose its savor, in what shall it be salted ? It is yet without value, except having been cast out, to be trodden under feet by the people. ¹⁴ Ye are the light of the world. A city sitting on a mountain is unable to be hidden. ¹⁵ Neither do they light a candle, and place it under a bushel, but on the candlestick ; and it shineth to all who are in the house. ¹⁶ Let your light so shine before the people, in order that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in the heavens. ¹⁷ Think not that I came to destroy the law of the prophets : I came not to destroy, but to fulfill. ¹⁸ For truly I say unto you, Until heaven and earth may pass away, one jot or tittle can not pass from the law, until all things may be accomplished. ¹⁹ Therefore if any one may break one of the least of these commandments, and so teach the people, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of the heavens : but whosoever may do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of the heavens. ²⁰ For I say unto you, that if your righteousness may not abound more than that of the scribes and Pharisees, you can not enter into the kingdom of the heavens. ²¹ You have heard that it was said to the ancients, Thou shalt not murder ; and whosoever may murder shall be in danger of the judgment ; ²¹ but I say unto you that every one being angry with his brother, shall be in danger of the judgment ; and whosoever may say to his brother, Thou scoundrel, shall be in danger of the council ; and whosoever may say, Thou fool, shall be liable unto a hell of fire. ²³ Therefore if you may bring your gift to the altar, and there remember that your brother has something against you, ²⁴ leave there your gift before the altar, and go, first be reconciled to your brother, then having come offer your gift. ²⁵ Be reconciled with your adversary quickly, while you are in the way with him ; lest the adversary may deliver you to the judge, and the judge to the officer, and you may be cast into prison. ²⁶ Truly I say unto you, You can not go out from thence until you have paid the last farthing. ²⁷ You have heard that it was said, Thou shalt not commit adultery. ²⁸ But I say unto you that every one looking on a woman in order to lust after her hath already committed adultery with her in his heart. ²⁹ And if thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee : for it is profitable to thee that one of thy members may perish, and not that thy whole body may go away into hell. ³¹ And it was said, Whosoever may send away his wife, let him give her a divorce. ³² But I say unto you, that every one sending away his wife, except on account of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery : and whosoever may marry her who has been cast off commits adultery. ³³Again you have heard that it was said to the ancients, Thou shalt not swear falsely, but shall perform unto the Lord thine oaths. ³⁴But I say unto you, Swear not at all; neither by heaven, because it is the throne of God; ³⁵nor by the earth, because it is the footstool of His feet; neither by Jerusalem, because it is the city of the great King. ³⁶Neither swear by thy head, because thou art unable to make one hair white or black. ³⁷But let your speech be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay; but that which aboundeth more than these is of the evil one. ³⁸You have heard that it was said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth. ³⁹But I say unto you, Resist not him that is evil: but whosoever smites thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also: ⁴⁰to him wishing to prosecute thee at law, and take away thy coat, let him have the cloak also. ⁴¹Whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him two. ⁴²Give to the one asking thee, and do not turn away from the one wishing to borrow from thee. ⁴³You have heard that it was said, Thou shalt love thy neighbor and hate thine enemy. ⁴⁴But I say unto you, Love your enemies with a divine love, bless those who curse you and pray for those who despitely use you and persecute you: ⁴⁵in order that you may be the sons of your Father who is in the heavens; because He raises up His sun on the wicked and on the good, and rains on the righteous and on the unrighteous. ⁴⁶For if you love those that love you, what reward have ye? because the publicans also do the same. ⁴⁷If you salute your brethren only, what do ye more abundantly? do not the heathens also the same thing?

to receive, what grace is there to you? for sinners lend to sinners, that they may receive back the equivalent. ³⁶Moreover love your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping nothing in return; and your reward shall be great, and you shall be the sons of the Highest: because He is good to the ungrateful and wicked. ³⁶Therefore be ye merciful, as your Father is indeed merciful.

⁴⁸Therefore ye shall be perfect, as your Father who is in heaven is perfect.

Matt. 6. ¹But take heed that you do not your righteousness before the people, in order to be seen by them: else you have no reward with your Father who is in the heavens: ²therefore when you may do alms, do not sound a trumpet before you, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, in order that they may be glorified by the people: truly I say unto you, They exhaust their reward. ³But thou doing alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth: ⁴in order that thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father who sees in secret will reward thee openly. ⁵And when you pray, be not like the hypocrites: because they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, in order that they may appear unto the people. Truly I say unto you, They exhaust their reward. ⁶But when thou mayest pray, enter into thy closet, and having closed thy door, pray to thy Father who is in secret, and thy Father who seeth in secret will reward thee openly. ⁷And praying do not use vain repetitions as the heathen do: for they think they shall be heard in their much speaking. ⁸Therefore be not like ⁹Therefore pray after this manner: Our Father who art in the heavens, let thy name be hallowed: ¹⁰let thy kingdom come: let thy will be done, as in heaven, even so upon earth: ¹¹give us this day our daily bread: ¹²and forgive us our debts, as we have also forgiven our debtors: ¹³lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one. ¹⁴For if you may not forgive the people their trespasses, your heavenly Father will not forgive you.^b ¹⁵And if you do not forgive the people, your Father will not forgive you your trespasses. ¹⁶And when you may fast, be not like the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, in order that they may appear unto the people fasting. Truly I say unto you, They exhaust their reward. ¹⁷But thou, fasting, anoint thy head, and wash thy face; ¹⁸in order that thou mayest not appear unto the people fasting, but to thy Father who is in secret: and thy Father, who seeth in secret, will reward thee openly. ¹⁹Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon the earth, where moth and rust corrupt, and thieves break through and steal: ²⁰but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where moth and rust do not corrupt, and thieves do not break through and steal: ²¹for where your treasure is, there will be your heart also. ²²For the light of the body is the eye. You are not able to serve God and mammon.^d ²⁵Therefore I say unto you, Be not solicitous for your soul what you may eat, nor for your body what you may put on. Is not your soul more valuable than food, and your body than raiment? ²⁶Look unto the fowls of heaven, how they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; and your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are you not more excellent than they?^e ²⁷And which one of you being solicitous is able to add one moment to his existence? ²⁸And why are you solicitous concerning raiment? Know the lilies of the field how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin. ²⁹But I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed as one of these. ³⁰But if God so clothed the verdure of the field, existing to-day and to-morrow cast into the oven, how much more you, O ye of little faith? ³¹Therefore be not solicitous, saying, What can we eat? or what can we drink? or with what can we be clothed? ³²For after all these things the heathen were seeking; for your heavenly Father knoweth that you need all these things. ³³But seek first the kingdom, and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. ³⁴Therefore be not solicitous unto the morrow: for the morrow will be solicitous for itself. Do the people gather the grape-bunches from thorns, or figs from thistles? ¹⁷So every good tree produces good fruits; and a corrupt tree produces evil fruits. ¹⁸A good tree is not able to produce evil fruits, neither is a corrupt tree able to produce beautiful fruits. ¹⁹Every tree not producing beautiful fruit is cut down and cast into the fire. ²⁰Therefore you shall know them perfectly by their fruits. ²¹Not every one saying to me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of the heavens; but he that doeth the will of my Father who is in the heavens. Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name, and in thy name done many mighty works? ²²Then I will confess unto them that I never knew you: depart from me, ye who work iniquity. ²³Then every one who hears these words of mine, and does them, I will liken him unto a wise man, who built his house upon the rock. ²⁴And the rain came down, and the rivers came, and the winds blew, and fell against that house; and it did not fall; for it was founded upon the rock. ²⁵And every one hearing these words of mine, and doing them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, who built his house upon the sand. ²⁶And the rain came down, and the rivers came, and the winds blew, and beat against that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it. ²⁷And it came to pass when Jesus finished these discourses, the multitudes were astonished at His teaching: for He was teaching them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

Behold those wearing soft raiment are in the houses of the kings.

⁹But what went you out to see? a prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and more than a prophet: ¹⁰for this is he, concerning whom it has been written, ^bBehold, I send my messenger before my face, who will prepare thy way before thee. ¹¹Truly I say unto you, Among those having been born of women there has not risen a greater than John the Baptist: nevertheless the least in the kingdom of the heavens is greater than he. ¹²From the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of the heavens suffers violence, and the violent are taking it by force. ¹³For all the prophets and the law prophesied till John. ¹⁴And if you wish to receive it, he is Elijah, who is to come. ^d their diseases and ailments and evil spirits; and He conferred on many the power to see.

²²And Jesus responding said to them, Having gone, proclaim to John those things which you saw and heard; that the blind are seeing, the lame are walking about, the lepers are being cleansed, the deaf are hearing, the dead are being raised up, the poor are having the gospel preached unto them: ^aand happy is he whosoever may not be offended in me. ²⁴And the messengers of John having gone away, He began to speak to the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to see? a reed shaken by the wind? ²⁵But what went you out into the wilderness to see? a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold those who are in gaudy apparel and luxury, are in royal palaces. ²⁶But what went you out to see? a prophet? Yea, and I say unto you even more than a prophet. ²⁷This is he concerning whom it has been written, ^bBehold, I send my messenger before thy face, who will prepare thy way before thee. ²⁸I say unto you, among those having been born of women no prophet is greater than John the Baptist; nevertheless the least in the kingdom of God is greater than he. ²⁹And all the people hearing and the publicans justified ^cGod, being baptized with the baptism of John. ³⁰But the Pharisees and theologians rejected the counsel of God, against themselves, not having been baptized by him.

³¹Then to whom shall I liken the men of this generation, and to whom are they like? ³²They are like unto little children sitting in the market-place, and calling to one another, and saying, We piped unto you, and you did not dance; we mourned unto you, and you did not weep. ³³For John the Baptist has come neither eating bread nor drinking wine; and you say, He has a demon. ³⁴The Son of man has come eating and drinking, and you say, Behold, a gluttonous wine-drinking man, a friend of publicans and sinners. ³⁵Truly wisdom is justified ^eby her children.

§ 45. REFLECTIONS OF JESUS ON APPEALING TO HIS MIGHTY WORKS.—Capernaum.

Matt. 11. 20-30. ²⁰Then He began to upbraid the cities in which the most mighty works of His were performed, because they did not repent.^a ²¹Woe unto thee, Chorazin! Woe unto thee, Bethsaida! because if the mighty works which were wrought in you had been in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. ²²Moreover I say unto you, it will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the day of judgment than for you. ²³And thou, Capernaum, art thou not exalted up to heaven? thou shall be cast down to Hades: because if the mighty works which were wrought in thee had been performed in Sodom, it would have remained until this day. ²⁴Moreover I say unto you, that it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment, than for thee.

²⁵At that time Jesus responding said, I praise thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and of earth, because thou hast hidden these things from the wise and the prudent, and reveal them unto babes.^b ²⁶Yea, Father, because it was so well pleasing in thy sight. ²⁷All things were delivered unto me by my Father: and no one perfectly knows the Son, except the Father; neither does any one perfectly know the Father, except the Son; and he to whom the Son may wish to reveal Him. ²⁸Come unto me, all ye who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. ²⁹Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; because I am meek and lowly in heart: and you shall find rest unto your souls. ³⁰For my yoke is easy and my burden is light.

§ 46. WHILE SITTING AT MEAT WITH A PHARISEE, JESUS IS ANOINTED BY A WOMAN WHO HAD BEEN A SINNER.—Capernaum.

Luke 7. 36-50. ³⁶And a certain one of the Pharisees, asked Him, that He would eat with him, and having come into the house of the Pharisee, He sat down to the table. ³⁷Behold, a woman who was a sinner, in the city, also having learned that He is dining in the house of the Pharisee, breaking an alabaster box of myrrh, ³⁸and standing behind by His feet, weeping, began to moisten His feet with tears, and she wiped them with the hairs of her head, and she continued to copiously kiss His feet, and to anoint them with the myrrh. ³⁹And the Pharisee, having invited Him, seeing, spoke within himself, saying, If He were a prophet, He would know who and what kind the woman is, who touches Him, because she is a sinner. ⁴⁰And Jesus responding said to him, Simon, I have something to say to thee. And he says, Speak, Teacher. ⁴¹There were two debtors to a certain creditor: the one owed him five hundred denaria,^c and the other fifty. ⁴²And they not being able to pay, he forgave them both. Then which one of them will love him the more? ⁴³Simon responding said, I perceive, that he, to whom he forgave the more. And He said to him, You answered correctly. ⁴⁴And turning to the woman He said to Simon, Do you see this woman? I came into thy house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with her hairs. ⁴⁵Thou gavest me no kiss: she, from the time I came in, did not cease copiously kissing my feet. ⁴⁶Thou didst not anoint my head with oil: but she anointed my feet with myrrh. ⁴⁷Therefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but he to whom little is forgiven, loveth little. ⁴⁸And He said to her; Thy sins are forgiven. ⁴⁹And those sitting along with Him began to say among themselves, Who is this who even forgives sins? ⁵⁰And He said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace.

Matt. 12. 22-37. ²²Then a demonized man was brought to Him, blind and dumb: and He healed him, so that the blind and dumb man both spake and saw. ²³And all the multitudes were astonished, and continued to say, Is not this the son of David? ²⁴And the Pharisees hearing, said, This man casts not out demons, except through Beelzebub^a the prince of the demons. ²⁵And Jesus knowing their thoughts said to them, Every kingdom divided against itself comes to desolation, and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand. ²⁶And if Satan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself; how then will his kingdom stand? ²⁷If I through Beelzebub cast out demons, through whom do your sons cast them out? [49. THE SCRIBES AND PHARISEES SEEK A SIGN. OUR LORD'S REFLECTIONS.

Matt. 12. 38-45. ³⁸Then certain ones of the scribes and Pharisees responded, saying, Teacher, we wish to see a sign from Thee. ³⁹He responding, said to them, A wicked and adulterous generation seeks after a sign; and no sign shall be given unto it except the sign of the prophet Jonah. ⁴⁰For as Jonah was in the stomach of the whale three days and three nights,^a so shall the Son of man be in the heart of the earth three days and three nights. ⁴¹The men of Nineveh will rise in judgment with this generation, and condemn it: because they repented at the preaching of Jonah;^b and behold, a greater than Jonah is here. ⁴²The queen of the south will rise in judgment with this generation, and condemn it: because she came from the uttermost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold a greater than Solomon is here.

Mark 3. 31-35. ³¹And His mother and His brothers come; and standing without, sent to Him, calling Him. ³²And the crowd was sitting round Him; and they say to Him, Behold thy mother and thy brothers without are seeking thee. ³³And He responding to them, says, Who is my mother and my brothers? ³⁴And looking round on His disciples sitting about Him in a circle, He says, Behold my mother and my brothers! ³⁵For whosoever may do the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and my mother.

§ 51. AT A PHARISEE'S TABLE JESUS DENOUNCES WOES AGAINST THE PHARISEES AND OTHERS.

Luke 11. 37-54. ³⁷And while He was speaking, a Pharisee asked Him, that He would dine with him: and having come in, He sat up at the table. ³⁸And the Pharisee seeing, was astonished because He was not first baptized before dinner. ³⁹And the Lord said to him, Now you Pharisees purify the outside of the cup and the plate, but the interior is full of extortion and wickedness.^a ⁴⁰Ye fools, did not the One having made the outside also make the inside? ⁴¹Therefore give alms of your substance; and behold all things are pure unto you. ⁴²But woe unto you, Pharisees! because you tithe mint and rue and every herb, and you pass by judgment and the love of God: it behooveth to do these things, and not to omit those.^b ⁴³Woe unto you, Pharisees! because you love the front seat in the synagogues, and salutations in the forums.^c ⁴⁴Woe unto you! because you are like tombs unseen, and men walking over them do not know it.^d ⁴⁵And a certain one of the theologians responding says to Him, Teacher, speaking these things you indeed insult us.^e ⁴⁶And He said, Woe unto you, theologians! because you lay burdens on the people difficult to be borne, and you yourselves do not touch the burdens with one of your fingers. ⁴⁷Woe unto you! because you build the sepulchers of the prophets, and your fathers killed them.^f ⁴⁸Therefore you are witnesses and you consent unto the works of your fathers: because they slew them, and you build. ⁴⁹Therefore the wisdom of God said, I will send unto them prophets and apostles; and some of them they will slay and persecute.^g ⁵⁰In order that the blood of all the prophets poured out from the foundation of the world, may be required from this generation; ⁵¹from the blood of Abel unto the blood of Zachariah, who perished between the altar and the house; yea, I say unto you, it shall be required of this generation.^h ⁵²Woe unto you, theologians! because you have taken away the key of knowledge: you did not come in, and you prohibited those who were coming in.ⁱ ⁵³And He having come out from thence, the scribes and Pharisees began vehemently to press on Him, and mouthe after Him concerning many things; ⁵⁴laying in wait, to catch something from His mouth.

§ 52. JESUS DISCOURSES TO HIS DISCIPLES AND THE MULTITUDE.—Galilee.

Luke 12. 1-59. ¹In the meantime, myriads of the multitude having gathered together, so that they trode on one another, He began to speak to His disciples first;^a Take heed unto yourselves from the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy. ²But there is nothing hidden, which shall not be revealed: and concealed, that shall not be made known.^b ³Therefore so many things as you spoke in the darkness shall be heard in the light; and whatsoever you spoke in the ear in the secret chambers shall be proclaimed upon the houses. ⁴And I say unto you, my friends, Be not afraid of those killing the body, and after these things, having nothing more to do.^c ⁵But I will show you whom you must fear: Fear him, who after he kills has power to cast into hell. Yea, I say unto you, Fear him. ⁶Are not five sparrows sold for two pennies? and one of them is not forgotten before God. ⁷But even the hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not: ye are more important than many sparrows. ⁸But I say unto you, that every one who may confess me before the people, the Son of man will also confess him before the angels of God. ⁹But the one denying me before the people will be denied before the angels of God. ¹⁰And every one who shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but to him having blasphemed against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven.^d ¹¹But when they may carry you into the synagogues, and tribunals, and authorities; do not be solicitous as to what you may apologize, or what you may say:^e ¹²for the Holy Spirit will teach you in that hour the things which it behooveth you to speak. ¹³And a certain one from the multitude said to Him, Teacher, speak to my brother, to divide the inheritance with me. ¹⁴And He said to him; Man, who established me judge or a divider over you? ¹⁵And He said to them, See, and beware of all covetousness: because his life is not in that which aboundeth to any one, from those things belonging to him. ¹⁶He spake a parable to them, saying, The farm of a certain rich man was very productive: ¹⁷and he was reasoning in himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no place where I shall store my fruits? ¹⁸And he said, I will do this: I will take down my barns, and build greater, and there I will gather all my fruits and my goods. ¹⁹And I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink, be merry. ²⁰But God said to him, Thou fool, this night they are demanding thy soul from thee; and to whom shall those things which thou hast prepared, belong? ²¹So is every one laying up treasure for himself, and not rich toward God. ²²And He spoke to His disciples, Therefore I say unto you, Be not solicitous for your soul, what you may eat; nor for your body, what you may put on.^f ²³The soul is more than food, and the body more than raiment. ²⁴Observe the ravens, because they neither sow nor reap; to which there is no storehouse nor barn, and God feeds them; are you not much better than the fowls? ²⁵And which one of you being solicitous is able to add a moment to his existence? ²⁶If then you are powerless in the smallest matter, why are you solicitous about other things? ²⁷Observe the lilies, how they toil not, neither do they spin: and I say unto you, That Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed as one of these. ²⁸And if God so clothes the verdure flourishing in the fields to-day, and to-morrow cast into the oven; how much more are you, O ye of little faith? ²⁹And do not seek what you may eat, and what you may drink, and with what you are clothed; ³⁰for the heathens of the world are seeking after all these things: but your Father knows that you have need of these things. ³¹Moreover seek His kingdom and these things shall be added unto you. ³²Fear not, little flock; because your Father is well pleased to give you the kingdom. ³³Sell your possessions and give alms; make for yourselves purses that will not get old, and treasure in the heavens which can not be stolen, where the thief does not draw nigh, nor the moth corrupt. ³⁴For where your treasure is, there your heart will be. ³⁵Let your loins be girted, and your lamps burning; ³⁶and be you like unto men waiting for their lord, when he may rise up from the marriage feast; in order that, coming and knocking, they may open unto him immediately. ³⁷Blessed are those servants, whom the lord having come will find watching: truly I say unto you, that he will gird himself, and have them sit down, and having come will serve them.

⁴¹And Peter said to Him, Lord, do you speak this parable to us, or to all?^a ⁴²The Lord said, Who then is the faithful, wise steward, whom the lord will establish over his household, to give them their food in season? ⁴³Happy is that servant, whom his lord having come shall thus find watching. ⁴⁴Truly I say unto you, that he will establish him over all his possessions. ⁴⁵But if that servant may say in his heart, my lord delayeth his coming, and may begin to smite the servants and handmaidens, and to eat and drink, and be drunken; ⁴⁶the lord of that servant will come in a day in which he does not expect, and in an hour in which he does not know, and will cut him off, and will appoint his part with the unbelievers. ⁴⁷But that servant knowing the will of his lord, and not preparing or doing according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes. ⁴⁸But the one not knowing, and doing things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few. But to every one to whom much is given, much will be required of him: and to whom they commit much, of him they will ask the more. ⁴⁹I have come to send fire on the earth; and what do I will, if it is already kindled? ⁵⁰And I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I straitened till it may be perfected! ⁵¹Do you think that I have come to give peace on the earth? I say unto you, Nay, but division.^b ⁵²For from now, there shall be five in one house divided, three shall be divided against two, and two against three:^c ⁵³the father against the son, and the son against the father; and the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the mother-in-law against the daughter-in-law, and the daughter-in-law against the mother-in-law.

⁵⁴And he also spoke to the multitudes, When you may see a cloud rising from the west, you immediately say, that the rain cometh; and it is so:^d ⁵⁵and when the south wind is blowing, you say, that it will be hot; and it is so. ⁵⁶You hypocrites, you know how to discern the face of the earth and the firmament; and how do you not discern this time? ⁵⁷Why do you not judge righteous judgment, even with reference to yourselves? ⁵⁸For as you go with your adversary to the ruler, give attention on the way that you be reconciled with him; lest he may deliver you to the judge, and the judge shall turn you over to the officer, and the officer will cast you into prison.^e ⁵⁹I say unto you, You can by no means come out thence, till you have even paid the last mite.

‡ 53. THE SLAUGHTER OF CERTAIN GALILEANS. PARABLE OF THE BARREN FIG-TREE.—Galilee.

Luke 13. 1-9. ¹And there were certain ones at that time announcing to him concerning the Galileans, whose blood Pilate mixed with their sacrifices. ²And responding to them He said, Do you think that those Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered these things? ³I say unto you, Nay: but unless you may repent, you shall all likewise perish. ⁴Or those eighteen, on whom the tower in Saloam fell, and killed them, do you think that they were offenders above all the men that dwell in Jerusalem? ⁵I say unto you, Nay: but unless you may repent, you will all likewise perish.

⁶And He spoke this parable, A certain one had a fig-tree planted in his vineyard; and came seeking fruit, and found none: ⁷and he said to the vinedresser, Behold, three years from which I come seeking fruit on this fig-tree, and I find none: cut it down; why indeed does it cumber the ground? ⁸And responding he says to him, Lord, let it alone also this year, until I shall dig about it, and cast manures: ⁹and if it may bear fruit in the future; and if not you shall cut it down.

Matt. 13. 1-23. ¹On that day Jesus having come out from the house, was sitting by the sea: ²and many multitudes were gathered unto Him, so that having gone into a ship, He sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore. ³And He spoke many things to them in parables, saying,

Behold a sower went out to sow. ⁴And while he was sowing, some seeds fell by the wayside, and the fowls came and ate them up. ⁵And others fell among stones, where they had not much earth: and sprang up immediately, because they had no depth of earth: ⁶and the sun having risen, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away. ⁷But others fell among thorns; and the thorns sprang up and choked them. ⁸But others fell in good ground, and gave fruit, some a hundred, some sixty, and some thirty.

⁹Let him that hath ears to hear, hear. ¹⁰And His disciples coming, said to Him; Wherefore do you speak to them in parables? ¹¹He responding said to them, Because it has been given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of the heavens, but to them it has not been given. ¹²But whosoever has, it shall be given to him, and he shall have more abundantly; but whosoever has not, it shall be taken from him even what he has. ¹³Therefore I speak to them in parables; because seeing they see not, and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand. ¹⁴And the prophecy of Isaiah is fulfilled unto them, saying,^a By hearing ye shall hear, and may not understand; and seeing you shall see, and may not perceive. ¹⁵Because the heart of this people is waxed gross, and they heard heavily with their ears, and closed their eyes; lest they may see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their hearts, and turn, and I shall heal them. ¹⁶But happy are your eyes, because they see; and your ears, because they hear. ¹⁷Truly I say unto you, that many prophets and righteous men desired to see those things which you see, and saw them not; and to hear those things which you hear, and heard them not. ¹⁸Therefore hear ye the parable of the sower. ¹⁹Every one hearing the word of the kingdom, and not understanding it, the wicked one comes, and seizes away that which is sown in his heart: he is the one sown by the wayside.

²⁰But the one sown upon the rocks, is he who heareth the word, and immediately with joy receives it; ²¹but it has no root in him, but is temporary; and tribulation or persecution arising on account of the word, immediately he is offended.

²²But the one sown among the thorns, is he who heareth the word; and the care of this age, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke out the word, and he becomes unfruitful. ²³And the one having been sown on good ground, is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; who truly bears fruit, and produces, some a hundred, some sixty, and some thirty.

Mark 4.

¹³And He says to them, Do you not understand this parable? and how will you know all parables? ¹⁴The sower sows the word. ¹⁵And those who are by the wayside, where the word is sown; and when they hear it, immediately Satan comes, and takes away the word which was sown in their hearts. ¹⁶And those who are sowed upon the rocks are likewise, those who, when they may hear the word, immediately with joy receive it. ¹⁷And they have no root in themselves, but are temporary; then tribulation or persecution arising on account of the word, they are immediately offended: ¹⁸and others are those who are sown among the thorns; they are those hearing the word,¹⁹ and the cares of the age, and the deceitfulness of riches, and desires concerning other things coming into them, choke out the word, and it becomes unfruitful. ²⁰And these are they who are sown on good ground; whosoever hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirty, some sixty, and some a hundred. ²¹And He said to them; Whether does the light come, that it may be placed under a bushel, or under a bed? is it not that it may be placed on a candle-not understand;^a lest they may turn, and their sins may be forgiven unto them.

¹⁵Because the heart of this people is waxed gross, and they heard heavily with their ears, and closed their eyes; lest they may see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their hearts, and turn, and I shall heal them. ¹⁶But happy are your eyes, because they see; and your ears, because they hear. ¹⁷Truly I say unto you, that many prophets and righteous men desired to see those things which you see, and saw them not; and to hear those things which you hear, and heard them not.

Luke 8.

¹¹And this is the parable: The seed is the word of God.

¹²And there are those who hear by the wayside; then the devil comes, and takes away the word from their heart, lest they believing may be saved.

¹³And those on the stones are they who, when they may hear, receive the word with joy; and they have no root in them, who believe for a time, and in time of temptation they fall away.

¹⁴And that which falleth among thorns, there are those who hear, and going forward, by the cares and riches and pleasures are choked out, and bring forth no fruit to perfection.

stick? ²²For there is nothing hidden which may not be made manifest; neither is there any thing concealed, but that it may come into the light. ²³If any one has ears to hear, let him hear. ²⁴And He said to them, See what you hear: with what measure you measure it shall be measured unto you: and it shall be added unto you who hear. ²⁵For whosoever has, it shall be given unto him: and he who has not, it shall be taken from him even that which he has.

¹⁷For there is nothing hidden which shall not be made manifest; neither is there any thing concealed, which may not be made known and come into the light.

¹⁸Therefore see how you hear: for whosoever may have, it shall be given unto him; and whosoever may not, have it shall be taken from him, even that which he seems to have.

‡ 55. PARABLE OF THE TARES. OTHER PARABLES.—Near Capernaum.

Matt. 13. 24-53. ²⁴He put forth another parable to them, saying, The kingdom of the heavens is like unto a man sowing good seed in his field. ²⁵And while the men slept, an enemy came, and sowed tares in the midst of the wheat, and departed. ²⁶And when the blades sprang up, and produced fruit, then the tares were also made manifest. ²⁷And the servants of the landlord having come to him said, Sir, did you not sow good seed in your field? whence then hath it tares? ²⁸And he said to them, A hostile man did this. And the servants say to him, Then do you wish that we, having gone, may gather them? ²⁹And he says, No; lest gathering the tares together you may at the same time along with them root up the wheat. ³⁰Let both grow together till the harvest: and at the time of the harvest, I will say to the reapers, First gather the tares, and bind them in bundles, in order to burn them: and gather the wheat into my barn.

Mark 4. 26-34. ²⁶And He said, Thus is the kingdom of God, as a man may cast seed on the ground; ²⁷and he may sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed germinates and grows, as he does not know. ²⁸The earth spontaneously brings forth fruit; first the blade, then the ear, then the full corn in the ear. ²⁹And when the fruit may develop, immediately he thrusts in the sickle, because the harvest is at hand.

Matt. 13.

³¹And He submitted another parable to them, saying; The kingdom of the heavens is like unto a grain of mustard seed, which, a man having taken, sowed in his field; ³²which indeed is the smallest of all seeds; and when it grows up, is the greatest of herbs, and becomes a tree, so that the birds of heaven indeed lodge in its branches. ³³And he spake another parable unto them; The kingdom of the heavens is like unto the leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, until the whole was leavened.

³⁴Jesus spoke all of these things to the multitudes in parables; and without a parable He was not speaking to them: ³⁵in order that the word spoken by Isaiah, the prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables: I will make known the things which have been hidden from the foundation.^a ³⁶Then leaving the multitudes, He ³⁰And He said, To what may we liken the kingdom of God? or in what parable may we present it? ³¹'T is like a grain of mustard seed, which when it may be sown upon the earth, is the smallest of all seeds which are upon the earth, ³²and when it may be sowed, it springs up, and becomes the greatest of herbs, and produces great branches; so that the birds of the heavens are able to lodge under its shadow.

³³And in many such parables He continued to speak the word to them, as they were able to hear. ³⁴And without a parable He did not speak to them: and He privately expounded all things to His disciples.

came into the house: and His disciples came to Him saying; Explain to us the parable of the tares of the field. ³⁷And He responding said, The one sowing the good seed is the Son of man; ³⁸and the field is the world; and the good seed, these are the sons of the kingdom; and the tares are the sons of the wicked one, ³⁹and the enemy sowing them is the devil: and the harvest is the end of the age; and the reapers are the angels. ⁴⁰Then as the tares are gathered and burnt up with fire; so it will be in the end of the age. ⁴¹The Son of man will send forth His angels, and they will gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and those who do iniquity, ⁴²and will cast them into the furnace of the fire: and there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. ⁴³Then the righteous will shine as the sun in the kingdom of their Father.^a But let the one having ears, hear. ⁴⁴The kingdom of the heavens is like unto a treasure having been hidden in a field; which a man having found, concealed; and from his joy he goes and sells all things so many as he has, and buys that field. ⁴⁵Again, the kingdom of the heavens is like unto a man seeking beautiful pearls: ⁴⁶and having found one pearl of great price, having gone away he sold all things, so many as he had, and bought it. ⁴⁷Again, the kingdom of the heavens is like unto a net cast into the sea, and gathering of every kind; ⁴⁸which, when it was filled, drawing up on the shore, and sitting down, they gathered the good into baskets, and threw the bad away. ⁴⁹So it will be in the end of the age: the angels will go forth, and will separate the wicked from the midst of the righteous, ⁵⁰and will cast them into the furnace of the fire: and there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. ⁵¹Do you understand all these things? They say to Him, Yea. ⁵²And He said to them, Therefore every scribe having been disciplined into the kingdom of the heavens is like unto a man who is a landlord, who bringeth out of his treasure things both new and old. ⁵³And it came to pass, when Jesus finished these parables, He departed thence.

‡ 56. JESUS DIRECTS TO CROSS THE LAKE. INCIDENTS. THE TEMPEST IS STILLED.—Lake of Galilee.

Luke 8. 22-25. ²²And it came to pass on one of the days, He and His disciples went into a ship. And He said to them, Let us go to the other side of the lake.

Teacher, I will follow thee whithersoever thou mayest go. ²⁰And Jesus says to Him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of heaven nests; but the Son of man has not where He may recline His head. ²¹And another of His disciples said to Him, Lord, permit me first to go away and bury my father. ²²And Jesus says to him, Follow me; and let the dead bury the dead.

Luke 9. 57-62. ⁵⁷And they going on the way, a certain one said to Him, Lord, I will follow thee wheresoever thou mayest go. ⁵⁸And Jesus said to him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of heaven nests; but the Son of man has not a place where He may recline His head. ⁵⁹And He said to another, Follow thou me. And he said, Lord, permit me first having gone away to bury my father. ⁶⁰And Jesus said to him, Let the dead bury their dead; but thou having gone away proclaim the kingdom of God. ⁶¹And another said to Him, Lord, I will follow thee; but first permit me to bid adieu to those at my own home. ⁶²And Jesus said to him, No one putting his hand to the plow, and looking back, is worthy of the kingdom of God.

Matt. 8. 28 to 9. 1. ²⁸Two demoniacs met Him, having come to the other side into the country of the Gadarenes, coming out from the tombs, exceedingly fierce, so that no one was able to pass through that way.

your peace come on it : but if it may be unworthy, let your peace return unto you. ¹⁴And whosoever may not receive you, nor hear your words, going out from that house or city, shake off the dust from your feet. ¹⁵Truly I say unto you, It will be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment than for that city. ¹⁶Behold, I send you forth like sheep in the midst of wolves : be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves. ¹⁷Beware of men : for they will deliver you up to the sanhedrins, and will beat you in their synagogues ; ¹⁸and they will lead you before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony unto them and the Gentiles. ¹⁹And when they may deliver you, be not solicitous how or what you may speak : for it will be given unto you in that hour what you may say. ²⁰For you are not those speaking, but the Spirit of your Father is speaking in you. ²¹And brother will deliver brother unto death, and the father the child : and children will rise up against parents, and put them to death. ²²And you will be hated by all on account of my name : but he that persevereth unto the end, the same shall be saved. ²³And when they may persecute you in this city, fly to another : for truly I say unto you, You may not complete the cities of Israel, until the Son of man may come. ²⁴The disciple is not above his teacher, nor the servant above his lord. ²⁵It is sufficient for the disciple that he may be as his teacher, and the servant, as his lord : if they call the landlord Beelzebub, how much more the inmates of his house ? ²⁶Therefore fear them not ; for there is nothing hidden, that shall not be revealed ; nothing secret, that shall not be known. ²⁷What I say unto you in the darkness, speak ye in the light : and whatsoever you hear in the ear, proclaim upon the housetops. ²⁸Be not afraid of those who kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul : but fear ye, rather him who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell. ²⁹Are not two sparrows sold for a penny ? and one of them will not fall to the ground without your Father. ³⁰But the hairs of your head are all numbered. ³¹Then fear not ; you are of more value than many sparrows. ³²Therefore every one who shall confess me before the people, I will also confess him before my Father, who is in the heavens. ³³But whosoever may deny me before the people, I will also deny him before my Father who is in the heavens. ³⁴Think not that I came to send peace on the earth : I came not to send peace, but a sword. ³⁵For I came to divide a man against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law : ³⁶and the enemies of a man will be the inmates of his own house. ³⁷He that loveth father and mother more than me is not worthy of me ; and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. ³⁸Whosoever does not take his cross and follow after me, is not worthy of me. ³⁹The one having found his soul shall lose it ; and the one losing his soul for my sake shall find it. ⁴⁰The one receiving you will receive me, and the one receiving me will receive Him that sent me. ⁴¹The one receiving a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive the reward of a prophet ; and the one receiving a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive the reward of a righteous man. ⁴²And whosoever may give one of these little ones only a cup of cold water, in the name of a disciple, truly I say unto you, He can not lose his reward.

‡63. HEROD HOLDS JESUS TO BE JOHN THE BAPTIST, WHOM HE HAD JUST BEFORE BEHEADED.

Matt. 14. 1, 2, 6, 12 ¹And at that time Herod the tetrarch heard the fame of Jesus, ²and he said to his servants, This is John the Baptist; he is risen from the dead; and therefore miracles are wrought in him.—

⁶Herod's birthday being celebrated, the daughter of Herodias danced in the midst, and pleased Herod; ⁷consequently with an oath he promised to give to her whatsoever she might ask. ⁸And being instigated by her mother, she says, Give me the head of John the Baptist here in a charger. ⁹And the king was grieved; nevertheless on account of his oaths, and those who were sitting with him, he commanded it to be given. ¹⁰And sending, he beheaded John in prison; ¹¹and his head was brought in a charger, and given to the damsel: and she brought it to her mother. ¹²And His disciples, having come, took the body, and buried it; and having come they proclaimed it to Jesus.

Mark 6. 14-16, 21-29. ¹⁴And king Herod heard; for His name became known: and said, John the Baptist is risen from the dead, and therefore mighty works are wrought in Him. ¹⁵And others continued to say, That He is Elijah; and others continued to say that He is a prophet, indeed one of the prophets. ¹⁶But Herod hearing said, That, He is John, whom I beheaded; He is risen from the dead. ²¹And it being a high day, when Herod on his birthday made a feast to his mighty men, and chiliarchs,^a and the first men of Galilee; ²²and the daughter of Herodias herself, having come in and danced, and pleased Herod and those sitting with him; the king said to the damsel, Ask what you may wish, and I will give it to you. ²³And he promised her, I will give you whatsoever you may ask, even unto the half of my kingdom. ²⁴And having gone out, she said to her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, The head of John the Baptist. ²⁵And she having come in to the king, immediately with haste asked him, saying; I wish, that you may give to me immediately, the head of John the Baptist in a charger. ²⁶And the king being grieved exceedingly; on account of his oaths, and those sitting with him, was not willing to reject her. ²⁷And the king immediately sending forth a soldier of his guard, commanded that his head should be brought. ²⁸And having departed, he beheaded him in prison: and brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel, and the damsel gave it to her mother. ²⁹And his disciples having heard, came and took his body, and put it in a sepulcher.

Luke 9. 7-9. ⁷And Herod the tetrarch heard all things which were wrought by Him; and was at a loss, because it was said by some, that John is risen from the dead; ⁸and by some that Elijah has appeared; and by others that one of the old prophets is arisen. ⁹And Herod said, I beheaded John: but who is this, concerning whom I hear these things? And he was seeking to see Him.

He says to Philip, Whence can we purchase bread, that these may eat? ⁶He spoke this testing him; for He knew what He was about to do. ⁷Philip responded to Him, The loaves of two hundred denaria^a are not sufficient for these, that each one may receive a little. ⁸And one of His disciples, Andrew, the brother of Peter, says to Him, ⁹There is a lad here who has five barley loaves and two fishes: but what are these among so many? ¹⁰And Jesus said, Make the people sit down. ‡ 66. OUR LORD'S DISCOURSE TO THE MULTITUDE IN THE SYNAGOGUE AT CAPERNAUM. MANY DISCIPLES TURN BACK. PETER'S PROFESSION OF FAITH.—Capernaum.

John 6. 22 to 7. 1. ²²On the following day the multitude standing beyond the sea saw that there was no other ship there, except one, and that Jesus did not go along with His disciples into the ship, but His disciples went away alone ²³(other ships came from Tiberias near the place where they ate the bread, the Lord having given thanks). ²⁴And when the multitude saw that Jesus was not there, nor His disciples, they went into ships, and came into Capernaum, seeking Jesus. ²⁵And having found Him beyond the sea, they said to Him, Master, when did you come hither? ²⁶Jesus responded to them and said, Truly, truly, I say unto you, You seek me not because you saw the miracles, but because you ate of the loaves, and were filled. ²⁷Labor not for the food that perishes, but the food that abideth unto eternal life, which the Son of man gives to you: for this God the Father hath sealed. ²⁸Then they said to Him, What must we do, that we may work the works of God? ²⁹Jesus responded and said to them, This is the work of God, that they may believe on Him whom He hath sent. ³⁰Then they said to Him, Then what miracle do you perform, that we may see, and believe you, what you may do? ³¹Our fathers ate manna in the wilderness; as has been written, He gave them manna from heaven to eat.^a ³²Then Jesus said to them, Truly, truly, I say unto you, Moses did not give you the bread from heaven; but my Father gives you the true bread from heaven. ³³For the bread of God is the One coming down from heaven, and giving life to the world. ³⁴Then they said to Him, Lord, evermore give to us this bread. ³⁵Then Jesus said to them, I am the bread of life; the one coming unto me can never hunger, and the one believing on me shall never thirst. ³⁶But I said unto you, That you have seen, and you do not believe. ³⁷Everything which the Father giveth unto me shall come to me; and him that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out. ³⁸Because I have come down from heaven, not that I may do my own will, but the will of Him that sent me. ³⁹And this is the will of the One having sent me, that everything that the Father has given unto me I shall lose nothing of it, but I shall raise it up in the last day. ⁴⁰For this is the will of my Father, that every one seeing the Son, and believing on Him, may have eternal life; and I will raise him up in the last day. ⁴¹Then the Jews were murmuring concerning Him, because He said, I am the bread having come down from heaven, ⁴²and they continued to say, Is this not Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how does He now say; I have come down from heaven? ⁴³Jesus responded and said to them, Murmur not with one another. ⁴⁴No one is able to come unto me, unless the Father who sent me may draw him: and I will raise him up in the last day. ⁴⁵It is written in the prophets, They shall all be taught of God;^b every one hearing and learning from the Father, comes to me. ⁴⁶No one has seen the Father, except the One who is with God, He hath seen God.^c ⁴⁷Truly, truly, I say unto you, the one believing has eternal life. ⁴⁸I am the bread of life.^d ⁴⁹Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, and died; ⁵⁰this is the bread coming down from heaven, that any one may eat of it, and not die. ⁵¹I am the living bread, having come down from heaven; if any one may eat of me the bread, he will live forever: and the bread which I will give for the life of the world is my flesh. ⁵²Then the Jews were contending with one another, saying, How is this One able to give unto us His flesh to eat? ⁵³Then Jesus said unto them, Truly, truly, I say unto you, Unless you may eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink His blood, you have no life in you. ⁵⁴The one eating my flesh and drinking my blood has eternal life; and I will raise him up in the last day. ⁵⁵For my flesh is the true food, and my blood is the true drink. ⁵⁶The one eating my flesh and drinking my blood abides in me, and I in him. ⁵⁷As the living Father sent me, and I live through the Father; truly the one eating me, shall also live through me. ⁵⁸He is the bread having come down from heaven: not as the fathers ate, and died: the one eating this bread shall live forever. ⁵⁹And He spoke these things in the synagogue, teaching in Capernaum. ⁶⁰Then many of His disciples, hearing, said, This is a hard sermon; who is able to hear it? ⁶¹And Jesus knowing in Himself that His disciples are murmuring concerning it, said to them, Does this offend you? ⁶²If then you may see the Son of man ascending up, where He was formerly? ⁶³The Spirit is the One who creates life; the flesh profits nothing; the words which I have spoken unto you are spirit and life.^e ⁶⁴But there are certain ones of you who do not believe. For Jesus knew from the beginning that there are certain ones not believing, and there is one going to betray Him.^f ⁶⁵And He said, Therefore I have said unto you, that no one is able to come unto me, unless it may have been given unto him of the Father.

⁶⁶Moreover from this many of His disciples went back, and walked with Him no more. ⁶⁷Then Jesus said to the twelve, Do you also wish to go away? ⁶⁸Simon Peter responded to Him, Lord, to whom shall we go away? thou hast the words of eternal life;^g ⁶⁹we have believed and we know that thou art the Holy One of God. ⁷⁰Jesus responded to them, Have I not chosen you twelve, and one of you is devilish? ⁷¹But He spoke of Judas Iscariot the son of Simon, for he was going to betray Him, being one of the twelve.

the Pharisees and scribes asked Him, Wherefore do not thy disciples walk according to the tradition of the elders: but they eat bread with unwashed hands? ⁶And responding He said to them, Beautifully did Isaiah prophesy concerning you hypocrites, as has been written,^c This people honor me with lips, but their heart is far from me. ⁷In vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. ⁸For having left the commandment of God, you are holding the tradition of men. ⁹And He said to them, Truly, you make void the commandment of God, that you may hold your own tradition. ¹⁰For Moses said, Honor thy father and thy mother; and let the one speaking evil of father and mother die the death. ¹¹But you say, If a man may say to father or mother, Corban, that is a gift, whatsoever you may be profited by me; and he shall no longer honor his father or his mother. ¹²and you no longer permit him to do anything for his father or mother; ¹³making void the word of God by your tradi-¹⁷And when He came from the multitude into the house, His disciples asked Him the parable. ¹⁸And He says to them, Are you still without understanding? And they said, Seven loaves and a few fishes. ³⁵He having commanded the multitudes to sit down upon the ground, ³⁶He took the seven loaves and the fishes; having given thanks, He broke them, and gave to His disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

Mark 7. 31-37 to 8. 1-9. ³¹And having again come out from Tyre and Sidon, He came to the Sea of Galilee, amid the coasts of Decapolis. ³²And they bring Him a deaf man, speaking with difficulty; and in-him. ³³And taking him from the crowd privately, He says to him, Ephphatha, which is, Be thou opened, and the bond of his tongue loosed, ³⁶And He charged them that they should tell no one: and the more He charged them, the more abundantly they proclaimed it. ³⁷And were astonished exceedingly, saying, He has done all things well: He makes the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

Mark 8. ¹In those days, the multitude being large, and having nothing which they may eat, Jesus calling His disciples, says to them, ²I sympathize with the multitude because three days already abide unto me, and they have nothing which they may eat. ³If I shall send them away to their homes fasting, they will faint on the road; indeed some of them have come from afar. ⁴And His disciples responded, Whence shall any one be able to feed these with bread in the desert? ⁵And He asked them, How much bread have you? And they said, Seven loaves. ⁶He commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground; and taking the seven loaves, giving thanks, He broke, and gave them to His disciples, that they may dispense them; and they presented them to the multitude. ⁷And they had a few fishes: and blessing them, He delivered them. ⁸And they ate, and were filled: and they took up the residue of the fragments, seven baskets. ⁹And those eating were about four thousand. And He sent them away.

Matt. 16. ¹And the Pharisees and Sadducees having come to Him, tempting Him, asked Him to show them a sign from heaven. ²And He responding said to them, It being evening, you say, It will be fair weather: because the sky is red: ³and in the morning, It will be stormy to-day: for the lowering sky is red: ye hypocrites, you know how to discern the face of the sky: but are you not able to discern the signs of the times? ⁴A wicked and adulterous generation seeks after a sign. Matt. 17. 1-13. ¹ And after six days Jesus takes Peter, and James, and John his brother, and carries them up into an exceedingly high mountain privately. ² And was transfigured before them, and His face shone like the sun, and His garments became white as the light. ³ And behold, Moses and Elijah appeared unto them, talking with Him.

⁹And they coming down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no one, until the Son of man may rise from the dead.

¹⁰And His disciples asked Him, saying, Why then do the scribes say that it behooves Elijah to come first? ¹¹And Jesus responding said to them, Elijah indeed comes, and will restore all things: ¹²but I say unto you, that Elijah has already come, and they recognized Him not, but did unto Him so many things as they wished; thus the Son of man is also about to suffer by them. ¹³Then the disciples understood that He spoke to them concerning John the Baptist.

but if the salt may become savorless, with what will you salt it? Have salt in yourselves, and live in peace with one another.

sent him away, and forgave him the debt. ²⁸And that servant having gone out, found one of his fellow-servants, who owed him one hundred denaria:^a seized him, throttled him, saying, Pay me what you owe me. ²⁹Then his fellow-servant falling down, continued to intreat him, saying, Be patient with me and I will pay thee. ³⁰And he was not willing: but having gone away he cast him into prison, until he could pay that which was owing. ³¹Then his fellow-servants seeing those things which had taken place, were grieved exceedingly, and coming related to their lord all the things which transpired. ³²Then his lord calling him says to him, Thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, since thou didst intreat me: ³³did it not behoove thee also to have mercy on thy fellow-servant, as I had mercy on thee? ³⁴And his lord being angry delivered him to the tormenters, until he should pay all that was due him. ³⁵Thus my Heavenly Father will also do unto you, if you do not forgive each one his brother from your hearts.

Luke 10. 1-16. ¹After these things the Lord chose seventy others also, and sent them out two by two before His face, into every place and city, where He was about to come.^b ²And He said to them, The harvest is indeed great, but the laborers are few: therefore pray you the Lord of the harvest, that He may send forth laborers into His harvest. ³Go: behold, I send you forth as lambs in the midst of wolves. ⁴Take neither purse, nor valise, nor sandals:^c salute no one by the way. ⁵Into whatsoever house you may enter, first say, Peace be unto this house. ⁶And if the son of peace may be there, your peace shall rest upon it: but if not, it shall return unto you. ⁷Abide in the same house, eating and drinking those things which are with them: for the laborer is worthy of his hire.^d Go not from house to house. ⁸Into whatsoever city you may enter and they may receive you, eat those things which are placed by you: ⁹and heal the sick who are in it, and say to them, The kingdom of God has come nigh unto you. ¹⁰And into whatsoever city you may enter, and they may not receive you, having come out into the streets of the same, say, ¹¹Even the dust from your city, that cleaveth on your feet, do we wipe off against you: but know this, that the kingdom of God is at hand. ¹²For I say unto you, that it will be more tolerable in that day for Sodom than for that city. ¹³Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works which were wrought in you had been in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago, sitting down in sackcloth and ashes.^e ¹⁴Moreover it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the judgment than for you. ¹⁵And thou, Capernaum, art thou not exalted up to heaven? thou shalt be cast down to Hades. ¹⁶He that heareth you heareth me; he that rejecteth you rejecteth me; and he that rejecteth me rejecteth Him that sent me.

§ 81. JESUS GOES UP TO THE FESTIVAL OF TABERNACLES. HIS FINAL DEPARTURE FROM GALILEE. INCIDENTS IN SAMARIA.

John 7. 2-10. ²And the feast of the Jews, tabernacles, was nigh.^g ³Then His brothers said to Him; Depart hence, and go into Judea; in order that thy disciples shall see thy works which thou art doing. For no one does anything in secret, and Himself seeks to be public. ⁴If thou doest these things, show thyself to the world. ⁵For His brothers^h were not believing on Him. ⁶Jesus says to them, My time is not yet; but your time is always ready. ⁷The world is not able to hate you; but it hates me, because I testify against it, that its works are evil. ⁸You go up to the feast: I do not go to this feast; because my time is not yet fulfilled. ⁹Saying these things He remained in Galilee. ¹⁰And when His brothers went up to the feast, then Himself also went up, not openly, but in secret.

Luke 17. 11-19. ¹¹And it came to pass, while He was journeying to Jerusalem, and He was going through the midst of Samaria and Galilee. ¹²He coming into a certain village, ten lepers met Him, who stood afar off; ¹³and lifting up their voice, saying, Thou, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us. ¹⁴And seeing, He said to them, Go and show yourselves to the priest.^a And it came to pass while they were going, they were cleansed: ¹⁵and one of them, seeing that he was healed, returned, with a loud voice glorifying God, ¹⁶and he fell upon his face at His feet, giving thanks to Him: and he was a Samaritan. ¹⁷And Jesus responding said, Were not the ten cleansed? ¹⁸Where are the nine? § 83. JESUS AT THE FEAST OF TABERNACLES. HIS PUBLIC TEACHING.—Jerusalem.

John 7. 11-52.

THEN the Jews were seeking Him at the feast, and saying, Where is He? ¹²And there was much murmuring in the crowd concerning Him: some indeed were saying, That He is good; others were saying, No, but He deceives the multitude. ¹³No one indeed was speaking openly concerning Him on account of the fear of the Jews. ¹⁴But the feast already being midway, Jesus came up into the temple, and was teaching. ¹⁵Then the Jews marveled, saying; How does this one know letters, never having been taught?^a ¹⁶Then Jesus responded to them, and said, My teaching is not mine, but of Him that sent me; ¹⁷if any one may will to do His will, he shall know concerning the teaching, whether it is of God, or I speak for myself. ¹⁸He that speaketh from himself seeketh his own glory: he that seeketh the glory of Him that sent Him, the same is true, and there is no unrighteousness in Him. ¹⁹Did not Moses give you the law? and no one of you does the law.^b Why do you seek to kill me? ²⁰And the multitude responded, Thou hast a demon: who seeks to kill thee?^c ²¹Jesus responded and said to them, I did one work, and you were all astonished. ²²Moses gave you circumcision,^d not that it is of Moses, but of the fathers,^e and you circumcise a man on the Sabbath. ²³If a man receives circumcision on the Sabbath, in order that the law of Moses may not be broken; are you mad at me, because I made a man entirely whole on the Sabbath? ²⁴Judge not according to sight, but judge righteous judgment.^f ²⁵Then certain ones of Jerusalemites were saying, Is not this He whom they wished to kill? ²⁶And behold He speaks publicly, and they say nothing to Him. Whether do the rulers truly know that He is the Christ? ²⁷But we know Him whence He is: but when Christ may come, no one knows whence He is. ²⁸Then Jesus cried out in the temple, teaching and saying, You indeed know me, and know whence I am; and I have not come of myself, but the one sending me is true, whom you do not know.^g ²⁹I know Him, because I am with Him, and He sent me. ³⁰Then they were seeking to arrest Him: and no one laid a hand on Him, because His hour had not yet come.^h ³¹And many from the multitude believed on Him; and continued to say, When Christ may come, will He do more miracles than this one is doing? ³²The Pharisees heard the crowd murmuring these things concerning Him; and the chief priests and Pharisees sent officers, that they should arrest Him. ³³Then Jesus said, Yet a little while I am with you, and I go to Him that sent me.ⁱ ³⁴You will seek me, and will not find me: and where I am, you are not able to come. ³⁵Then the Jews said to themselves, Where is He about to go, that we shall not find Him? is He about to go into the Dispersion of the Greek, and teach the Greeks? ³⁶What is this word which He said, You shall seek me, and not find me: and where I am, you are not able to come?

³⁷And on the last great day of the feast, Jesus stood and continued to cry out, saying, If any one thirst, let him come and drink. ³⁸The one believing on me, as the Scripture said, out of his heart shall flow rivers of living water.^a ³⁹And He spoke this concerning the Spirit, whom those believing on Him were about to receive:^b for the Spirit was not yet; because Jesus was not yet glorified. ⁴⁰Then those hearing these words from the multitude, were saying, This is truly the prophet; ⁴¹others were saying, He is the Christ; others were saying, For whether does Christ come out of Galilee? ⁴²Did not the Scripture say, that Christ comes from the seed of David and from the village of Bethlehem, where David was?^c ⁴³Then there was a schism in the crowd on account of Him: ⁴⁴and some of them wished to arrest Him; but no one laid hands on Him.^d ⁴⁵Then the officers came to the chief priests and Pharisees, and they said to them, Why did you not bring Him? ⁴⁶The officers responded, Never did a man so speak, as this man speaks. ⁴⁷And the Pharisees responded to them; Are ye also deceived? ⁴⁸Whether has any one of the rulers or of the Pharisees believed on Him? ⁴⁹But this crowd knowing not the law are accursed. ⁵⁰Nicodemus being one of them, says to them; ^e⁵¹Whether does our law judge a man, until it may first hear from him and know what he does?^f ⁵²They responded and said to him, Whither art thou also from Galilee? Search, and see that no prophet rises out of Galilee.

§ 84. FURTHER PUBLIC PREACHING OF OUR LORD. HE REPROVES THE UNBELIEVING JEWS, AND ESCAPES FROM THEIR HANDS.—Jerusalem.

John 8. 12-59. ¹²Then Jesus again spoke to them, saying, I am the light of the world: the one following me can not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of the life.^g ¹³Then the Pharisees said to Him, Thou art testifying concerning thyself; Thy testimony is not true. And Jesus responded and said to them, ¹⁴If I testify concerning myself, my testimony is true; for I know whence I come, and whither I go. You know not whence I come, or whither I go. ¹⁵You judge according to the flesh; I judge no one.^h ¹⁶If I judge, my judgment is true; because I am not alone, but I and the One having sent me. ¹⁷And it has been written in our law, that the testimony of two men is true.ⁱ ¹⁸I am the one testifying concerning myself, and the Father having sent me, testifies concerning me.^j ¹⁹Then they said to Him, Where is thy Father? Jesus responded; You know neither me nor my Father; if you knew me, you would also know my Father. ²⁰He spoke these words in the treasury, teaching in the temple: and no one arrested Him; because His hour had not yet come.^k ²¹Then He again said to them, I go away, and you will seek me, and you will die in your sin: whither I go you are not able to come.^l ²²Then the Jews were saying, Whether will He kill Himself, because He says, Whither I go away, you are not able to come? ²³And He said to them, You are from beneath; I am from above: you are of this world; I am not of this world.^m ²⁴Therefore I said to you, that you shall die in your sins: for if you may not believe that I am He, you shall die in your sins. ²⁵Then they said to Him, Who art thou? And Jesus said to them, Even that which I also speak to you from the beginning. ²⁶I have many things to speak and to judge concerning you; but the One having sent me is true; those things which I heard with Him, these I speak to the world. ²⁷They did not know that He spoke to them concerning the Father. ²⁸Then Jesus said, When you may lift up the Son of man, then you shall know that I am He, and I do nothing of myself, but as the Father has taught me, I speak the same things.ⁿ ²⁹Truly the One having sent me is with me; He has not left me alone; because I always do those things which are pleasing to Him. ³⁰He speaking these things, many believed on Him. ³¹Then Jesus said to the Jews, who believed on Him, If you may abide in my word, you are truly my disciples; ³²and you shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. ³³They responded to Him, we are the seed of Abraham, and have never been in bondage to any one: How do You say, that you shall be free?^a ³⁴Jesus responded to them, Truly, truly, I say unto you, That every one doing sin is the slave of sin. ³⁵But the slave abides not in the house forever; the Son abides forever.^b ³⁶If therefore the Son may make you free, you shall be free indeed. ³⁷I know ye are the seed of Abraham; but you seek to kill me, because my word has no place in you. ³⁸Whatever I have seen with the Father I speak: you therefore are doing the things which you heard with your father.^c ³⁹They responded and said to Him, Abraham is our Father. Jesus says to them, If you were the children of Abraham, you would do the works of Abraham. ⁴⁰But now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth, which I heard with God: Abraham did not this. ⁴¹You are doing the works of your father. They said to Him, We are not born of fornication; we have one Father, God. ⁴²Jesus said to them; If God were your Father, you would love me: for I came out from God, and I return; for I have not spoken from myself, but He sent me.^d ⁴³Wherefore do you not understand my speech? Because you are not able to hear my word. ⁴⁴You are of your father the devil, and you wish to do the lusts of your father.^e He was a murderer from the beginning, and stood not in the truth, because there was no truth in him. When he may speak a lie, he speaks of his own: because he is a liar, and the father of the same. ⁴⁵And because I speak the truth, you do not believe me. ⁴⁶Which one of you convicts me concerning sin? If I speak the truth, why do you not believe me?^f ⁴⁷The one being of God hears the words of God: on account of this you do not hear, because you are not of God.^g ⁴⁸The Jews responded and said to Him, Do we not truly say that you are a Samaritan, and have a demon?^h ⁴⁹Jesus responded, I have not a demon; but I honor my Father, and you dishonor me. ⁵⁰But I do not seek my own glory: there is One seeking and judging. ⁵¹Truly, truly, I say unto you, if any one may keep my word, he may never see death.ⁱ ⁵²The Jews said to Him, Now we know that thou hast a demon. Abraham and the prophets are dead; and thou sayest, If any one may keep my word, he may never taste death.^j ⁵³Whether art thou greater than our father Abraham, who died? and the prophets died: whom do you make yourself? ⁵⁴Jesus responded, If I may glorify myself, my glory is nothing: my Father is the one glorifying me; whom you say, that, He is our God; ⁵⁵indeed you do not know Him: but I know Him. If I may say, I know Him not, I will be a liar like you: but I know Him, and I keep His word. ⁵⁶Abraham, our father, rejoiced that he might see my day; he saw it, and was glad. ⁵⁷Then the Jews said to Him, You are not yet fifty years old, and have you seen Abraham? ⁵⁸Jesus said unto them, Truly, truly, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am. ⁵⁹Then they took up stones that they might cast at Him: and Jesus was hidden, and departed out from the temple.

tain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho; and fell among thieves, who indeed having stripped him of his raiment, administered blows, went away, leaving him half dead. ³¹And by chance a certain priest came down that way: and seeing him, passed by on the other side. ³²And likewise also a Levite, being at the place, coming and seeing, passed by on the other side. ³³And a certain Samaritan, on a journey, came near him: and seeing, had compassion on him, ³⁴and having come to him, he bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine: and having mounted him on his own beast, carried him to a tavern, and cared for him. ³⁵And on the morrow, taking out two denaria,^a gave them to the host, and said, Care for him; and whatsoever you expend in addition, on my return, I will pay you. ³⁶Which one of these three seems to you to have been the neighbor of him who fell among the thieves? ³⁷And he said, The one having done mercy with him. And Jesus said to him, Go, thou, and do likewise.

§ 86. JESUS IN THE HOUSE OF MARTHA AND MARY.—Bethany.

Luke 10. 38-42. ³⁸And it came to pass while they were going round, He also came into a certain village: and a certain woman by name Martha received Him into her house.^b ³⁹And there was a sister to her called Mary, who indeed sitting down at the feet of the Lord, continued to hear His word: ⁴⁰and Martha was very busy about much serving. And standing over Him, she said, Lord, is there no care to thee that my sister has left me to serve alone? then say to her that she must assist me. ⁴¹And the Lord responding said to her, Martha, Martha, you are solicitous and encumbered concerning many things: ⁴²but there is need of one thing: for Mary has chosen the good part, which shall not be taken from her.

§ 87. THE DISCIPLES AGAIN TAUGHT HOW TO PRAY.—Near Jerusalem.

Luke 11. 1-13. ¹And it came to pass, that He was in a certain place praying; when He ceased, one of His disciples said to Him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples.^c ²And He said to them, When you pray, say, Our Father, let thy name be hallowed: let thy kingdom come: ³give unto us this day our daily bread: ⁴and forgive us our sins; for we also do forgive every one owing us: and lead us not into temptation. ⁵And He said to them, Which one of you shall have a friend, and go to him at midnight, and say to him, Friend, lend me three loaves; ⁶since my friend came to me from the road, and I have nothing which I may place before him. ⁷And he responding from within, said, Do not give me trouble: the door has already been closed, and my children are in bed with me; I am not able rising to give unto thee. ⁸I say unto you, If indeed having risen he will not give unto him, because he is his friend, yet on account of his shamelessness, rising he will give him as much as he needs. ⁹And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given unto you; seek, and you shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. ¹⁰For every one asking receives; and the one seeking finds; and to the one knocking it shall be opened. ¹¹And which father of you shall if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone? or indeed a fish, will he instead of a fish give him a serpent? ¹²Or indeed shall he ask an egg, will he give him a scorpion? ¹³If then you, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, then how much more will your Father who is from heaven give the Holy Spirit to them that ask Him?

§ 88. THE SEVENTY RETURN.—Jerusalem.

Luke 10. 17-24. ¹⁷And the seventy returned with joy, saying, Lord, even the demons are subordinated to us in thy name. ¹⁸And He said to them, I saw Satan having fallen as the lightning from heaven. ¹⁹Behold I have given you authority to tread upon serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy; and nothing shall hurt you. ²⁰Moreover do not rejoice in this, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rejoice that your names are written in the heavens.^a ²¹At the same hour He rejoiced in the Holy Spirit, and said, I praise thee, O Father, Lord of the heaven and the earth, because thou hast hidden these things from the wise and prudent, and revealed them to babes: yea, Father, because it was thus pleasing in thy sight. ²²And turning to His disciples, He said, All things have been delivered to me by my Father: and no one knoweth who the Son is, except the Father; and who the Father is, except the Son, and he to whom He may wish to reveal Him. ²³And turning to His disciples, privately He said, Happy are your eyes, seeing those things which you see. ²⁴For I say unto you, that many kings and prophets desired to see those things which you see, and saw them not; and to hear those things which you hear, and heard them not.

‡ 89. A MAN BORN BLIND IS HEALED ON THE SABBATH. OUR LORD'S SUBSEQUENT DISCOURSES.

John 9. 1-41 to 10. 1-21. ¹And passing along, He saw a man blind from his birth. ²And His disciples asked Him, saying, Master, who sinned, this one, or his parents, that he was born blind? ³Jesus responded, Neither did he nor his parents sin; but that the works of God may be made manifest in him. ⁴It behooveth us to work the works of Him that sent us, while it is day: the night comes, when no one is able to work. ⁵While I am in the world, I am the light of the world.^b ⁶Saying these words, He spat on the ground, and made mortar out of the spittle, and besmeared the mortar on his eyes,^b ⁷and He said to him; Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, (which is interpreted, Sent).^c Then he went away, and washed, and came seeing. ⁸Then the neighbors, and those seeing him previously, because he was a beggar, continued to say, Is not this the one sitting and begging? ⁹Some said, That he is: others said, No, but he is like him: he said, I am he. ¹⁰Then they said to him, How then were your eyes opened? ¹¹He responded, a man called Jesus made mortar and besmeared my eyes, and said, Go to Siloam, and wash. Then having gone away and washed, I looked up. ¹²They said to him, Where is He? He says, I know not. ¹³They lead him to the Pharisees, him formerly blind. ¹⁴And it was the Sabbath on the day on which Jesus made mortar, and opened his eyes. ¹⁵Then again the Pharisees also asked him how he looked up. And he said to them, He placed the mortar on my eyes, and I washed, and see. ¹⁶Then certain ones of the Pharisees said, This man is not with God, because He does not keep the Sabbath. Others said, How is a wicked man able to do such miracles? And there was a division among them. ¹⁷Then they again say to the blind man, What do you say concerning Him, because He opened your eyes? And he said that, He is a prophet.^d ¹⁸Then the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he was blind, and looked up, until they called the parents of him that looked up,^d ¹⁹and asked them, saying, Is this your son, who you say was born blind? how then does he now see? ²⁰Then his parents responded and said; We know that he is our son, and that he was born blind: ²¹but how he now sees, we know not; nor who opened his eyes, we know not: ask him; he has majority; he will speak for himself. ²²And his parents said these things, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had already stipulated, that if any one should confess Him to be Christ, he should be put out of the synagogue.^e ²³Therefore his parents said that, He has majority, ask him. ²⁴Then they asked the man the second time who was blind, and said to him, Give God the glory: we know that this man is a sinner. ²⁵Then he responded, If He is a sinner, I know not: one thing I do know, that being blind I now see. ²⁶Then they said to him, What did He to you? how did He open your eyes? ²⁷He responded to them, I told you already, and you did not hearken: why do you wish to hear again? whether do you wish to become His disciples? ²⁸They railed on him, and said, You are His disciple; but we are the disciples of Moses: ²⁹we know that God spoke to Moses: but we do not know this One, whence He is. ³⁰The man responded and said to them; For in this it is wonderful, that you do not know whence He is, He truly opened my eyes. ³¹We know that God hears not sinners: but if any one may be a worshiper of God, and do His will, He hears him. ³²It was never heard of from the beginning that any one opened the eyes of a man who was born blind: ³³if He were not with God, He would not be able to do anything. ³⁴They responded and said to him, Thou art altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they cast him out.

³⁵Jesus heard that they cast him out; and having found him, said, Do you believe on the Son of man? ³⁶He responded and said, Who is He, Lord, that I may believe on Him? ³⁷Jesus said to him, Indeed you have seen Him, and the One speaking with you is He. ³⁸And He said, I believe, Lord: and he worshiped Him. ³⁹And Jesus said, For judgment I came into this world, that those not seeing may see; and those seeing may be made blind. ⁴⁰And those of the Pharisees being with Him heard, and said to Him, Whether are we also blind? ⁴¹Jesus said to them, If you were not blind you would not have sin: but now you say that, We see: your sin remaineth.

John 10. ¹Truly, truly, I say unto you, the one coming not in through the door into the fold of the sheep, but climbing up some other way, he is a thief and a robber. ²And the one coming in through the door is the shepherd of the sheep. ³To him the porter opens; and the sheep hear His voice: and he calls His own sheep by name, and leads them out. ⁴When He may put out all his own, he goes before them, and the sheep follow Him: because they know his voice: ⁵but they will not follow a stranger, but will flee from him: because they know not the voice of strangers. ⁶He spoke this parable to them: but they did not know what things He was speaking to them. ⁷Then Jesus said, Truly, truly, I say unto you, that I am the door of the sheep. ⁸All so many as came were thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them. ⁹I am the door: if any one may enter in through me, he shall be saved; he shall go in and come out, and find pasture. ¹⁰The thief does not come, but that he may steal, and slay, and destroy: I came that they may have life, and have it more abundantly. ¹¹I am the Good Shepherd. The Good Shepherd lays down His life for the sheep. ¹²The hireling, and the one not being the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, sees the wolf coming, and leaves the sheep, and flees away, and the wolf seizes and scatters them: ¹³because he is a hireling and there is not a care to him for the sheep. ¹⁴I am the Good Shepherd; I know mine, and mine know me, ^a ¹⁵as the Father knows Me, and I know the Father; and I lay down My soul for the sheep. ¹⁶And I have other sheep, not of this fold: and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd. ¹⁷Therefore my Father loves Me, because I lay down my soul, that I may take it again. ¹⁸No one takes it from Me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and power to receive it again. I received this commandment from my Father. ^b ¹⁹Again there was a schism among the Jews on account of these words. ^c ²⁰Then many of them were saying, He has a demon, and is gone mad; why do you hear Him? Others were saying, ²¹These are not the words of a demonized man. ^d Whether is a demon able to open the eyes of the blind? ^e

§ 90. JESUS IN JERUSALEM AT THE FESTIVAL OF DEDICATION. HE RETIRES BEYOND JORDAN.—Jerusalem. Bethany beyond the Jordan.

John 10. 22-42. ²²And it was the feast of dedication in Jerusalem: and it was winter; ²³and Jesus was walking in the temple in Solomon's porch. ²⁴Then the Jews surrounded Him, and said to Him, How long do you take away our soul? ²⁵If thou art the Christ, tell us openly. Jesus responded, I told you, and you do not believe: the works which I do in the name of my Father, these testify concerning me. ^f ²⁶But you do not believe, because you are not of my sheep. ^g ²⁷My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: ^h ²⁸and I give to them eternal life; and they shall never perish, and no one shall pluck them out of my hand. ²⁹The Father, who has given them unto me, is greater than all; and no one is able to pluck them out of the hand of the Father. ³⁰I and the Father are one. ³¹Again the Jews took up stones, that they might stone Him. ³²Jesus responded to them, I have shown unto you many beautiful works from the Father; on account of which of these do you stone me? ³³The Jews responded to Him, We do not stone Thee for good work, but for blasphemy; because Thou, being a man, art making Thyself God. ³⁴And Jesus responded to them, Is it not written in your law, that I said, Ye are gods?^a ³⁵If He called them gods, to whom the word of God came (and the Scripture is not able to be broken), ³⁶whom the Father sanctified and sent into the world, do you say; Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of God? ³⁷If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not. ³⁸If I do, believe not me, believe the works: that you may know and understand that the Father is in Me, and I in the Father. ³⁹They sought again to take Him: and He passed out of their hand.^b

⁴⁰And again He departed beyond the Jordan into the place where John was first baptizing; and remained there: ⁴¹and many came to Him, and said, that John indeed did no miracle; but all things so many as John spoke concerning this One are true. ⁴²And many believed on Him there.

§ 91. THE RAISING OF LAZARUS.—Bethany.

John 11. 1-46. ¹And a certain one was sick, Lazarus from Bethany, of the village of Mary and Martha her sister.^c ²And Mary was the one anointing the Lord with myrrh, and wiping His feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick. ³Then the sisters sent to Him, saying, Lord, behold the one whom thou lovest is sick. ⁴And Jesus hearing said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, so that the Son of God may be glorified through it. ⁵Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus, with Divine love. ⁶Therefore when He heard that he was sick, He then remained two days in the place in which He was. ⁷Then after this He says to the disciples, Let us go again unto Judea. ⁸The disciples said to Him, Master, the Jews were but now seeking to stone thee; dost thou go hither again?^d ⁹Jesus responded, Are there not twelve hours of the day? If any one may walk in the day, he does not stumble, because he sees the light of this world: ¹⁰if any one may walk in the night, he stumbles, because the light is not in him. ¹¹He spoke these things: and after this He says to them, Our friend Lazarus is asleep; and I go that I may awaken him. ¹²Then the disciples said to Him, Lord, if he is asleep, he will be saved. ¹³But Jesus spoke concerning his death: and they thought that He spoke concerning the rest of sleep. ¹⁴Then however Jesus spoke to them openly, Lazarus is dead, ¹⁵and I rejoice on account of you that I was not there, in order that you may believe; but let us go to him. ¹⁶Then Thomas, called Didymus, said to his fellow-disciples; Let us go too, that we may die with Him.

¹⁷Then Jesus having come, found him having four days in the sepulcher. ¹⁸But Bethany was near Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs. ¹⁹And many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary, that they might comfort them concerning their brother. ²⁰Then Martha, when she heard that Jesus comes, went to meet Him: and Mary sat in the house. ²¹Then Martha said to Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.^e ²²And now I know that, whatsoever things you may ask of God, God will give to you. ²³Jesus says to her, Thy brother will rise again. ²⁴Martha says to Him, I know he will rise again in the resurrection in the last day. ²⁵Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection and the life; the one believing on me, though he may die, shall live: and ²⁶every one living and believing on me can never die: do you believe this? ²⁷She says to Him, Yes, Lord: I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, come into the world. ²⁸And having said this, she departed, and called her sister Mary, speaking secretly, The Teacher is present, and calls you. ²⁹She, when she heard, arises quickly, and comes to Him: ³⁰Jesus had not yet come into the village, but was yet in the place where Martha met Him. ³¹Then the Jews being with her in the house, and comforting her, seeing Mary, that she arose up quickly and went out, followed her, thinking that she goes to the tomb in order that she may weep there. ³²Then Mary, when she came where Jesus was, seeing Him, fell at His feet, saying to Him, Lord, if Thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. ³³Then when Jesus saw her weeping, and the Jews, having come with her, weeping, He groaned in spirit, and troubled Himself, ³⁴and said, Where have you laid him? They say to Him, Lord, come and see. ³⁵Jesus wept. ³⁶Then the Jews were saying, Behold, how He loved him as a friend! ³⁷And some of them said, Was not this One, having opened the eyes of the blind, able to bring it to pass, that he indeed should not die? ³⁸Then Jesus again groaning in Himself comes to the tomb; and it was a cave, and a stone was laid upon it. ³⁹Jesus says; Take away the stone. Martha, the sister of the dead, says to Him; Lord, already he smelleth: for he is dead four days. ⁴⁰Jesus says to her; Did I not tell thee, that, if thou canst believe, thou shalt see the glory of God? ⁴¹Then they took away the stone; and Jesus lifted up His eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee, because Thou hast heard Me. ⁴²I know that Thou dost always hear Me; but on account of the multitude standing around I spoke, in order that they might believe that Thou didst send Me. ⁴³And speaking these things, He cried out with a great voice, Lazarus, come forth. ⁴⁴And the dead came out, bound as to his feet and hands with graveclothes; and his face bound round with a napkin. Jesus says to them, Loose him, and let him go. ⁴⁵Then many of the Jews, having come to Mary and seeing the things which He did, believed on Him: ⁴⁶but certain ones of them went away to the Pharisees, and told them the things which Jesus did.

John 11. 47-54. ⁴⁷Then the chief priests and Pharisees assembled the Sanhedrin, and continued to say, What are we doing? because this man is doing many miracles. ⁴⁸If we thus let Him alone, all will believe on Him: and the Romans will come and take away our place and nation. ⁴⁹But one of them, Caiaphas, being high priest that year, said to them, ⁵⁰You know nothing, you do not consider that it is profitable to you, that one man may die for the people, and the whole nation perish not.^a ⁵¹And he spoke this not of himself, but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus was about to die for the nation. ⁵²And not only for the nation, but that He may gather into one the children of God dispersed abroad.^b ⁵³Then from that day they passed the verdict, that they would kill Him. ⁵⁴Therefore Jesus walked no more publicly among the Jews, but went away thence into the country near the desert, into a city called Ephraim; and there tarried with His disciples.

‡ 93. JESUS BEYOND JORDAN FOLLOWED BY MULTITUDES. THE HEALING OF THE INFIRM WOMAN ON THE SABBATH.—Valley of Jordan. Perea.

Matt. 19. 1, 2. ¹And it came to pass when Jesus finished these sermons, He departed from Galilee, and came into the coasts of Judea, beyond the Jordan. ²And many multitudes followed Him; and He healed them there.

Mark 10. ¹Rising up thence He comes into the coasts of Judea, through the region beyond the Jordan; and the multitudes again come to Him, and, as was His custom, He again taught them.

Luke 13. 10-21. ¹⁰And He was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath. ¹¹And behold, a woman having a spirit of infirmity eighteen years; and she was bowed together, and not at all able to straighten up. ¹²And Jesus seeing her, called to her, and said, Woman, thou art loosed from thy infirmity: ¹³and He placed His hands on her: and immediately she straightened up, and continued to glorify God. ¹⁴And the chief ruler of the synagogue, responding, being grieved because Jesus healed on the Sabbath, said to the multitude, There are six days in which it behooveth us to work: therefore during these, coming, be healed, and not on the Sabbath-day. ¹⁵And the Lord responded to him, and said, Ye hypocrites, does not each one of you loose his ox or his donkey from the stall, and leading him away, give him water on the Sabbath?^a ¹⁶Did it not behoove this one, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan bound, lo, these eighteen years, to be loosed from this bondage on the Sabbath-day? ¹⁷And He speaking these things, all opposing Him became ashamed: and the whole multitude rejoiced over all the illustrious works wrought by Him. ¹⁸Then He said, To what is the kingdom of God like? and to what shall I liken it?^b ¹⁹It is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man having taken, cast into his garden; and it grew, and became a tree; and the birds of heaven lodged in its branches.^c ²⁰And again He said, To what shall I liken the kingdom of God? ²¹It is like leaven, which a woman having taken, hid in three measures of meal, until the whole was leavened.

§94. OUR LORD GOES JOURNEYING AND TEACHING TOWARDS JERUSALEM.
HE IS WARNED AGAINST HEROD.—Perea.

Luke 13. 22-35. ²²And He was journeying through cities and villages, teaching, and making His journey towards Jerusalem. ²³And one said to Him, Lord, are the saved few? And He said to them, ²⁴Agonize to enter in through the narrow gate: because many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and will not be able.^d ²⁵When the landlord may rise up, and close the door, and you may begin to stand without, and knock at the door, saying, Lord, open unto us; and responding he will say unto you, I know not whence you are. ²⁶Then you will begin to say, We ate and drank in thy presence, and thou didst preach in our streets. ²⁷And he will say, I tell you, I know you not whence you are; depart from me, all you workers of iniquity.^e ²⁸And there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when you shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and you cast out.^f ²⁹And they will come from the east and west, and the north and south, and will sit down in the kingdom of God. ³⁰And behold, the last shall be first, and the first shall be last.^g ³¹At that hour certain Pharisees came to Him, saying; Depart, and go hence: because Herod wishes to slay thee. ³²And He said to them, Having gone, tell that fox, Behold, I cast out demons and perfect healings to-day and to-morrow, and on the third day I am made perfect. ³³Moreover it behooves Me to travel to-day and to-morrow and the day following: because it does not behoove a prophet to perish outside of Jerusalem.^h ³⁴O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them that have been sent unto thee! how frequently did I wish to gather thy children, in the manner in which a hen doth gather her brood under her wings, and ye were not willing! ³⁵Behold, your house is left unto you desolate. I say unto you, that you can see me no more, until it shall come to pass that you may say, Blessed is the One coming in the name of the Lord.

§95. OUR LORD DINES WITH A CHIEF PHARISEE ON THE SABBATH.
INCIDENTS.—Perea.

Luke 14. 1 24. ¹And it came to pass when He entered into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees on the Sabbath to eat bread, that they were watching Him. ²And, behold, a certain dropsical man was before Him.ⁱ ³And Jesus responding spoke to the theologians and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath-day, or not?

and they were silent. ⁴And taking him by the hand, He healed him, and sent him away.^a ⁵And responding to them He said; Of which one of you shall his son or his ox fall into a pit, and will he not immediately lift him out on the Sabbath-day?^a ⁶and they were not able to respond to these things. ⁷And He spoke a parable to those whom He had called, warning them that they should not choose the first couches; saying to them, ⁸When you may be called by any one to a marriage feast, do not sit down upon the first couch; lest one more worthy than thee may have been called by him, ⁹and the one having called thee and him, having come in shall say to thee, Give place to him; and then thou shalt with shame begin to take the last place. ¹⁰But when you may be invited, coming in sit down in the last place; in order that when the one having invited thee may come, he will say to thee, Friend, come up higher: then there will be glory to thee in the presence of all those sitting along with thee.^b ¹¹Because every one who shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.^b

¹²And He spoke to the one having also invited Him, When you may make a dinner or a supper, do not call your rich friends, nor your brothers, nor your kindred, nor your neighbors; lest they may also invite thee in turn, and there may be a recompense unto thee. ¹³But when you may make a feast, invite the poor, maimed, lame, blind: ¹⁴and thou shalt be happy; because they have nothing with which to recompense thee: and it shall be recompensed unto thee in the resurrection of the just. ¹⁵And a certain one of those sitting together, hearing these things, said to Him, Happy is he whosever eateth bread in the kingdom of God.^c ¹⁶And He said to him, A certain man made a great supper, and invited many; ¹⁷and at the hour of the supper he sent his servants to say to those who were invited, Come; because they are now ready. ¹⁸And they all of one consent began to make excuse. The first said to him, I have bought a farm, and I have need having gone to see it: I pray thee have me excused. ¹⁹And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove the same: I intreat thee have me excused. ²⁰Another said, I have married a wife, and on this account I am not able to come. ²¹And the servant coming, announced these things to his lord. Then the landlord being angry said to his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and lead in hither the poor and maimed and blind and lame. ²²And the servant said, Lord, it is done as thou didst command, and yet there is room. ²³And the lord said to the servant, Go out into the roads and hedges, and compel them to come in, in order that my house may be filled: ²⁴for I say unto you, that no one of these men who have been invited shall taste of my supper.

§ 96. WHAT IS REQUIRED OF TRUE DISCIPLES.

Luke 14. 25-35. ²⁵And many multitudes were journeying along with Him, and turning He said to them, ²⁶If any one comes to me, and does not hate his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brothers, and sisters, and even yet his own soul, he is not able to be my disciple. ²⁷Whosoever does not carry his cross, and come after me, is not able to be my disciple. ²⁸For which one of you, wishing to build a tower, does not first sitting down count the cost; if he has unto sufficiency? ²⁹Lest he having laid the foundation, and being unable to complete it, all who see it may begin to mock him, ³⁰saying, that this man began to build, and was not able to complete it. ³¹Or what king, going forth to engage in war with another king, will not first sitting down counsel if he is able with ten thousand to meet him who is coming against him, with twenty thousand? ³²But if not, while he is yet a great way off, sending an embassy, he asks for those things which appertain to peace. ³³Thus then every one of you who does not consecrate all his possessions, is not able to be my disciple. ³⁴Therefore salt is good: but if the salt may lose its savor, with what shall it be salted?^e ³⁵It is neither good for the land nor for excrement: they cast it out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

§97. PARABLE OF THE LOST SHEEP, ETC. PARABLE OF THE PRODIGAL SON.—Perea.

Luke 15. 1-32. ¹And all the publicans and sinners were drawing nigh to Him to hear Him.^a ²And the Pharisees and scribes were murmuring, saying, that, He receives sinners, and eats with them. ³And He spoke this parable to them, saying, ⁴What man of you, having a hundred sheep, and having lost one of them, does not leave the ninety and nine in the desert, and go after the lost one, until he may find it?^b ⁵And having found it, places it on his shoulders, rejoicing: ⁶and having come into the house, calls together the friends and neighbors, saying to them, Rejoice with me, because I have found my sheep which was lost. ⁷I say unto you that so there will be joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, rather than ninety and nine just persons who have not need of repentance. ⁸Or what woman having ten drachmæ,^c if she may lose one drachma, does she not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seek diligently till she may find it? ⁹And having found it, she calls together her friends and neighbors, saying, Rejoice with me, because I have found the drachma which I lost. ¹⁰So, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

¹¹And He said, A certain man had two sons. ¹²And the younger of them said to the father, Father, give to me the portion of the estate that falls to me. And he immediately divided unto them his living. ¹³And not many days afterward the younger son gathering all together, departed into a far-off country; and there wasted his substance living riotously. ¹⁴And he having expended all, a severe famine came into that country; and he began to be in want. ¹⁵And having gone he joined himself to one of the citizens of that country: and he sent him into his fields to feed swine: ¹⁶and he was desiring to fill his stomach from the pods^d which the swine were eating: and no one gave unto him: ¹⁷and having come to himself he said, How many hired servants of my father have bread in abundance, but here I perish with hunger! ¹⁸Having risen I will go to my father, and say to him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight: ¹⁹and I am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants. ²⁰And having risen, he came to his father. And he being yet a great way off, his father saw him, and was moved with compassion, and having run, fell upon his neck, and kissed him copiously. ²¹And the son said to him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight: and I am no more worthy to be called thy son. ²²And the father said to his servants, Bring hither the first robe, and put it on him; and give a ring to his hand, and sandals to his feet: ²³and bring hither the fatted calf, slay him, and eating, let us be merry: ²⁴because this my son was dead, and is alive again; was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry. ²⁵And his elder son was in the field: and while coming he drew near to the house, he heard music and dancing. ²⁶And calling one of the servants, asked him what these things might be. ²⁷And he said to him, Because thy brother has come; and thy father has slain the fatted calf, because he received him sound. ²⁸And he was angry, and did not wish to come in: and his father having gone out, continued to intreat him. And responding he said to the father, ²⁹Behold, I serve thee so many years, and have never transgressed thy commandment: and thou hast never given me a kid, that I may rejoice with my friends: ³⁰but when this thy son, the one devouring thy living with harlots came, thou hast slain for him the fatted calf. ³¹And he said to him, Child, thou art always with me, and all mine are thine: ³²and it behoved me to be glad and rejoice; because this thy brother was dead, and is alive; was lost, and is found.

Luke 16. 1-13. ¹And He also spoke to His disciples, There was a certain rich man, who had a steward; and he was slandered to him as wasting his goods. ²And having called him, he said to him, What is this which I hear concerning thee? give an account of thy stewardship; for thou art not able to be steward any longer. ³And the steward said within himself, What shall I do, because my lord takes away my stewardship from me? I am not able to dig; I am ashamed to beg. ⁴I know what I shall do, in order that when I am deposed from the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses. ⁵And calling each one of the debtors of his lord, he said to the first, How much do you owe my lord? ⁶And he said; A hundred measures of oil. And he said to him, Take your accounts, and sitting down quickly write fifty. ⁷Then he said to another one, And how much do you owe? And he said, A hundred measures of wheat. He says to him, Take your account, and write fourscore. ⁸And the lord^a praised the steward of unrighteousness because he acted shrewdly: because the sons of this age are wiser in their generation than the sons of the light. ⁹And I say unto you, Make unto yourselves friends of the mammon of unrighteousness,^b in order that, when it may fail, they may receive you into eternal tabernacles. ¹⁰He that is faithful in the least is also faithful in much: and he that is unrighteous in the least is unrighteous in much. ¹¹If therefore you were not faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will intrust to you the true? ¹²If you were not faithful in the interest of another, who will give you your own? ¹³No servant is able to serve two masters: for he will hate the one, and love the other; or he will cleave to the one, and despise the other. You are not able to serve God and mammon.^c

Luke 16. 14-31. ¹⁴And the Pharisees, being avaricious, were hearing all these things, and murmuring against Him. ¹⁵And He said to them, Ye are those who justify yourselves before the people; but God knows your hearts: because that which is exalted among the people is abomination in the sight of God. ¹⁶The law and the prophets were until John: from that time the kingdom of God is preached, and every one presses into it.^d ¹⁷And it is easier that heaven and earth pass away, than one tittle fall from the law.^e ¹⁸Every one sending away his wife, and marrying another, commits adultery;^f and the one marrying her who has been sent away by her husband commits adultery.^g ¹⁹There was a certain rich man, and he was habitually clothed in purple and fine linen, faring sumptuously every day. ²⁰But a certain beggar, Lazarus by name, was laid at his gate, full of sores, ²¹and desiring to be fed by the crumbs falling from the table of the rich man; but the dogs also coming continued to lick his sores. ²²And it came to pass that the beggar died, and himself was carried by the angels into the bosom of Abraham: and the rich man also died, and was buried.^h ²³And in Hadesⁱ lifted up his eyes, being in torment, sees Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom.^j ²⁴And he calling said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue, because I am tormented in this flame. ²⁵But Abraham said, Child, remember that you received your good things in your life, and Lazarus likewise evil things: but now he is comforted, and you are tormented. ²⁶And in addition to all these things, there is a great gulf fixed between us and you, in order that those wishing to go hence to you may not be able, neither can they come thence to us. ²⁷And he said, Moreover I intreat you, father, that you may send him to the house of my father: ²⁸for I have five brothers; in order that he may testify to them, that they may not also come to this place of the torment. ²⁹But Abraham says, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them. ³⁰But he said, No, father Abraham: but if one may go to them from the dead, they will repent. ³¹But he said to him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, they will not be persuaded if one may rise from the dead.

Luke 17. 1-10. And He spoke to His disciples, It is impossible for offenses not to come: but woe unto him, through whom they come; ^a 2 it is good for him if a millstone is hung around his neck, and he is cast into the sea, rather than that he may offend one of these little ones. ³ Take heed to yourselves. If thy brother may sin, rebuke him; if he may repent, forgive him. ^b 4 But if he may sin against thee seven times a day, and seven times turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him. ⁵ And the apostles said to the Lord, Increase our faith. ⁶ And the Lord said, If you have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ^e you should say to this sycamine tree, ^d Be thou plucked up, and planted in the sea; and it would obey you. ⁷ But which one of you, having a servant plowing or serving a shepherd, who will say to him, having come in from the field, Coming hither sit down immediately? ⁸ But will he not say to him, Prepare what I may sup, and girding thyself, minister unto me, until I may eat and drink; and after these things you eat and drink? ⁹ Whether does he thank the servant because he did the things which were commanded? ¹⁰ Likewise also, when you may do those things which are commanded you, say that, We are unprofitable servants; we have done that which we ought to do.

§ 101. CHRIST'S COMING WILL BE SUDDEN.—Perea.

Luke 17. 20-37. ²⁰ Then being interrogated by the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God is coming, He responded to them and said, The kingdom of God comes not with observation: ²¹ neither will they say; Lo, here! or, there! for behold, the kingdom of God is among you. ²² And He said to the disciples, The days will come, when you will desire to see one of the days of the Son of man, and will not see it. ²³ And they will say to you, Lo, here! lo, there! go not away, nor follow them. ²⁴ For as the lightning, flashing out of the one part under the heaven, gleams into the other part under heaven, so shall be the Son of man in His day. ²⁵ But it behooves Him first to suffer many things and to be set at nought by this generation. ²⁶ And as it was in the days of Noah, so it will be in the days of the Son of man. ²⁷ They were eating, they were drinking, they were marrying, they were getting married, until the day on which Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came and destroyed them all. ²⁸ Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot; ²⁹ they were eating, they were drinking, they were buying, they were selling, they were planting, they were building; ³⁰ and on the day on which Lot went out from Sodom, fire and brimstone rained from heaven and destroyed them all. ³¹ ³⁰ According to these things it will be in the day the Son of man is revealed. ³² In that day, let not him who is on the house, and his goods in the house, come down to take them: and likewise let not him who is in the field turn back. ³³ Remember Lot's wife. ³⁴ Whosoever may seek to save his soul shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose it shall find it. ³⁵ I say unto you, on that night two men shall be on one bed; the one shall be taken and the other left. ³⁶ Two women shall be grinding at the same mill; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left. ³⁷ Responding they say to Him, Where, Lord? Moreover the Son of man having come, will He then find faith upon the earth?

⁹And He spoke this parable to certain ones having confidence in themselves that they are righteous, and despising the rest. ¹⁰Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican. ¹¹The Pharisee standing was praying in these words, God, I thank thee because I am not like the rest of the men, extortioners, unjust, adulterous, or even as this publican: ¹²I fast twice per week; I give tithes of all things so many as I possess. ¹³But the publican, standing a great way off, did not wish even to lift up his eyes to the heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God, be merciful to me the sinner. ¹⁴I say unto you, He went down to his house justified rather than the other: because every one exalting himself shall be abased; and the one humbling himself shall be exalted.^a

⁴And He responding said to them, Have you not read, that the one having made them from the beginning made them male and female?^b ⁵And He said, On account of this a man shall leave father and mother, and cleave unto his wife; and they two shall be one flesh.^c ⁶So they are no longer two, but one flesh: therefore what God joined together, let no man separate. ⁷They say to Him, Then why did Moses command to give a book of divorcement, and to send her away?^d ⁸He says to them, Moses on account of the hardness of your heart permitted you to send away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so. ⁹But I say unto you, That whosoever may send away his wife, not for fornication, and may marry another, commits adultery. ¹⁰His disciples say to Him, If the cause of a man with his wife is thus, it is better not to marry. ¹¹And He said to them, All do not receive this word, but those to whom it has been given. ¹²For there are eunuchs, who have been so born from the womb of their mother. And there are eunuchs, who have been eunuchized by men: and there are eunuchs, who eunuchized themselves for the sake of the kingdom of the heavens.^e He who is able to receive it, let him receive it.^f

And He says to them, ¹¹Whosoever may send away his wife, and marry another, commits adultery unto her. ¹²And if she having sent away her husband, may marry another, she commits adultery.

And Jesus said to him, Thou shalt not murder, thou shalt not commit adultery, thou shalt not steal, thou shalt not bear false witness, ¹⁹honor the father and the mother, and thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. ²⁰The young man says to Him, All these have I kept from my youth: what lack I yet? ²¹Jesus said to him, If you wish to be perfect, go, sell your possessions, and give to the poor, and you shall have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me.

First Day of the Week.

John 11. 55 to 12. 1, 9-11. ⁵⁵ And the passover of the Jews was nigh, and many came up out of the country into Jerusalem before the passover, in order that they might purify themselves. ⁵⁶ Then they were seeking Jesus, and standing in the temple, they were saying one with another, What seems to you; that He may not come to the feast? ⁵⁷ And both the high priests and Pharisees had given commandment, if any one should know where He is, he should communicate it, in order that they might arrest Him.

John 12. ¹ Then Jesus, six days before the passover came into Bethany, where Lazarus, whom Jesus raised from the dead, was:—⁹ then a great multitude of the Jews came not only on account of Jesus, but that they might see Lazarus, whom He raised from the dead; because he was there. ¹⁰ But the chief priest passed an edict that they would also slay Lazarus; ¹¹ because through him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

§ III. OUR LORD'S PUBLIC ENTRY INTO JERUSALEM.—Bethany, Jerusalem.

Second Day of the Week.

John 12. 12-19.

¹²ON the following day a great multitude having come to the feast, hearing that Jesus comes into Jerusalem,—

Matt. 21. 1-11, 14-17.

¹When they drew near to Jerusalem, and came to Bethphage, to the Mount of Olives, then Jesus sent away two disciples, ²saying to them, Go into the village over against you, and you will immediately find a donkey tied, and the colt with her: loosing, lead her to me.

³And if any one may say any thing to you, tell him, that the Lord hath need of them; and immediately he will send them away.—⁶And the disciples, having gone and done as Jesus commanded them,

⁷led the donkey, and the colt, and put their garments on them; and He sat on them.^b

Mark. 11. 1-11.

¹And when they draw nigh to Jerusalem and to Bethany,^a to the Mount of Olives, He sends away two of His disciples, ²and says to them, Go into the village over against you: and immediately entering into it, you will find a colt tied, on which no one of men has ever sat; loosing him, lead him away. ³And if any one may say to you, Why do you this? say to him, that the Lord hath need of him; and immediately he sends him hither. ⁴Then they departed, and found the colt tied at the door without at the crossing of the road; and they are loosing him. ⁵And certain ones of those standing there said to them, What are you doing, loosing the colt? ⁶And they said to them as Jesus commanded: and they permitted them.

Luke 19. 29-44.

²⁰And it came to pass, when He drew nigh unto Bethphage and Bethany, to the mount called the Mount of Olives, and He sent away two of His disciples, ³⁰saying, Go into the village over against you; in which entering you will find a colt tied, on which no one of men ever sat: loosing, lead him hither. ³¹And if any one may ask you, Why do you loose him? thus say to him, that the Lord hath need of him: ³²and those having been sent, departing, found as Jesus told them. ³³And they loosing the donkey, his master said to them, Why do you loose the donkey? ³⁴And they said, The Lord hath need of him.

³⁵And they led him to Jesus: and casting their garments on the colt, they mounted Jesus on them.

⁴And all this took place, that the word spoken by the prophet might be fulfilled, saying,^a ⁵Say to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy King cometh, meek, and seated upon a donkey, even a colt, the progeny of the work-beast.—⁸A great multitude strewed their garments in the road; and others cut down the branches from the trees, and were strewing them in the road. ⁹And the multitudes going forward, and following, continued to cry out, saying, ⁸And many strewed their garments in the road; and others were cutting down the branches of the trees, (and strewing them in the road), ⁹And those going before, and those following after, continued to cry out, Hosanna: blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord: blessed is the coming kingdom of our father David: Hosanna in the highest!

Luke 19.

³⁶And He going forward, they were strewing their garments in the road. ³⁷And He already drawing nigh to the descension of the Mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to praise God with a loud voice for all those miracles which they saw; shouting, ³⁸saying, Blessed is the King coming in the name of the Lord: peace in heaven, and glory in the highest.

—¹³They took the branches of the palm-trees, and went out to meet Him, and continued to cry out,

Hosanna: blessed is He that cometh, in the name of the Lord, the King of Israel.^b ¹⁶But His disciples at first did not understand these things: but when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered that these things were written in reference to Him, and they did them to Him. ¹⁷Then the multitude being with Him witnessed that He called Lazarus out of the sepulcher, and raised him from the dead. ¹⁸Therefore the multitude also went to meet Him, because they heard that He had wrought this miracle. ¹⁹Then the Pharisees said to one another, You see, that you are prevailing as to nothing: behold, the world has gone away after Him.

Luke 19.

³⁹And certain ones of the Pharisees from the multitude said to Him, Teacher, rebuke thy disciples: ⁴⁰and He responding said to them, I say unto you, That if these may keep silent, the rocks will cry out. ⁴¹And when He drew near, seeing the city He wept over it,^c ⁴²saying, If thou indeed hadst known, truly in this thy day, the things appertaining to thy peace! but now they are hidden from thy eyes. ⁴³Because the days will come upon thee, and thine enemies will cast a fortification about thee, and surround thee, and press in on thee from all directions, ⁴⁴and will slay thee, and thy children in thee; and will leave in thee not a stone upon a stone; because thou hast not known the time of thy visitation.^d

Matt. 21.

‡ 115. PARABLE OF THE WICKED HUSBANDMEN.—Jerusalem.

Fourth Day of the Week.

Matt. 21. 33-46. ³³Hear ye another parable. A man was a landlord, who planted a vineyard, and placed a hedge around it, and dug a wine-trough in it, and built a tower, and gave it out to husbandmen, and went away. ³⁴And when the time of the fruits drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, to receive his fruits; ³⁵and the husbandmen taking his servants, beat one, and slew one, and stoned another. ³⁶Again he sent other servants, more than the first: and they did unto them likewise.

³⁷And afterward he sent to them his own son, saying, They will reverence my son. ³⁸But the husbandmen, seeing the son, said among themselves, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and take possession of his inheritance. ³⁹And taking him, Mark 12. 1-12. ¹And He began to speak to them in parables. A man planted a vineyard, and placed a hedge round it, and dug a wine-trough; and built a tower, and he gave it out to husbandmen, and went away. ²And he sent a servant to the husbandmen in the season, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard: ³and they taking him, beat him, and sent him away empty. ⁴And again he sent to them another servant; and stoning him they wounded him in the head, and sent him away dishonored. ⁵And again he sent another; and they slew him, and many others, beating some, killing others. ⁶Then having still one son, his own beloved, he sent him also to them last, saying; That they will reverence my son. ⁷And those husbandmen said to one another; This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.

Luke 20. 9-19. ⁹And He began to speak to the people this parable, A man planted a vineyard and gave it out to husbandmen, and went away a long time.

¹⁰And in season he sent a servant to the husbandmen that they might give to him of the fruit of the vineyard, and the husbandmen beating him, sent him away empty.

¹¹And he proceeded to send to them another servant, and they beating and dishonoring him sent him away empty. ¹²And he proceeded to send a third: and wounding him, they cast him out also. ¹³And the lord of the vineyard said, What shall I do? I will send my own beloved son: perchance seeing, they will reverence him. ¹⁴And the husbandmen, seeing him, reasoned among themselves saying, This is the heir; let us kill him, in order that the inheritance

‡ 116. PARABLE OF THE MARRIAGE OF THE KING'S SON.—Jerusalem.

Fourth Day of the Week.

Matt. 22. 1-14. ¹And Jesus responding, again spoke to them in parables, saying, ²The kingdom of the heavens is like a king-man, who made a marriage for his son.^c ³And he sent his servants to invite those who had been called to the marriage: and they were not willing to come. ⁴And again he sent other servants, saying; Speak to those who have been called, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and my fating are slain, and all things are ready: come to the marriage. ⁵And they being careless, went away, one to his farm, and another to his merchandise: ⁶but the rest, taking his servants, insulted, and slew them. ⁷And the king was angry; and sending his armies, he destroyed those murderers, and burnt up their cities.^d ⁸Then he says to his servants, The wedding is ready, but those having been invited were not worthy. ⁹Go ye therefore to crossings of the roads, and so many as you may find, invite to the marriage. ¹⁰And those servants having gone out into the ways, led in all whom they found, both § 117. INSIDIOUS QUESTIONS OF THE PHARISEES; TRIBUTE TO CÆSAR.—Jerusalem.

Fourth Day of the Week.

Matt. 22. 15-22. ¹⁵Then the Pharisees going forth, took counsel how they might ensnare Him in His speech. ¹⁶And they send to Him their own disciples along with the Herodians,^b saying, Teacher, we know that thou art true, and that thou art teaching the way of God in truth, and there is not a care to thee for any one; for thou dost not look into the face of men. ¹⁷Then tell us, what seems good to thee? is it lawful to give tribute to Cæsar, or not? ¹⁸And Jesus knowing their wickedness, said, Why tempt ye me, O ye hypocrites? ¹⁹Show me the tribute money: and they brought Him a denarion.^c ²⁰And He says to them, Whose is this image and superscription? ²¹They say to Him, Cæsar's. Then He says to them, Therefore render Cæsar the things which are Cæsar's; and unto God the things which are God's. ²²And hearing they are astonished, and leaving Him, they went away.

Mark 12. 13-17. ¹³And they send to Him certain ones of the Pharisees and Herodians, that they may catch Him with speech. ¹⁴And they having come, say to Him, Teacher, we know that thou art true, and there is not a care to thee for any one: for thou dost not look into the face of men, but thou dost teach the way of God in truth:

is it lawful to give tribute to Cæsar, or not? must we give, or must we not give? ¹⁵And knowing their hypocrisy, He said to them, Why tempt ye me? Bring to me the denarion,^c that I may see it. ¹⁶And they brought it. And He says to them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they say to Him, Cæsar's. ¹⁷And Jesus responding said to them, Render unto Cæsar the things which are Cæsar's, and unto God the things which are God's. And they were astonished at Him.

Luke 20. 20-26. ²⁰And laying in wait for Him, they sent sharpers, feigning themselves to be righteous, that they might catch His word, in order to turn Him over to the government and authority of the proconsul. ²¹They asked Him saying, Teacher, we know that thou dost speak and teach correctly; and thou dost not receive the face; but thou dost teach the way of God in truth: not having children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed to his brother.

²⁵But there were among us seven brothers: the first marrying died, and having no seed left his wife to his brother. ²⁶Likewise also, the second, and third, even unto seven. ²⁷And last of all the woman also died.

²⁸Therefore in the resurrection, of which one of the seven shall she be the wife? for they all had her. ²⁹And Jesus responding said to them, You err, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.

³⁰For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but they are as angels of God in heaven:

³¹concerning the resurrection of the dead, have you not read that which was spoken to you by God, saying, ^b³²I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living. ³³And the multitudes hearing, were delighted with His teaching.

²⁰There were seven brothers, and the first took a wife, and dying left no seed. ²¹And the second received her and died, and he left no seed; and the third likewise. ²²And the seven received her and left no seed. Last of all the woman also died.

²³Then in the resurrection, when they may rise, of which one of them shall she be the wife? for they all had her a wife. ²⁴And Jesus responding, said to them; Therefore do you not err, not knowing the Scriptures nor the power^a of God?

²⁶But concerning the dead, that they are raised, have you not read in the book of Moses at the Bush, ^bhow God spoke to him saying; I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? ²⁷He is not the God of the dead, but of the living. You do err much.

²⁰Then there were seven brothers; and the first receiving a wife died childless. ³⁰And the second ³¹and the third received her, and likewise also the seven; they left no children and died. ³²Last of all the woman also died.

³⁶For David himself said in the the Holy Spirit,^d the Lord said unto my Lord; Sit thou on my right hand, until I may make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet! ³⁷Then David himself calls Him Lord; and whence is He his son? And the great multitude were hearing Him delightfully.

§ 123. THE WIDOW'S MITE.—Jerusalem.

Fourth Day of the Week.

Mark 12. 41-44. ⁴¹And He sitting in front of the treasury, was seeing how the multitudes are casting their money into the treasury. And many rich people were casting in much. ⁴²And one poor widow was casting in two mites, which is a farthing.^g ⁴³And calling His disciples to Him, He says to them, Truly I say unto you, That this poor widow has cast in more than all those casting into the treasury. ⁴⁴For all they of that which abounds unto them cast in; but she of her scarcity cast in all things so many as she had, all her living.

Luke 21. 1-4. ¹And looking up, He saw the rich casting their gifts into the treasury.

²And He also saw a certain poor widow, casting in thither two mites.

³And He said; Truly I say unto you, That this poor widow cast in more than all.

For they all of that which abounds unto them cast into the gifts of God: but she out of her scarcity cast in all her living which she had.

John 12. 20-36. ²⁰And there was certain Greeks^h of those having come up that they might worship at the feast: ²¹then they came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida of Galilee, and requested him, saying, Sir, we wish to see Jesus. ²²Philip comes and tells Andrew: Andrew and Philip go, and speak to Jesus. ²³And Jesus responds to them, saying, The hour has come, that the Son of man may be glorified. ²⁴Truly, truly, I say unto you, Unless the grain of wheat having fallen into the ground may die, it remains alone; but if it may die, it produces much fruit.ⁱ ²⁵The one loving his soul^j shall lose it; but the one that hateth his soul in this world will preserve it unto eternal life. ²⁶If any one may minister unto me, let him follow me; and where I am, there shall my minister be: if any one may minister unto me, the Father will honor him. ²⁷Now my soul is troubled; and what do I say? Father, save me from this hour. But on this account I came to this hour. ²⁸Father, glorify thy name. Then a voice came from heaven, I have indeed glorified thee, and will glorify thee again.^k ²⁹Then the multitudes standing, hearing, said, That it was thunder; others said, An angel has spoken to Him. ³⁰Jesus responded and said, This voice was not on account of me, but on account of you.^l ³¹Now is the judgment of this world: now the prince of this world shall be cast out.

Fourth Day of the Week.

John 12. 37-50. ³⁷And He having done so many miracles in their presence, they were not believing on Him, ³⁸in order that the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spoke, Lord, who hath believed our report? And to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?^e ³⁹Wherefore were they not able to believe, because Isaiah again said, ⁴⁰He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; in order that they may not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and turn, and I shall heal them.^f ⁴¹Isaiah said these things, because he saw His glory; and spoke concerning Him.^g ⁴²Nevertheless indeed many of the rulers also believed on Him; but they were not confessing Him on account of the Pharisees,^h in order that they might not be put out of the synagogues:ⁱ ⁴³for they loved the glory of the people more than the glory of God. ⁴⁴But Jesus cried out and said; The one believing on me, believes not on me, but on Him that sent me, ⁴⁵and the one seeing me, sees the one that sent me. ⁴⁶I have come a light into the world, in order that every one believing on me may not abide in darkness.^j ⁴⁷And if any one may hear my words, and not keep them, I do not judge him: for I came not that I may judge the world, but that I may save the world.^k ⁴⁸He that rejects me, and receiving not my words, has one judging him: the word which I have spoken, it will judge him in the last day. ⁴⁹Because I have not spoken of Myself; but the Father Himself having sent me, gave me commandment, what I shall speak, and what I shall say.^l ⁵⁰And I know that His commandment is eternal life.^m Now whatsoever thing I say, as the Father has spoken unto me, so I say.ⁿ

Matt. 24. 15-42. ¹⁵Then when you may see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet,^a standing in the holy place^b (let him that readeth know), ¹⁶then let those who are in Judea fly to the mountains: ¹⁷and let him who is on the housetop not come down to take things out of the house: ¹⁸and let not the one in the field turn back to take his garment. ¹⁹But alas unto those who are in gestation^c and nursing in those days. ²⁰But pray that your flight may not be in the winter,^f nor on the Sabbath.^g ²¹For then there will be great tribulation, such as has not been from the beginning of the world even until now, nor ever may be. ²²And if those days were not shortened, no life would be saved: but for the sake of the elect those days will be shortened. ²³Then if any one may say to you, Lo, here is Christ, or, there: believe him not: for false Christs and false prophets will rise up, and give great signs and wonders; so as to deceive even the elect, if possible. ²⁵Behold, I have foretold you. ²⁶Therefore if they may say to you, Behold, He is in the desert; go not out: Behold, He is in the secret chambers; believe them not. ²⁷For as the lightning comes from the east, and shines even unto the west; so also shall the coming of the Son of man be. ²⁸For where the carcass is, there the eagles will be gathered together.

‡ 128. TRANSITION TO CHRIST'S FINAL COMING AT THE DAY OF JUDGMENT. EXHORTATION TO WATCHFULNESS. PARABLES: THE TEN VIRGINS; THE FIVE TALENTS. —Mount of Olives.

Fourth Day of the Week.

Matt. 24. 43 to 25. 1-30. ⁴³But know this, that if the landlord knew at what watch the thief cometh, he would have watched, and would not have permitted his house to be broken into. ^b ⁴⁴Therefore be ye also ready: because the Son of man cometh in an hour at which you do not think. ⁴⁵Then who is the faithful and wise servant, whom the lord placed over his household to give them their food in season? ^c ⁴⁶Happy is that servant whom, his lord having come, will find so doing. ⁴⁷Truly I say unto you, that he will appoint him over all his possessions. ⁴⁸But if the wicked servant may say in his heart, ⁴⁹My lord delayeth; and may begin to smite his fellow-servants, and eat and drink with the drunken; ⁵⁰the lord of that servant will come in a day in which he does not expect, and an hour in which he does not know, ⁵¹and he will cut him off, and will appoint his part with hypocrites: and there shall be weeping and gnashing of the teeth.

Matt. 25. ¹Then shall the kingdom of the heavens be likened unto ten virgins, who taking their lamps, went out to meet the bridegroom. ²And five of them were foolish, and five were wise. ³For the foolish, taking their lamps, took no oil with themselves: ⁴and the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps. ⁵But the bridegroom tarrying, they all nodded and slept. ⁶And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom! go ye out to meet him. ⁷Then all those virgins arose and trimmed their lamps. ⁸And the foolish said to the wise, Give us of your oil; for our lamps are going out. ^d ⁹And the wise responded, saying, No, lest there may not be a sufficiency for us and you: go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves. ¹⁰And they going to buy, the bridegroom came; and those who were ready went in with him to the marriage, and the door was shut. ¹¹And afterwards the other virgins come, saying; Lord, lord, open unto us. ^e ¹²And he responding, said; Truly I say unto you, I know you not. ¹³Watch therefore, because you know neither the day nor the hour.

¹⁴For as a man going away, called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods, ^f ¹⁵to one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one; to each one according to his own ability; and departed. ¹⁶The one having received the five talents going immediately, operated with the same, and made other five talents. ¹⁷Likewise the one having received two gained two others. ¹⁸And he having received one, having gone away, digged up the earth, and buried the money belonging to his lord. ¹⁹And after a long time the lord of those servants comes, and makes a reckoning with them. ²⁰And the one having received the five talents coming to him brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou didst deliver unto me five talents: behold, I have gained other five talents.

Matt. 26. 1-16. ¹And it came to pass, when Jesus finished these discourses, He said to His disciples, ²You know that after two days is the passover, and the Son of man is delivered to be crucified.

John 12. 2-8. ²Then they made a supper for Him there: and Martha was serving; and Lazarus was one of those sitting at the table with Him. ³Then Mary taking a pound of myrrh of spikenard, estimated very valuable, anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped His feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odor of the myrrh. ⁴Then Judas Iscariot, one of His disciples, the one about to betray Him, says: ⁵Why was not this myrrh sold for, three hundred denaria,^a and given to the poor? ⁶And He spoke this, not because there was a care to him for the poor; but because he was a thief, and had the purse, and was carrying those things cast in. ⁷Then Jesus said, Let her alone; she hath reserved this unto the day of my burial; for you have the poor always with you; but you have not me always.

THE FOURTH PASSOVER; OUR LORD'S PASSION; ACCOMPANYING EVENTS TILL THE END OF THE JEWISH SABBATH.

‡ 131. PREPARATION FOR THE PASSOVER.—Bethany. Jerusalem.

Fifth Day of the Week.

Matt. 26. 17-19.

¹⁷On the first day of the unleavened bread, the disciples came to Jesus, saying to Him; Where do you wish that we may prepare for you to eat the passover?

¹⁸And He said; Go into the city to a certain one, and say to him;

The Teacher says; My time is nigh; I make the passover with you along with my disciples.

¹⁹And the disciples did as Jesus commanded them, and prepared the passover.

Mark 14. 12-16.

¹²And on the first day of the unleavened bread, when they were accustomed to slay the passover, His disciples say to Him; Where do you wish, that we, having gone away may prepare that you may eat the passover?

¹³And He sends away two of His disciples, and says to them; Go into the city and a man will meet you carrying a pitcher of water; follow him, ¹⁴whithersoever he may go in, say to the landlord that the Teacher says, Where is my guest chamber where I may eat the passover with my disciples? ¹⁵And he will show you a large upper room furnished, ready; there prepare for us. ¹⁶And His disciples went out, and came into the city, and found as He said to them, and prepared the passover.

Luke 22. 7-13.

⁷And the day of the unleavened bread came, in which it behooved to slay the passover. ⁸And He sent Peter and John, saying, Going prepare for us the passover, in order that we may eat it. ⁹And they said to Him, Where do you wish that we may prepare it? ¹⁰And He said to them, Behold, you having come into the city, a man will meet you carrying a pitcher of water; follow him into the house where he is going. ¹¹And say to the landlord, The Teacher says to thee, Where is the guest-chamber, where I may eat the passover with my disciples? ¹²And he will show you a large upper room furnished: there prepare. ¹³And having gone away, they found as He told them; and prepared the passover.

Evening introducing the Sixth Day of the Week.

Mark 14. 17And it being evening, He comes with the twelve.

Luke 22. 14-18, 24-30.
¹⁴And when the hour arrived, He sat down and the apostles along with Him.

¹⁵And He said to them, I desired with desire to eat this passover with you before I suffer: for I say to you, ¹⁶I eat this no more, until it may be fulfilled in the kingdom of God. ¹⁷And receiving the cup, having given thanks, He said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves; ¹⁸for I say to you, I shall from now drink no more from the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God may come.^a—²⁴And there was a contention among them, which one of them seems to be the greater. ²⁵And He said to them, The kings of the Gentiles domineer over them; and those exercising authority over them are called Benefactors.^b ²⁶But you are not thus: but let the greater among you be as the younger; and the leader as the waiter. ²⁷For which is the greater, he that sitteth at the table, or the waiter? is not the one sitting? but I am in the midst of you as the waiter. ²⁸But you are those who have remained with me in my temptations. ²⁹And I appoint unto you a kingdom,^c as my Father appointed unto me, ³⁰in order that you may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom; and you shall sit upon thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

§ 133. JESUS WASHES THE FEET OF HIS DISCIPLES.—Jerusalem.

Evening introducing the Sixth Day of the Week.

John 13. 1-20. ¹And before the feast of the passover, Jesus knowing that the hour has come when He must depart out of this world to His Father, having loved His own who were in the world, with divine love, He loved them perfectly.^d ²And the supper being on hand, the devil already having entered into the heart, that Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon, should betray Him, ³knowing that the Father has given all things into His hands, and He came out from God, and is going away to God, ⁴He rises from the supper, and lays aside His garments, and taking a towel, girded Himself; ⁵then He pours water into a bowl, and began to wash the feet of the disciples, and to wipe them with the towel with which He was girded. ⁶Then He comes to Simon Peter; he says to Him; Lord, do you wash my feet? ⁷Jesus responded and said to him, What I do you know not now; but shall understand hereafter. ⁸Peter says to Him, You may never wash my feet. Jesus responded to him, If I wash thee not, thou hast not part with me. ⁹And Simon Peter says to Him, Lord, not only my feet, but my hands and my head. ¹⁰Jesus says to Him, He that is bathed hath no need to wash his hands, but is altogether clean: and you are clean, but not all.^e ¹¹For He knew the one betraying Him. On this account He said, You are not all clean.^f ¹²Then when He washed their feet, and took His garments, and sat down again, He said to them, Do you understand what I have done to you? ¹³You call me Master and Lord, and you speak beautifully; for I am. ¹⁴If then I, your Lord and Master, washed your feet, you ought also to wash the feet of one another. ¹⁵For I have given unto you an example, that you may also do as I have done to you.^g ¹⁶Truly, truly, I say unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord; nor the apostle greater than him that sent him.^h ¹⁷If you know these things, happy are ye if you may do them. ¹⁸I do not speak concerning you all: I know whom I have chosen: but that the Scripture may be fulfilled, He that eateth bread with me has lifted up his heel against me.ⁱ ¹⁹Now I tell you before it takes place, in order that you may believe, when it may be done, that I am He.^k ²⁰Truly, truly, I say unto you, The one receiving the one whom I may send, receiveth me; and the one receiving me, receives Him that sent me.^l

§138. CHRIST THE TRUE VINE. HIS DISCIPLES HATED BY THE WORLD.—Jerusalem.

Evening introducing the Sixth Day of the Week.

John 15. 1-27. ¹I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman. ²Every branch in me not producing fruit, He takes it away: and every one producing fruit, He purifies it, that it may produce more fruit. ³So ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you. ⁴Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch is not able to produce fruit of itself, unless it may abide in the vine; so you are not able, unless you may abide in me. ⁵I am the vine, and ye are the branches. The one abiding in me, and I in him, the same bears much fruit: because you are not able to do anything without me. ⁶If any one may not abide in me, he is cast out as a branch, and withered; and they gather it, and cast it into the fire, and it is burnt. ⁷If you may abide in me, and my words may abide in you, ask whatsoever you may wish, and it shall be done unto you. ⁸In this my Father is glorified, that you may bear much fruit; and ye shall be my disciples. ⁹As the Father loved me, I also loved you: abide in my love. ¹⁰If you may keep my commandments, abide in my love; as I have kept the commandments of my Father, and I abide in His love.^g ¹¹I have spoken these things to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full.^h ¹²This is my commandment, that you may love one another, as I loved you.ⁱ ¹³No one has greater love than this, that he may lay down his soul for his friends.^j ¹⁴You are my friends, if you may do those things which I command you.^k ¹⁵No longer do I call you servants; because the servant knows not what his lord is doing: but I have called you friends; because all things which I heard with my Father, I made known unto you. ¹⁶You did not choose me, but I chose you, and placed you in your position, that you may go forth and bear fruit, and your fruit may abide:^l in order that He may give you whatsoever you may ask in my name. ¹⁷I command these things unto you, that you must love one another with divine love.^m ¹⁸If the world hates you, know that it first hated me.ⁿ ¹⁹If you were of the world, the world would love its own: but because you are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, on this account the world hates you. ²⁰Remember the word which I spoke to you, The servant is not greater than his lord.^o If they persecuted me, they will persecute you; if they kept my word, they will also keep yours. ²¹But they will do all these things to you on account of my name, because they do not know Him that sent me.^p ²²If I did not come and speak to them, they had not sin: now they have no excuse for their sin.^q ²³The one hating me hates my Father also. ²⁴If I did not work among them which no other did:^r they had not sin:^s but now they have both seen and hated both me and my Father.^t ²⁵But in order that the word having been written in their

John 16. 1-33. ¹I have spoken these things to you, that you may not be offended.^c ²They will put you out of the synagogues;^d but the hour is coming, that every one killing you may think he is offering service to God.^e ³And they will do these things, because they did not know the Father, nor me. ⁴But I have spoken these things to you, that when the hour may come, you may remember them, that I did say them to you. But I said not these things to you from the beginning, because I was with you. ⁵But now I go to Him that sent me; and no one of you asks me, Whither goest thou?^f ⁶But because I have spoken these things to you, sorrow has filled your heart. ⁷But now I tell you the truth; it is profitable to you that I may go away. For if I go not away, the Comforter will not come to you; but if I may go, I will send Him to you. ⁸And having come, He will convict the world concerning sin, and concerning righteousness, and concerning judgment. ⁹Concerning sin indeed, because they do not believe on me; and concerning righteousness; ¹⁰because I go to the Father, and you see me no more;^g ¹¹and concerning judgment, because the prince of this world has been condemned. ¹²I have many things to say to you, but you are not able to bear them now. ¹³But when He, the Spirit of truth, may come, He will guide you in all truth: for He will not speak from Himself; but so many things as He hears, He will speak: and will proclaim to you the things which are coming.^h ¹⁴He will glorify me: because He will receive from mine, and proclaim them unto you.ⁱ ¹⁵And all things whatsoever the Father has are mine: therefore I said, that He takes from mine, and will proclaim them to you. ¹⁶A little while, and ye see me no more; again a little while, and ye shall see me.^j ¹⁷Then some of His disciples were saying to one another, What is this which He speaks to us, A little while, and you see me no more; and again a little while, and ye shall see me? and that I go to the Father? ¹⁸Then they were speaking, What is this, Little while, of which He speaks? and we know not what He is talking about. ¹⁹Jesus knew that they wished to ask Him, and said to them, You are seeking with one another concerning this, because I said, A little while, and you see me no more, and again a little while, and you shall see me? ²⁰Truly, truly, I say unto you, that you will weep and mourn, and the world will rejoice; you will be sorrowful, but your sorrow will be turned into joy. ²¹When a woman may bring forth she has sorrow, because her hour has come: but when the little child may be born, she remembers her suffering no more, for the joy that a man has been born into the world. ²²Therefore you indeed also now have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart will rejoice, and no one taketh your joy from you.^k ²³And in that day you will ask of me nothing. Truly, truly, I say unto you, Whatsoever you may ask the Father, He will give it to you in my name. ²⁴Until now you have asked nothing in my name: ask, and you shall receive, in order that your joy may be full.^l ²⁵I have spoken these things unto you in parables; the hour comes, when I shall no longer speak to you in parables, but openly will I proclaim to you concerning the Father. ²⁶In that day you shall ask in my name: and I do not say, that I will ask the Father for you; ²⁷for the Father Himself loves you, because you have loved me as a friend, and you have believed that I came out from God.^m ²⁸I came out from the

Evening introducing the Sixth Day of the Week.

John 17. 1-26. ¹Jesus spoke these words; and lifting up His eyes to heaven, said, Father, the hour has come; ^dglorify thy Son, in order that the Son may glorify thee: ²as thou didst give Him authority over all flesh,^e in order that whatsoever thou hast given unto Him, He may give unto them eternal life.^f ³But this is eternal life, that they know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou didst send.^g ⁴I glorified thee upon the earth, having finished the work that thou hast given to me that I may do it.^h ⁵And now, Father, glorify thou me with thyself with the glory which I had with thee before the world was. ⁶I have manifested thy name, to the men whom thou didst give me out of the world. They were thine, and thou didst give them to me; and they have kept thy word: ⁷now they know that all things so many as thou hast given to me are with thee: ⁸because the words which thou didst give me I have given unto them; and they received them, and they know truly that I came out from thee, and they believed that thou didst send me.ⁱ ⁹I pray for these: I pray not for the world; but for those whom thou hast given me,^j because they are thine: ¹⁰and all mine are thine, and thine are mine: and I have been glorified in them.^k ¹¹And I am no longer in the world, and they are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep them through my name whom thou hast given unto me, in order that they may be one, as we are.^l ¹²When I was with them, I was keeping them in thy name whom thou hast given unto me. And I guarded them, and no one of them perished, except the son of perdition; that the Scripture may be fulfilled.^m ¹³And now I come to thee; and speak these things in the world, that they may have my joy complete in themselves.ⁿ ¹⁴I have given unto them thy word; and the world hated them, because they are not of the world, as I am not of the world.^o ¹⁵I do not pray that you may take them out of the world, but that you may keep them from the evil one.^p ¹⁶They are not of the world, as I am not of the world. ¹⁷Sanctify them through the truth: thy word is truth. ¹⁸As thou didst send me into the world, I also sent them into the world: ¹⁹and I sanctify myself in their behalf, in order that they may also be sanctified through the truth.^q ²⁰And I not only pray for these, but also for those believing on me through their word; ²¹that they may all be one, as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be in us; that the world may believe that thou didst send me. ²²And I have given unto them the glory which thou hast given unto me; in order that they may be one, as we are one; ²³I in them, and thou in me, in order that they may be perfected into one; in order that the world may know that thou didst send me, and didst love them, as thou didst love me. ²⁴Father, that which thou hast given unto me, I wish that they may also be with me, where I am, in order that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given unto me: because thou didst love me before the foundation of the world. ²⁵Righteous Father, indeed the world does not know thee, but I know thee, and they know that thou didst send me;^s ²⁶I made known thy name to them, and will make it known; in order that the love with which thou didst love me may be in them, and I in them.

‡ 141. THE AGONY IN GETHSEMANE.—Mount of Olives.

Evening introducing the Sixth Day of the Week.

Matt. 26. 30, 36-46. ³⁰Having sung a hymn, they went out into the Mount of Olives.—³⁶Then Jesus comes with them into a place called Gethsemane, and He says to His disciples, Sit here, until I having gone may pray there.

³⁷And taking Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, He began to grieve and to be dejected. ³⁸Then He says to them, My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even unto death: abide here, and pray with me. ³⁹And having gone forward a little, He fell on His face, praying, and saying, My Father, if it is possible, let this cup pass from me: moreover not as I will, but as thou wilt.

⁴⁰And He comes to the disciples, and finds them sleeping, and says to Peter, Were you not able to watch with me one hour? ⁴¹Watch and pray, that you may not enter into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. ⁴²And again the second time, having gone away, He prayed, saying, My Father, if it is possible that this cup pass from me, if I shall not drink it, let thy will be done. ⁴³And having come He finds them again sleeping, for their eyes were heavy. ⁴⁴And leaving them, having gone away, He prayed again the third time, speaking the same word. ⁴⁵Then He comes

And His sweat was like drops of blood falling down upon the ground. ⁴⁵And having risen from prayer, having come to His disciples, He found them sleeping on account of weariness, ⁴⁶and He said to them, Why do you sleep? § 142. JESUS BETRAYED, AND MADE PRISONER.—Mount of Olives.

Evening introducing the Sixth Day of the Week.

John 18. 2-12. ²And Judas, the one having betrayed Him; knew the place: because frequently Jesus with His disciples resorted thither. Then Judas, having taken a band and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, comes thither with lanterns and torches and arms.

Matt. 26. 47-56. ⁴⁷And He still speaking, behold, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and clubs, from the chief priests and elders of the people.

Mark 14. 43-52. ⁴³And immediately, He still speaking, Judas Iscariot comes, being one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and clubs, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders.

Luke 22. 47-53. ⁴⁷And He still speaking, behold, a multitude and the one called Judas, one of the twelve, was coming before them;

John 18.

⁴Then Jesus, knowing all things which are coming on Him, came out, says to them, Whom do you seek? ⁵They responded to Him, Jesus the Nazarene. Jesus says to them, I am He. And Judas also, the one having betrayed Him, stood with them. ⁶Then when He said to them, I am He, they went back, and fell on the ground. ⁷Then He again asked them, Whom do you seek? And they said, Jesus the Nazarene. ⁸Jesus responded, I told you that I am He: if then you seek me, let these depart. ⁹In order that the word which He spoke might be fulfilled, that, I have lost none of those whom thou hast given unto me.

Matt. 26.

⁴⁸And the one having betrayed Him gave them a sign, saying, The one whom I shall kiss, is He: hold Him fast. ⁴⁹And immediately coming forward to Jesus, he said, Hail, Master; and kissed Him copiously. ⁵⁰And Jesus said to him, Comrade, unto what do you come? Then having come forward they laid hands on Him, and bound Him. ⁵¹And behold, one of those along with Jesus, reaching out his hand, drew his sword, and smiting the servant of the high priest, cut off his ear.

Mark 14.

⁴⁴And the one having betrayed Him gave them a sign, saying, The one whom I shall kiss, is He: seize Him and lead Him away securely. ⁴⁵And having come, immediately advancing forward, he said to Him, Master, and kissed Him copiously. ⁴⁶And they laid their hands on Him and arrested Him. ⁴⁷And a certain one of those standing by drew his sword, and smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.

Luke 22.

—⁴⁷and he drew near to Jesus to kiss Him. ⁴⁸And Jesus said to him, Judas, do you betray the Son of man with a kiss?

Luke 22.

⁴⁰And those around Him seeing what was coming on Him, said, Lord, shall we smite with the sword? ⁵⁰And one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear. ⁵¹And Jesus responding said, Hold on until this: and touching his ear, healed him.

John 18.

¹²Then the band and chiliarch, and the officers of the Jews, took Jesus and bound Him.—
¹⁰Then Simon Peter having a sword drew it, and smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear. And the name to that servant was Malchus.

Matt. 26.

⁵²Then Jesus says to him, Turn away thy sword into its place: for all taking the sword shall perish by the sword.^a ⁵³Whether do you think that I am not able now to call upon my Father, and He will send me more than twelve legions of angels?^b ⁵⁴How then would the Scriptures be fulfilled, because it is necessary thus to be done? ⁵⁵And at that hour Jesus said to the multitudes, You have come out as against a robber with swords and clubs to take me: daily did I sit with you, teaching in the temple, and you did not arrest me: ⁵⁶but all this took place that the Scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then the disciples all leaving Him, fled away.

Mark 14.

⁴⁸Jesus responding said to them, You have come out as against a robber, with swords and clubs to take me:

John 18. 13-18, 25-27. ¹³And they led Him first to Annas; for he was the father-in-law of Caiaphas, who was high priest that year. ¹⁴And Caiaphas was the one counseling the Jews, that it is profitable that one man die for the people.

¹⁵And Simon Peter and the other disciples followed Jesus. And that disciple was known to the high priest, and came with Jesus into the court of the high priest. ¹⁶And Peter stood without at the door. ‡ 144. JESUS BEFORE CAIAPHAS AND THE SANHEDRIM. HE DECLARES HIMSELF TO BE THE CHRIST; IS CONDEMNED AND MOCKED.—Jerusalem.

Morning of the Sixth Day of the Week.

John 18. 19-24. ¹⁹Then the high priest asked Jesus concerning His disciples and concerning His teaching. ²⁰And Jesus said to him, I have spoken openly to the world. I always taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, where all the Jews come together; and I spoke nothing in secret. ²¹Why do you ask me? ask those who have heard, what I said to them: behold, they know what I said. ²²And He speaking these things, one of the officers standing by gave Jesus a slap, saying, Do you thus answer the high priest? ²³Jesus responded to him, If I spoke wickedly, witness concerning the wickedness: but if beautifully,^a why do you smite me? ²⁴Then Annas sent Him bound to Caiaphas the high priest.

Luke 22. 63-71. ⁶⁶And when it was day, the eldership of the people was convened, and the chief priests and scribes, and they led Him into their sanhedrim.

Matt. 26. 59-68. ⁵⁹And the high priests and all the sanhedrim were seeking false testimony against Jesus, in order that they might kill Him. ⁶⁰And they found none. And many false witnesses having come forward, they found none. ⁶¹And afterwards two false witnesses having come forward, said, He said, I am able to destroy the temple of God, and build it in three days.

⁶²And the high priest rising, said to Him, Do you respond nothing? what are they witnessing against you?

⁶³And Jesus was silent; and the high priest responding said to Him, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us if thou art the Christ, the Son of God. ⁶⁴Jesus says to him, Thou didst say it.^c Moreover I say unto you, that, Hereafter you shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven. ⁶⁵Then the high priest tore his robes, saying, He blasphemed: why have we yet need of witnesses? behold, now you heard His blasphemy: ⁶⁶what seems to you? They responding said, He is worthy of death. ⁶⁷They spat in His face, and buffeted Him: and they slapped Him, ⁶⁸saying,

Mark 14. 55-65. ⁵⁵And the chief priests and all the sanhedrim were seeking testimony against Him to put Him to death; and they found none. ⁵⁶For many were testifying falsely against Him, and their testimonies were not equal. ⁵⁷And certain ones rising up, were testifying falsely against Him, saying, ⁵⁸We heard Him saying, I will destroy this temple made with hands, and will build^b another in three days, made without hands. ⁵⁹And thus their testimony was not equal. ⁶⁰And the high priest rising up in their midst, asked Jesus, saying, Do you respond nothing? what are they witnessing against you? ⁶¹And He was silent, and answered nothing: again the high priest asked Him, and says to Him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed? ⁶²And Jesus said, I am: and you shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.

⁶³The high priest tearing his garments, says, Why have we yet need of witnesses? ⁶⁴You heard the blasphemy: what seems to you? And all answered, He is worthy of death.

⁶⁵And certain ones began to spit on Him, and to cover His face, and to buffet Him,

Luke 22.

⁶⁷Saying, If thou art the Christ, tell us. And He said to them, If I may tell you, you will not believe: ⁶⁸and if indeed I will ask you, you will not respond to me, or release me. ⁶⁹And from now the Son of man shall be sitting on the right hand of the power of God. ⁷⁰And all said, Art thou the Son of God? And He said to them, You say that I am. ⁷¹And they said, Why have we yet need of testimony? for we heard from His own mouth.—

‡ 145. THE SANHEDRIM LEAD JESUS AWAY TO PILATE. PILATE SEEKS TO RELEASE HIM.—Jerusalem.

Sixth Day of the Week.

Matt. 27. 1, 2, 11-14. ¹And it being morning, all the chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put Him to death. ²And having bound Him, took Him away, and delivered Him to Pontius Pilate, the governor.—

Mark 15. 1-5. ¹And immediately early in the morning the high priests having made counsel with the elders and scribes, and all the sandhedrim, having bound Jesus, led Him away, and delivered Him to Pilate.

Luke 23. 1-5. ¹And all the multitude of them rising up, lead Him to Pilate.

John 18. 28-38.

²⁸Then they lead Jesus from Caiaphas to the judgment hall : and it was morning. And they did not come into the judgment hall, in order that they might not be polluted, but that they might eat the passover.

²⁹Then Pilate came out to them, and says, What accusation do you bring against this man? ³⁰They responded and said to him, If He were not an evil doer, we would not deliver Him to you. ³¹Then Pilate said to them, You take Him, and judge Him according to your law. Then the Jews said to him, It is not lawful for us to kill any one. ³²In order that the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which He spoke, signifying by what death He was about to die.

³³Then Pilate came again into the judgment hall, and asked Jesus, and said to Him, Art thou the King of the Jews?

³⁴Jesus responded, Do you speak this of yourself, or did others tell you concerning me? ³⁵Pilate responded, Whether am I a Jew? thine own nation and the chief priests delivered thee to me: what hast thou done? ³⁶Jesus responded, My kingdom is not of this world. If my kingdom were of this world, my servants would fight for me, in order that I might not be delivered to the Jews. But now my kingdom is not from thence. ³⁷Then Pilate said to Him, Then, art thou not a king ?

¹¹And Jesus stood before the governor : and the governor asked Him, saying; Art thou the King of the Jews?

²And Pilate asked Him, Art thou the King of the Jews?

²And they began to accuse Him, saying, We found Him perverting the nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Caesar, saying that He is Christ, a King. ³And Pilate asked Him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews?

Mark 15.

—³And responding to him, He said, Thou sayest it.

John 18.

Jesus responded, Thou says that I am king. Unto this I was born, and unto this I have come into the world, in order that I may bear witness to the truth. Every one being of the truth hears my voice. ³⁸Pilate says to Him, What is truth? And saying this, again he went out to the Jews, and speaks to them, I find no crime in Him.

Matt. 27.

¹²And while He is accused by the chief priests and elders, He responded nothing. ¹³Then Pilate says to Him, Do you not hear, now many things they witness against you? ¹⁴And He responded to him not one word, so that the governor marveled exceedingly.

Mark 15.

³And the chief priests were accusing Him of many things. ⁴And Pilate again asked Him, saying, Do you not answer? behold, how many things they witness against you. ⁵And Jesus responded nothing at all; so that Pilate marveled.

Luke 23.

⁴And Pilate said to the chief priests and the multitudes, I find nothing criminal in this man. ⁵And they became stronger and stronger, saying, He stirs up the people, teaching throughout all Judea, beginning from Galilee unto this place.

‡ 146. JESUS BEFORE HEROD.—Jerusalem.

Sixth Day of the Week.

Luke 23. 6-12. ⁶And Pilate hearing, asked if He is a Galilean man. ⁷And learning that He is from the jurisdiction of Herod, he sent Him up to Herod, being himself in Jerusalem in those days. ⁸And Herod seeing Jesus, rejoiced exceedingly: for from a long time, wishing to see Him, because He was hearing about Him; and he was hoping to see some miracle wrought by Him. ⁹And he asked Him with many words; and He responded to him nothing. ¹⁰But the high priest and scribes stood by, accusing Him vehemently. ¹¹But Herod along with his soldiers having indeed treated Him with contempt, and mocked Him, putting on Him a scarlet robe, sent Him back to Pilate. ¹²And both Herod and Pilate on that day became friends with one another: for they were hitherto in enmity either to other.⁴

‡ 147. PILATE FURTHER SEEKS TO RELEASE JESUS. THE JEWS DEMAND BARABBAS.—Jerusalem.

Sixth Day of the Week.

Luke 23. 13-25. ¹³Pilate having called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people, said to them, You have brought to me this man, as revolutionizing the people: and behold, I, judging Him before you, found nothing in this man criminal of those things which you accuse against Him. ¹⁵But Herod did not: for he sent Him back to us; and behold, nothing worthy of death has been done by Him. ¹⁶Therefore having scourged Him, I will release Him.

Whom do you wish that I may release unto you? Barabbas? or Jesus who is called Christ? ¹⁸For he knew that they delivered Him on account of envy. ¹⁹And he sitting on his tribunal, his wife sent to him, saying, Let there be nothing to thee and that just man: for this day I suffered many things in a dream on account of Him.

²⁰And the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitudes that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus.

²¹And the governor responding said to them, Which of the two do you wish that I shall release unto you? And they said Barabbas.

²²Pilate says to them, Then what shall I do with Jesus who is called Christ? They all say to him, Let Him be crucified.

²³And the governor said, For what evil hath He done? And they continued to cry out more vociferously, saying, Let Him be crucified.

²⁴And Pilate seeing that he profits nothing, but rather an uproar supervenes, having taken water, washed his hands in the presence of the multitude, saying, For I am free from the blood of this just one: you shall see to it. ²⁵And all the people responding said, His blood be upon us, and upon our children. ²⁶Then he released unto them Barabbas.

of certain sedition made in the city, and murder. ²⁰Then Pilate again called to them, wishing to release Jesus. ²¹And they continued to shout aloud, saying, Crucify Him, crucify Him. ²²And he spoke to them the third time, For what evil hath He done? I found nothing in Him worthy of death: therefore having scourged Him, I will release Him. ²³And they continued to lay on with great voices, demanding that He should be crucified: and the voices of them and the high priests continued to grow stronger.

¹⁵And Pilate, wishing to do the multitude a favor, released unto them Barabbas.

²⁴And Pilate decided that their request should be granted. ²⁵And released him who on account of sedition and murder had been cast into prison, and delivered up Jesus according to their wish.

‡ 148. PILATE DELIVERS UP JESUS TO DEATH. HE IS SCOURGED AND MOCKED.—Jerusalem.

Sixth Day of the Week.

Matt. 27. 26-30. ²⁶And having scourged^a Jesus, delivered Him up that He should be crucified. ²⁷Then the soldiers of the governor taking Jesus into the judgment hall, gathered to Him the whole band. ²⁸And having divested Him, put on Him a scarlet robe: ²⁹and plaiting a crown of thorns put it on His head, and a reed in His right hand; and bowing the knee to Him, continued to mock Him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews! ³⁰And spitting on Him, they took the reed and struck Him on the head repeatedly.

Mark 15. 15-19. ¹⁵And having scourged^a Jesus, he delivered Him up that He should be crucified. ¹⁶And the soldiers led Him into the court, which is the judgment hall; and call around Him the whole band. ¹⁷And they put on Him a purple robe, and having plaited a thorny crown, put it on Him.

John 19. 1-3. ¹Then Pilate took Jesus, and scourged^a Him.

²And the soldiers having plaited a crown of thorns, placed it on His head, and put on Him a purple robe;

‡ 149. PILATE STILL AGAIN SEEKS TO RELEASE JESUS.—Jerusalem.

Sixth Day of the Week.

John 19. 4-16. ⁴Again Pilate went out, and speaks to them, Behold, I lead Him out to you, in order that you may know that I find no fault.^c ⁵Then Jesus came out, bearing the thorny crown and purple robe. And he says to them, Behold, the man!^d ⁶Then when the high priest and officers saw Him, they cried out, Crucify Him, crucify Him.^e Pilate says to them, You take Him, and crucify Him: for I find nothing criminal in Him. ⁷And the Jews responded, We have a law, and according to law He ought to die, because He made Himself the Son of God.^f ⁸Then when Pilate heard this word, he feared the more; ⁹then he went again into the judgment hall, and speaks to Jesus, Whence art thou? And Jesus gave him no answer.^g ¹⁰Pilate says to Him, Do you not speak to me? Do you not know that I have power to release you, and I have power to crucify you? ¹¹Jesus responded, Thou hast no power against me, unless it was given to thee from above: on this account the one having betrayed me to thee has the greater sin. ¹²After this Pilate still sought to release Him: but the Jews continued to cry out, saying, If you release Him, you are not the friend of Cæsar: every one making himself king speaks against Cæsar. ¹³Then Pilate hearing these words, led out Jesus, and sat down on the tribunal, in the place called Pavement, but in Hebrew, Gabbatha. ¹⁴And it was the preparation of the passover: and was about the sixth hour. And he says to the Jews, Behold, your King! ¹⁵Then they cried out, Take Him away, take Him away, crucify Him. Pilate says to them, Shall I crucify your King? And the chief priests responded, We have no king but Cæsar. ¹⁶Therefore he then delivered Him to them that He should be crucified.

Sixth Day of the Week.

Matt. 27. 3-10. ³Then Judas, the one having betrayed Him, seeing that He was condemned, being seized with remorse, returned the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, ⁴saying, I sinned betraying the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? See thou to it. ⁵And throwing down the money in the temple, he departed; and having gone away hung himself. ⁶And the chief priests, taking the pieces of silver, said, It is not lawful to put them in the treasury, because it is the price of blood. ⁷And taking counsel, they purchased with them the field of the potter, for a burying place for strangers. ⁸Therefore that field has been called, The field of blood, to this day. ⁹Then the word having been spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, was fulfilled, saying, ^bAnd they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of Him that was valued, whom they of the sons of Israel did value; ¹⁰and they gave them for the field of the potter, as the Lord appointed me.

Acts 1. 18, 19. ¹⁸Indeed then he purchased the field by the reward of the iniquity; and falling headlong, burst open in the middle, and all his bowels gushed out. ¹⁹And it was known to all those dwelling at Jerusalem; so that field is called Aceldama, in their own language, which is, Field of blood.^a

And they having come forward, took hold of His feet, and worshiped Him. ¹⁰Then Jesus says to them, Fear not: go tell my brethren, that they may depart into Galilee, and there they shall see me.

Mark 16. 8. And having come out from the sepulcher, they fled; and trembling and ecstasy possessed them, and they said nothing to any one; for they were afraid.

Luke 24. 9-11. ⁹And having returned from the sepulcher, they proclaimed all these things to the eleven, and all the rest. ¹⁰And Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James: and the other women with them spoke these things to the apostles. ¹¹And their words appeared before them like a dream; and they doubted them.

‡ 162. PETER AND JOHN RUN TO THE SEPULCHER.—Jerusalem.

First Day of the Week.

John 20. 3-10. ³Then Peter and the other disciple came out, and they were coming to the sepulcher. ⁴And the two were running simultaneously: and the other disciple was running before more rapidly than Peter, and came first to the sepulcher. ⁵John looking in sees the grave-clothes lying; and did not come in. ⁶Then Simon Peter, following him, he came into the sepulcher; and sees the grave-clothes lying, ⁷and the napkin, which was on His head, not lying with the grave-clothes, but separate in one place, having been rolled up. ⁸Then the other disciple also came in, the one having come first to the sepulcher, and saw, and believed; ⁹for they did not yet understand the Scripture, That it behooved Him to rise from the dead. ¹⁰Then the disciples departed again to their own comrades.

§ 163. OUR LORD IS SEEN BY MARY MAGDALENE AT THE SEPULCHER.—Jerusalem.

First Day of the Week.

John 20. 11-18. ¹¹And Mary was standing at the sepulcher without, weeping; then while she was weeping, she looked into the sepulcher; ¹²and sees two angels sitting in white robes, one at the head, and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus lay. ¹³They say to her, Woman, why do you weep? She says to them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have placed Him. ¹⁴Saying these words, she turned backward, and sees Jesus standing,^a and did not know that He is Jesus. ¹⁵Jesus says to her, Woman, why are you weeping? whom are you seeking? She, thinking that He is the gardener, says to Him, Sir, if you have taken Him away, tell me where you have placed Him, and I will take Him. ¹⁶Jesus says to her, Mary: she turning, says to Him in Hebrew, Rabboni,^b which is called Teacher. ¹⁷Jesus says to her, Cling not to me; for I have not ascended to my Father: but go to my brethren, and tell them, I ascend to my Father and your Father, and my God and your God. ¹⁸Mary Magdalene comes proclaiming to the disciples, I have seen the Lord; and He spoke these things to her.

§ 164. REPORT OF THE WATCH.—Jerusalem.

First Day of the Week.

Matt. 28. 11-15. ¹¹And they going, behold, certain ones of the watch having come into the city, proclaimed to the chief priests all things which had taken place. ¹²And being assembled along with the elders, and taking counsel, they gave much money to the soldiers,^c ¹³saying, You tell, that His disciples, having come by night, stole Him away while we slept. ¹⁴And if this may be heard by the governor, we will persuade him and make you secure. ¹⁵And they having received the money, did as they were instructed: and this report is current among the Jews until this day.^d

§ 165. OUR LORD IS SEEN BY PETER. THEN BY TWO DISCIPLES ON THE WAY TO EMMAUS.—Jerusalem. Emmaus.

First Day of the Week.

Luke 24. 13-35. ¹³And behold, two of them on that day were journeying to a village, distant from Jerusalem sixty furlongs, to which was the name Emmaus: ¹⁴and they were conversing with one another concerning all those things which had transpired. ¹⁵And it came to pass, while they are talking and making inquiry, Jesus Himself also having come nigh, journeyed along with them: ¹⁶and their eyes were held so as not to recognize Him. ¹⁷And He said to them, What speeches are these which you are interchanging to one another, walking along? And they stood still, looking sad. ¹⁸And one, whose name was Cleopas, said to Him, Dost thou only sojourn at Jerusalem and not know the things which have taken place in it in these days? ¹⁹And He said to them, What? And they said to Him, The things concerning Jesus the Nazarene, who was a prophet-man mighty in work and word before God and all the people. ²⁰How the chief priests and our rulers indeed delivered Him up to the condemnation of death, and they crucified Him. ²¹But we were hoping that He is the one about to redeem Israel: but truly in addition to all these things, this is the third day from which these things took place. ²²But certain women from us truly surprised us, being early at the sepulcher; ²³and not seeing His body, came, saying, they had also seen a vision of angels, who say that He is alive. ²⁴And certain ones of those with us went away to the sepulcher, and found as the women also said: and they saw Him not. ²⁵And He said to them, O ye foolish, and slow in heart to believe in all those things which the prophet spoke! ²⁶Did it not behoove Christ to suffer, and to enter into His glory? ²⁷And beginning from Moses and all the prophets, He expounded to them in all the Scriptures, the things concerning Himself. ²⁸And they drew nigh to the village, whither they were going: and He made as though He would go further: ²⁹and they constrained Him, saying, Abide with us: because it is at the evening, and the day has already declined. And He came in to abide with them. ³⁰And it came to pass, while He was reclining with them at the table, taking bread, He blessed it, and breaking it, He gave it to them: ³¹and their eyes were opened, and they recognized Him; and He vanished from them. ³²And they said to one another, Did not our heart burn within us, while He was talking to us on the way, as He was expounding the Scriptures to us? ³³And rising up the same hour, they returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven and those with them gathered together, ³⁴saying, The Lord indeed is risen, and was seen by Simon. ³⁵And they expounded those things on the way, and how He was made known to them in the breaking of the bread.

‡ 166. JESUS APPEARS IN THE MIDST OF THE APOSTLES, THOMAS BEING ABSENT.—Jerusalem.

Luke 24. 36-49. ³⁶And they speaking these things, He stood in their midst, ³⁷and they being affrighted and filled with fear, thought they saw a spirit. ³⁸And He said to them, Why are you excited, and why do reasonings arise in your heart? ³⁹See my hands and my feet, that I am He: feel me; and see, because a spirit has not flesh and bones, as you see me having. ⁴¹And they still disbelieving from joy, and wondering, He said to them, Have you here any edible? And they gave Him a piece of baked fish: ⁴²and taking it, He did eat in their presence. ⁴⁴And He said to them, These are my words which I spoke to you, being still with you, that it behooves all things which have been written concerning me in the law of Moses, and the prophets, and the Psalms, to be fulfilled.^a ⁴⁵Then He opened their mind, that they might understand the Scriptures. ⁴⁶And He said to them, As it has been written, That Christ must suffer, and rise from the dead on the third day; ⁴⁷and repentance unto remission of sins is to be preached in His name to all nations, beginning from Jerusalem. ⁴⁸You are witnesses of these things. ⁴⁹And I send the promise of the Father upon you: and you tarry in the city, until you may be endowed with power^a from on high.

may remit, are remitted unto them; whose sins you may retain, have been retained.

Evening following the First Day of the Week, next after the Resurrection.

John 20. 24-29. ²⁴And Thomas, one of the twelve, the one called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. ²⁵Then the other disciples said to him, We have seen the Lord. And he said to them, Unless I may see the print of the nails in His hand, and thrust my finger into the place of the nails, and thrust my hand into His side, I will not believe. ²⁶And after eight days His disciples were again within, and Thomas was with them. Jesus comes, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you. ²⁷Then He says to Thomas, Bring hither your finger, and see my hands, and John 20. 19-23. ¹⁹Then it being evening, on that day, on the first day of the week, and the doors being shut where the disciples were assembled, on account of the fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in their midst, and says to them, Peace be unto you. ²⁰And saying this, He shewed them His hands and His side. Then the disciples rejoiced, seeing the Lord.

²¹And Jesus said to them again, Peace be unto you: as the Father hath sent me, I also send you. ²²And saying this, He breathed on them, and says to them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost. ²³Whose sins you bring your hand, and cast it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing. ²⁸Thomas responded and said to Him, My Lord and my God. ²⁹Jesus says to him, Because you have seen me, you have believed: happy are those not seeing, and believing.

‡ 168. THE APOSTLES GO AWAY INTO GALILEE. JESUS SHOWS HIMSELF TO SEVEN OF THEM AT THE SEA OF TIBERIAS.

Matt. 28. 16. And the eleven disciples went away into Galilee. John 21. 1-24. ¹After these things, Jesus again manifested Himself to His disciples, at the Sea of Tiberias; and He thus mani-festated Himself. ²Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and Nathanael the one from Cana of Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two others of His disciples, were together. ³Simon Peter says to them, I go to fish. They say to Him, We also go along with you. They went out, and entered into a ship, and that night caught nothing. ⁴And it being now morning, Jesus stood on the shore: the disciples did not know that He is Jesus.^a ⁵Then Jesus says to them; Little children, whether have you any meat? They respond to Him, No. ⁶He says to them, Cast the net to the right side of the ship, and you will find: then they cast it, and were not able to draw it on account of the multitude of the fishes. ⁷Then that disciple whom Jesus loved said to Peter, He is the Lord.^b Then Simon Peter hearing that He is the Lord, girded on his fishing-cloak (for he was unclothed), and cast Himself into the sea: ⁸and the other disciples came in the ship (for they were not far from the land, but about two hundred cubits), drawing the net of the fishes. ⁹Then when they came to the land, they see fire lying, and fish and bread lying on it. ¹⁰Jesus said to them, Take from the fishes which you now caught. ¹¹And Simon Peter came up, and drew the net to the land, full of a hundred and fifty-three large fishes: and there being so many yet the net was not broken. ¹²Jesus says to them, Come, take breakfast. But no one of the disciples dared to ask Him, Who art thou? knowing that He is the Lord. ¹³Jesus comes, and takes bread, and gives it to them, and fish likewise. ¹⁴And this third time Jesus was already manifested to His disciples, having risen from the dead.^c ¹⁵Then when they took breakfast, Jesus says to Simon Peter; Simon, the son of Jonah, dost thou love me with divine love more than these? He says to Him, Yes, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee as a friend. He says to him; Feed my lambs. ¹⁶Again He says to him a second time, Simon, the son of Jonah, do you love me with divine love?^d He says to Him; Thou knowest that I love thee as a friend. He says to him; Shepherdize my sheeplings. ¹⁷He says to him a third time; Simon, the son of Jonah, do you love me as a friend? Peter was grieved, because He said to him the third time, Do you love me as a friend? And he says to Him, Lord, thou knowest all things; and thou dost understand that I love thee as a friend. He says to Him, Feed my sheeplings. ¹⁸Truly, truly, I say unto you, When you were young, you girded yourself, and walked about where you wished: but when you get old, you will reach forth your hands, and another will lead you, where you do not wish.^e ¹⁹And He spoke this, signifying by what death he shall glorify God. And having spoken this, He says to him, Follow me. ²⁰And Peter turning sees the disciple, whom Jesus loved, following; who also leaned upon His breast in the supper, and said; Lord, who is the one having betrayed thee?^f ²¹Then Peter seeing him says to Jesus; Lord, but what shall he do? ²²And Jesus says to him, If I wish him to tarry until I come, what is that to thee? ²³Then that word went out to the brethren that that disciple does not die. And Jesus did not say to him, that he does not die; but, If I wish him to tarry until I come. ²⁴This is the disciple witnessing concerning these things, and having written the same: and we know that his testimony is true.^g

ON A MOUNTAIN IN GALILEE.

Acts 1. 9-12. ⁹And He speaking these things, they seeing, was taken up; and a cloud received Him from their eyes. ¹⁰And while they were gazing up into heaven, He going, and behold, two men stood by them in white garments; ¹¹who also said, Ye Galilean men, why stand you looking into the heaven? the same Jesus, the one having been taken up from you into the heaven, will so come in the manner in which you saw Him going into the heaven. ¹²Then they return to Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is near Jerusalem, having the journey of a Sabbath.

⁵²And they returned to Jerusalem with great joy: ⁵³and were constantly in the temple, praising God.

‡ 172. CONCLUSION OF JOHN'S GOSPEL.

John 20. 30, 31. ³⁰Indeed then Jesus also did many other miracles in the presence of His disciples, which have not been written in this book; ³¹and these have been written in order that you may believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God; and in order that believing you may have life through His name.

OF THE
FROM THE ORIGINAL GREEK.

ACTS I.

Commandments of the risen Jesus, and His return to heaven. The apostles. Peter persuading. Matthias succeeds Judas.

¹Truly, I made the first history, O Theophilus, concerning all things which Jesus began both to do and to teach, ²from the day on which, having given commandment through the Holy Ghost to the apostles whom He had chosen, He was received up. ³To whom He also, after He suffered, manifested Himself alive in many testimonials, being seen by them forty days, and speaking the things concerning the kingdom of God: ⁴and being assembled together with them, He commanded them, Not to depart from Jerusalem, but to await the promise of the Father which ye heard from me;^a ⁵that John indeed baptized with water, but you shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence.^b ⁶Therefore indeed having assembled, they asked Him saying, Lord, do you at this time restore the kingdom to Israel? ⁷He said to them; It is not your province, to know the times^c or seasons,^c which the Father placed in His own authority. ⁸But you shall receive the power^d of the Holy Ghost having come upon you, and shall be my witnesses both in Jerusalem, and all Judea, and in Samaria, and into the extremity of the earth. ⁹And having spoken these words, they looking, He was taken up, and a cloud received Him from their eyes. ¹⁰And while they were gazing up into the heaven, He going, and behold, two men^e stood by them in white garments, who also said, ¹¹Ye Galilean men, why stand you looking up into the heaven? this same Jesus, the One having been received up into the heaven, will so come in the manner in which you saw Him going up into the heaven.

¹²Then they returned into Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is near Jerusalem, being a journey of a Sabbath day.^f ¹³And when they came in, they went up into the upper room, where Peter and John and James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James the son of Alpheus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas the brother of James, were abiding. ¹⁴They were all persevering of one accord in prayer along with the women, and Mary, the mother of Jesus, and His brothers.

¹⁵And during those days, Peter standing up in the midst of the brethren, said (and the number of names were about one hundred and twenty), ¹⁶Men, brethren, it behooved the scripture which the Holy Ghost predicted through the mouth of David concerning Judas, the one becoming leader to those arresting Jesus, to be fulfilled; ¹⁷because he was numbered among us and received the lot of this ministry. ¹⁸Then indeed he purchased a field^s by the reward of iniquity, and falling headlong, burst asunder in the middle, and all his bowels burst out; ¹⁹which indeed was known to all those dwelling at Jerusalem, so that field, in their own dialect, is called Acheldamach; that is, field of blood. ²⁰For it has been written in the book of Psalms,^h Let his habitation be desolate, and let there be no one dwelling in it, and let another take his pastorate.ⁱ ²¹Therefore the men having come together with us all the time in which the Lord Jesus came in unto us and went out, ²²beginning from the baptism of John, until the day on which He was taken up from us, it behooveth one of these to be witness of His resurrection along with us. ²³And they nominated two, Joseph, called Barsabas who was called Justus, and Matthias. ²⁴And praying they said, Thou, O Lord, Heart-searcher of all, show up the one of these two, whom thou hast chosen ²⁵to receive the place of this ministry and apostleship from which Judas departed to go into his own place. ²⁶And they gave lots for them, and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

CHAPTER II.

ACTS II.

Outpouring of the Holy Spirit. The gift of tongues. Peter's sermon on the prophecies of Joel and David. Three thousand are converted to Christ. Communism of the believers.

¹And when the day of Pentecost^a was fully come, they were all of one accord in the same place. ²And suddenly there was a sound from heaven as of a mighty, rushing wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. ³And there appeared unto them divided tongues, as of fire, and it sat upon each one of them; ⁴and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.^b ⁵And Jews were dwelling at Jerusalem, devout men from every nation, of those under the heaven; ⁶and this report prevailing, the multitude came together and was confounded, because they were hearing them speaking each one in his own dialect. ⁷And they were all astounded and marveled, saying, Are not all these who are speaking, Galileans? ⁸And how do we hear each one in our own dialect in which we were born, ⁹Parthians and Medes and Elamites, and those inhabiting Mesopotamia, Judea, and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia, ¹⁰indeed Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt and the regions of Libya which is beyond Cyrene, and Roman sojourners, both Jews and proselytes, ¹¹Cretans and Arabians, we hear them speaking the mighty works of God in our own languages.^c ¹²And all were astounded and bewildered, saying one to another, What does this wish to be? ¹³And others mocking, continued to say, that these people are full of fermented wine.

¹⁴And Peter standing with the eleven, lifted up his voice and spoke to them: Judean men and all ye dwelling at Jerusalem, let this be known unto you, and know my words. ¹⁵For these are not drunken, as you suppose; for it is the third hour of the day;^d ¹⁶but this is that which has been spoken by the prophet Joel;^e ¹⁷And it shall come to pass in the last days, says God, I will pour out from my Spirit upon all flesh, and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams; ¹⁸and upon my servants and my handmaidens I will pour out of my Spirit on those days, and they shall prophesy. ¹⁹And I will give wonders in the heavens above, and signs on the earth beneath, blood and fire, and vapor of smoke. ²⁰The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great day of the Lord shall come.^f ²¹And it shall come to pass, that every one who may call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. ²²Israelitish men, hear these words, Jesus the Nazarene, a man having been demonstrated unto you from God by miracles, wonders and signs,^g which God did through Him in your midst, as yourselves know; ²³Him by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, having been delivered, you having nailed up, slew through the hand of lawless men; ²⁴whom God raised up, loosing the pangs of death, because it was impossible that he should be held by it.^h ²⁵For David says in reference to him, I foresaw my Lord always before me, because he is on my right hand, in order that I may not be moved. ²⁶Therefore my heart rejoiced and my tongue was glad, and my flesh shall indeed still rest in hope, ²⁷because thou wilt not leave my soul in Hades,ⁱ nor suffer thy Holy One to see corruption. ²⁸Thou hast made known to me the ways of life; thou shalt fill me with gladness with thy countenance. ²⁹Men, brethren, it is lawful to speak to you with boldness concerning the patriarch David, because he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day. ³⁰Therefore being a prophet and knowing that God swore with an oath,^k that from the fruit of his loins One should sit upon the throne; ³¹foreseeing he spoke concerning the resurrection of Christ, that He was not left in Hades, neither did His flesh see corruption.^l

³²This Jesus God raised up, whose witnesses we are. ³³Therefore on the right hand of God exalted, and having received from the Father the promise of the Holy Spirit, has poured out this which you both see and hear. ³⁴For David hath not ascended into the heavens, but he says, The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand,^m ³⁵until I may make thy enemies the footstool of thy feet.ⁿ ³⁶Then let all the house of Israel assuredly know that God hath made this same Jesus, whom you crucified, both Lord and Christ.

³⁷And hearing, they were cut to the heart, and said to Peter and the other apostles, Men, brethren, what must we do?^o ³⁸And Peter said to them, Repent, and each one of you be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins, and you shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.^p ³⁹For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all who are afar off, so many as the Lord our God may call. ⁴⁰And with many other words did he testify and exhort them, saying, Be saved from this wicked generation.^q

⁴¹Then indeed having received his word they were baptized, and on that day about three thousand souls were added unto them; ⁴²and they were persevering in the teaching of the apostles and fellowship, in the breaking of bread, and in prayers.

⁴³And fear came upon every soul; and many wonders and signs were wrought by the apostles in Jerusalem; and there was a great fear upon all. ⁴⁴And all those who believed were together and had all things common,^r ⁴⁵and they sold their possessions and personalities, and divided the same unto all, as each one had need. ⁴⁶And daily of one accord in the temple they were persevering; and breaking bread from house to house, they received their food with gladness and purity of heart, ⁴⁷praising God, and having favor unto all the people. And the Lord was daily adding to them those who were being saved.^s to receive alms. ⁴And Peter along with John, fixing his attention on him, said, Look unto us. ⁵And he gave attention to them, expecting to receive something from them. ⁶Peter said, Silver and gold do not belong to me; but I give thee that which I have. In the name of Jesus Christ the Nazarene, walk about. ⁷And taking him by the right hand he raised him up; and immediately the bottoms of his feet and his ankle-bones were strengthened. ⁸And leaping out, he stood, and continued to walk around, and came into the temple with them, walking around and leaping, and praising God. ⁹And all the people saw him walking round and praising God. ¹⁰And they recognized him, that he was the one sitting for alms at Beautiful Gate of the temple; and they were filled with astonishment and delight at that which had happened to him.

¹¹And he holding on to Peter and John; all the people ran together to them in the porch called Solomon's, exceedingly astonished.^b ¹²And Peter seeing them, responded to the people; Israelitish men, why are you astonished at this, or why do you look upon us as having by our own power or holiness, made this man to walk about?^c ¹³The God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, and the God of our fathers, hath glorified his Child, Jesus, who you indeed delivered up and denied before the face of Pilate having decided to release Him. ¹⁴And you denied the Holy and Righteous One, and ask that a man who was a murderer should be delivered unto you, ¹⁵and you slew the Prince of life, whom God raised from the dead, whose witnesses we are.^d ¹⁶And through the faith of his name, his name hath made sound this one who you see and know, and through him faith has given unto him this soundness, in the presence of you all. ¹⁷And now, brethren, I know that you did it through ignorance, as did your rulers also; ¹⁸and those things which God proclaimed through the mouth of all the prophets that his Christ should suffer, he hath thus fulfilled. ¹⁹Repent, therefore, and turn, that your sins may be blotted out, in order that seasons of soul-renewing may come from the presence of the Lord, ²⁰and he may send forth Jesus, who has been preached unto you as the Christ, ²¹whom it behooves heaven indeed to receive until the times of the restitution of all things which God spoke through the mouth of all his prophets from the beginning. ²²Moses indeed said; The Lord our God will raise up to you from your brethren a prophet like unto me; Him you will hear concerning all things so many as he may speak to you.^e ²³And it shall come to pass, that every soul whosoever will not hear that prophet, shall be cut off from the people. ²⁴And indeed all the prophets from Samuel and consecutively, so many as spoke, also proclaimed these days. ²⁵Ye are the sons of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying to Abraham, In thy seed shall the families of the earth be truly blessed.^f ²⁶To you God, having first raised up his Son, sent him blessing you, in turning each one from your sins.

CHAPTER V.

ACTS IV.

Peter and John are taken before the sanhedrim. They are dismissed with interdiction. Supplication of the apostles. Community of goods; liberality of Barnabas.

¹And they speaking to the people, the priests and captain of the temple and the Sadducees rose up against them, ²being grieved because they were teaching the people and preaching the resurrection of the dead through Jesus; ³and they laid hands on them and put them in prison till the morrow; for it was already evening. ⁴And many of those hearing the word believed, and the number of men was about five thousand.

⁵And it came to pass on the morrow, the rulers and elders and scribes assembled in Jerusalem, and Annas the high priest and Caiaphas and John and Alexander, and so many as were of the family of the high priest. ⁷And having set them in the midst, asked them, By what power or in what name have you done this? ⁸Then Peter being full of the Holy Spirit said to them, Ye rulers of the people and elders, ⁹if we are this day judged for the benefaction of the impotent man, by whom he has been saved, ¹⁰let it be known to you all, and to all the people of Israel, that in the name of Jesus Christ, the Nazarene whom you crucified, whom God raised from the dead, through him this man now stands sound in your presence. ¹¹This is the stone rejected by your builders, which has become the head of the corner.^a ¹²And there is salvation in no other; for there is no other name given under heaven among men by which it behooveth us to be saved. ¹³And seeing the boldness of Peter and John, and apprehending that they are unlearned and ignorant men, they continued to be astonished, and recognized them, that they were with Jesus; ¹⁴and seeing the man who had been healed standing with them, they had nothing to say against it. ¹⁵And having commanded them to depart out from the assembly, they conferred with one another, ¹⁶saying, What can we do to these men? for that a notable miracle has been wrought by them is indeed manifest to all dwelling at Jerusalem, and we are not able to deny it; ¹⁷but that it may extend no further unto the people, let us threaten them to speak no more in this name to any one of men.^b ¹⁸And having called them, they command them, not at all to speak or teach in the name of Jesus. ¹⁹And Peter and John responding said to them, Whether it is right in the sight of God to hearken unto you rather than God, judge ye;^c ²⁰for we are not able to speak those things which we have seen and heard. ²¹And they having threatened them, in addition sent them away, finding nothing to the end that they can punish them, on account of the people, because all continued to glorify God over that which had taken place; ²²for the man on whom this miracle of healing was wrought was more than forty years old.

²³And having been released they came to their own people, and proclaimed so many things as the chief priests and elders said to them. ²⁴And having heard, they unanimously lifted up their voice to God, and said, O Lord, thou having created the heaven and the earth and the sea and all things which are in them, ²⁵the One speaking through the mouth of David, thy child, our father through the Holy Ghost, Wherefore did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vain things? ²⁶The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord and his Christ.^d ²⁷For in truth they were assembled together in this city, against thy holy Child Jesus, whom thou didst anoint; both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the people of Israel, ²⁸to do so many things as thy hand and thy counsel did foreordain to come to pass. ²⁹And now, Lord, look upon their threats and grant to thy servants with all boldness to speak thy word, ³⁰while, reaching forth thy hand unto healings, both miracles and wonders are wrought through the name of thy holy child Jesus. ³¹And they praying, the place in which they were assembled was shaken, and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and continued to speak the word of God with boldness.

³²And of the multitude who believed there was one heart and soul, and no one was saying that any of those things which belonged to him were his own, but all things were common to them.^e ³³And with great power^f the apostles continued to give witness of the resurrection of Jesus Christ the Lord; and great grace was upon them all. ³⁴For no one among them was in need; for so many possessions of lands or houses as belonged to them, selling, they were bringing the prices of the things having been sold, ³⁵and laying them at the feet of the apostles; and it was distributed to each as any one had need. ³⁶And Joseph called Barnabas by the apostles, which is interpreted, Son of consolation, a Levite, a Cyprian by race, ³⁷a farm belonging to him, having sold it, he brought it and laid it at the feet of the apostles.

Ananias and Sapphira. Miracles of the apostles; being taken captive they are liberated by an angel; again having been called into judgment, they are liberated by the council of Gamaliel.

ACTS V.

¹And a certain man, Ananias by name, with Sapphira his wife, sold an estate ²and kept back a part from the price, his wife knowing it along with him; and having brought a certain part, laid it at the feet of the apostles. ³But Peter said, Ananias, wherefore hath Satan filled thy heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and keep back a part from the price of the land? ⁴Remaining with thee did it not belong to thee; and having been sold, was it not still in thy control? why hast thou placed this thing in thy heart? thou hast not lied to men, but to God. ⁵And Ananias hearing these words, having fallen down, breathed out his soul. And great fear came on all hearing; ⁶and the young men, rising up, took him, and having carried him out, buried him.^a ⁷And an interval of about three hours supervened, and his wife, not having known what had taken place, came in. ⁸And Peter responded to her, Tell me if you sold the place for so much? And she said; Yes, for so much. ⁹And Peter said to her; Why has it been agreed with you to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of those having buried thy husband are at the door, and they will carry thee out. ¹⁰And immediately she fell at his feet, and breathed out her soul; and the young men having come in found her dead, and having carried her out, buried her with her husband. ¹¹And great fear came on all the church, and on all those hearing these things.

¹²And many miracles and wonders were wrought by the hands of the apostles among the people. And they were all of one accord in Solomon's porch.^b ¹³And no one of the rest dared to attach himself to them; but the people were magnifying them; ¹⁴but believers were the more added to the Lord, a multitude both of men and women, ¹⁵so that they were carrying the sick into the streets, and placing them on couches and beds, in order that the shadow of Peter passing along might cast a shadow on some one of them. ¹⁶Then a multitude, of the cities around about Jerusalem, came together, carrying their sick and those tormented by unclean spirits, who were all being healed.

with the officers, having gone away, led them, not with violence, for they feared the people lest they might be stoned. ²⁷And leading them, they placed them in the council, and the chief priests asked them, saying, ²⁸With commandment we commanded you not to teach in this name; and behold, you have filled Jerusalem with your teaching; and you are determined to bring upon us the blood of this man.^d ²⁹But Peter and the apostles responding said, It behooves us to obey God rather than men. ³⁰The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom you have slain, hanging him on the wood;^e ³¹Him hath God exalted at His own right hand, a Prince and a Savior, to give repentance and remission of sins to Israel.^f ³²And we are witnesses of these words, and the Holy Ghost, whom God has given to those who obey him. ³³And hearing, they were cut through and were minded to kill them. ³⁴But a certain Pharisee, Gamaliel by name, a teacher of the law, honorable to all the people, rising in the sanhedrim command them to put the men out for a short time, ³⁵and he said to them; Israelitish men, take heed to yourselves in reference to these men what you are about to do. ³⁶For before these days Theudas arose, saying that he was somebody, to whom a number of men, about four hundred, adhered, who were slain, and all, so many as confided in him, were dispersed, and came to nothing. ³⁷After him Judas the Galilean arose, in the days of the enrollment, and led the people after him; he also perished, and all, so many as confided in him, were scattered abroad. ³⁸And I now say this to you: Stand aloof from these men, and let them alone; for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to naught; ³⁹but if it be of God, you will not be able to destroy them, lest perchance you may also be found fighting against God. ⁴⁰And they obeyed him, and having called the apostles, beating them, they commanded them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and sent them away. ⁴¹Then they departed from the face of the sanhedrim, rejoicing indeed, because they were counted worthy to suffer dishonor for the sake of his name. ⁴²And all day in the temple, and from house to house, they ceased not teaching and preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ.

⁸And Stephen, full of grace and power,^d was doing great wonders and miracles among the people. ⁹And certain ones of the synagogues, called Libertines,^e and Cyrenians, and Alexandrians, and those from Cilicia^f and Asia, stood up disputing with Stephen, ¹⁰and they were not able to resist the wisdom and spirit with which he was speaking. ¹¹Then they bribed men, saying, that we have heard him speaking words blasphemous against Moses and God. ¹²And they excited the people and the elders and scribes, and coming upon him, seized him, and led him into the council, ¹³and they raised up false witnesses, saying, This man does not cease speaking words against this holy place and the law; ¹⁴for we have heard him saying, that this Jesus the Nazarene will destroy this place, and change the customs which Moses delivered unto us. ¹⁵And all sitting in the council, having fixed their eyes on him, saw his face as the face of an angel.

CHAPTER VIII.

Saul is cruel. Philip in Samaria. Simon Magus and Peter. Philip and the eunuch.

ACTS VIII.

¹And Saul was consenting unto his death. And there was a great persecution in that day against the church in Jerusalem: and all were dispersed abroad throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles. ²And godly men buried Stephen, and made great mourning over him.^a ³But Saul was laying waste the church, entering into the houses, and arresting men and women, he committed them to prison.

⁴Therefore indeed, being dispersed abroad, they went everywhere preaching the word: ⁵and Philip, having gone down to the city of Samaria, was preaching Christ to them. ⁶And the multitudes were unanimously giving heed to the things spoken to Philip, while they were hearing and seeing the miracles which he was performing.^b ⁷For many of those having unclean spirits, roaring with a loud voice, went out: and many paralyzed and lame were healed; ⁸and there was great joy in that city. ⁹And a certain man, by name Simon, was formerly practicing magic in the city, and bewitching the nation of Samaria, saying that himself was some great man: ¹⁰to whom all from small even unto the great gave heed, saying, This one is the power^c of God, called Great. ¹¹And they gave heed to him, because for a long time he had deceived them with his magic arts. ¹²But when they believed Philip preaching the gospel concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women. ¹³But Simon himself also believed: and being baptized, was constantly with Philip, both seeing the miracles and the great dynamites performed, was astonished. ¹⁴But the apostles in Jerusalem, having heard that Samaria has received the word of God, sent to them Peter and John: ¹⁵who, having come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost. ¹⁶For he had not yet fallen on any of them: but they were only baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus. ¹⁷Then they laid their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost. ¹⁸But Simon seeing that by the laying on of the hands of the apostles the Spirit was given, offered them money, saying, ¹⁹Give me this power,^d that on whomsoever I may lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost. ²⁰And Peter said to him, Thy silver be unto destruction with thee, because thou hast thought to obtain the gift of God with money. ²¹There is neither part nor lot to thee in this word: for thy heart is not right before God. ²²Therefore repent of this thy wickedness, and pray the Lord, if perchance the thought of thy heart shall be forgiven thee; ²³for I see thou art in the gall of bitterness and the bond of iniquity. ²⁴And Simon responding said, You pray to the Lord for me, in order that none of these things of which you have spoken may come upon me.

²⁶And the angel of the Lord spoke to Philip, saying, Arise, and go towards the south unto the way going down from Jerusalem to Gaza; the same is desert.^e ²⁷And rising up, he departed. And, behold, an Ethiopian man, a eunuch, an officer of Candace queen of the Ethiopians, who was over all her treasury, had been to Jerusalem to worship, ²⁸and was returning, and sitting upon his chariot he was reading the prophet Isaiah. ²⁹And the Spirit said to Philip, Go, and join yourself to that chariot. ³⁰And Philip running forth, heard him reading Isaiah the prophet, and said; Whether do you understand what you are reading? ³¹And he said, How could I, unless some one shall guide me? And he called upon Philip coming up, to sit with him; ³²and the place of the scripture which he was reading was this, He was led like a sheep to the slaughter; and as a lamb before the one shearing him is dumb, so he opens not his mouth.^f ³³In his humiliation his judgment was taken away: and who shall declare His generation? because his life is taken from the earth. ³⁴And the eunuch responding to Philip, said, I pray thee, concerning whom does the prophet speak this? concerning himself, or some other man? ³⁵Philip opening his mouth, and beginning from the same scripture, preached Jesus to him. ³⁶And while they were journeying along the road, they came to a certain water:^g and the eunuch says, Behold water; what doth hinder me from being baptized? ³⁸And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they both came down into^h the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him. ³⁹And when they came up outⁱ of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip; and the eunuch saw him no more: for he went on his way rejoicing. ⁴⁰And Philip was found at Azotus: and going through he preached the gospel to all the cities, until he came to Cæsarea.

CHAPTER IX.

Saul is converted by a divine voice, and baptized by Ananias at Damascus. The Jews laying in wait for him, he flies from Jerusalem, and thence to Tarsus. Peter heals Eneas at Lydda, he recalls Tabitha into life at Joppa.

ACTS IX.

¹But Saul, still breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, having come to the high priest,^a ²asked from him letters to Damascus against the synagogues, in order that if he should find any being of the way, both men and women, he might lead them bound to Jerusalem. ³And it came to pass, while prosecuting the journey he drew near to Damascus, suddenly a light from heaven shone around him; ⁴and falling on the ground, he heard a voice saying to him, Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me?^b And he said, Who art thou, Lord? ⁵And He said, I am Jesus whom you are persecuting. ⁶But stand up, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what it behooves thee to do. ⁷And the men journeying along with him stood speechless, indeed hearing the voice, but seeing no one. ⁸And Saul arose from the ground; and his eyes being open, he saw nothing: but leading him by the hand, they led him into Damascus; ⁹and he was three days not seeing, neither did he eat nor drink.

¹⁰And there was a certain disciple in Damascus, Ananias by name; and the Lord said to him in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord. ¹¹And the Lord said to him, Arising, go to the street which is called Straight, and seek a Tarsean, by name Saul, in the house of Judas; for, behold, he is praying, ¹²and he saw a man, Ananias by name, coming in, and putting his hands on him, in order that he may look up. ¹³And Ananias responded, Lord I have heard from many about this man, how much evil he has done to thy saints in Jerusalem: ¹⁴and he here has authority from the chief priests to bind all those calling on thy name. ¹⁵And the Lord said to him, Go: because he is a vessel of election to me, to bear my name both before the Gentiles, and kings, and sons of Israel: ¹⁶for I will show him how many things it behooves him to suffer for my name's sake. ¹⁷And Ananias departed, and came into the house: and putting his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, Jesus, that appeared to you in the way in which thou didst come, hath sent me, that thou mayest look up, and be filled with the Holy Ghost. ¹⁸And immediately there fell from his eyes as scales: and he looked up; and having stood up, was baptized, ¹⁹and having received food, he was strengthened. And he was with the disciples who were in Damascus some days; ²⁰and immediately he was preaching Jesus in the synagogues, that he is the Son of God. ²¹And all those hearing were astonished, and continued to say, Is not this the one laying waste those calling on this name in Jerusalem?^c and has come hither for this, that he may lead them bound to the chief priests. ²²And Saul continued to be the more filled up with dynamite, and he was confounding the Jews dwelling in Damascus, proving that Jesus is the Christ. ²³And when many days were being filled up, the Jews issued a verdict to kill him:^d ²⁴but their plot was made known to Saul. And they were keeping the gates both day and night in order that they might kill him: ²⁵and his disciples taking him, let him down through the wall in the night, lowering him in a basket.

²⁶And arriving in Jerusalem, he was endeavoring to join himself to the disciples:^e and all were afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple. ²⁷But Barnabas taking him, led him to the apostles, and related to them how he saw the Lord on the way, and that He spoke to him, and how he preached boldly in Damascus in the name of Jesus. ²⁸And he was with them going in and coming out in Jerusalem, preaching boldly in the name of the Lord; ²⁹and he was speaking and arguing against the Hellenists,^f and they undertook to kill him.^g ³⁰And the brethren, taking cognizance, led him to Cæsarea, and sent him away to Tarsus. ³¹Then indeed the church had peace throughout all Judea and Galilee and Samaria, being edified and progressing in the fear of the Lord; and was being multiplied by the exhortation of the Holy Ghost.

³²And it came to pass, that Peter going through all parts, came down also to the saints living at Lydda. ³³And he found there a certain man, by name Eneas, lying on a bed eight years, who was paralyzed. ³⁴And Peter said to him, Eneas, Jesus Christ heals thee: arise, and take up thy bed: and immediately he arose. ³⁵And all those dwelling at Lydda and Sharon, whosoever saw him, turned to the Lord.

³⁶But there was a certain disciple in Joppa, by name Tabitha, who being interpreted is called Dorcas: and she was full of good works and alms which she was doing. ³⁷And it came to pass during those days, she being sick, died: and washing her, they placed her in an upper chamber. ³⁸And Lydda being near to Joppa, the disciples hearing that Peter is in it, sent two men to him, entreating him, Do not delay to come unto us. ³⁹And Peter rising up came along with them; whom, on arrival, they led to the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and showing him the chitons^h and himations,^j so many as Dorcas made, while with them. ⁴⁰And Peter having put them all out, and putting down his knees, prayed; and having turned toward the body, said, Tabitha, arise.^j And she opened her eyes: and seeing Peter sat up. ⁴¹And having given her his hand, he raised her up, and calling the saints and widows, he presented her alive. ⁴²And it was known throughout all Joppa; and many believed on the Lord. ⁴³And it came to pass, that he remained some days in Joppa, with one Simon a tanner.^k

CHAPTER X.

Cornelius being divinely admonished, sends to Cæsarea for Peter, having been impressed by the vision of the animals. The Gentiles are imbued with the Holy Spirit.

ACTS X.

¹And a certain man in Cæsarea, by name Cornelius, a centurion of the band called the Italian, ²devout, and fearing God with all his house, and doing many alms to the people, and praying to God always; ³saw openly in a vision^a about the ninth hour of the day an angel of God coming to him and saying to him, Cornelius. ⁴And he looking upon him, and being afraid, said, What is it, Lord? And he said to him, Thy prayer and thine alms have come up for a memorial before God. ⁵And now send men to Joppa, and call for a certain Simon, who is called Peter:^b ⁶he is lodging with a certain Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea. ⁷And when the angel speaking to him went away, calling two of his household servants, and a devout soldier of those who waited on him continually; ⁸and having related all things to them, he sent them away to Joppa.

⁹And on the following day, they traveling, and drawing nigh the city, Peter went up on the house to pray about the sixth hour. ¹⁰And he became hungry, and wished to eat: but they getting it ready, an ecstasy came on him, ¹¹and he saw the heaven open, and a certain vessel like a great sheet came down, and resting upon the earth with four rope ends:^c ¹²in which were all quadrupeds, and creeping things of the earth, and birds of the heaven. ¹³And a voice came to him, Arising, Peter, slay, and eat. ¹⁴And Peter said, By no means, Lord, because I never was in the habit of eating anything unconsecrated and unclean. ¹⁵And the voice again the second time came to him, Whatsoever things God has cleansed, do not count unclean; ¹⁶and this took place the third time; and immediately the vessel was received up into the heaven. ¹⁷And while Peter was at a loss within himself, as to what the vision he saw might be, behold, the men having been sent by Cornelius, making inquiry for the house of Simon, stood at the gate, ¹⁸and having called, they were asking, if Simon, called Peter, lodges there. ¹⁹And Peter meditating concerning the vision, the Spirit said to him, Behold, men are seeking thee; ²⁰but rising up, come down, and go with them, doubting nothing: because I have sent them. ²¹And Peter having come down to the men, said, Behold, I am he whom you are seeking: what is the cause on account of which you are present? ²²And they said, Cornelius the centurion, a man righteous and fearing God, and being of good report by all the nation of the Jews, was warned by a holy angel to send for thee to come into his house, and to hear words with thee. ²³Then having called them in, he lodged them.

And on the following day, rising up he went out with them, and certain ones of the brethren, who were from Joppa went along with him. ²⁴And on the following day they came into Cæsarea; and Cornelius was expecting them, having called together his own relatives and near friends. ²⁵And when it came to pass that Peter was coming in, Cornelius meeting him, falling down at his feet, worshiped. ²⁶And Peter raised him up, saying, Stand up; I also am a man. ²⁷And conversing with him, he came in, and finds many having come together; ²⁸and he said to them, You know how it is an unlawful thing for a Jewish man to associate with, or come to one of another nation; and God has shown me not to call any man unconsecrated or unclean. ²⁹Therefore indeed, being sent for, I came unhesitatingly. Then I make inquiry for what word did you send for me? ³⁰And Cornelius said, From the fourth day until this hour, indeed the ninth, I was praying in my house, and, behold, a man stood before me in shining apparel,^d ³¹and says, Cornelius, thy prayer has been heard, and thine alms have been remembered before God. ³²Therefore send to Joppa, and call for Simon, who is called Peter. He is lodging in the house of Simon the tanner by the sea.^e ³³Then I immediately sent for thee; and thou hast done well being present. Now therefore we are all present before God, to hear all things which have been commanded thee of the Lord. ³⁴And Peter, opening his mouth, said, In truth I apprehend that God is no respecter of persons: ³⁵but in every nation the one fearing him, and working righteousness, is acceptable to him;^f ³⁶the word which he sent to the sons of Israel, preaching peace through Jesus Christ: he is Lord of all. ³⁷This word you know, which was throughout all Judea, beginning from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached;^g ³⁸Jesus, the one from Nazareth, how God anointed Him with the Holy Ghost and power:^h who went about doing good, and healing all oppressed by the devil: because God is with Him. ³⁹And we are witnesses in the country of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom they even slew, hanging him on the wood.ⁱ ⁴⁰God raised him on the third day, and gave him to be made manifest; ⁴¹not to all the people, but to the witnesses having been chosen of God, to us, who ate and drank along with him after He arose from the dead:^j ⁴²and He commanded us to preach to the people, and to witness that He is the One ordained of God the Judge of the living and the dead. ⁴³And to Him give all the prophets witness, that every one believing on him receives the remission of sins.^k ⁴⁴Peter yet speaking these words, the Holy Ghost fell on all those hearing the word. ⁴⁵And the faithful ones who were of the circumcision, so many as came along with Peter, were astonished, because the gift of the Holy Ghost was poured out on the Gentiles also; ⁴⁶for they were hearing them speaking with tongues, and magnifying God.^l ⁴⁷Then Peter responded, Whether is any one able to forbid the water, that these shall not be baptized, whosoever received the Holy Ghost as we indeed?^m ⁴⁸And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ. Then they asked him to tarry some days.

CHAPTER XI.

Peter expounds the vision of the animals, and the affair having been transacted with Cornelius at Jerusalem. Barnabas and Saul. The Christians at Antioch. Agabus.

ACTS XI.

¹But the apostles and brethren being throughout Judea heard that the Gentiles also received the word of God. ²And when Peter went up to Jerusalem, those of the circumcision interviewed him, say ³that, You went in unto men having uncircumcision, and ate with them.^a ⁴And Peter beginning expounded unto them consecutively, saying, ⁵I was praying in the city Joppa: and I saw a vision in an ecstasy, A certain vessel, like a great sheet, descending from the heaven, sitting down by four rope ends; and came even unto me:^b ⁶into which looking, I was investigating, and I saw quadrupeds of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and the birds of the heaven. ⁷And I also heard a voice saying to me, Arising, Peter; slay and eat. ⁸And I said, By no means, Lord: because nothing unconsecrated or unclean has ever entered into my mouth. ⁹And a voice a second time was heard from heaven, Whatsoever things God has cleansed, consider thou not unconsecrated. ¹⁰And this took place three times: and all things were again taken up into the heaven. ¹¹And, behold, immediately three men were standing at the house in which we were, having been sent to me from Cornelius. ¹²And the Spirit said to me, to go with them, doubting nothing.^c And these six brethren went along with me, and we entered into the house of the man. ¹³And he proclaimed to us how he saw an angel standing in his house, and saying, Send to Joppa, and call for Simon, who is called Peter;^d ¹⁴who will speak words to you, by which you and your whole family may be saved. ¹⁵And when I began to speak, the Holy Ghost fell on them, as on us at the beginning.^e ¹⁶And I remembered the word of the Lord, as He said, John indeed baptized with water; but you shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost.^f ¹⁷Since then God gave unto them the equal gift, as also unto us, believing on the Lord Jesus Christ; who was I, to be able to resist God? ¹⁸And hearing these things, they acquiesced, and glorified God, saying, Then God has also given unto the Gentiles repentance unto life.

¹⁹Then indeed those having been dispersed abroad on account of the persecution prevailing over Stephen came through even to Phœnicia, and Cyprus, and Antioch, speaking the word to no one except Jews only.^g ²⁰And of them there were certain Cyprian and Cyrenean men, who, having come into Antioch, were speaking to the Greeks also, preaching the gospel of the Lord Jesus. ²¹And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number having believed, turned to the Lord. ²²And the word was heard in the ears of the church in Jerusalem concerning them: and they sent Barnabas to Antioch. ²³Who, coming, and seeing the grace of God, rejoiced, and continued to exhort all, with purpose of heart to abide with the Lord: ²⁴because he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and faith. And a great multitude was added to the Lord. ²⁵And he went away to Tarsus, to hunt up Saul: and having found him, led him to Antioch.^h ²⁶And it happened unto them, a whole year indeed they assembled in a church, and taught a great multitude: and the disciples were first called Christians in Antioch.ⁱ

²⁷And during those days prophets came from Jerusalem to Antioch. ²⁸And one of them by name Agabus, standing up, signified through the Spirit that there is about to be a great famine throughout the whole world: which took place under the reign of Claudius.^j ²⁹And they determined that each one of them should send to the ministry to the brethren dwelling in Judea, as each one of the disciples was prosperous; ³⁰and this they did, sending to the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.^k

CHAPTER XII.

Herod Agrippa kills James, and binds Peter in chains. Peter liberated by the angel, knocks at the doors of the house of Mary. Herod dies suddenly.

ACTS XII.

¹But at this time king Herod reached forth his hands to persecute some of those from the church. ²And he slew James the brother of John with a sword. ³And seeing that it is pleasing to the Jews, he proceeded to arrest Peter also: and those were the days of the unleavened bread: ⁴whom having seized, he also put in prison, having committed him to four quaternions^a of soldiers to guard him; wishing to bring him out to the people after the passover. ⁵Then indeed Peter was kept in prison: but prayer to God in his behalf was incessantly made by the church. ⁶But when Herod was about to lead him forth, and Peter was sleeping that night between two soldiers, and bound with two chains; and the guards were keeping guard before the door. ⁷And, behold, the angel of the Lord stood over him, and a light shone in the house; and having touched the side of Peter, he raised him up, saying; Rise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands. ⁸And the angel said to him, Gird thyself, and put on thy sandals. And he thus did. And he says to him, Throw thy cloak about thee, and follow me. ⁹And having come out, he was following; and did not know that it is true which was done by the angel; but he was thinking that he saw a vision. ¹⁰And having come through the first guard and the second, they came to the iron gate leading into the city; which opened to them of its own accord: and having come out, they came on to the first street; and the angel immediately departed from him. ¹¹And Peter coming to himself, said, Now I know truly, that the Lord sent his angel, and delivered me out of the hand of Herod, out of all the expectation of the people of the Jews. ¹²And recognizing his whereabouts, he came to the house of Mary, the mother of John, called Mark; where many were assembled and praying.^b ¹³And he knocking at the door of the gate, a damsel, by name Rhoda, came to hearken: ¹⁴and recognizing the voice of Peter, from joy did not open the gate, but running in, she proclaimed that Peter stands before the gate. ¹⁵And they said to her, You are gone mad; but she persisted that it was so. And they said, It is his angel.^c ¹⁶But Peter remained knocking: and having opened, they saw him, and were astonished. ¹⁷And he, beckoning to them with his hand to keep silent, related how the Lord led him out from the prison: and said, Proclaim these things to James, and the brethren. And having gone out, he departed into another place. ¹⁸And it being day, there was no small commotion among the soldiers, as to where Peter then was. ¹⁹And Herod having sought him, and found him not, condemning the guards, commanded that they should be put to death; and having gone down from Judea to Cæsarea, he tarried. ²⁰And he was very angry with the Tyrians and Sidonians: and they unanimously came to him, and having persuaded Blastus who was over the chamber of the king, they continued to seek peace; because their country is supported by the kings. ²¹But on an appointed day, Herod, invested with his royal apparel, sitting on his tribunal, delivered a discourse to them: ²²and the people shouted, It is the voice of God and not of man. ²³And immediately the angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not the glory to God; and being eaten by worms, he breathed out his soul.^d ²⁴And the word of the Lord increased and multiplied.^e ²⁵And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, having filled their ministry,^f taking with them John, called Mark.

separate unto me Barnabas and Saul for the work to which I have called them. ³Then they having fasted and prayed, and laid hands on them, sent them away.^a ⁴Then they indeed, having been sent away by the Holy Ghost, came down to Seleucia; and thence sailed away to Cyprus.^b ⁵And being in Salamis, they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews: and they also had John as their helper. ⁶And having gone through the whole island to Paphos, they found a certain man, a magician, a Jewish false prophet, to whom was the name of Bar-Jesus: ⁷who was with Sergius Paulus, the proconsul, an intelligent man. He, having called Barnabas and Saul, sought to hear the word of God; ⁸but Elymas^c the magician (for thus his name is interpreted) opposed them, seeking to turn away the proconsul from the faith. ⁹And Saul, (who is also Paul), being filled with the Holy Ghost, fixing his eyes on him, said, O thou full of all guile and rascality, thou son of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease perverting the right ways of God? ¹¹And now, behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a time. And immediately there fell on him a mist and darkness; and going about he was seeking people to lead him by the hand. ¹²Then the deputy, seeing that which took place, believed; being delighted with the teaching of the Lord.

¹³And those around Paul having sailed from Paphos, came into Perge of Pamphylia:^d and John having departed from them returned to Jerusalem. ¹⁴And they having come from Perge, arrived into Picidian Antioch, and having come into the synagogue on the Sabbath day, they sat down. ¹⁵And after the reading of the law and the prophets, the chief rulers of the synagogue sent to them, saying, Men, brethren, if there is any word of consolation to the people in you, speak. ¹⁶And Paul, rising up, and beckoning with his hand said; Israelitish men, and those fearing God, hear. ¹⁷The God of this people Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people during their sojourn in the land of Egypt, and with a strong arm led them out of it;^e ¹⁸and when he supported them about the time of forty years in the wilderness, ¹⁹and having destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, he gave them the inheritance of the land^f about four hundred and fifty years. ²⁰And after these things he gave them judges, till Samuel the prophet. ²¹And then they asked for a king: and God gave them Saul the son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, forty years;^g ²²and having deposed him, he raised up to them David for a king; to whom witnessing he also said, I have found David the son of Jesse, a man according to my own heart, who will do all my wishes.^h ²³From whose seed according to the promise he led forth Jesus, the Savior, to Israel: ²⁴and John having preached the baptism of repentance to all

I am not he: but, behold, there comes one after me, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to loose.^j ²⁶Men, brethren, sons of the race of Abraham, and those among you fearing God, unto us the word of this salvation was sent. ²⁷For those dwelling in Jerusalem, and the rulers, having rejected him, condemning him, have ²⁸fulfilled the voices of the prophets which are read every Sabbath; and having found no cause of death, asked Pilate that he should be executed;^k ²⁹and when they perfected all the things which had been spoken concerning him, taking him down from the cross, placed him in a sepulchre.^l ³⁰And God raised him from the dead; ³¹who appeared to those coming up with him to Jerusalem from Galilee many days, who are now his witnesses to the people.^m ³²And we preach unto you the promise, which was made to the fathers, ³³that God has fulfilled this unto our children, raising up Jesus, as in the second Psalm it has been written, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.ⁿ ³⁴And because he raised him up from the dead, no longer about to return to corruption, He has thus said, I will give unto you the faithful mercies of David.^o ³⁵Therefore He also says in another place, Thou wilt not suffer thy Holy One to see corruption.^p ³⁶For David, indeed having served his own generation according to the will of God, went to sleep, and did see corruption:^q ³⁷but he, whom God raised up, did not see corruption. ³⁸Then let it be known unto you, men brethren, that through this one remission of sins is preached: ³⁹and in him every one believing is justified from all things from which ye were not able to be justified by the law of Moses.^r ⁴⁰Then beware, lest the word which has been spoken by the prophets may come upon you; ⁴¹Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and vanish away: because I work a work in your days, a work which you may not believe, though one may proclaim it to you.^s

⁴²And they going out, they continued to entreat them that these words should be spoken to them on the next Sabbath. ⁴³And the synagogue having been adjourned, many of the Jews and pious proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas, who, speaking with them, continued to persuade them to abide in the grace of God. ⁴⁴And on the following Sabbath almost all the city came together to hear the word of the Lord. ⁴⁵And the Jews seeing the multitudes, were filled with jealousy, and contradicted the word spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming. ⁴⁶And Paul and Barnabas speaking boldly, said, It was necessary that the word of God should first be spoken to you: since you have rejected it, and judge yourselves not worthy of eternal life, behold we now turn to the Gentiles. ⁴⁷For thus the Lord has commanded us, I have placed thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou shalt be for salvation unto the extremity of the earth.^t ⁴⁸And the Gentiles hearing, rejoiced, and glorified the word of God: and so many as had been ordained unto eternal life believed: ⁴⁹and the word of the Lord was carried throughout all the country. ⁵⁰And the Jews stirred up the noble godly women, and the first men of the city, and they raised a persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them from their borders. ⁵¹And having cast off the dust from their feet against them, they came into Iconium. ^u ⁵²And the disciples were filled with joy, and the Holy Ghost.

CHAPTER XIV.

Barnabas and Paul expelled from Iconium. They are considered for gods at Lystra, but being stoned by the Jews they pursue their journey through Asia, and return to Antioch of Syria.

ACTS XIV.

¹And it came to pass in Iconium at this time, they came together into the synagogue of the Jews, and spoke in such a manner, that a great multitude both of the Jews and Greeks believed. ²But the unbelieving Jews stirred up and poisoned the minds of the Gentiles against the brethren. ³Then indeed preaching boldly in behalf of the Lord, witnessing to the word of His grace, giving signs and wonders to be wrought by their hands, they spent much time. ⁴And the multitude of the city was divided: and some indeed were with the Jews, and some with the apostles. ^a ⁵And when there was a conspiracy of both Gentiles and Jews along with their leaders, to insult and stone them, ⁶recognizing it, they fled into the cities of Lycaonia, Lystra, and Derbe, and the surrounding country; ⁷and there they preached the gospel.

⁸And there was a certain man sitting there in Lystra, impotent in his feet, being lame from the womb of his mother, who never did walk about. ⁹He heard Paul speaking, who fixing his attention on him, and seeing that he had faith to be saved, ¹⁰said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and continued to walk around. ¹¹And the multitudes seeing what Paul did, lifted up their voice, in Lycaonic, saying, The gods having assumed the likeness of men have come down to us: and they were calling Barnabas, Jupiter; and Paul, Mercury, since he was the leader of the speech. ¹²And the priest of Jupiter, being in front of the city, having brought oxen and garlands to the gate, wished to offer sacrifices to them, along with the multitudes. ¹³And the apostles, Barnabas^b and Paul, hearing, rending their garments, rushed into the crowd, crying out, and saying, ¹⁴Men, why are you doing these things? We are also men of like suffering with you, preaching the gospel to you that you should turn from these vanities to the living God, who created the heaven, and the earth, and the sea, and all things which are in them: ^c ¹⁵who in bygone generations, suffered all nations to walk in their own ways;^d ¹⁷indeed he did not leave himself without witnesses, doing good, giving to you the rains from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling your hearts with food and gladness. ¹⁸And speaking these things they scarcely restrained the multitude from offering sacrifices to them.

¹⁹But the Jews came from Antioch and Iconium, and having persuaded the multitudes, stoned Paul, dragged him out of the city, thinking that he was dead;^e ²⁰but, the disciples having surrounded him, rising up, he came into the city. And on the following day he came with Barnabas into Derbe; ²¹and preaching the gospel to that city, and making many disciples, they returned into Lystra, and into Iconium, and into Antioch, ²²strengthening the souls of the disciples, exhorting them to abide in the faith, and it behooves them through many tribulations to enter into the kingdom of God. ²³And electing elders for them in every church, praying with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they had believed. ²⁴And having come through Pisidia, they came into Pamphylia. ²⁵And having spoken the word in Perge, they came down into Attalia; ²⁶and thence they sailed away into Antioch,^f whence they had been committed to the grace of God for the work which they fulfilled. ²⁷And arriving, and convening the church, they reported so many things as God did with them, and that He opened the door of faith to the Gentiles.^g ²⁸And they spent no small time with the disciples.

Contention at Antioch concerning the circumcision of the Gentiles. Paul is delegated to Jerusalem. Peter and James. Jerusalem decree. The other apostolical journey of Paul to the regions beyond.

ACTS XV.

¹And certain ones having come down from Judea were teaching the brethren that, Unless you may be circumcised, according to the custom of Moses, you are not able to be saved.^a ²And there being no small contention and disputation to Paul and Barnabas against them, they delegated Paul and Barnabas, and certain others of them, to go up to the apostles and elders in Jerusalem concerning this question.^b ³Then indeed they having been sent away by the church, traveled through both Phœnicia and Samaria, relating the conversion of the Gentiles; and they continued to make great joy to all the brethren. ⁴And arriving into Jerusalem, they were received by the church, and the apostles, and the elders, and they proclaimed so many things as God did with them. ⁵And certain one of those from the sect of the Pharisees having believed arose up, saying that, It is necessary to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the law of Moses.

⁶And the apostles and elders were convened to see about this problem.^c ⁷And there being much disputation, Peter, having arisen, said to them, Men, brethren, you know that from ancient days^d God chose among you, that the Gentiles should hear the word of the gospel through my mouth, and believe.^e ⁸And God, who knows the heart, witnessed to them, giving to them the Holy Ghost, as also to us; ⁹and made no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith.^f ¹⁰Now therefore why tempt ye God, to put a yoke on the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?^g ¹¹But through the grace of our Lord Jesus, we believe that we are saved, in the same manner in which they are also. ¹²And the whole multitude became silent, and continued to hear Barnabas and Paul, relating how many miracles and wonders God wrought among the Gentiles through them. ¹³And after they became silent, James responded, saying, Men, brethren, hear me. ¹⁴Symeon hath related how God in the first place interposed to take a people from the Gentiles, in His name.^h ¹⁵And to this corresponds the words of the prophet; as has been written, ¹⁶After these things I will return, and will build again the throne of David, which has fallen down; and will build again the ruins of the same, and will set it up again:ⁱ ¹⁷in order that the residue of men may seek out the Lord, even all the Gentiles, on whom my name has been called upon them, says the Lord, who doeth these things ¹⁸known from the beginning. ¹⁹Therefore I judge, that we should not burden those from the Gentiles turning to God: ²⁰but to command them to abstain from things offered to idols, and from fornication, and from strangulation, and from blood. ²¹For Moses from ancient generations, has those preaching him in every city, being read in the synagogues on every Sabbath.

²²Then it seemed good to the apostles and the elders, along with the whole church, to send men chosen from them into Antioch along with Paul and Barnabas; Judas called Barsabbas, and Silas, leaders among the brethren: ²³having written through their hand; The apostles and elders, brethren to the brethren who are from the Gentiles throughout Antioch and Syria and Cilicia greeting. ²⁴Since we heard that certain ones having come out from us troubled you, disturbing your souls with words which we did not command:^j ²⁵it seemed good to us, being of one accord, having chosen men to send them to you along with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, ²⁶men who have imperiled their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. ²⁷Therefore we have sent Judas and Silas, themselves also proclaiming the same things by speech. ²⁸For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no more burden than these necessary things,^k ²⁹to abstain from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication: from which keeping yourselves, you will do well.^l Fare ye well.

and convening the multitude, they delivered the letter. ³¹And having read it, they rejoiced over the consolation. ³²Both Judas and Silas, themselves also being prophets, exhorted the brethren with elaborate speech, and strengthened them; ³³and having spent the time, they were discharged by the brethren with peace back to the apostles who sent them.

³⁵And Paul and Barnabas tarried in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, also along with many others. ³⁶And after many days Paul said to Barnabas, Having returned let us now visit the brethren in every city in which we preached the word of the Lord, how they are doing. ³⁷But Barnabas advised to take with them John, also called Mark.^m ³⁸But Paul thought that he would not take with them, him who having departed from them from Pamphylia, and not having gone along with them into the work.ⁿ ³⁹But there was a paroxysm,^o so that they parted from one another, and Barnabas, taking Mark, sailed away into Cyprus.^p ⁴⁰And Paul, having chosen Silas, went out, committed to the grace of the Lord by the brethren; ⁴¹and he traveled through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the churches.

CHAPTER XVI.

Circumcision of Timothy. Paul having departed with Silas and Timothy is called by a vision into Macedonia. Lydia is converted. Paul and Silas, having been imprisoned at Philippi, are miraculously released; the prison being opened and the keeper baptized.

ACTS XVI.

¹And he arrived into Derbe and Lystra. And, behold, a certain disciple was there, by name Timothy, the son of a faithful Jewish woman, and a Greek father, ²who was of good report by the brethren in Lystra and Iconium. ³Paul wished him to go out with him; and having taken him circumcised him on account of the Jews who were in those places: for they all knew his father that he was a Greek.

⁴And while they were traveling through the cities, they delivered to them the decrees which were adjudicated by the apostles and elders in Jerusalem, to keep.^a ⁵Then the churches were indeed strengthened in faith, and abounded in number daily. ⁶And they traveled through Phrygia and the Galatian country, being prohibited by the Holy Ghost from speaking the word in Asia.^b ⁷And having come opposite Mysia, they were endeavoring to go on into Bithynia, and the Spirit of Jesus did not permit them;

⁸and having come through Mysia they descended into Troas. ⁹And a vision was seen by Paul during the night: Some Macedonian man was standing and entreating him and saying, Having come over into Macedonia, help us. ¹⁰And when he saw the vision, we immediately sought^e to depart from Macedonia, concluding that God had called us to preach the gospel to them.

¹¹And having embarked from Troas, we sailed directly to Samothrace,^d and on the following day into Neapolis,^e ¹²and thence into Philippi, which is the first city of the Macedonian region, a colony.^f And we were in that city spending some days. ¹³And on the Sabbath day we went out from the gate by the river, where we were accustomed that prayer should be,^g and having sat down, we spoke to the women having assembled. ¹⁴And a certain woman Lydia by name, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, worshiping God, was hearing us: whose heart the Lord opened to give attention to the words spoken by Paul. ¹⁵And when she and her household were baptized, she entreated us, saying, If you have found me to be faithful to the Lord, having come into my house, abide: and she constrained us.

¹⁶And it came to pass, we going to the prayer, a certain damsel having a spirit of divination^h met us, who brought much gain to her masters telling fortunes. ¹⁷She, following Paul and us, continued to cry out, saying, These men are the servants of the Most High God, who proclaim to us the way of salvation. ¹⁸And she continued to do this many days. And Paul, being worn out, and turning round, said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out from her. And he came out the same hour. ¹⁹And her masters seeing that the hope of their gain was gone, arresting Paul and Silas, dragged them into the forum to the rulers, ²⁰and leading them to the magistrates, said, These men do exceedingly trouble our city, being Jews, ²¹and they proclaimed customs, which are not lawful for us to receive, or to do, being Romans.ⁱ ²²And the crowd stood up together against them: and the magistrates tearing off their garments, commanded the lictors to beat them with rods. ²³And having laid many stripes on them, they cast them into prison, commanding the jailer to keep them safely: ²⁴who, having received such a charge, cast them into the interior prison, and fastened their feet into the wood. ²⁵But at midnight Paul and Silas, praying, continued to sing praises to God: and the prisoners heard them. ²⁶And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken: and all the doors were immediately opened, and the bonds of all were loosed. ²⁷And the jailer, being awakened, and seeing the doors of the prison open, seizing a sword, was about to kill himself, thinking that his prisoners had escaped. ²⁸But Paul shouted with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are here. ²⁹And having asked for a light, he sprang in, and being alarmed, he fell down before Paul and Silas,

And hearing that they are Romans, they were alarmed; ³⁹and having come they called for them, and leading them out, requested them to go away from their city. ⁴⁰And having come out from the prison they came to Lydia, and seeing the brethren,^m comforted them, and departed.

 CHAPTER XVII.

Tumult on account of Paul at Thessalonica and Berea. Jason. Sermon of Paul on the Areopagus. Dionysius Areopagite.

ACTS XVII.

¹And having traveled through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came into Thessalonica, where there was a synagogue of the Jews. ²And according to custom to Paul, he came in unto them, and for three Sabbaths he expounded unto them from the scriptures, ³opening and proving, that it behooved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead, and that this Jesus, whom I preach unto you, is the Christ.^a ⁴And certain ones of them were persuaded, and identified themselves with Paul and Silas, and of the pious Greeks a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few. ⁵But the Jews giving away to jealousy, and receiving to themselves certain wicked men of those around the forum, and raising a mob, continued to put the city in an uproar; and assaulting the house of Jason, they were seeking to lead them out to the people: ⁶but not finding them, they dragged Jason and certain brethren to the rulers of the city, roaring that, These who have turned the world upside down are also come hither; ⁷whom Jason has received: and all these are doing contrary to the decrees of Cæsar, saying that there is another King, Jesus. ⁸And they excited the rabble and the city rulers hearing these things;^b ⁹and having received satisfaction from Jason and the others they sent them away.

¹⁰But the brethren immediately sent away both Paul and Silas to Berea by night, who coming into the synagogue of the Jews departed;^c ¹¹but these were more noble than those in Thessalonica, who received the word with all enthusiasm, searching the scriptures daily, if these things are so. ¹²Then indeed many of them believed, and of the noble Greek women and men, not a few; ¹³but when the Jews from Thessalonica knew that the word of God was preached by Paul in Berea, they came thither also, agitating and stirring up the rabbles. ¹⁴But immediately at that time the brethren sent away Paul to travel even to the sea: and Silas and Timothy remained there.^d ¹⁵But having embarked Paul, they led him even to Athens: and receiving commandment to Silas and Timothy that they should come to him as quickly as possible, they departed from him.^e

¹⁶But Paul waiting for them in Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, seeing the city devoted to idolatry.^f ¹⁷Then indeed he spoke to the Jews, and to the worshipers in the synagogue, and to those incidentally meeting him every day in the forum. ¹⁸And certain ones of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers interviewed him, and some continued to say, What would this babbler wish to say? and others said, He seems to be the propagator of strange divinities: because he was preaching the gospel of Jesus, and the resurrection. ¹⁹And taking him, they led him to the Areopagus, saying; Are we able to know what is this new teaching, spoken by thee? ²⁰For you bring certain strange things to our hearing: therefore we desire to know what these things wish to be. ²¹But all the Athenians and itinerant strangers were accustomed to devote their time to nothing else, than to tell something new, or to hear something.^g ²²And Paul standing in the midst of the Areopagus, said, Athenian men, I perceive that in all things you are very religious. ²³For going through, and seeing your devotions, I also found an altar on which it was superscribed, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Therefore I now preach unto you Him whom you are ignorantly worshiping. ²⁴God having made the world and all things which are in it, being himself Lord of heaven and earth, does not dwell in temples made with hands;^h ²⁵neither is he worshiped by human hands, as if needing something, Himself having given life, and breath, and all things to all; ²⁶and of (one) man he created every nation of men to dwell upon the whole face of the earth, having determined their predestinated times, and the boundaries of their habitation; ²⁷that they should seek God, if perhaps indeed they might feel after him, and find him, though not being far from each one of you.ⁱ ²⁸For in him we live and move and have our being, as indeed certain ones of your own poets have said, For we are truly his offspring. ²⁹Then being the offspring of God, we ought not to think that divinity is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, the invention of art and the device of man. ³⁰Then indeed God winking at the times of ignorance, now commands all men everywhere to repent:^j ³¹as He has appointed

CHAPTER XVIII.

Acts of Paul at Corinth. Aquila and Priscilla; Justus, Crispus; Gallio the pronconsul, Sosthenes. Paul on his journey. Apollos at Ephesus.

ACTS XVIII.

¹After these things having departed from Athens, he came to Corinth. ²And having found a certain Jew by name Aquila,^a a Pontic by race, having recently come from Italy, and Priscilla^b his wife; because Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome: he came to them: ³and because they were of the same craft, abode with them, and they labored: for they were tentmakers by trade. ⁴And he spoke in the synagogue every Sabbath, and persuaded both Jews and Greeks.^c

⁵And when both Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia, Paul was straitened with the word, witnessing to the Jews that Jesus is the Christ.^d ⁶And they opposing, and blaspheming, shaking his garments, he said to them, Your blood be upon your own head; I am pure: from now I will go to the Gentiles.^e ⁷And having departed thence, he came into the house of a certain Titus, Justus by name, worshipping God, whose house is joined to the synagogue.^f ⁸But Crispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, believed on the Lord with all his house; and many of the Corinthians hearing believed, and were baptized.^g ⁹And the Lord spoke to Paul in the night through a vision, Fear not, but speak, and be not silent:^h ¹⁰because I am with thee, and no man shall assault thee to hurt thee: because there is much people to me in this city. ¹¹And he spent a year and six months teaching the word of God among them. ¹²But Gallio being proconsul of Achaia, the Jews of one accord arose up against Paul, and led him to the tribunal,ⁱ saying, This one persuades men to worship God contrary to law. ¹³And Paul being about to open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews, If it were some injustice or wicked rascality, O Jews, I would bear with you according to reason: ¹⁴but if there are questions about the words and names, and law appertaining to you, your-²⁴And a certain Jew, Apollos by name, an Alexandrian by race, an eloquent man, came into Ephesus, being mighty in the scriptures.^m ²⁵And he was instructed in the way of the Lord, and zealous in spirit, was speaking and teaching accurately the things concerning Jesus, knowing only the baptism of John;ⁿ ²⁶and he began to preach boldly in the synagogue. But Priscilla and Aquila, having heard him, took him to themselves, and expounded unto him the way of the Lord more perfectly. ²⁷And he wishing to go into Achaia, the brethren having sent him forth wrote to the disciples to receive him. Who, being present, conferred much on those having believed through grace. ²⁸For he vehemently argued down the Jews, publicly, showing through the scriptures that Jesus is the Christ.

CHAPTER XIX.

Acts of Paul at Ephesus. The disciples of John the Baptist; the school of Tyrannus, miracles; exorcists, magical books; the Jerusalem journey undertaken; the sedition of Demetrius against Paul and Alexander.

ACTS XIX.

¹And it came to pass, while Apollos was in Corinth, Paul having come through the upper regions came down into Ephesus: and found certain disciples,^a and said to them, Have you received the Holy Ghost, having believed? And they said to him, But we have not heard if the Holy Ghost is (given). ²And he said, Into what then were you baptized? And they said, Into the baptism of John.^b ³And Paul said, John baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on the one coming after him, that is Jesus.^c ⁴And they, having heard, were baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus; ⁸and Paul having laid his hands on them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and they continued to speak with tongues, and prophesy.^d ⁷And they were all about twelve men.

¹¹And God was working great miracles^g through the hands of Paul; ¹²so that napkins and aprons were carried from his body and placed on the sick, and diseases departed from them, and evil spirits went out of them.^h ¹³And certain ones of the itinerant Jewish exorcists undertook to call on the name of Jesus over those having evil spirits, saying, I adjure you in the name of Jesus whom Paul is preaching.ⁱ ¹⁴And there were certain seven sons of one Sceva, a Jewish high priest, doing this. ¹⁵But the evil spirit responding said to them, I know Jesus, and am acquainted with Paul; but who are you? ¹⁶And the man in whom was the evil spirit, leaping on them, domineering over both of them, prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded. ¹⁷And this became known to all, both Jews and Greeks, dwelling at Ephesus; and fear fell upon them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified;^j ¹⁸and many of those having believed came, confessing, and renouncing their practices. ¹⁹And many of those practicing curious arts, having brought their books, burnt them before all; and they estimated the price of them, and found it to be fifty thousand pieces of silver.

²⁰Thus the word of the Lord increased and accumulated strength according to His power.^k ²¹And when these things were fulfilled, Paul purposed in spirit, having traveled through Macedonia and Achaia, to go on into Jerusalem, saying that, After I am there it behooves me also to see Rome.^l ²²And having sent two of those ministering to him, Timothy and Erastus, into Macedonia, himself spent the time in Asia.^m ²³And at that time there was no small commotion concerning the way. ²⁴For a certain Demetrius by name, a silversmith, making silver shrines of Diana, was bringing no small gain to the mechanics, ²⁵whom having assembled and the laborers about such things, he said, Men, you know that it is from this work that prosperity is to us: ²⁶and you see and hear, that not only at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, that this Paul having persuaded them has turned away a great multitude, saying that there are no gods made with hands. ²⁷And not only is this interest in danger to us to come into disrepute; but even the temple of the great goddess Diana to be considered for nought, and they are about even to despise the majesty of her, whom all Asia and the world worships.ⁿ ²⁸And hearing and being filled with rage, they continued to cry out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians. ²⁹And the city was filled with commotion: and they rushed of one accord into the theatre, seizing Gaius and Aristarchus, the Macedonians, the companions of Paul.^o ³⁰And Paul wishing to go in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not;^p ³¹and certain ones of the Asiatic rulers, also being friends to him, having sent to him, continued to entreat him not to give himself up into the theatre. ³²Then indeed they continued to cry out some one thing, and some another: for the church^q was confused; and the most of them did not know on account of what they had come together. ³³And some from the crowd forced in Alexander, the Jews precipitating him forward; and Alexander, beckoning with his hand, wished to apologize to the people. ³⁴But recognizing that he is a Jew, there was one voice from all crying out about two hours, Great is Diana of the Ephesians. ³⁵And the city clerk having dismissed the multitudes, said, Ephesian men, for what one of men is there that does not know that the city of the Ephesians is a worshiper of the great goddess Diana, and of the statue having fallen down from Jupiter? ³⁶Therefore these things being unquestionable, it is necessary that you become calm, and do nothing rashly. ³⁷For you have led in these men, who are neither robbers of temples, nor are they blaspheming your goddess. ³⁸If indeed therefore Demetrius, and the mechanics along with him, have a charge against any one, the courts are in session, and there are lawyers: let them implead one another. ³⁹But if you are seeking something concerning other things, it shall be settled in the lawful church. ⁴⁰For indeed we are in danger of prosecution for the disturbance this day, there being no cause concerning which we shall be able to give a reason for this uproar. ⁴¹And having said these things, he dismissed the church.

for Syria, he was of a mind to return through Macedonia.^a ⁴And Sopater the (son) of Pyrrhus, the Berean, and Aristarchus, the Thessalonian, and Secundus; and Gaius the Derbean, and Timothy; and Tychicus and Trophimus the Asiatics, accompanied him;^b ⁵and these having gone in advance, awaited us in Troas; ⁶and we, after the days of unleaven bread, sailed from Philippi, and came to them into Troas within five days; where we spent seven days.

¹³But we, having come in advance to the ship, embarked for Assos, thence being about to take up Paul, for he had so commanded us, himself being about to go on foot. ¹⁴And when he met us at Assos, taking him up, we came to Mitylene. ¹⁵And thence having sailed away on the following day we arrived opposite Chios; and on the following day we touched at Samos, and on the next day we came into Miletus. ¹⁶For Paul decided to sail by Ephesus, in order that it might not be necessary for him to spend the time in Asia: for he was hastening, if it might be possible for him to be in Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost.^c

¹⁷And having sent from Miletus into Ephesus, he called for the elders of the church. ¹⁸And when they came to him, he said to them, You know, that from the first day from which I came unto Asia, how I was with you all the time, ¹⁹-serving the Lord with all humility, and tears, and temptations, which came upon me through the plots of the Jews:^d ²⁰how I omitted nothing of those things which are profitable, that I should not declare unto you and teach you publicly and from house to house, ²¹witnessing both to Jews, and to Greeks, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ. ²²And now, behold, I go to Jerusalem bound in spirit, not knowing the things which shall come upon me in it:^e ²³except that the Holy Ghost in every city witnesses to me, saying that bonds and tribulations await me. ²⁴But I consider my life worthy of no consideration to myself, so as to finish my course, and the ministry which I received from the Lord Jesus, to bear testimony to the gospel of the grace of God.^f ²⁵And now, behold, I know that you all, among whom I came preaching the gospel of the kingdom, shall see my face no more.

¹⁵And after those days, taking our luggage, we went up to Jerusalem: ¹⁶and some of the disciples from Cæsarea went along with us, bringing Mnason a certain Cyprian, and old disciple, with whom we should lodge.^f

¹⁷And we being in Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly. ¹⁸And on the following day, Paul goes with us to James; and all the elders assembled. ¹⁹And having saluted them, he related each one of those things which God did among the Gentiles through his ministry. ²⁰And they hearing, continued to glorify God, and said to him, You see, brother, how many myriads there are of those who believe; and they are all zealots of the law: ²¹and they have been informed concerning thee, that thou art teaching all the Jews who are among the Gentiles apostasy from Moses, saying that they are not to circumcise their children, nor to walk according to the customs. ²²Then what is it? it is altogether necessary that the multitude come together: for they will hear that you have come.^g ²³Therefore do this which we tell thee. There are four men among us having a vow upon them; ²⁴taking them, be purified along with them, and be at charges for them, that they may shave their head: and all shall know that there is nothing of those things they have been informed concerning thee; but that thyself art walking, keeping the law.^h ²⁵But concerning the Gentiles who have believed, we have sent to them, adjudicating that they keep themselves from idolatry, and blood, and strangulation, and fornication.ⁱ ²⁶Then Paul, having taken the men, the next day being purified along with them, enters into the temple, proclaiming the fulfillment of the days of purification, until an offering may be made for each one of them.^j

And He said to me, I am Jesus the Nazarene, whom thou art persecuting. ⁹And those being along with me saw the light indeed, but heard not the voice of the one speaking to me. ¹⁰And I said, What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said to me, Rising up, go into Damascus; and there it shall be told thee concerning all things which have been ordained for thee to do. ¹¹And when I did not see on account of the glory of that light, and being led by the hand by those journeying with me, I came into Damascus. ¹²And a certain Ananias, a man godly according to the law, and of good report by all the Jews dwelling there,^e ¹³having come to me, and standing over me, said, Brother Saul, look up. And I at that hour looked up unto him. ¹⁴And he said, The God of our fathers hath chosen thee to know His will, and see the Just One, and hear the voice from His mouth; ¹⁵because thou shalt be a witness for Him to all men of those things which thou hast seen and heard. ¹⁶And now why tarriest thou? arising, be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on His name. ¹⁷And it happened unto me, having returned into Jerusalem, and while I was praying in the temple, I was in an ecstasy;^f ¹⁸and I saw Him speaking to me, Hasten, and depart quickly out of Jerusalem, because they will not receive thy testimony concerning me. ¹⁹And I said, Lord, they know that I was imprisoning and binding those believing on thee throughout the synagogue; ²⁰and when the blood of thy martyr Stephen was shed, I was standing by, and consenting, and keeping the garments of those killing him.^g ²¹And He said to me, Go: because I will send thee far away to the Gentiles. ²²And they continued to hear him until this word, and lifted up their voice, saying, Take away such a one from the earth: for it is not appropriate for him to live.^h ²³And they crying out, and rending their garments, and throwing dust into the air, ²⁴the chiliarch commanded that he should be led into the castle,ⁱ saying that he should be tested by scourges,^j in order that he might know on account of what cause they continued to cry out against him. ²⁵And when they were extending him to the scourges, Paul said to the centurion standing by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man who is a Roman, and uncondemned?^k ²⁶And the centurion hearing, having come to the chiliarch, announced to him, saying, What are you about to do? for this man is a Roman.

ACTS XXIII.

¹And Paul, looking the sanhedrim in the face, said, Men, brethren, I have lived in all good conscience before God unto this day. ²And the high priest Ananias commanded those standing near him to smite him in the mouth. ³Then Paul said to him, God is about to smite thee, thou whitewashed^a wall: indeed thou art sitting judging me according to the law, and dost thou command me to be smitten contrary to the law? ⁴And those standing by said, Do you revile the high priest of God?^b ⁵And Paul said, Brethren, I did not know that he is the high priest; for it is written, You shall not speak evil of the ruler of your people.^c ⁶And Paul knowing that one part of them belongs to the Sadducees, and another to the Pharisees, he cried out in the council,^d Men, brethren, I am a Pharisee, a son of the Pharisees: concerning the hope and the resurrection of the dead I am judged.^e ⁷And he speaking this, there was a dissension of the Pharisees and Sadducees: and the multitude was divided. ⁸For the Sadducees indeed say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit: but the Pharisees confess both.^f ⁹And there was a great clamor: and certain ones of the scribes on the part of the Pharisees, rising up, continued to strive, saying, We find nothing evil in this man: but has a spirit or an angel spoken to him? ¹⁰And the dissension being great, the chiliarch fearing lest Paul may be torn to pieces by them, commanded the army, having gone down, to take him from their midst, and lead him into the castle. ¹¹And on the following night, the Lord standing over him, said, Take courage: for as thou hast testified to the things concerning me in Jerusalem, so it behooveth thee also to testify to me in Rome.^g

The arrival of the accusers. Tertyllus. The defence of Paul before Felix and Drusilla.

ACTS XXIV.

¹And after five days Ananias the high priest with certain elders, and a certain orator Tertyllus, came down, who appeared before the governor against Paul.^a ²And he having been called, Tertyllus began to accuse him, saying, ³Receiving great peace through thee, and prosperity accruing to this nation through thy wisdom, we receive with all gratitude, both always, and everywhere, O most noble Felix. ⁴But in order that I may not weary you excessively, I exhort you to hear us patiently according to your clemency. ⁵For having found this man pestilential, and stirring up seditions to all the Jews who are throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes: ⁶who also endeavored to pollute the temple: whom we indeed arrested,^b ⁸with whom you yourself, having made inquiry, are able to know concerning all these things of which we accuse him. ⁹And the Jews were consenting, saying, Truly these things are so. ¹⁰And Paul responded, the governor beckoning to him to speak; Knowing you to be a judge to this nation from many years,^c I cheerfully apologize as to the things concerning myself: ¹¹you being able to know, that there are not more than twelve days to me since I came up to Jerusalem to worship.^d ¹²Neither did they find me in the temple disputing with any one, or causing an excitement of the multitude, neither in the synagogues, nor throughout the city:^e ¹³neither are they able to prove before you the things which they are now accusing me. ¹⁴But I confess this to you, that according to the way which they call heresy, so worship I the God of our fathers, believing all things which have been written in the law and in the prophets:^f ¹⁵having hope towards God, which they themselves also receive, that there is going to be a resurrection, both of the just and unjust.^g ¹⁶In this I also exercise, to always have a conscience void of offense toward God and men. ¹⁷And after many years I came to do alms and offerings to my race;^h ¹⁸in which they found me having been purified in the temple, not with rabble, nor with an uproar; and were certain Jews from Asia,ⁱ ¹⁹whom it behooves to be present before me, and accuse me, if they should have anything against me. ²⁰Or let them tell what injustice they found, while I was standing before the sanhedrim,^j ²¹except concerning this one voice, which I cried out

²⁴And after certain day, Felix with Drusilla his wife, being a Jewess, coming, sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith which is towards Christ Jesus. ²⁵And he reasoning concerning righteousness and temperance^m and the coming judgment, Felix, being alarmed, responded, Go thy way for this time; and having received an opportunity, I will call for thee: ²⁶at the same time also hoping that money will be given to him by Paul; therefore indeed the more frequently sending for him, he conversed with him. ²⁷But two years having passed away Felix received Porcius Festus as his successor: and Felix, wishing to confer on the Jews a favor, left Paul bound.

¹³And some days having passed away, king Agrippa and Bernice came down to Cæsarea, saluting Festus. ¹⁴And while they were spending many days there, Festus expounded to the king the matters appertaining to Paul, saying, A certain man has been left a prisoner by Felix:^j ¹⁵concerning whom, I being in Jerusalem, the chief priests and elders of the Jews appeared before me, asking condemnation against him;^k ¹⁶to whom I responded, that it is not the customs to the Romans to slay any man gratuitously, before that the accused may have his accusers face to face, and receive a place of defence concerning the charge.^l ¹⁷Then they, having come together to this place, making no delay, immediately sitting on the judgment-seat, I commanded that the man should be led forth;^m ¹⁸concerning whom his accusers standing by, brought no evil charge of those things which I supposed:ⁿ ¹⁹but they had certain questions against him concerning their own religion, and about a certain Jesus, who is dead, whom Paul was saying that He is alive.^o ²⁰And I, being at a loss as to the question concerning these things, asked him if he is willing to go to Jerusalem, and there to be judged concerning these things.^p ²¹And Paul having demanded that he should be kept for the diagnosis of Augustus, I demanded that he should be kept until I shall send him to Cæsar. ²²And Agrippa said to Festus, I myself also would wish to hear the man. ²³Then on the following day, Agrippa and Bernice having come with great pomp, and entering into the auditorium, along with the chiliarchs,^r and chief men of the city, and, Festus commanding, Paul was led forth. ²⁴And Festus says, O king Agrippa, and all ye men present with us, you see this man, concerning whom the whole multitude of the Jews is besieging me, both at Jerusalem and here, crying out that it does not behoove him to live any longer.^s ²⁵But I discovered that he had done nothing worthy of death,^t however he himself appealing to Cæsar, I decided to send him.^u ²⁶Concerning whom I have nothing definite to write to my lord; therefore I have led him to you, and especially to thee, O king Agrippa, in order that, there being an investigation, I may have something which I shall write;^v for it seems to me to be unreasonable, sending a prisoner, and not to signify charges against him.

CHAPTER XXVI.

Defence of Paul before Agrippa and Festus. The attitude of Agrippa toward the faith.

ACTS XXVI.

¹And Agrippa said to Paul, It is permitted to thee to speak for thyself. Then Paul reaching forth his hand, proceeded with his defence: ²O king Agrippa, I consider myself happy, being about this day to make my defence before thee concerning all those things of which I am accused by the Jews: ³especially as thou art acquainted with all the customs and questions among the Jews: therefore I pray you to hear me patiently. ⁴Moreover indeed all the Jews know my life from my youth; being from the beginning in my nation and in Jerusalem, ⁵knowing me originally, if they may be willing to testify, that according to the most rigid sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee.^a ⁶And now for the hope of the promise which is from God to our fathers, I stand being judged: ⁷unto which our twelve tribes constantly worshiping night and day, hope to attain: concerning which hope I am accused by the Jews, O king. ⁸Why is it judged by you incredible, if God shall raise the dead?^b ⁹Moreover indeed, I thought to myself that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus the Nazarene:^c ¹⁰which I did also in Jerusalem, and shut up many of the saints in prison; and having received authority from the chief priests, and they being slain, I gave my vote against them; ¹¹and throughout all the synagogues, frequently punishing them, I compelled them to blaspheme; and being exceeding mad against them, I was persecuting them even also unto foreign cities. ¹²Meanwhile journeying to Damascus with power and authority of the chief priests, I saw on the way, O king, ¹³about midday, a light^d from heaven above the brightness of the sun, shining around me and those traveling with me; ¹⁴and we all having fallen to the ground, I heard a voice speaking to me in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee to kick against goads. ¹⁵And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou art persecuting. ¹⁶But rise up, and stand upon thy feet: for unto this have I appeared unto thee, to make thee a minister and a martyr both of those things which thou hast seen, and of which I will appear unto thee; ¹⁷delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom now I send thee, ¹⁸to open their eyes, to turn them from darkness unto light, and from the power of Satan unto God, in order that they may receive remission of sins, and an inheritance among those who are sanctified by faith in me.^e ¹⁹Therefore, O king, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision: but first to those in Damascus, and also in Jerusalem, and throughout all the country of Judea, and to the Gentiles, I was preaching that they should repent and turn to God, doing things worthy of repentance. ²¹On account of these things the Jews, taking me while in the temple, endeavored to kill me.^f ²²Then having received help from God, I have stood unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying nothing but what the prophets and Moses said were about to come to pass:^g ²³how that Christ must suffer, how being the first from the resurrection of the dead, he is to proclaim light both to the people, and the Gentiles. ²⁴And he making his defence to these things, Festus says with a loud voice, O Paul, thou art beside thyself; many writings turned thee into insanity. ²⁵But Paul says, I am not a maniac, most noble Festus; but I speak forth the words of truth and soberness. ²⁶For the king, to whom I also speak boldly, knows concerning these things: for I am persuaded that nothing of these things is hidden; for this has not been done in a corner. ²⁷O king Agrippa, dost thou believe the prophets? I know that thou believest them. ²⁸And Agrippa said to Paul, With little persuasion thou dost persuade thyself to make me a Christian. ²⁹And Paul said, I would to God, that both in little and in much, not only you, but also all of those hearing me this day, were such as I am, except these bonds. ³⁰And the king, and the governor, and Bernice, and those sitting with them, arose up: ³¹and having gone away, they were talking to one another, saying, that This man is doing nothing worthy of death or of bonds.^h ³²But Agrippa said to Festus, This man was able to have been released, if he had not appealed to Cæsar.

And thus it came to pass that all came safe to the land.

But having looked a long time, and seeing nothing out of place come to him, changing their minds, they said that he was a god. ⁷But in the regions around about that place there were farms belonging to the chief man of the island, by name Publius: who, having received us, entertained us courteously three days. ⁸And it came to pass, that the father of Publius was lying prostrate with fevers and dysentery: to whom Paul having come in, and prayed, laying hands on him, healed him. ⁹And this taking place, the rest also, on the island having diseases, continued to come to him, and be healed; ¹⁰who also honored us with many honors; and conferred on us, departing, those things appertaining to use.

¹¹And after three months we embarked in an Alexandrian ship, having spent the winter in the island, dedicated to the sons of Jupiter.^c ¹²And having disembarked into Syracuse, we remained three days; ¹³thence having come circuitously, we arrived into Rhegium. And after one day there being a south wind, we came the second day to Puteoli,^d ¹⁴where having found brethren, we were entreated to remain with them seven days: and thus we came into Rome. ¹⁵And the brethren, hearing the news concerning us, came thence to meet us at the Appian Forum and Three Taverns:^e whom Paul, seeing, having given thanks to God, took courage.

¹⁶And when we came into Rome, it was permitted to Paul to remain to himself with the soldier guarding him.^f ¹⁷And it came to pass, after three days, he called together those who were first of the Jews; and they having assembled, he said to them, I, men, brethren, having done nothing against the people, or the customs of our fathers, was committed a prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans;^g ¹⁸who judging me, were counseling to release me, because there was nothing worthy of death in me:^h ¹⁹and the Jews speaking against it, I was compelled to appeal to Cæsar, not having anything for which to accuse my nation. ²⁰Then for this cause I have called you, to see you, and talk to you: for on account of the hope of Israel I am bound with this chain.ⁱ ²¹And they said to him, Neither have we received letters from Judea concerning you, neither has any one of the brethren coming, proclaimed or spoken anything evil concerning you.^j ²²But we desire to hear from you what you think: for indeed concerning this sect, it is known to us that it is everywhere spoken against. ²³And having appointed a day with him, many came to him into his hired house, to whom witnessing he expounded the kingdom of God, indeed persuading them concerning Jesus, both from the law of Moses, and the prophets, from morning unto evening. ²⁴And some of them indeed believed the things spoken, but others continued to doubt; ²⁵and they being disharmonious to one another,

The Epistle of Paul the Apostle to the ROMANS.

CHAPTER I.

The gospel. Praise of the Roman Church and the desire of seeing them. Justification by faith. Both Gentiles and Jews exposed to the wrath of God.

ROMANS I.

¹Paul, a servant^a of Jesus Christ, called an apostle, having been separated unto the gospel of God,^b ²which He proclaimed beforehand through His prophets in the holy scriptures,^c ³concerning his Son, having been born of the seed of David according to the flesh;^d ⁴having been ordained the Son of God with power,^e according to the spirit of holiness, from the resurrection of the dead, of Jesus Christ our Lord: ⁵through whom we received grace and apostleship, unto obedience of faith among all the Gentiles, in behalf of his name:^f ⁶among whom ye are also called of Jesus Christ: ⁷to all the beloved of God who are in Rome, saints having been called. Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

⁸In the first place, indeed, I praise my God through Jesus Christ for you all, because your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world. ⁹For God is my witness, whom I serve in my spirit in the gospel of his Son, how I unceasingly make mention of you always in my prayer;^g ¹⁰praying, if by any means I shall be prospered in the will of God to come to you.^h ¹¹For I long to see you, in order that I may impart unto you a certain spiritual grace, that you may be established;ⁱ ¹²but this is the consolation among you through faith in one another, both of you and me. ¹³But I do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, that frequently I purposed to come to you, and was hindered hitherto, in order that I may have some fruit among you, as well as also among other Gentiles.^j ¹⁴I am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the barbarians; both to the wise, and the unwise: ¹⁵so to my utmost ability, I am ready to preach the gospel to you who are in Rome also. ¹⁶For I am not ashamed of the gospel: for it is the power^k of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.¹ ¹⁷For the righteousness of God is revealed in him from faith to faith:

 as has been written, But the just shall live by faith.^m

¹⁸For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness; ¹⁹because that which is known of God is manifest in them; for God has revealed it to them: ²⁰for the invisible things of Him from the creation of the world are seen, being known by the things which are made, even His eternal power and divinity; so that they are without excuse: ²¹because, knowing God, they did not glorify Him as God, neither were they thankful; but they became vain in their reasonings, and their foolish heart was darkened. ²²Saying that they were wise, they became fools, ²³and changed the glory of the invisible God into the similitude of the likeness of corruptible man, and of birds, and of quadrupeds, and of creeping things.ⁿ ²⁴Therefore God gave them up, in the lusts of their hearts, to impurity, to dishonor their bodies among themselves: ²⁵who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed for evermore: amen.^o

CHAPTER II.

The righteous judgment of God threatens. The Jews vainly glory in the law and circumcision.

ROMANS II.

¹Therefore thou art inexcusable, O man, every one judging. For in whatsoever thou art judging another, thou art condemning thyself; for thou judging art doing the same things. ²For we know that the judgment of God according to truth is against those doing such things.

^oRom. 9. 5; 2 Cor. 11. 31.

^p1 Cor. 6. 9; Eph. 5. 3; 2 Tim. 3. 2.

³But do you consider this, O man, judging those doing such things, and doing the same, that you shall escape the judgment of God? ⁴Do you look with contempt upon the riches of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering; not knowing that the goodness of God is leading you to repentance? ⁵But according to thy hardness and thy impenitent heart, thou art treasuring up to thyself wrath against the day of wrath and of the revelation of the righteous judgment of God;^a ⁶who will give to each one according to his works: ⁷to those indeed who with patience of good work are seeking glory and honor and immortality, eternal life: ⁸but to those who are of self-seeking, and disobedient to the truth, but obedient to unrighteousness, there are indignation and wrath.^b ⁹Tribulation and anguish upon every soul of man that is working out evil, both the Jew first, and the Greek;^c ¹⁰but glory and honor and peace to every one doing good; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

¹¹For there is no respect of persons with God.^d ¹²For so many as sinned without law will also perish without law; and so many as sinned under the law shall be judged by the law; ¹³for the hearers of the law are not righteous with God, but the doers of the law shall be justified.^e ¹⁴For when the Gentiles, not having the law, may by nature do the things of the law, they, not having the law, are a law unto themselves: ¹⁵who show the work of the law written in their hearts,^f their conscience witnessing, and their thoughts accusing or indeed excusing with one another,^g ¹⁶in the day when God will judge the secrets of men through my gospel according to Jesus Christ.^h

¹⁷But if you are denominated a Jew, and rest in the law, and boast in God, ¹⁸and know his will, and approve the things which are excellent, being taught by the law;ⁱ ¹⁹and persuade yourself that you are a guide of the blind, a light of those who are in darkness, an instructor of the ignorant, ²⁰a teacher of the juveniles, having a form of knowledge and truth in the law;^j ²¹therefore do not you who teach another teach yourself? do you, who preach not to steal, steal? ²²do you, who say not to commit adultery, commit adultery? do you, who abominate idolatry, rob temples? ²³do you, who boast in the law, through the transgression of the law dishonor God? ²⁴For the name of God is blasphemed by you among the Gentiles, as has been written.^k ²⁵For circumcision indeed profits, if you do the law: but if you be a transgressor of the law, your circumcision has become uncircumcision.^l ²⁶Then if uncircumcision may keep the righteousness of the law, will not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision? ²⁷and that which is uncircumcision by nature, perfecting the law, will judge you, who through the letter and circumcision are a transgressor of the law. ²⁸For he is not a Jew who is one outwardly; neither is circumcision that which is outwardly in the flesh. ²⁹But he is a Jew, who is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God.^m

CHAPTER III.

The words of God were committed to the Jews. The grace of God equally saves all the guilty, through faith in Christ, the Redeemer. Faith does not disannul the law.

ROMANS III.

¹Then what more belongs to the Jew, or what is the profit of circumcision? ²Much every way. For indeed, in the first place, the oracles of God were committed unto them. ³For what if some did not believe? whether will their unbelief destroy the faith of God? ⁴it could not be so: but let God be true, and every man a liar;^a as indeed it has been written, In order that you may be justified in your words, and shall prevail, in your judgment.^b ⁵But if our unrighteousness commends the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unjust administering wrath?^c I speak according to a man. ⁶It could not be so: then how will God judge the world? ⁷And if the truth of God through my falsehood abounded unto His glory, why am I still judged as a sinner? are we not indeed thus traduced, and as some say we speak, that, Let us do evil in order that good may come? whose condemnation is just.^d

⁸Then what? are we the better? By no means: for we have proven already that both Jews and Greeks are all under sin;^e ¹⁰as has been written, There is no one good, not one: ¹¹there is no one who understands, there is no one who seeks out God;^f ¹²all have gone away, they have all together become unprofitable; there is no one who is doing good, there is not one.^g ¹³Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit; the poison of asps is under their lips. ¹⁴Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness.^h ¹⁵Whose feet are swift to shed blood: ¹⁶destruction and misery are in their ways: ¹⁷and they have not known the way of peace.ⁱ ¹⁸The fear of God is not before their eyes. ¹⁹But we know that so many things as the law speaks, it says to those under the law: that every mouth may be stopped, and the whole world may become guilty before God. ²⁰Therefore no flesh shall be justified by works of law: for through law there is a perfect knowledge of sin.^j

²¹And now the righteousness of God without law has been made manifest, being witnessed by the law and the prophets;^k ²²but the righteousness of God through faith of Jesus Christ is unto all who believe: for there is no difference, ²³for all sinned, and become short of the glory of God;^l ²⁴being freely justified by his grace, through the redemption which is in Christ Jesus: ²⁵whom God sent forth an expiation through faith and his blood, unto the manifestation of His righteousness through the remission of the sins which are passed,^m ²⁸in the forbearance of God; unto the manifestation of his righteousness at the present time: so that he is just, and justifying him who is of the faith of Jesus.

²⁷Then where is boasting? It is excluded. By what law? of works? No; but by the law of faith. ²⁸For we conclude that a man is justified by faith without works of law.ⁿ ²⁹Whether is he the God of the Jews only? is He not also the God of the Gentiles? Yea, also of the Gentiles: ³⁰truly there is one God, who will justify the circumcision by faith, and the uncircumcision through faith.^o ³¹Then do we make void the law through faith? It could not be so: but we establish the law.

CHAPTER IV.

Abraham himself was justified by faith. The grace of God toward Abraham not yet circumcised.

ROMANS IV.

¹Then what shall we say that Abraham, our father according to the flesh, has found? ²For if Abraham were justified by works, he has glorification; but not before God.^a ³For what does the scripture say? Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness.^b ⁴But to him that worketh, the reward is not reckoned according to grace, but according to debt; ⁵but to him that worketh not, but believeth on Him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is reckoned for righteousness. ⁶Indeed David also speaks of the blessedness of the man, to whom God imputes righteousness without works,^c ⁷Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered; ⁸blessed is the man of whom the Lord may not impute sin. ⁹Then does this blessedness come on the circumcision, or on the uncircumcision? for we say That faith was imputed to Abraham for righteousness.^d ¹⁰Then how was it imputed? to him, being in circumcision or uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision. ¹¹And he received the sign of circumcision, and the seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had in uncircumcision: that he should be the father of all who believed, through uncircumcision; and righteousness should be imputed to them;^e ¹²and the father of circumcision to them who not only are of the circumcision, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had in uncircumcision. ¹³For the promise to Abraham or his seed, that he should be the heir of the world, was not through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.^f ¹⁴For if the heirs were by the law, faith has been made void, and the promise vitiated.^g ¹⁵For the law works out wrath: for where there is no law, there is no transgression. ¹⁶Therefore it is by faith, in order that it may be by grace; that the promise may be sure to all the seed; not only of the law, but also of the faith of Abraham; who is the father of us all,^h ¹⁷as it has been written, That I have constituted thee the father of many nations, before God whom he believed, who quickens the dead, and calls things which are not as really existing:ⁱ ¹⁸who against hope confided in hope, that he should be the father of many nations, according to that which had been spoken, So shall thy seed be:^j ¹⁹and being not weak in faith, he considered not his body already dead, being about a hundred years old, and the deadness of Sarah's womb:^k ²⁰but he staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was filled up with dynamite through faith, having given glory to God; ²¹and being fully assured, that whatsoever he has promised, he is able also to perform.^l ²²Therefore it was indeed imputed unto him for righteousness. ²³And it was not written^m on account of him alone, that it is imputed to him; ²⁴but on account of us also, to whom it is about to be imputed, who believe on him who raised up our Lord Jesus from the dead; ²⁵who was delivered on account of our transgressions, and raised for our justification.^m

CHAPTER V.

Salvation of those who are justified by faith. Christ both died for us and lives for us. As death is through Adam, so is life through Christ.

ROMANS V.

¹Therefore having been justified by faith, let us have peace toward God through our Lord Jesus Christ: ²through whom we also have access by faith unto this grace in which we stand, and let us rejoice in the hope of the glory of God.^a ³And not only so, but let us also rejoice in tribulation; knowing that tribulation works out endurance;^b ⁴and endurance, approval; and approval, hope: ⁵and hope makes not ashamed; because the divine love of God has been poured out in our hearts by the Holy Ghost who has been given unto us. ⁶For we being yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly: ⁷for scarcely will one die for a righteous^c man; for perhaps some one even dares to die for a good man.^d ⁸And God commends his love to us, because, we being yet sinners, Christ died for us. ⁹How much more then, having now been justified by his blood, shall we be saved from wrath through him. ¹⁰For if being enemies we are reconciled to God through the death of his Son; how much more, being reconciled, shall we be saved through his life: ¹¹but not only so, but even rejoicing in God through Jesus Christ our Lord, through whom we now received reconciliation.

¹²Therefore, as by one man sin came into the world, and death by sin; and thus death came upon all men, in that all sinned;^e ¹³(for until the law sin was in the world: but sin is not imputed, there being no law;^f ¹⁴but death reigned from Adam unto Moses, even on those who did not sin after the similitude of Adam's transgression, who is the type of him who is to come.^g ¹⁵But not as was the transgression, even so is the free gift: for if by the transgression of one many died, how much more by the grace of one man, Jesus Christ, did the grace of God and the gift abound unto many! ¹⁶And not as by the one having sinned, is the free gift; for indeed, judgment was from one unto condemnation, but the free gift is from many transgressions unto justification. ¹⁷For if by the transgression of one death reigned through one; how much more shall those receiving the abundance of grace and the gift of righteousness reign in life through the one, Christ Jesus!) ¹⁸Therefore then, as by the transgression of one, judgment came to all men to condemnation; so also through the righteousness of one, the free gift came on all men unto the justification life:^h ¹⁹for as by the disobedience of one man many were made sinners, so also by the obedience of one man shall many be made righteous. ²⁰But the law came, that the transgression might abound; but where sin did abound, there did grace superabound:ⁱ ²¹in order that as sin reigned through death, so may grace reign also through righteousness unto eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER VI.

It is necessary for those having obtained life through Christ to abstain from sin; it is necessary for those having achieved true liberty to serve God.

ROMANS VI.

¹Then what shall we say? must we abide in sin, in order that grace may abound? ²It could not be so. How shall we, who are dead unto sin, live any longer in it? ³Whether do you not know, that so many of us as were baptized unto Jesus Christ were baptized into His death?^a ⁴Therefore we were buried with him by baptism into death: in order that as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, so must we also walk in newness of life.^b ⁵For if we have grown together in the likeness of His death, we shall also be in the likeness of his resurrection:^c ⁶knowing this, that our old man is crucified along with him, in order that the body of sin may be destroyed, that we may no longer serve sin;^d ⁷for the one having died has been made free from sin. ⁸But if we died along with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him:^e ⁹knowing that Christ having risen from the dead dies no more; death no longer has dominion over him. ¹⁰For the death that he died, he died unto sin once: but the life that he lives, he lives unto God. ¹¹So you also thus reckon yourselves dead unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ. ¹²Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that you should obey the lusts of it: ¹³neither present your members arms of iniquity unto sin; but present yourselves to God, as alive from the dead, and your members arms of righteousness unto God.^f ¹⁴For sin shall not have dominion over you: for you are not under the law, but under grace.^g ¹⁵What then? can we commit sin, because we are not under the law, but under grace? it could not be so. ¹⁶Do you not know, that to whom you present yourselves servants unto obedience, ye are servants^h to whom you obey; whether of sin unto death, or obedience unto righteousness?ⁱ ¹⁷But thanks^j be unto God, that whereas ye were servants of sin, but you have obeyed from the heart the type of teaching into which ye were delivered: ¹⁸but having been made free from sin, ye became servants unto righteousness.^k ¹⁹I speak after the manner of a man on account of the weakness of your carnality.^l For as ye presented your members as servants unto impurity and lawlessness^m pursuant to lawlessness, so now present your members servants unto righteousness pursuant to sanctification. ²⁰For when you were the servants of sin, you were free from righteousness. ²¹What fruit then had you at that time in those things in which you are now ashamed?ⁿ for the end of these things is death. ²²But now having been made free from sin, and having become servants unto God, you have your fruit unto sanctification, and the end eternal life.^o ²³For the wages of sin is death; but the free gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

may be married to another man, her husband still living, she will be designated an adulteress: but if her husband may die, she is free from the law; and is no adulteress, though she is married to another man. ⁴So, my brethren, ye are dead to the law through the body of Christ, that ye should be married to another, to him who is risen from the dead, in order that we may bring forth fruit unto God. ⁵For when we were in carnality, the emotions of sins, which were through the law, did work in our members to bring forth fruit unto death. ⁶But now we have been made free from the law, being dead in that in which we were held; so that we serve in the newness of the spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.^b

⁷Then what shall we say? Is the law sin? It could not be so; but I did not know sin except through the law: for indeed I had not known lusts, unless the law said, Thou shalt not covet.^c ⁸But sin, taking occasion through the commandment, did work in me all concupiscence; for without law sin was dead.^d ⁹But I was alive at one time without law:^e but the commandment having come, sin revived, ¹⁰and I died; and the commandment, which was unto life, the same was unto death. ¹¹For sin,^f taking occasion through the commandment, deceived me, and through it slew me. ¹²So the law is indeed holy, and the commandment holy, and righteous, and good. ¹³Then did that which is good become death to me? it could not be so: but sin, that it may appear sin, through the good was working out death to me, in order that sin may be exceedingly sinful through the commandment. ¹⁴For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, having been sold under sin.^g ¹⁵For that which I do, I know not:^h for I do that which I do not will; but I do that which I hate. ¹⁶But if I do that which I do not will, I consent to the law that it is beautiful;ⁱ ¹⁷but now it is no more I that do it, but sin dwelling in me.^j ¹⁸For I know that in me, that is, in my carnal mind, there dwells no good thing. For to will is present with me, but to do that which is beautiful is not: ¹⁹for the good which I will I do not; but the evil which I do not will, that I do.^k ²⁰If I do that which I do not will, it is no longer I that do it, but sin dwelling in me.^l ²¹Then I find a law, that, to me wishing to do that which is beautiful, that the evil is present with me: ²²for I delight in the law of God according to the inward man;^m ²³but I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members.ⁿ ²⁴O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body^o of this death? ²⁵Thanks be unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord:^p then therefore with the mind I serve the law of God; but with carnality the law of sin.

CHAPTER VIII.

The law and the spirit of Christ give life. All adversity, light to the sons of God. Creation groaning. The spirit inditing our prayers. Nothing can separate us from Christ.

ROMANS VIII.

¹There is therefore now no condemnation to those who are in Christ Jesus. ²For the law of the Spirit of life has made thee free from the law of sin and of death. ³For there was an impotency of the law, in which it was weak through depravity, God having sent his own Son in the likeness of the sin of depravity and for sin, condemned sin in depravity:^a ⁴in order that the righteousness of the law may be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to depravity,^b but according to the spirit. ⁵For those being in harmony with depravity, do mind the things of depravity, and those in harmony with the Spirit, the things of the Spirit: ⁶for the mind of depravity is death; and the mind of the Spirit is life and peace. ⁷Therefore the mind of depravity is enmity toward God: for it is not subordinated to the law of God, for it is not able so to be. ⁸But those being in depravity are not able to please God. ⁹But ye are not in depravity, but in the Spirit, if indeed the Spirit of God dwells in you.^c But if any one has not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of His. ¹⁰But if Christ is in you, the body is dead so far as sin is concerned; but the Spirit is life so far as righteousness is concerned. ¹¹But if the Spirit of Him who raised up Jesus from the dead dwells in you, the one having raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also create life in your mortal bodies through His Spirit, who dwells in you.^d ¹²Then therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to depravity, to live according to depravity. ¹³For if you live according to depravity, you are about to die: but if through the Spirit you kill the practices^e of the body, you shall live.^f ¹⁴For so many as are led by the Spirit of God, these are the sons of God. ¹⁵For you did not receive the spirit of bondage again unto fear; but you received the Spirit of adoption, in which we cry; Father, Father.^g ¹⁶The Spirit Himself witnesses along with our spirit, that we are the children of God. ¹⁷And if children, indeed heirs; truly heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ; if we suffer together, in order that we may also be glorified together.^h

¹⁸For I reckon that the sufferings of these present times are not worthy to be compared to the glory which is about to be revealed in us. ¹⁹For the earnest expectation of the creature awaits the revelationⁱ of the sons of God. ²⁰For the creature has been subordinated to mortality, not willingly, but through Him who subordinated it; ²¹therefore indeed pursuant to hope, the creature itself shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the liberty of the glory of the children of God.^j ²²For we know that all creation groans together and travails together until now; ²³and not only so, but we ourselves, having the earnest of the Spirit, and we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption of sons, the redemption of our body.^k ²⁴For we are saved by hope: but hope which is seen is not hope: for why does any one indeed hope for that which he sees? ²⁵But if we hope for that which we do not see, we wait for it with patience.^l

²⁶And likewise the Spirit also helps our infirmity. For we know not what we should pray for as it behooves us: but the Spirit himself makes intercession with unutterable groanings:^m ²⁷but he that searches the hearts knows what is the mind of the Spirit, because he makes intercession towards God in behalf of the saints. ²⁸But we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them that are called according to his purpose. ²⁹Because whom he did foreknow, he did also predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son, in order that he might be the firstborn among many brethren: ³⁰and whom He did foreknow, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also justified: and whom he justified, them He also glorified.

³¹Then what shall we say to these things? If God is for us, who can be against us? ³²Indeed he who spared not his own Son, but delivered Him up for us all, how will He not with him, freely give us all things? ³³Who will lay anything to the charge of God's elect? ³⁴It is God who justifies: who is he that condemns? It is Christ who died, and rather who is risen, who is on the right hand of God, who indeed is interceding in our behalf.ⁿ ³⁵Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?^o ³⁶As has been written, that We are killed all day for thy sake; we are counted as sheep of the slaughter.^p ³⁷But in all these we are more than conquerors through him that loved us. ³⁸For I am persuaded that, neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come,^q nor powers,^q nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Grief concerning Israel. The promises of God stand. True posterity of Abraham. The free grace of God. Pharaoh. The vessel of the potter. Prophecies to the elect of God and Israel.

ROMANS IX.

¹I speak the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience bearing me witness in the Holy Ghost,^a ²that there is great sorrow to me and incessant grief to my heart. ³For I would pray, that I myself might be an offering^b from Christ; in behalf of my brethren, my kindred according to the flesh: ⁴who are Israelites, of whom is the adoption of sons, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service, and the promises; ⁵of whom are the fathers, and of whom is Christ according to the flesh. Who is over all, God blessed forever: amen. ⁶But not as that the word has been a failure.^c For these are not all Israel who are of Israel;^d ⁷neither are the children all the seed of Abraham; but in Isaac shall thy seed be called;^e ⁸that is the children of the flesh the same are not the children of God; but the children of the promise are counted for the seed. ⁹For this is the word of the promise,^f About this time I will come, and there shall be a son to Sarah.^g ¹⁰Not only so; but Rebecca also having cohabitation of one, our father Isaac;^h ¹¹for the children not having been born, neither having done anything good or evil, in order that the purpose of God might stand according to electionⁱ not of works, but of him that calleth, ¹²and it was said to her, The elder shall serve the younger: ¹³as has been written, Jacob have I loved, but Esau have I hated.^j ¹⁴Then what shall we say? Is there unrighteousness with God? It could not be so. ¹⁵For he says to Moses, I will have mercy on whom I do have mercy, and I will commiserate whom I do commiserate.^k ¹⁶Then it is not of him that willeth, nor him that runneth, but of God who shows mercy. ¹⁷For the scripture says to Pharaoh, For this very thing have I raised you up, that I may show forth my power in you, and that my name may be proclaimed in all the earth.^l ¹⁸Then therefore he has mercy on whom he will, and whom he will he hardens.^m ¹⁹Then thou wilt say to me, Why does he yet find fault? and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach. ⁹That if you may confess with your mouth the Lord Jesus, and may believe with your heart that God raised him from the dead, you shall be saved: ¹⁰for with the heart it is believed unto righteousness; and with the mouth it is confessed unto salvation. ¹¹For the scripture says, Every one believing on him shall not be ashamed.^e ¹²For there is no difference between Jew and Greek: for the same is Lord of all, rich unto all that call on him.^f ¹³For every one who may call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.^g ¹⁴Then how can they call on him on whom they have not believed? and how can they believe on him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher? ¹⁵And how can they preach, unless they may be sent forth? as has been written, How beautiful are the feet of those, who preach the gospel of good things!^h

¹⁶But they have not all heard the gospel. For Isaiah says, Lord, who has believed our report?ⁱ ¹⁷Then faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the word of Christ.^j ¹⁸But I say, Have they not all heard? Yea, truly, Their sound has gone out into all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the world.^k ¹⁹But I say, Whether does not Israel know? Moses first says, I will provoke you to jealousy with that which is no nation, and with a nation void of understanding I will anger you.^l ²⁰But Isaiah is bold, and says, I was found by those not seeking after me; and made manifest to those not inquiring after me.^m ²¹But to Israel he says, All day long have I reached forth my hands to a gainsaying and disobedient people.ⁿ

Israel did not attain that which he was seeking, but the election obtained it, and the rest were hardened:^e ⁸as has been written, God has given them the spirit of slumber, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear, unto this day. ⁹And David says, Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumblingblock, and a recompense unto them: ¹⁰and let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow down their back always.^f ¹¹Then I say; Whether did they stumble that they may fall? it could not be so: but by their fall, salvation came to the Gentiles, in order to provoke them to jealousy.^g ¹²But if the fall of them was the riches of the world, and the depletion of them the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fulness? ¹³But I speak to you Gentiles. Inasmuch then as I am an apostle of the Gentiles, I glorify my ministry: ¹⁴if perchance I may provoke my flesh, and save some of them. ¹⁵For if the casting away of them was the reconciling of the world, what will their reception be, but life from the dead? ¹⁶But if the first fruit was holy, the lump is also: if the root was holy, the branches are also.

¹⁷And if certain ones of the branches were broken off, and you being a wild olive-tree are grafted in among them, and have become a partaker of the root of the fatness of the olive-tree; ¹⁸boast not against the branches: but if you boast, you are not bearing the root, but the root you. ¹⁹Then you will say, The branches were broken off, that I may be grafted in. ²⁰Beautifully; they were broken off by unbelief, but you stand by faith. Think not high things, but fear. ²¹For if God spared not the natural branches, neither will he spare you. ²²Then behold the goodness and severity of God: upon those who fell indeed, severity; but upon you the goodness of God, if you may abide in his goodness: since you too may be cut off. ²³But these also, if they may not abide in unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graft them in again.^h ²⁴For if you, having been cut off the olive tree which is wild by nature, and contrary to nature were grafted into the good olive tree: how much more shall these, who are the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree?ⁱ

²⁵I do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, as to this mystery, in order that you may not be wise with yourselves,^j that blindness in part has happened unto Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles may come in;^k ²⁶and so all Israel shall be saved: as has been written, A leader shall come out of Zion, shall turn ungodliness from Jacob.^l ²⁷And this is the covenant with me unto them, that I may take away their sins.^m ²⁸They are enemies indeed, as touching the gospel, for your sakes: but beloved with reference to election for the sake of the fathers: ²⁹for the gifts and calling of God are without repentance.ⁿ ³⁰For as you at one time were disobedient to God, but now you have received mercy through their disobedience, ³¹even also these were now disobedient, in order that through the mercy shown to you they

¹Let every soul be subject to the higher authorities.^a For there is no authority except that which is from God; and the existing authorities have been ordained of God.^b ²So the one resisting the authority, antagonizes the ordinance of God: and those antagonizing shall receive to themselves judgment. ³For rulers are not a terror to the good work, but to the evil. Whether do you not wish to fear the authority? do the good, and you shall have praise from it: ⁴for he is the minister of God for you for good. But if you do evil, fear; for he bears not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, executing judgment unto wrath unto the one doing evil. ⁵Therefore it is necessary to submit, not only on account of wrath, but also on account of conscience. ⁶For on account of this also pay tribute; for they are the ministers of God, attending to this very thing. ⁷Give to all their dues: custom to whom custom is due; tribute to whom tribute is due; fear to whom fear is due; honor to whom honor is due.^c ⁸Owe no man anything, but to love one another with divine love: for the one loving another with divine love has fulfilled the law.^d ⁹For, thou shalt not commit adultery, thou shalt not murder, thou shalt not steal, thou shalt not covet, and if there is any other commandment, it is fulfilled in this word, in this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself with divine love. ¹⁰Divine love works no evil to its neighbor: for divine love is the fulfilling of the law.^e ¹¹And recognizing this time, that it is already the hour we should wake out of sleep: for now our salvation^f is nearer than when we believed.^g ¹²For the night is far spent, and the day is at hand. CHAPTER XIV.

Concerning the use of edibles and days. We are to spare the weak. Offence in the use of edibles and days is to be avoided. Not to judge rashly. Conscience is to be followed.

ROMANS XIV.

¹But receive to yourselves him who is weak in faith, not into disputations of doubtful matters.^a ²One indeed believes he is to eat all things: another who is weak, vegetables. ³Let not the one eating snub the one not eating. Let not the one not eating judge the one eating; for God received him.^b ⁴Who art thou judging another man's servant? to his own master he stands or falls: but he shall stand; for God is able to make him stand.^c ⁵For one indeed judges a day above a day: another judges every day (alike); let each one be fully persuaded in his own mind. ⁶The one regarding the day, regards it to the Lord: the one eating, eats to the Lord, for he gives thanks to God; and the one not eating, eats not to the Lord, and gives thanks to God. ⁷For no one of us lives to himself, and no one dies to himself: ⁸for if indeed we live, we live to the Lord; and if we die, we die to the Lord. Then indeed if we live, and if we die, we are the Lord's. ⁹For unto this Christ died, and lives, in order that He may be Lord of the dead and of the living.^d ¹⁰But why do you judge your neighbor, or indeed why do you discount your brother? for we shall all stand before the judgment-seat of God.^e ¹¹For it has been written; As I live, says the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God.^f ¹²Then therefore each one of us shall give an account to God for himself.^g ¹³Then let us no longer judge one another: but rather judge this, not to place before a brother an offence for a stumblingblock. ¹⁴I know, and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing unclean of itself: except to him who considers it unclean, to him it is unclean.^h ¹⁵But if your brother is grieved on account of your meat, you are no longer walking in divine love. Do not by your meat destroy him for whom Christ died.ⁱ ¹⁶Let not your good be blasphemed.^j ¹⁷For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost. ¹⁸For in this the one serving Christ is acceptable to God, and approved unto men. ¹⁹Then therefore we pursue the things belonging to peace, and edification towards one another. ²⁰Do not destroy the work of God on account of meat. All things are pure; but it is evil to the man who eats with offence:^k ²¹it is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor anything by which your brother stumbles.^l ²²The faith which you have, have it with yourself before God. Happy is the one not judging himself in that which he approves: ²³but if he may eat doubting, he has been condemned, because it is not of faith; but every thing which is not of faith is sin.

CHAPTER XV.

We are to study the duties of harmony and mutual love. Concerning the severity of the epistle. Paul is going to see the Romans. Concerning collection which is to be carried to Jerusalem: and his imminent danger.

ROMANS XV.

¹But we who are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves.^a ²Let each of us please his neighbor in that which is good, unto edification; ²for Christ did not please himself; but, as has been written, The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell on me.^b ⁴For so many things as were previously written were written for our instruction, in order that through the patience and through the consolation of the scriptures we may have hope. ⁵But may the God of patience and consolation grant unto you to think the same things among one another with reference to Christ Jesus. ⁶In order that you may with one accord with one mouth glorify God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. ⁷Therefore receive one another, as Christ also received you, to the glory of God.^c ⁸For I say that Christ has been made minister of circumcision for the truth of God, that he might confirm the promises of the fathers,^d ⁹and that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as has been written, Therefore I will confess thee among the Gentiles, and in thy name sing praises.^e ¹⁰And again he says, Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people. ¹¹And again, Let all the Gentiles praise the Lord; and let all ye peoples praise him.^f ¹²And again, Isaiah says, There shall be the root of Jesse, and he that ariseth to rule over the Gentiles; in him shall the Gentiles hope.^g ¹³And the God of hope fill you in all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, in the power^h of the Holy Ghost. ¹⁴But I am indeed persuaded, my brethren, concerning you, that you are also full of goodness, having been filled with all knowledge, being able also to admonish one another. ¹⁵But I have written unto you more boldly in part, as reminding you, on account of the grace which has been given unto me from God, ¹⁶that I should be the minister of Christ Jesus unto the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the offering of the Gentiles may be well received, having been sanctified by the Holy Ghost. ¹⁷Moreover I have boldness in Christ Jesus as to the things appertaining to God: ¹⁸for I will not dare to speak anything save those things which Christ has wrought through me, unto the obedience of the Gentiles, in word and deed, ¹⁹in the power of signs and wonders, in the power of the Spirit of God, so that from Jerusalem, and around about even unto Illyricum,ⁱ I have fully preached the gospel of Christ; ²⁰but being so ambitious not to preach the gospel, where Christ has been named, in order that I may not build on another man's foundation; ²⁰but, as has been written, Those, to whom he has not been preached, shall see concerning him, and they who have not heard shall understand. ²²Therefore indeed I was hindered much from coming unto you: ²³but now, no longer having a place in these regions,^j and having an earnest longing for many years to come to you,^k ²⁴as I may journey into Spain, for I hope traveling through to see you, and by you to be sent forth thither, if in the first place I may be satisfied with your company^l—²⁵but now I journey to Jerusalem, ministering to the saints.^m ²⁶For Macedonia and Achaia were pleased to make a certain contribution to the poor who are in Jerusalem.ⁿ ²⁷For they were pleased to do so; and they are their debtors: for if the Gentiles participated in spiritual things, they owe it to them also to minister unto them in carnal things. ²⁸Then having completed and sealed this fruit unto them, I will sail away for Spain by you; ²⁹but I know that coming unto you, I will come in the fullness of the blessing of Christ. ³⁰But I exhort you, brethren, through our Lord Jesus Christ, and through the love of the Spirit, that you co-operate with me in your prayers to God in my behalf;^o ³¹in order that I may be delivered from those in Judea who do not believe, and my ministry may be acceptable to the saints in Jerusalem; ³²in order that having come to you in joy through the will of God, and together with you find rest. ³³Now the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

¹I commend unto you our sister Phoebe, being a minister of the church which is in Cenchrea, ²in order that you may receive her in the Lord, worthily of the saints, and that ye may assist her in whatsoever matters she may need you: for she has been a helper of many, and myself. ³Salute Prisca and Aquila my fellow-laborers in Christ Jesus;^a ⁴who laid down their neck for my life; and for whom not I alone but all the churches of the Gentiles give thanks;^b ⁵and the church in their house. The First Epistle of Paul the Apostle

CORINTHIANS.

CHAPTER I.

Salutation. The return of thanks for the faith of the Corinthians. Factions are to be abnegated. Salvation received through Christ is not dependent on human wisdom or art.

I CORINTHIANS I.

¹Paul, called an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God,^a and brother Sosthenes,^b ²to the church of God being in Corinth, to the sanctified in Christ Jesus, to the called saints, along with all who call upon the name of our Lord Jesus Christ in every place, theirs and ours: ³Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.^c

⁴I give thanks to my God always in your behalf, for the grace of God given unto you in Christ Jesus; ⁵because in everything you are enriched in him, in all speech and in all knowledge; ⁶as the testimony of Christ is confirmed in you; ⁷so that you are deficient in no spiritual gift; awaiting the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ; ⁸who will also establish you unblamable unto the end in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.^e ⁹God is faithful, through whom you have been called unto the fellowship of His Son our Lord Jesus Christ.

¹⁰But I exhort you, brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you may all speak the same things, and that there may be no schisms among you; ^fbut you may be perfected in the same mind and in the same disposition.^g ¹¹For it has been revealed to me concerning you, my brethren, by those who are of the house of Chloe, that there are contentions among you. ¹²And I say this, that each one says, I indeed am of Paul; and I of Apollos; and I of Cephas; and I of Christ.^h ¹³Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were you baptized in the name of Paul? ¹⁴I thank God that I baptized none of you, except Crispus and Gaius; ¹⁵in order that no one may say that you are baptized in my name. ¹⁶But I baptized also the family of Stephanas:^j besides, I know not if I baptized any other. ¹⁷For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: not with the wisdom of speech, in order that the cross of Christ may not be made of none effect.^k ¹⁸For the word of the cross is foolishness indeed to those who are lost; but to those who are saved it is the power^l of God. ¹⁹For it has been written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and bring to nought the understanding of the intelligent. ²⁰Where is the wise man? where is the scribe? where is the investigator of this age? has not God rendered the wisdom of the world foolishness? ²¹For since in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, God was pleased through the foolishness of preaching to save those who believe. ²²Since indeed the Jews ask for miracles, and the Greeks seek after wisdom; ²³but we preach Christ having been crucified, to the Jews indeed a stumbling block, and to the Gentiles foolishness; ²⁴but to you who are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power^m of God, and the wisdom of God. ²⁵Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men, and the weakness of God is stronger than men. ²⁶For you see your calling, brethren, that there are not many wise according to the flesh, not many influential, not many high-born: ²⁷but God has chosen the foolish things of the world, that he may confound the wise; and God has chosen the weak things of the world, that he may confound the strong; ²⁸and God has chosen the base-born of the world, and those of no reputation, the things which are not,ⁿ that He may set at nought the things which are, ²⁹in order that no flesh can boast in the sight of God.^o ³⁰But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God was made unto us wisdom, and righteousness and sanctification, and redemption: ³¹in order that, as it has been written, Let him that glorieth glory in the Lord.^p

CHAPTER II.

The doctrine of Christ is simple, but full of heavenly power and spirit, not to be judged by the human, but by the Spirit.

I CORINTHIANS II.

¹And I, brethren, having come unto you, came not in the excellency of speech or of wisdom, proclaiming unto you the testimony of God. ²For I determine to know nothing among you, except Jesus Christ, and Him having been crucified. ³I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling. ⁴And my speech and my preaching were not in the persuasive words of wisdom, but in the demonstration of the Spirit and the power:^a ⁵in order that your faith may not be in the wisdom of men, but in the power^a of God.

⁶But we speak wisdom among the perfect: not the wisdom of this age, nor of the rulers of this age, who are coming to nought: ⁷but we speak the wisdom of God having been hidden in a mystery, which God predestinated before the ages unto our glory: ^b ⁸which no one of the princes of this age knew; for if they had known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory. ⁹But, as has been written, the things which eye has not seen, and ear has not heard, and has not entered into the heart of man, the things which God has prepared for those who love Him. ^c ¹⁰But God has revealed them to us through the Spirit. For the Spirit searches all things, even the deep things of God. ¹¹For who of men knows the things of man, except the spirit of the man which is in him? so indeed no one knows the things of God, except the Spirit of God. ^d ¹²But we have not received the spirit of the world, but the Spirit who is from God; in order that we may know the things which have been graciously given unto us from God. ¹³Which things indeed we speak, not in the teachable words of human wisdom, but in the teachable words of the Spirit, expounding spiritual things to spiritual people. ¹⁴But the intellectual man receives not the things of the Spirit of God; ^e for they are foolishness unto him; and he is not able to know them, because they are spiritually discerned. ^f ¹⁵But the spiritual man discerns all things, and is himself discerned by no one. ¹⁶For who knows the mind of the Lord, who shall give him counsel? But we have the mind of Christ. ^g

CHAPTER III.

The weakness of the Corinthians conspicuous by their disagreements. Christ the one foundation, Christians are the temples of God. The wisdom of the world.

I CORINTHIANS III.

¹And I, brethren, was not able to speak unto you as unto spiritual, but as unto carnal, even babes in Christ. ^a ²I have fed you with milk, not with meat; for you were not yet able. But ye are not now yet able: ^x ³for ye are yet carnal. For where there are envy and strife among you, are you not carnal, and walking about according to man? ^b ⁴For when one may say, I am indeed of Paul; another, I am of Apollos; are you not men? ⁵Then what is Apollos? and what is Paul? But ministers through whom ye believed; even as the Lord gave to each one. ^c ⁶I planted, Apollos watered; but God gave the increase. ⁷So neither is the one planting, nor the one watering anything, but God the one giving the increase. ⁸But he that planteth and he that watereth are one: and each one shall receive his own reward according to his own labor. ⁹For we are God's fellow-laborers; ye are God's farm; ye are God's building.

Let each one take heed how he builds. ¹¹For other foundation no one is able to lay beside the one which is laid, who is Jesus Christ.^d ¹²But if any one builds upon the foundation, gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble; ¹³the work of each will be made manifest: for the day will reveal it, because it is revealed by fire; and the same fire will try the work of each what soil it is. ¹⁴And if the work of any one which he builds, abides, he will receive a reward: ¹⁵but if the work of any one shall be burnt up, he shall suffer loss; but himself shall be saved, but as through the fire.^e ¹⁶Do you not know that you are the temple of God, and the Spirit of God dwells in you? ¹⁷If any one destroys the temple of God, him will God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which ye are.^f ¹⁸Let no one deceive himself. If any one seems to be wise among you in this age, let him become a fool, that he may be wise. ¹⁹For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God.^g For it has been written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness. ²⁰And again, The Lord knows the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.^h ²¹So let no one boast among men; for all things are yours; ²²whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come. ²³All things are yours; and ye are Christ's; and Christ is God's.

CHAPTER IV.

The ministers of Christ. Paul and those whom he has begotten at Corinth. Timothy the precursor of Paul.

I CORINTHIANS IV.

¹So let a man consider us, as ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God. ²Here, moreover, it is required among stewards, that every one must be found faithful. ³But to me it is the smallest matter, that I may be judged by you, or by human day: but I do not judge myself. ⁴For I know nothing against myself; but in this I am not justified; and the Lord is the one judging me. ⁵So judge nothing before the time, until the Lord may come, who will also bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and make manifest the counsels of the hearts; and then praise shall be to each one from God.^a ⁶But, brethren, I have transferred these things to myself and Apollos on your account; that you may learn among us not to be wise above what is written; in order that you may not be puffed up one in behalf of one against another.^b ⁷For who judges you? and what have you which you did not receive? but if indeed you received it, why do you boast, as not having received it? ⁸Already are ye filled, already have ye become rich;

you did reign without us: and I would indeed that you did reign, in order that we also might reign along with you. ⁹For, I think, God has exhibited us apostles the last, as exposed to death: that we may become a theater to the world, and to angels, and to men.^c ¹⁰We are fools for Christ's sake, but you are wise in Christ; we are weak, but you are strong; you are glorious, but we are dishonorable. ¹¹Until this hour we both hunger and thirst, and suffer for insufficient clothing, and are buffeted; and we tramp,^d ¹²and we toil working with our own hands: being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we endure it; ¹³being scandalized, we entreat: we have become as the offscourings of the world, the refuse of all things until now.

¹⁴I do not write these things shaming you, but admonishing you as my beloved children. ¹⁵For if you have ten thousand instructors in Christ, but you have not many fathers; for in Christ Jesus I have begotten you through the gospel.^e ¹⁶Therefore I exhort you, be ye imitators of me.^f ¹⁷For this same thing I sent Timothy to you, who is my beloved and faithful child in the Lord, who will remind you of my ways which are in Christ Jesus, as I teach everywhere in every church.^g ¹⁸But some were inflated, as if I was not coming unto you. ¹⁹But I will come to you quickly, if the Lord may will; and I will know not the word of those who have been puffed up, but the power.^h ²⁰For the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.ⁱ ²¹What do you wish? must I come unto you with the rod, or in divine love and the spirit of meekness?

CHAPTER V.

Against illegal wedlock.

I CORINTHIANS V.

¹Fornication is truly heard of among you, and such fornication which is not among the heathens, that one should have the wife^a of his father. ²And have you been inflated, and have not rather mourned, that the one having done this work may be taken from your midst? ³For indeed I, being absent in body but present in spirit, have already judged the one having thus done this, as being present,^b ⁴in the name of the Lord Jesus, you and my spirit being assembled, with the power of the Lord Jesus, ⁵to turn over such a one to Satan for the destruction of carnality, in order that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus. ⁶Your boasting is not good. Do you not know that a little leaven leavens the whole lump?^c ⁷Cleanse away the old leaven, in order that you may be a new lump, as you are free from leaven; for Christ has truly become our Pass-over. ⁸So let us feast, not on the old leaven, nor on the leaven of sin and iniquity, but on the unleavened bread of purity and truth.

Do you not judge those within? But God will judge those without. ¹³Take away the wicked person from you, yourselves.^d

CHAPTER VI.

Against lawsuits before the outsiders. The sanctity of their own bodies is to be appreciated by Christians.

I CORINTHIANS VI.

¹Which one of you having a matter dares to go to law with another before the unrighteous, and not before the saints? ²Do you not know that the saints will judge the world? and if the world is judged by you, are you unworthy of the smallest judgments? ³Do you not know that we shall judge angels, not indeed matters of this life? ⁴Then if indeed you have judgments appertaining to this life, do you sit those down who are little esteemed in the church? ⁵I speak this to your shame. Is there not one wise man among you who shall be able to judge between his brother?^a ⁶But does brother go to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers? ⁷Indeed it is already altogether a small matter to you, that you have lawsuits one with another. Why do you not rather suffer injustice? why are you not rather defrauded? ⁸But you inflict injustice, and defraud, and that your brethren. ⁹Do you not know that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor catamites, nor Sodomites,^b ¹⁰nor thieves, nor the covetous, nor drunkards, nor scolds, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God.^c ¹¹And such were some of you: but you have washed, but you have been sanctified, but you have been justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and by the Spirit of our God.

¹²All things are lawful to me, but all things are not profitable: all things are lawful, but I will not be brought under the power of any.^d ¹³Meats for the stomach, and the stomach for meats: but God will destroy both this and them. The body is not for fornication, but for the Lord; and the Lord for the body; ¹⁴but God both raised up the Lord, and will raise you up through his power.^e ¹⁵Do you not know that your bodies are members of Christ? then taking the members of Christ, shall I make them the members of a harlot? it could not be so.^f ¹⁶Do you not know Every sin which a man may commit is outside of his body; the one committing fornication sins against his own body. ¹⁹Do you not know that your body is the temple of the Holy Spirit who is in you, whom you have from God? and you are not your own; ²⁰for you have been bought with a price: indeed glorify God in your body.

CHAPTER VII.

Concerning matrimony, celibacy, widowhood, divorcement, unequal wedlock. Concerning circumcision. Concerning servants. Concerning virgins. Continency is commended. The married and the unmarried. The marriageable daughter.

I CORINTHIANS VII.

¹But concerning those things about which you wrote to me: That it is good for a man not to receive a wife: ²but on account of fornication, let each man have his own wife, and let each woman have her own husband. ³Let the husband give to the wife that which is due, and likewise the wife also to the husband. ⁴The wife has not the authority over her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband has not the authority over his own body, but the wife. ⁵Do not defraud one another, unless it may be with consent for a time, that you may give attention to prayer, and again come together, in order that Satan may not tempt you on account of your incontinency.^a ⁶But I speak this according to knowledge, not according to commandment. ⁷But I wish that all men were even as myself; but each one has his own gift from God, some one, and some another.

⁸But I speak to the unmarried and the widows, that it is good for them that they may remain even as I: ⁹but if they do not contain, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn. ¹⁰But I proclaim to those who have married, not I, but the Lord, That a wife shall not depart from her husband^b ¹¹(but if indeed she may depart, let her remain unmarried, or let her be reconciled unto her husband); and that the husband shall not send away the wife. ¹²But I say to the rest, not the Lord, if any brother has an unbelieving wife, and she is willing to live with him, let him not send her away. ¹³And if any wife has an unbelieving husband, and he is willing to live with her, let her not send away her husband. ¹⁴For the unbelieving husband has been sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife has been sanctified by the brother. Since then your children are unclean; but now they are holy. ¹⁵But if the unbeliever departs, let him or her depart; the brother or the sister has not been enslaved in such things. God has called you in peace. ¹⁶For what do you know, O wife, if you shall save your husband? and what do you know, O husband, if you shall save your wife? ¹⁷If not as the Lord has imparted to each one, and as God has called each one, so let him or her walk.^c And thus I command in all the churches. ¹⁸Is one called having been circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised: has one been called in uncircumcision? let him not get circumcised. ¹⁹Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandments of God.^d ²⁰Let each one abide in the same calling in which he is called. ²¹Have you been called being a slave?^e let it not be a care to you: but if indeed you are able to become free, use it in preference. ²²For, the one having been called in the Lord, being a slave, is the Lord's freeman:^f likewise the one having been called, while free, is the slave of Christ. ²³You have been bought with a price; be not the slaves of men.^g ²⁴Let each one remain with the Lord, in the same calling in which he was called, brethren.

²⁵But concerning virgins I have no commandment of the Lord: but I give knowledge, as one having obtained mercy from the Lord to be faithful. ²⁶But I consider this to be good on account of the present distress, that it is good for a man so to be. ²⁷Have you been given to a wife? do not seek separation; have you been separated from a wife? do not seek a wife. ²⁸But if indeed you may marry, you have not sinned; and if a virgin may marry, she has not sinned; but such shall have trouble in the flesh, but I spare you. ²⁹But I say this, brethren; that the time is at hand, that moreover indeed those having wives may be as those not having; ³⁰and those weeping, as those not weeping; and those rejoicing, as those not rejoicing; and those buying, as those not possessing; ³¹and those using the world, as those not using it thoroughly: for the fashion of this world is passing away.^h ³²I wish you to be free from solicitude. The unmarried man cares for the things of the Lord, in order that he may please the Lord: ³³but the one having married cares for the things of the world, in order that he may please his wife. ³⁴A wife and a virgin truly also differ: the unmarried woman cares for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy in body and in spirit: but she having married cares for the things of the world, that she may please her husband. ³⁵I speak this for the profit of you yourselves; not that I may cast a burden upon you, but for that which is pleasing and acceptable to the Lord without perturbation. ³⁶But if any one considers that he is acting indiscreetly towards his virgin,ⁱ if she may be marriageable, and thus it ought so to be, let him do what he wishes; he does not sin; let them^j marry. ³⁷But whosoever stands firm in his heart, having no necessity, and has the right according to his own will, and has determined this in his heart, to keep his virgin, will do well. ³⁸So indeed he that marries his own virgin^k does well; and he that marries her not will do better. ³⁹A wife has been given so long a time as her husband may live; but if her husband may die, she is free to be married to whom she will;^l only in the Lord. ⁴⁰But she is happier if she may so remain, according to my opinion: but I realize that I truly have the Spirit of God.

CHAPTER VIII.

I CORINTHIANS VIII.

¹But concerning things offered to idols: we know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffs up, but divine love builds up. ²If any one seems to know anything, yet he knows not as it behooves him to know;^a ³but if any one loves God he is known of him. ⁴Therefore concerning the eating of things offered to idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is no God except one. ⁵For if indeed there are those who are called gods, whether in heaven or upon the earth; as there are gods many, and lords many; ⁶but there is to us one God, the Father, from whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom are all things, and we in him.^b ⁷But there is not knowledge in all people: but some, with the conscience of the idol even until now, eat as if it was sacrificed to the idol; and their conscience being weak is polluted. ⁸But meat will not commend us to God; neither if we eat are we the better; nor if we eat not are we the worse. ⁹See lest this liberty of yours may become a stumblingblock to the weak.^c ¹⁰For if any one may see you having knowledge sitting at the table in the idol temple, will not the conscience of him, being weak, be encouraged to eat things sacrificed to the idols? ¹¹For the weak one is destroyed by your knowledge, the brother for whom Christ died.^d ¹²And you, sinning so against the brethren, and wounding their weak conscience, are sinning against Christ. ¹³If indeed meat causes my brother to stumble, I never eat any more meat, in order that I may not lay a stumblingblock in the way of my brother.^e

Paul concerning himself, and concerning his apostleship and his right. He abstained from the remuneration due him for preaching, and accommodated himself to all for the sake of Christ. His right to commendation.

I CORINTHIANS IX.

¹Am I not free? am I not an apostle? have I not seen the Lord Jesus? are you not my work in the Lord?^a ²If I am not an apostle to others, but I am to you at least: for you are the seal of my apostleship in the Lord.^b ³My defence to those calling me in question is this. ⁴Have we not a right to eat and drink? ⁵Have we not a right to lead about a sister as a wife, as the other apostles also, and the brothers of the Lord, and Cephas? ⁶Have I and Barnabas alone not the right to forbear working?^c ⁷Whoever goes to war at his own charges? who plants a vineyard, and does not eat the fruit of it? or who shepherdizes a flock, and does not eat of the milk of the flock? ⁸Whether do I speak these things according to a man? or does not the law indeed say these things?^d ⁹For in the law of Moses it has been written, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that plows. Is there a care to God for oxen,¹⁰ or does he speak it altogether on account of us? For it was written on account of us, That the one plowing ought to plow in hope, and the one threshing in hope of partaking. ¹¹If we have sown unto you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we shall reap your carnal things?^e ¹²If others partake of your bounty, shall not we the more? But we have not used this privilege, but we bear all things, in order that we may not give a hindrance to the gospel of Christ. ¹³Do you not know that those working in the sacrifices eat those things of the temple;^f and those serving the altar partake of the altar?^g ¹⁴So also the Lord has commanded those preaching the gospel to live of the gospel.^h ¹⁵But I have used none of these things. But I have not written these things that it may be so in me: for it is good for me rather to die than that any one shall make void my boasting. ¹⁶For if I preach the gospel, there is no boasting to me; for necessity is laid upon me; for woe is unto me, if I may not preach the gospel. ¹⁷For if I do this willingly, I have a reward: but if unwillingly, I have been intrusted with a dispensation. ¹⁸Then what is my reward? that preaching the gospel, I may render the gospel free from charge, in order that I may not use my right in the gospel. ¹⁹For being free from all, I rendered myself servantⁱ to all, that I may gain the more. ²⁰And to the Jews I became as a Jew, that I may gain the Jews;^j to those under the law, as under the law, not myself being under law, that I may gain those under the law;^k ²¹to those without law, I became as without law, not being without the law of God, but under the law of Christ, that I may gain those without law. ²²To the weak I became as weak, that I may gain the weak. I became all things to all men, that I may indeed save some.^l ²³But I do all these things for the sake of the gospel, that I may be its fellow-partaker. ²⁴Do you not know that those running in the stadium,^m indeed all run, and one receives the prize? So run, that you may receive it. ²⁵But every one contesting is abstinent in all things, they indeed also that they may receive a corruptible crown, but we an incorruptible.ⁿ ²⁶I therefore so run, not as uncertainly, do I thus fight not as beating the air: ²⁷but I keep my body under, and enslave it, lest having preached the gospel to others, I myself may become disapproved.

CHAPTER X.

The destruction of the Jews in the wilderness. An example of the divine severity. The holy supper is not in harmony with the profane banquets. Caution of eating flesh which has been sacrificed to idols.

I CORINTHIANS X.

¹For I do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, that our fathers were all under the cloud, and all passed through the sea;^a ²and all were baptized into Moses in the cloud and in the sea;^b ³and they all did eat the same spiritual food;^c ⁴and all did drink the same spiritual drink: for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ.^d ⁵But with many of them God is not well pleased: for they were overthrown in the wilderness.^e ⁶And these became our examples, in order that we may not lust after evil things, as they also lusted.^f ⁷Neither be ye idolaters, as some of them were; as has been written, The people sat down to eat and drink, and arose up to play.^g ⁸Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed fornication, and fell in one day twenty-three thousand.^h ⁹Neither let us tempt the Lord, as some of them tempted Him, and were destroyed by serpents. ¹⁰Neither murmur, as some of them murmured, and were destroyed by the destroyer.ⁱ ¹¹But these things happened unto them as examples; and were written for our admonition, on whom the ends of the ages have descended.^j ¹²So let him who thinks he stands take heed lest he may fall. ¹³No temptation has overtaken you, except that which is human: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above what you are able, but with the temptation, He will also make a way of escape, in order that you may be able to bear it.^k

¹⁴Therefore, my beloved, fly from idolatry.^l ¹⁵As I speak to the wise; judge ye what I say. ¹⁶The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ?^m The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?ⁿ ¹⁷Because we, being many, are one bread, one body:^o for we all partake of one bread.^p ¹⁸See Israel after the flesh: are not all eating the sacrifices communicants of the altar?^q ¹⁹Then what do I say? that idolatry is anything? or that an idol is anything?^r ²⁰But those things which they sacrifice, they sacrifice to demons, and not to God. But I do not wish you to be the communicants of demons. ²¹You are not able to drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of demons: you are not able to partake of the table of the Lord, and the table of demons. ²²Or do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? whether are we stronger than he?^r

For why is my liberty judged by the conscience of another? ³⁰If I partake with grace, why am I traduced for that over which I give thanks? ³¹Then whether you eat, or whether you drink, or what you do, do all things to the glory of God.^w ³²Be ye without offence, both to Jews, and to Greeks, and to the church of God: ³³as I also please all in all things, seeking not my own profit, but that of the many, that they may be saved.

CHAPTER XI.

It is expedient for man to speak with his head uncovered; for woman, with the veil. Concerning the love feast. Concerning the institution and use of the holy Supper.

I CORINTHIANS XI.

¹Be ye imitators of me, as I also am of Christ.^a But I praise you because you remember me in all things, and hold fast the commandments, as I delivered them unto you. ²But I wish you to know, that Christ is the head of every man; and the man is the head of the woman, and God is the head of Christ.^b ³Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonors his head. ⁴But every woman praying or prophesying with her head uncovered dishonors her head: for that is one and the same to her being shaven. ⁵If a woman is not covered, let her also be shorn: but if it is a disgrace for a woman to be shorn or shaven; let her be covered. ⁶For a man ought not to cover his head, being the image and glory of God; but the woman is the glory of the man. ⁷For the man is not from the woman; but the woman is from the man; ⁸for man indeed was not created on account of the woman; but the woman on account of the man.^c ⁹Therefore the woman ought to have authority^d on her head, on account of the angels. ¹⁰Moreover neither is the woman without the man in the Lord, nor the man without the woman. ¹¹For as the woman is from the man, so the man also is by the woman; and all things from God. ¹²Judge ye among yourselves: is it becoming for a woman to pray to God uncovered? ¹³Does not nature itself teach you, that, if a man may indeed have long hair, it is a dishonor to him? ¹⁴But if a woman has long hair, it is a glory unto her: because the hair has been given to her for a covering.

¹⁶If any one seems to be contentious, we have no such custom, nor do the churches of God.

¹⁷And proclaiming this, I do not praise you, because you come together not for the better but for the worse. ¹⁸For in the first place, indeed you coming together, I hear that there are schisms^e among you; and I in part believe it.^f ¹⁹For it behooves that heresies should indeed be among you, in order that the approved may be made manifest among you. ²⁰Therefore you coming together, it is not to eat the Lord's supper: ²¹for each one takes his own supper in eating; and one is hungry, and another is drunken. ²²For have you not houses in which to eat and to drink? or do you cast contempt on the church of God, and shame those not having? What do I say to you? Shall I praise you in this? I do not praise you.^g ²³For I received this from the Lord, which I have also delivered unto you, that the Lord Jesus, the night in which he was betrayed, took bread,^h ²⁴and having given thanks, broke it, and said; This is my body, which is for you: do this in remembrance of me. ²⁵Likewise also the cup, after supper, saying; This cup is the new covenant in my blood: do this, as often as you may drink it, in remembrance of me.ⁱ ²⁶For as often as you may eat this bread, and drink the cup, you do proclaim the death of the Lord, until he may come. ²⁷So whosoever may eat the bread or drink the cup of the Lord unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and the blood of the Lord. ²⁸But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of the bread and drink of the cup; ²⁹for the one eating and drinking, not discerning the body, eats and drinks condemnation to himself. ³⁰Therefore many among you are weak and sickly, and not a few sleep. ³¹But if we judged ourselves, we would not be judged: ³²But being judged, by the Lord we are chastised, in order that we may not be condemned along with the world. ³³So, my brethren, coming together to eat, wait for one another. ³⁴If one is hungry let him eat at home; in order that you may not come together unto condemnation. But I will set in order the remaining things when I may come.

CHAPTER XII.

Variety and unity of the gifts of the Holy Spirit. They are, as it were, many members in one body.

I CORINTHIANS XII.

¹But concerning the spiritual gifts, brethren, I do not wish you to be ignorant. ²You know that when you were heathens, you were following after dumb idols, as you were led.^a ³Therefore I make known to you, that no one speaking by the Spirit of God says, Jesus is anathema;^b and no one is able to say; Jesus is Lord, but by the Holy Ghost.

⁴But there are diversities of gifts, and the same Spirit; ⁵and there are diversities of ministries, and the same Lord.^c ⁶And there are diversities of operations, and the same God, working all things in all. ⁷But to each one the manifestation of the Spirit has been given unto profit. ⁸For indeed to one the word of wisdom has been given by the Spirit; and to another the word of knowledge by the same Spirit; ⁹to another faith by the same Spirit; to another gifts of healings by the one Spirit; ¹⁰and to another the workings of dynamites;^d and to another prophecy, and to another discernment of spirits; and to another kinds of tongues, and to another interpretation of tongues: ¹¹and one and the same Spirit works all these in you, dispensing unto each one severally as he willeth.^e ¹²For indeed there is one body, and it has many members, and all the members of the body, being many, are one body; so also is Christ.^f ¹³For indeed we have by one Spirit been baptized into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, or bond or free; and were all made to drink of one Spirit.^g ¹⁴For truly the body is not one member, but many. ¹⁵If the foot may say; Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; it is not on account of this not of the body. ¹⁶And if the ear may say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body, it is not on account of this not of the body. ¹⁷If the eye were the whole body, where is the hearing? If the hearing where the whole body, where is the smelling? ¹⁸But now God has placed the members each one of them in the body, as he wished. ¹⁹And if all were one member, where is the body? ²⁰But now indeed the members are many, but the body is one. ²¹But the eye is not able to say to the hand, I have no need of you: or again the head to the feet, I have no need of you: ²²but much more are the members of the body which seem to be the weaker necessary: ²³and those which we regard the more dishonorable members of the body, upon these we confer the more abundant honors; and our uncomely members have the more abundant comeliness; ²⁴but our comely members have no need. But God has adjusted the body, having given the more abundant honor to that part which lacked; ²⁵in order that there may be no schisms in the body, but the members may care the same for one another. ²⁶And if one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; if one member is glorified, all the members rejoice with it. ²⁷But you are the body of Christ and members one of another.^h ²⁸Whom God has, indeed, also placed in the church, first apostles, then prophets, then teachers, then dynamites,ⁱ then gifts of healings, helps, leaderships, kinds of tongues. ²⁹Whether are all apostles? whether are all prophets? whether are all teachers? whether are all dynamites? ³⁰whether do all have the gifts of healings? whether do all speak with tongues? whether do all interpret?^j ³¹Seek earnestly these greater gifts; and yet I show unto you a more excellent way.

CHAPTER XIII.

I CORINTHIANS XIII.

¹If I may speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not divine love, I have become a sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal. ²And if I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, and have not divine love, I am nothing.^a ³And if I give all my goods to feed the poor, and if I may give my body that I shall be burnt, and have not divine love, I am profited as to nothing. ⁴Divine love suffers long; divine love is kind; divine love envies not; does not make a display of itself, is not puffed up,^b ⁵does not behave itself uncomely, seeks not its own, is not provoked, thinks no evil;^c ⁶it does not rejoice in unrighteousness, but it rejoices in the truth; ⁷it bears all things, it believes all things, it hopes all things, it endures all things.

⁸Divine love never falls:^d but whether there are prophecies, they shall be done away; whether there are tongues, they shall cease; whether there is knowledge, it shall vanish away. ⁹For we know in part, and prophesy in part: ¹⁰but when the perfect^e may come, that which is in part shall be done away. ¹¹When I was an infant, I talked like an infant, I thought like an infant, I reasoned like an infant:^f when I became a man, I put away the things of the infant. ¹²For we now see through a mirror^g in an enigma; but then face to face:^h now I know in part; but then shall I know perfectly even as I am perfectly known.ⁱ ¹³But now abide faith, hope, divine love, these three; but the greatest of these is divine love.

one prophesying edifies the church. ⁵But I wish you all to speak with tongues, but rather that you may prophesy: but greater is the one prophesying, than the one speaking with tongues, unless he may interpret, in order that the church may receive edification.^c ⁶But now, brethren, if I may come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, unless I shall speak to you either in revelation, or knowledge, or prophecy, or in instruction? ⁷Nevertheless things without life, giving forth a voice, whether pipe or harp, if it may not give a distinction to the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped, or what is harped? ⁸For if indeed the trumpet may give an uncertain sound, who will prepare himself for the war? ⁹Thus also if you through the tongue may give an indistinct word, how will that which is spoken be known? for you will be speaking into the air. ¹⁰If it so happens that there are so many kinds of voices in the world, and nothing without a voice; ¹¹if then I do not understand the power of the voice, I will be a barbarian to the one speaking, and the one speaking will be a barbarian to me. ¹²So also you, since you are zealots of spirits, seek that you may abound unto the edification of the church. ¹³Therefore let the one speaking with a tongue,^d pray that one may interpret. ¹⁴For if I pray with a tongue,^d my spirit is praying, but my mind is not fruitful. ¹⁵Then what is it? I will pray with my spirit, and I will pray with my mind also: I will sing with my spirit, and I will sing with my mind also. ¹⁶Since if you may bless with the spirit, how will one occupying the place of the unlearned say Amen to your blessing? since he does not know what you are saying.^e ¹⁷For you indeed bless beautifully, but the other is not edified. ¹⁸I thank God, I speak with tongue^f more than you all: ¹⁹but I would rather speak five words in the church with my understanding, so that I may indeed teach others, than ten thousand words in a tongue.^g ²⁰Brethren, be not children in intellect: but be infants in evil, but be perfect in intellect. ²¹It has been written in the law; I will speak to this people with other tongues and with the lips of others; and thus they will not hearken unto me, says the Lord.^h ²²So tongues are for a sign, not to those who believe, but to the unbelievers: and prophecy is not for the unbelievers, but for the believers. ²³Then if the whole church may come together, and all may speak with tongues, and the unlearnedⁱ or unbelievers may come in, will they not say that you are gone mad? ²⁴But if all may prophesy, and some unbeliever or unlearnedⁱ person may come in, he is convicted by all, he is discerned by all; ²⁵the secrets of his heart are made manifest; and thus falling upon his face^j he will worship God, proclaiming that God is truly in you.

²⁶Then what is it, brethren? When you may come together, each one has a psalm, has a lesson, has a revelation, has a tongue, has an interpretation. Let all things be done to edification. ²⁷If one speaks with a tongue, let it be by twos, or at most by threes, and separately; and let one interpret;^k ²⁸but if there may be no interpreter, let him keep silent in the church; but let him speak to himself, and to God.^l ²⁹But let two or three prophets speak, and let the others give audience;^m ³⁰but if something may be revealed to another sitting down, let the first be silent. ³¹For you are all able to prophesy one by one, in order that all may learn, and all may be comforted. ³²Truly the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets; ³³for he is not a God of confusion, but of peace.

So in all the churches of the saints, ³⁴let the women be silent in the churches: for it is not permitted to them to talk;ⁿ but let them be subordinate, as the law also says.^o ³⁵But if they wish to learn something, let them ask their own husbands at home: for it is disgraceful for a woman to talk^p in church. ³⁶Whether did the word of God come out from you? or has it reached unto you alone?

³⁷If any one seems to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him understand the things which I write to you, that they are of the Lord; ³⁸but if any one ignores, he is ignored.^q ³⁹So, my brethren, be zealous to prophesy, and do not forbid to speak with tongues; but let all things be done decently and in order.

CHAPTER XV.

The resurrection of Christ. The foundation to our faith. Death the last enemy. Baptism for the dead. Resurrection of the dead. The new celestial body. The mystery concerning the sudden transformation.

I CORINTHIANS XV.

¹But I make known to you, brethren, the gospel which I preached unto you, which you indeed received, in which you also stand, ²by which you are also saved; which word I preached to you, if you hold it fast, otherwise you believed in vain.^a ³For I delivered unto you in the first place that which I also received, that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures;^b ⁴and that he was buried, and that he arose on the third day according to the Scriptures; ⁵and that he was seen by Cephas; then by the twelve. ⁶Then he was seen by more than five hundred brethren at once, of whom the more remain unto this day, but some have fallen asleep.^c ⁷Then he was seen by James; then by all the apostles. ⁸But last of all he was seen by me, as one born out of due time.^d ⁹For I am the least of the apostles, who am not worthy to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God.^e ¹⁰But by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace was not vain toward me; but I have labored more abundantly than they all: and not I, but the grace of God with me. ¹¹Then whether I or they, so we preach, and so you believed.

Christ is not risen, then indeed is our preaching vain, and your faith is vain.^g ¹⁵And we are indeed found false witnesses of God; because we testified according to God that he raised Christ: whom he did not raise, if then the dead rise not.^h ¹⁶But if the dead rise not, neither is Christ risen.ⁱ ¹⁷But if Christ is not risen, your faith is vain; you are yet in your sins. ¹⁸Then indeed those having fallen asleep in Christ have perished. ¹⁹If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men the most pitiable. ²⁰But now Christ is risen from the dead, the firstfruit of them that slept.^j ²¹For since death was through a man, the resurrection of the dead is also through a man.^k ²²For as in Adam all die, so truly in Christ shall all be made alive. ²³But each one in his own rank:^l Christ the firstfruit; then they who are Christ's, at His coming: ²⁴then the end, when he may deliver up the kingdom^m to God, even the Father, when he may destroy all government, all authority and power. ²⁵For it behooves him to reign until he may put all enemies under his feet.ⁿ ²⁶Death the last enemy is destroyed. ²⁷For, he has subordinated all things beneath his feet. But when he may say, that all things have been subordinated, it is evident that the One having subordinated all things to him is excepted.^o ²⁸But when he may subordinate all things to him, then the Son himself will also be subordinated to him who hath subordinated all things to Himself, in order that God may be all things in all.

²⁹Then what shall they do who are baptized for the dead? If the dead rise not at all, why are they also baptized for them?^p ³⁰Why indeed are we in jeopardy every hour? ³¹I protest by your rejoicing, brethren, which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.^q ³²If after the manner of men I have fought with the wild beasts in Ephesus, what profit is it to me? If the dead rise not, let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we die.^r ³³Be not deceived: Evil communications corrupt good manners. ³⁴Awake to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God: I speak to your shame.^s

³⁵But one will say, How are the dead raised? and with what body do they come? ³⁶Thou foolish one, that which thou sowest, is not quickened unless it may die; ³⁷and that which thou sowest, thou sowest not the body that shall be, but naked grain, if it may happen to be of wheat, or of some one of the other grains; ³⁸but God gives it a body as he wished; and to each of the seeds its own body. ³⁹All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is indeed a flesh of men, and another flesh of beasts, and another flesh of birds, and another of fishes. ⁴⁰Indeed there are heavenly bodies, and there are earthly bodies: but indeed there is one glory of the heavenlies, and another glory of those upon the earth. ⁴¹There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for star differs from star in glory. ⁴²So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption: ⁴³it is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power.^t ⁴⁴It is sown a psychical body;^u it is raised a pneumatical body.^v If there is a psychical body, there is also a pneumatical (body). ⁴⁵As indeed it has been written; The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last man Adam, a life-creating spirit.^w ⁴⁶But that which is spiritual was not first, but that which is animal;^x afterward that which is spiritual.^y ⁴⁷The first man was from the earth, earthy: the second man from heaven. ⁴⁸As was the earthy, such are they also who are earthy; and as was the heavenly, such are they also who are heavenly. ⁴⁹And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we must also bear the image of the heavenly.

⁵⁰But I say this, brethren, that flesh and blood are not able to inherit the kingdom of God; neither does corruption inherit incorruption.^z ⁵¹Behold, I speak to you a mystery: We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, ⁵²in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.^a ⁵³For it behooves this corruptible to put on incorruption, and this mortal to put on immortality. ⁵⁴But when this corruptible may put on incorruption, and this mortal may put on immortality, then shall the word which has been written be fulfilled, Death is swallowed up in victory. ⁵⁵O death, where is thy victory? O death, where is thy sting?^b ⁵⁶But the sting of death is sin; and the power^c of sin is the law. ⁵⁷But thanks be unto God, who gives us our victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.^d ⁵⁸So, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that your labor is not in vain in the Lord.

The Second Epistle of Paul the Apostle

CORINTHIANS.

CHAPTER I.

The calamities of Paul were borne, God assisting. Counsel of revisiting the Corinthians. The promises of God.

2 CORINTHIANS I.

¹Paul, the apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and brother Timothy, to the church of God which is at Corinth, along with all the saints who are in all Achaia:^a ²Grace to you and peace from God our Father and our Lord Jesus Christ.^b ³Blessed is the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and the God of all consolation;^c ⁴the one comforting us in all our tribulation, in order that we may be able to comfort those in all tribulation, through the consolation with which we ourselves are comforted of God,^d ⁵because as the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation through Christ also abounds.^e ⁶But if we are troubled it is in behalf of your consolation and salvation; if we are comforted, it is in behalf of your consolation, working in you through the endurance of the same sufferings which we also suffer. ⁷And our hope is stedfast in your behalf; knowing that, as you are the partakers of the sufferings, so you are also of the consolation.^f

⁸For we do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning our affliction taking place in Asia, because we were burthened exceedingly, above our power, so that we despaired even of living: ⁹but we had the answer of death in ourselves, in order that we might not trust in ourselves, but in God who raised the dead: ¹⁰who delivered us from so great a death, and will deliver: in whom he have hope that he will also yet deliver;^g ¹¹you also co-operating in our behalf in prayer; in order that, the gift which is bestowed upon us from many persons, may through many be a source of thanks given in our behalf.^h ¹²For our boasting is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in holiness and purity of God, not in carnal wisdom, but in the grace of God, we have sojourned in the world, and especially towards you.ⁱ ¹³For we do not write other things to you, but those things which you read and know, and I hope that you will know them perfectly: ¹⁴as you have also known us in part, because we are your glorying, as you ours in the day of the Lord Jesus.^j ¹⁵And in this confidence I wished to come unto you sooner, that you may have a second grace; ¹⁶and through you to go unto Macedonia, and again from Macedonia to come to you, and by you to be sent forward into Judea.^k ¹⁷Then wishing this, whether did I use lightness of purpose? or the things which I counsel, do I counsel according to the flesh, in order that it may be with me yes yes and no no?^l ¹⁸But God is faithful, that our word which is to you is not yes and no.^m ¹⁹For Christ Jesus, the Son of God, the one being preached by us, through me and Silvanus and Timothy, was not yes and no, but it was yes in him. ²⁰For so many promises of God, in Him are yes; therefore indeed through him they are Amen unto the glory to God through us. ²¹But the one confirming us along with you unto Christ, and having anointed us, is God.ⁿ ²²Who also having sealed us, and given us the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.^o ²³But I call God to witness to my soul, that sparing you I did not yet come into Corinth: ²⁴not that we domineer over your faith, but we are fellow-workers of your joy: for by faith you stand.

CHAPTER II.

Why he may not yet have returned to Corinth. Concerning the incestuous man who had repented. The journeys and success of Paul.

2 CORINTHIANS II.

¹But I determined this to myself, not again to come unto you in sorrow. ²For if I grieve you, who indeed is the one giving me joy, except the one being grieved by me?^a ³And I wrote this same thing, in order that, having come, I may not have grief over those from whom it behooves me to rejoice; and having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all. ⁴For out of much tribulation and anguish of heart, I wrote to you through many tears; not in order that you may be grieved, but that you may know the divine love which I have unto you exceedingly.

⁵But if any one has grieved you all, he has not grieved me, but in part, that I may not burden you excessively.^b ⁶This punishment which for many to such a one is sufficient; ⁷so on the contrary you should rather forgive and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one may be swallowed up with excessive grief. ⁸Therefore I exhort you to stir up your divine love for him: ⁹for unto this also I wrote, in order that I may know your approval, if you are obedient in all things. ¹⁰But to whom you forgive anything, I do also: for indeed whatsoever I have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, it is for your sakes in the face of Christ; ¹¹in order that we may not be gobbled up by Satan: for we are not ignorant of his devices.

¹²And having come into Troas,^c for the gospel of Christ, and there being a door opened unto me in the Lord,^d ¹³and I had no rest to my spirit, because I did not find my brother Titus: but having bidden them adieu, I came away into Macedonia.^e

¹⁴But thanks be unto God, who always causes us to triumph in Christ, and manifesting the fragrance of his knowledge through us in every place:^f ¹⁵because we are a sweet savour of Christ unto God, among those who are saved, and among those who perish; ¹⁶unto the latter a savour from death unto death; but unto the former a savour from life unto life. And who is sufficient for these things? ¹⁷For we are not as many, corrupting the word of God: but as of purity,^g but as from God, we speak in Christ, in the presence of God.

CHAPTER III.

The Corinthians themselves the recommendation of Paul. Letter and spirit. The veil of Moses having been taken away in Christ.

2 CORINTHIANS III.

¹Do we again begin to commend ourselves? or whether have we need of commendatory letters to you or from you, as some do?^a ²You are our letter, having been written in our hearts, known and read of all men,^b ³being manifest that you are the letter of Christ, having been ministered by us, having been written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God: not in tables of stone, but in tables that are hearts of flesh.^c ⁴But we have such confidence through Christ towards God, ⁵not that we are able of ourselves to think anything as from ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God; ⁶who also rendered us able ministers of the new covenant; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter kills, but the spirit creates life.^d ⁷But if the ministry of death, having been written in letters of stone, was in glory, so that the sons of Israel were not able to look upon the face of Moses on account of the glory of his countenance; which was destined to be done away:^e ⁸how will not the ministry of the spirit be more in glory? ⁹For if there was glory in the ministry of condemnation, how much more does the ministry of righteousness abound in glory. ¹⁰For indeed that which was glorious, has ceased to be glorious in this respect on account of the transcendent glory.^f ¹¹For if that which was to be done away was through glory, much more is that which abides in glory.

^fThe gospel eclipses the law in glory.

¹²Then having such hope, we use great boldness, ¹³and not as Moses put the veil on his face, in order that the sons of Israel might not look forward to the end of that which was transitory.^g ¹⁴But their minds were darkened. For until this day the same veil remains in the reading of the old covenant,^h remains, not lifted; because it is done away in Christ; ¹⁵but until this day when Moses is read, the veil lies upon their heart: ¹⁶but when they may turn to the Lord, the veil is taken away. ¹⁷But the Lord is a Spirit;ⁱ and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. ¹⁸But we all, with unveiled face beholding the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAPTER IV.

The gospel open to some, hidden to others. All calamities are conquered by eternal hope.

2 CORINTHIANS IV.

¹Therefore having this ministry, as we have obtained mercy, we faint not; ²but we lay aside the hidden things of disgrace, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully, but in the manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every conscience of men, before God. ³But if indeed our gospel is hidden, it is hidden with those who are lost: ⁴in whom the god of this age has blinded the minds of those who believe not, in order that the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God, may not shine on them.^a ⁵For we do not preach ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord, and ourselves your servants^b for Jesus' sake. ⁶Because God is the one, having said; Out of the darkness the light^c shall shine, which shone in our hearts, to the enlightenment of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Christ.

⁷But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, in order that the excellency of the power,^d may be of God, and not of us; ⁸in everything being troubled, but not in difficulties incorrigible; being at a loss, but not utterly at a loss; ⁹being persecuted, but not forsaken; being cast down, but not destroyed; ¹⁰always bearing about the dying of Jesus in our body, in order that the life of Jesus may also be made manifest in our bodies.

^gEx. 34. 33.^hTestament, E. V.ⁱAll real religion is spirituality.^aCol. 1. 15.^bGr. slaves.^cGen. 1. 3.^dDynamite.^eRom. 8. 36.^fPs. 116. 10. ^g1 Cor. 6. 14.

¹⁶Therefore we faint not; but if indeed our external man perishes, yet our internal man is renewed day by day. ¹⁷For the light burden of our affliction, which is evanescent, is working out for us an eternal weight of glory according to hyperbole^h unto hyperbole; ¹⁸we not looking at the things which are visible, but the things which are invisible; for the visible things are temporary, but the invisible things are eternal.

CHAPTER V.

The new heavenly garment is destined to supersede the earthly. The desire of eternal life. Concerning the expiation and reconciliation.

2 CORINTHIANS V.

¹For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle may be taken down, we have a building in God, a house not made with hands, eternal, in the heavens.^a ²For in this we groan, longing to be invested with our house which is from heaven:^b ³if indeed having been invested, we shall not be found unclothed. ⁴For indeed being in this tabernacle we groan, being burdened; not that we wish to be divested, but invested, that mortality may be swallowed up of life.^c ⁵But the one having wrought us out unto this same thing is God, the one having given unto us the earnest of the Spirit.^d ⁶Therefore we are always confident even knowing that, being present in the body, we are absent from the Lord; ⁷(for we walk by faith, not by sight);^e ⁸but we are confident and delighted rather to be absent from the body, and present with the Lord.^f ⁹Therefore we are truly ambitious, whether being present or absent, to be well pleasing unto him. ¹⁰For it behooves us all to appear before the judgment-seat of Christ,^g in order that each one may receive according to those things which he has done through the body, whether good or evil.^h

¹¹Therefore knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade men; but we have been made manifest unto God; and I hope that we have indeed been made manifest in your consciences. ¹²We are not commending ourselves to you, but giving you occasion of boasting in our behalf, in order that you may have response to those who glory in appearance, and not in heart.ⁱ ¹³For if we are beside ourselves, it is for God; if we have our right minds, it is for you. ¹⁴For the love of Christ constrains us; having judged this, that one died for all; then were all dead; ¹⁵and he died for all, in order that those living may not live unto themselves, but unto him who died for them and is risen. ¹⁶So that we from now know no man after the flesh: if indeed we have known Christ after the flesh, but we now know him no more.^j ¹⁷So if any one is in Christ, he is a new creature: old things have passed away; behold, they have become new.^k ¹⁸All things are from God, the one having reconciled us unto himself through Christ,

The grace of God is to be conserved in every way, by those ministering to God. Christ and Belial. The saints of God.

2 CORINTHIANS VI.

¹But working together we indeed intreat you not to have received the grace of God in vain: ²(for he says, At a set time I heard you, and in the day of salvation I assisted you;^a behold, now is the acceptable time; behold, now is the day of salvation); ³giving no occasion of stumbling in anything, in order that the ministry may not be blamed;^b ⁴but in everything commending ourselves, as the ministers of God, in much patience, in tribulations, in straits, in difficulties, ⁵in stripes, in prisons, in tumults, in labors, in vigils, in fastings; ⁶by purity, by knowledge, by long suffering, by kindness, by the Holy Ghost, by love unfeigned,^d ⁷by the word of truth, by the power^e of God; through the arms of righteousness right and left, ⁸through glory and dishonor, through evil report and good report; as deceivers, and true; ⁹as being unknown, and perfectly known; as dying, and behold we live; as chastened, and not killed;^f ¹⁰as sorrowing, and always rejoicing; as poor, and making many rich; as having nothing, and possessing all things.

*The saints of God. The message of Titus concerning the Corinthians.

2 CORINTHIANS VII.

¹Therefore having these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all the filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God. ²Receive us: we have injured no one, we have corrupted no one, we have defrauded no one. ³I do not speak for castigation: for I have said before, that you are in our hearts to die with you and to live with you. ⁴My boldness to you is great, my rejoicing over you is much: I have been filled with consolation, I superabound with joy in all our tribulation. ⁵For we having come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but in everything being troubled;^a fightings without, fears within. ⁶But God, the one comforting the humble, comforted us by the coming of Titus; ⁷and not only by his coming, but also by the consolation with which he was comforted by you, proclaiming unto us your longing, your mourning, your zeal for me; so that I rejoiced the more. ⁸But if I grieved you in the letter, I do not regret it, if indeed I did regret it; for I see that, if that letter indeed grieved you for an hour,^b ⁹now I rejoice, not because you grieved, but because you grieved unto repentance: for you grieved toward God, in order that you may receive damage by us in nothing. ¹⁰For a godly sorrow works repentance unto salvation not to be regretted; but the sorrow of the world works out death. ¹¹For behold, how great enthusiasm, yes, how great apology, yes, how great clearing up, yes, how great fear, yes, how great longing, yes, how great zeal, yes, how great avenging, this same godly sorrow did work in you! In everything you have established yourselves to be pure in the matter. ¹²Since then indeed I wrote to you, not on account of the one having done the wrong, nor on account of the one having suffered the wrong, but in order that your zeal, which is in our behalf to you before God, might be made manifest. ¹³Therefore we have been comforted. But we rejoiced the more exceedingly in our consolation over the joy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all: ¹⁴because if I have gloried with him in anything over you, I was not made ashamed; but as I spoke all things to you in truth, so our rejoicing over Titus was true.^c ¹⁵And the affections of him, remembering the obedience of you all, how you received him with fear and trembling, are the more abundantly towards you.^d ¹⁶I rejoice because in everything I have confidence in you.

By the example of the Macedonians, he commends the contribution which is being collected for the saints. He likewise recommends Titus, about to come for the sake of the collection.

¹But, brethren, we make known to you the grace^a of God which has been given in the churches of Macedonia; ²because in a great trial of affliction the abundance of their joy and deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their liberality. ³Because I witness, that according to their ability, and beyond their ability they were anxious, ⁴with much exhortation praying our favor and the fellowship of the ministry which is to the saints:^b and not as we hoped, but they gave themselves first to the Lord, and to us through the will of God: ⁵that we should exhort Titus, that as he formerly began it, he may indeed also complete this grace unto you.^c ⁷But as in every thing you abound, in faith, and in word, and knowledge, and in all zeal, and in divine love from you in us, that you may also abound in this philanthropy.^d ⁸I speak not according to commandment, but through the zeal of others also proving the sincerity of your divine love.^e ⁹For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, being rich, for your sakes he became poor, that you through his poverty might be made rich. ¹⁰And herein I give my judgement: for this is profitable to you, who not only began to do, but to be anxious, a year ago: ¹¹but now indeed complete the work; in order that as there was a promptitude of willing, there shall also be a completion out of your ability. ¹²For if there is first a willing mind, it is acceptable according to what one may have, and not according to what he has not. ¹³For it is not that there may be relief to others, affliction to you, but that it may be according to equality: at this time your abundance may correspond to their deficiency, ¹⁴that their abundance may correspond with your deficiency, in order that there may be equality: ¹⁵as has been written, He that had much did not superabound; and he that had little did not lack.^f

¹⁶But thanks be unto God, who gives this same enthusiasm in your behalf in the heart of Titus;^g ¹⁷because he indeed accepted our exhortation; and being the more enthusiastic, came unto you of his own accord. ¹⁸But we sent with him the brother^h whose praise in the gospel is through all the churches; ¹⁹not only so, but having been elected by the churches our traveling companion with this philanthropy, administered by us to the glory of the Lord himself, and your promptitude: ²⁰and avoiding this, lest any one may blame us in this benefaction administered by us:ⁱ ²¹for we provide things honest, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also before the people.^j ²²And we sent our brother^k along with him to them, whom we have tried, being frequently zealous in many things, but now much more zealous, with great confidence towards you. ²³Whether in behalf of Titus, my companion and fellow-laborer towards you; or our brethren, the apostles of the churches, the glory of Christ.¹ ²⁴Moreover manifesting the exhibition of your love, and our boasting to them in your behalf, in the face of the churches.

CHAPTER IX.

¹For indeed concerning the ministry which is to the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you.^a ²For I know your promptitude, of which I am boasting to the Macedonians in your behalf, that Achaia was ready a year ago; and your zeal has aroused many.^b ³But I sent the brethren, in order that our boasting which is in your behalf may not be in vain in this region; in order that, as I was saying, your were ready: ⁴lest perhaps, if the Macedonians may come with me, and find you unprepared, we may be put to shame, in this confidence, (that we may say not, you). ⁵Therefore I considered it necessary to exhort the brethren, that they may come to you beforehand, and perfect your preannounced benefaction, that it may be ready, as a benefaction, not as a stingy contribution.

⁶But it is this, he that soweth sparingly shall also reap sparingly;^c and he that soweth bountifully shall also reap bountifully.^d ⁷As each one has predetermined in his heart; not of reluctance, or of constraint: for God loves the hilarious giver.^e ⁸But God is able to make all grace abound unto you; in order that, always having all sufficiency in every thing, you may abound unto every good work: as has been written, ⁹He has scattered abroad, he has given to the poor; his righteousness abides forever.^f ¹⁰But he that gives seed to the sower, will also give bread to the eater, and multiply your sowing, and increase the fruits of your righteousness:^g ¹¹in every thing being enriched in all purity, which works out through us thanksgiving to God. ¹²Because the ministry of this free-will offering is not only supplying the deficiencies of the saints, but also superabounding through much thanksgiving to God;^h ¹³through the approval of this ministry, glorifying God in the submission of your testimony to the gospel of Christ, and the purity of your fellowship unto them and unto all; ¹⁴and through their prayer in your behalf, earnestly longing to see you on account of the grace of God superabounding unto you. ¹⁵Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable gift.ⁱ

CHAPTER X.

The Apostle the same present and absent. True glory.

2 CORINTHIANS X.

¹But I Paul exhort you through the meekness and gentleness of Christ, who before your face am indeed humble among you, but being absent am bold towards you:^a ²but I pray, that being present I may not be bold with the confidence with which I consider myself bold towards certain ones who regard us as walking about according to the flesh. ³For walking in the flesh, we do not wage war according to the flesh; ⁴for the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty to God unto the pulling down of strongholds; ⁵casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalts itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ; ⁶and being ready to avenge every disobedience, when your obedience may be complete.

⁷Do you look at things according to the outward appearance? If any has trusted to himself that he belongs to Christ, let him again consider this in reference to himself, that as he belongs to Christ, so do we also.^b ⁸For if I shall in any thing the more abundantly boast concerning our power which the Lord gave us for your edification, and not for your destruction, I will not be ashamed:^c ⁹in order that I may not seem as it were to terrify you by my letters. ¹⁰Because they say, His letters are indeed weighty and powerful; but the presence of his body is weak, and his speech contemptible. ¹¹Let such a one consider this, that, such as we are in word by our letters while absent, such we really are in work being present. ¹²For we are not bold to number or compare ourselves with certain ones of those who recommend themselves: but they, measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves to themselves, are not wise. ¹³But we will not boast in things without measure, but according to the measure of the rule which measure God has measured to us, to reach even unto you. ¹⁴For not as not reaching unto you do we stretch ourselves, for we have advanced in the gospel of Christ even unto you:^d ¹⁵and not boasting in things without measure, in the labors of others, but having hope of your faith increasing among you, to be magnified according to our rule exceedingly, ¹⁶to preach the gospel in the regions beyond you, not to glory according to the rule of others in things made ready. ¹⁷But he that glorieth,^e let him glory in the Lord;^f ¹⁸for he that commends himself is not approved, but whom the Lord commends.

CHAPTER XI.

Concerning the zeal of Paul about the Corinthians, and his remuneration not accepted. He glories against his calumniators in his heroic adventures and sufferings.

2 CORINTHIANS XI.

¹I would that you bear with me a little in my folly: yes indeed you do bear with me. ²For I am jealous of you with the jealousy of God: for I espoused you to one husband, to present you a pure virgin to Christ; ³but I fear, lest, as the serpent beguiled Eve by his craftiness, your minds may be corrupted from the simplicity which is in Christ.^a ⁴For if indeed one coming preaches another Jesus, whom we have not preached, or you receive another spirit, which you did not receive, or another gospel which you did not receive, well do you bear with him.^b ⁵For I consider that I am not inferior to the chief of the apostles.^c ⁶If indeed rude in speech, but not in knowledge; but in every thing making manifest unto you in all things. ⁷Did I commit sin humbling myself that you may be exalted, because I preached unto you the gospel of God gratuitously? ⁸I robbed other churches, having received support for your ministry, and being present with you and being destitute, I burdened no one; ⁹for the brethren, having come from Macedonia, supplied my deficiency;^d and in everything I rendered myself not burdensome to you, and will so render.^e ¹⁰The truth of Christ is in me, that this glorying shall not cease unto me in the regions of Achaia. ¹¹Why? because I do not love you with divine love? God knows. ¹²But what I am doing, I indeed will do, in order that I may cut off occasion from those wishing occasion, in order that in whatsoever they may glory, they may be found even as we are. ¹³For such are false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ. ¹⁴And no wonder; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light. ¹⁵Then it is no great wonder if his ministers are transformed as the ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works.^f

¹⁶Again I say, Let no one consider me to be a fool; but if not, receive me as a fool, in order that I may indeed glory some little. ¹⁷What I say, I am not saying according to the Lord, but as it were in folly, in this confidence of glorying. ¹⁸Since many glory in the flesh, I will glory also. ¹⁹For cheerfully do you, being wise, bear with the foolish: ²⁰for you bear with them, if any one enslaves you, if any one devours you, if any one captures you, if any one is exalted against you, if any one smites you in the face. ²¹I speak according to disparagement, as that we are weak; but in whatsoever any one is bold, (I speak it in folly,) I am bold also. ²²Are they Hebrews? I am also. Are they Israelites? I am also. Are they the seed of Abraham? I am also. ²³Are they the ministers of Christ? (I speak as a mad man,) I am more; in labors more abundantly, in stripes more abundantly, in prisons more frequently, in deaths often; ²⁴from the Jews five times I received forty stripes save one,^g ²⁵thrice was I beaten with rods,^h once was I stoned,ⁱ thrice was I shipwrecked,^j a day and a night I spent in the deep. ²⁶Often in journeys, in perils of rivers, in perils of robbers, in perils by my own race, in perils from the Gentiles, in perils in the city,^k in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren;^l ²⁷in labor and in toil, in vigils often, in hunger and in thirst, in fastings often, in cold and in nakedness. ²⁸Besides all these, that which comes upon me daily, the care of all the churches. ²⁹Who is weak, and I am not weak? who is offended, and I do not burn? ³⁰But if it behooves me to glory, I will glory in those things appertaining to my infirmities.^m ³¹The God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the one being blessed forever, knows that I lie not.ⁿ ³²In Damascus Areta the governor of the king, guarded the city of the Damascenes, to arrest me:^o ³³and through a window was I let down in a basket by the wall, and escaped his hands.^p

Celestial visions of Paul. The thorn in his flesh. The liberality of Paul toward the Corinthians. His speedy coming.

2 CORINTHIANS XII.

¹It behooves me to glory, indeed it is not profitable, I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord.^a ²I knew a man in Christ, fourteen years ago, whether in the body, I know not; whether out of the body, I know not, such a one having been caught up even to the third heaven.^b ³And I knew such a man, whether in the body, or out of the body, I know not; God knows, ⁴that he was caught up to Paradise, and heard unutterable words, which it is impossible for a man to speak.^c ⁵Concerning such a one I will glory: but concerning myself I will not glory, except in my infirmities. ⁶For if I shall wish to glory, I will not be a fool; for I speak the truth: but I fear, lest some one may consider with reference to me above what he sees me, or hears from me. ⁷And that I may not be exalted by the abundance of revelations, a thorn^d was given unto me in the flesh, the messenger of Satan that he may buffet me, in order that I may not be exalted. ⁸Three times I called on the Lord concerning this, that it may depart from me. ⁹And he said to me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for power^e is made perfect in weakness. Therefore most delightfully I will glory the more in my infirmities, in order that the power^e of Christ may abide on me. ¹⁰Therefore I delight in infirmities, in insults, in difficulties, in persecutions, and in tight places, for Christ's sake: for when I am without strength, then I am dynamite.

¹¹I have become a fool: you did compel me.^f For I ought to be commended by you: for I am not inferior to the very chief of the apostles, if indeed I am nothing.^g ¹²For indeed the signs of the apostleship are wrought in me in all patience, in miracles and in wonders and in dynamites.^h ¹³For what is that in which you are inferior to other churches, except that I did not burden you? forgive me this wrong. ¹⁴Behold, the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not spare: for I do not seek yours, but you. For the children ought not to lay up treasures for the parents, but the parents for the children.ⁱ ¹⁵But I will most delightfully spend and be spent for your souls. If the more abundantly I love you am I loved the less? ¹⁶But let it be so, I did not burden you; but, being crafty, I caught you with guile.^j ¹⁷Which one of those whom I sent unto you, did I fleece you through him? ¹⁸I called Titus, and sent the brother along with him: whether did Titus defraud you? did we not walk by the same Spirit? did we not in the same tracks?^k

¹⁹For a long time you were thinking that I am apologizing to you. We speak before God in Christ; but all things, beloved, are for your edification. ²⁰For I fear lest, having come, I may not find you as I wish, and may not be found by you as you wish; lest perhaps strife, jealousy, animosities, selfseekings, calumniations, eavesdroppings, inflations, outfallings, are among you;^l ²¹lest, I again having come, my God will humble me before you, and I will mourn over many of those having previously committed sins, and not having repented over the uncleanness and the fornication and debauchery which they have done.^m

The Epistle of Paul the Apostle

GALATIANS.

CHAPTER I.

After a severe salutation of the Galatians, he urges the divine truth of the gospel. Pristine life of Paul.

¹Paul, an apostle, not from men, nor through man, but through Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised him from the dead, ²and all the brethren who are with me, to the churches of Galatia.^a ³Grace to you and peace from God the Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ,^b ⁴who gave Himself for our sins, in order that he might redeem us from the present evil age, according to the will of God even our Father:^c ⁵To whom be glory unto the ages of the ages. Amen.^d ⁶I am astonished that you are so quickly removed from him who called you in the grace of Christ into another gospel; ⁷which is not another: but there are certain ones who are troubling you, and wishing to pervert the gospel of Christ.^e ⁸But indeed if we, or an angel from heaven, may preach unto you any other gospel except that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed.^f ⁹As we have before said, and now again I tell you, If any one preaches to you a gospel except that which you have received, let him be accursed.^g ¹⁰For must I now believe men, or God? whether do I seek to please men? if I were still pleasing men, I would not be the servant of Christ.

¹¹But I make known to you, brethren, the gospel was preached to me, that it is not according to a man; ¹²for I did not receive it from man, neither was I taught it, but through the revelation of Jesus Christ. ¹³For you have heard of my life formerly in Judaism, that I was persecuting the church of God exceedingly, and destroying it:^h ¹⁴and I was prominent in Judaism above many comrades in my race, being exceedingly zealous of the traditions of my fathers.ⁱ ¹⁵When the one having separated me, from the womb of my mother, and called me through his grace, was pleased ¹⁶to reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the Gentiles; immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood: ¹⁷neither did I go up to Jerusalem to those who were apostles before me; but I went away into Arabia; and returned again to Damascus.

¹⁸Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to see Cephas, and remained with him fifteen days; ¹⁹but I saw no other of the apostles, except James the brother of the Lord. ²⁰Which things moreover I write unto you, behold, before God, that I lie not. ²¹Then I went into the regions of Syria and Cilicia. ²²But I was unknown by face to the churches of Judea which are in Christ. ²³But they were only hearing that The one persecuting us at one time is now preaching the faith which he was once desolating; ²⁴and they continued to glorify God in me.

CHAPTER II.

Concerning the Jerusalem convention of the apostles and controversy of Paul with Peter at Antioch. Concerning the law and faith.

GALATIANS II.

¹Then after fourteen years, I again went up to Jerusalem with Barnabas, taking also Titus with me; ²but I went up according to revelation; and I presented to them the gospel which I am preaching among the Gentiles, but privately to the prominent ones, lest perhaps I am running, or did run, in vain. ³But neither was Titus the one with me, being a Greek, compelled to be circumcised: ⁴but on account of the false brethren having crept in, who came in to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, in order that they shall bring us into bondage: ⁵to whom I rendered not submission for an hour; in order that the truth of the gospel may abide with you. ⁶But of those seeming to be something what they were at that time makes ⁷no difference to me: God does not receive the face of man: ⁸for those seeming to me to be prominent added nothing extra: ⁹but on the contrary, seeing that I am intrusted with the gospel of the uncircumcision, like Peter of the circumcision ¹⁰for the one having wrought with Peter unto the apostleship of the circumcision also wrought with me unto the Gentiles: ¹¹and having known the grace of God which was given unto me, James and Cephas and John, who seem to be pillars, gave to me and Barnabas the right hand of fellowship, that we should go to the Gentiles, and they to the circumcision; ¹²only that we should remember the poor; which very thing I was also zealous to do. ¹³

¹⁴And when Cephas came into Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because he was to blame. ¹⁵For before certain ones came from James, he was eating along with the Gentiles: but when they came, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing those who were of the circumcision. ¹⁶And the rest of the Jews also reciprocated with him; so that even Barnabas was led away by their dissimulation. ¹⁷But when I saw that they are not walking uprightly according to the truth of the gospel, I said to Cephas in the presence of all, If you being a Jew are living like the Gentiles and not like the Jews, how do you compel the Gentiles to Judaize? ¹⁵We being Jews by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles,¹ knowing that a man is not justified by works of law, but through the faith of Christ Jesus,¹ and we have believed into Christ Jesus, in order that we may be justified by faith of Christ, and not by works of law, because by works of law no flesh shall be justified.^j ¹⁷But if seeking to be justified in Christ, we may also be found sinners, then is Christ the minister of sin? it could not be so. ¹⁸For if I again build the things which I have destroyed, I constitute myself a transgressor. ¹⁹For I through law died to law, in order that I may live unto God. ²⁰I am crucified along with Christ; and I live no longer, but Christ lives in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me.^k ²¹I do not make void the grace of God: for if righteousness was through law, then Christ died gratuitously.

CHAPTER III.

The Spirit by faith. The faith, and the sons of Abraham. The promise of God, the law, Christ. The law our educator. Christians and Abraham.

GALATIANS III.

¹O foolish Galatians, who has been bewitching you, before whose eyes Jesus Christ was set forth having been crucified? ²I only wish to learn this from you, Did you receive the Spirit by works of law, or by hearing of faith?^a ³Are you so foolish? having begun in the Spirit, are you now made perfect in the flesh? ⁴Have you suffered so many things in vain? if indeed in vain. ⁵Then did the one imparting to you the Spirit, and working miracles^b among you, do it by works of law, or by hearing of faith? ⁶As Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness.^c ⁷Then know that those who are of faith, the same are the sons of Abraham. ⁸But the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the Gentiles by faith, preached the gospel to Abraham beforehand, That in thee shall all the Gentiles be blessed.^d ⁹Therefore those who are of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham.^e ¹⁰For so many as are of works of law are under the curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one who does not abide in all things which have been written in the book of the law, to do the same.^f ¹¹But that no one is justified by law in the sight of God, is evident: because, The just shall live by faith:^g ¹²though the law is not of faith; but the one having done these things shall live in them.^h ¹³Christ has redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: because it has been written; Cursed is every one

¹⁵Brethren, I speak according to a man, nevertheless no one disannuls, or adds to, the covenant of a man which has been confirmed.^j ¹⁶But the promises were spoken to Abraham and his seed.^k He does not say, And unto seeds, as of many; but as of one; And thy seed, which is Christ.^l ¹⁷And I say this; The law which was given after four hundred and thirty years, does not disannul the covenant which had been before confirmed of God, so as to make the promise of none effect.^m ¹⁸For if the inheritance were by law, it is no more by promise: but God gave it to Abraham through the promise.ⁿ ¹⁹Then what is the law? It was added on account of the transgressions, until the seed to whom the promise was made should come; being ordained by angels in the hand of a mediator.^o ²⁰A mediator is not of one; but God is one.^p ²¹Then was the law against the promises of God? it could not be so.^q For if the law was given being able to create life, truly justification would have been by law: ²²but the scripture has shut up all things unto sin, in order that the promise through faith of Jesus Christ may be given to those who believe.^r ²³But before faith came, we were kept under law, being shut up to the faith about to be revealed. ²⁴Therefore the law became our schoolmaster to lead us to Christ, in order that we may be justified by faith;^s ²⁵but faith having come, we are no longer under the schoolmaster. ²⁶For you are all the sons of God, through faith, in Christ Jesus;^t ²⁷for so many of you as were baptized into Christ have put on Christ.^u ²⁸There is no longer Jew nor Greek, nor bond nor free, nor male and female:^v for you are all one in Christ Jesus. ²⁹But if you belong to Christ then you are the seed of Abraham, heirs according to the promise.^w might receive the adoption of sonship.^d ⁶But because you are sons, God has sent forth the Spirit of his own Son into our hearts, crying, Father, Father.^e ⁷So you are no longer a servant but a son; and if a son, truly an heir through God.^f

⁸But you indeed, not knowing God; at that time served those who by nature are not gods: ⁹but now having known God, and rather having become known of God, how do you turn again to the weak and beggarly elements which you wish to serve again as formerly?^g ¹⁰Do you keep days, and months, and times and years?^h ¹¹I fear lest I have labored unto you in vain.

¹²Be ye as I am, because I am as you are, brethren, I am praying for you. ¹³You have not injured me: you know that through weakness of the flesh I formerly preached the gospel unto you: ¹⁴and you did not despise, nor spit upon, your temptation in my flesh; but you received me as an angel of God, as Christ Jesus. ¹⁵Where then is your happiness? for I testify to you that, if possible, having plucked out your eyes, you would have given them to me.ⁱ ¹⁶Therefore have I become your enemy, telling you the truth? ¹⁷They zealously seek you in no good way; but they wish to exclude you, in order that you may zealously seek them. ¹⁸It is good always to be zealous in a good thing, and not only in my coming to you. ¹⁹My children, for whom I again travail in pain until Christ may be formed in you,^j ²⁰but I wish to come unto you now, and change my voice; because I am at a loss in reference to you.

²¹Tell me, you wish to be under law, do you not hear the law? ²²For it is written that Abraham had two sons; one by a bond-maid and one by a freewoman.^k ²³But the one indeed of the bond-maid was born according to the flesh, and the one of the freewoman through the promise.^l ²⁴Which things are allegorized: for these are the two covenants; the one indeed from mount Sinai, generating children into bondage, which is Hagar. ²⁵For this mount Sinai is in Arabia, and corresponds with Jerusalem which now is: for she is in bondage with her children. ²⁶But Jerusalem who is above is free, who is our mother:^m ²⁷for it is written, Rejoice, thou barren one who does not bring forth; break forth and cry aloud, thou that dost not travail: because many more are the children of the barren than of her having a husband.ⁿ ²⁸But you, brethren, are the children of Isaac, according to the promise.^o ²⁹But as the one at that time having been born according to the flesh persecuted the one according to the Spirit, even so it is now. ³⁰But what says the scripture? Cast out the bondwoman and her son: for the son of the bondwoman shall not inherit with the son of the free.^p ³¹Therefore, brethren, we are not the children of the bondwoman, but of the free.

CHAPTER V.

It is necessary to stand in Christian liberty against the Judaizers. The law of liberty is fulfilled by faith, love, and holiness.

GALATIANS V.

¹Christ has set you free with freedom. Therefore stand, and be not again entangled with the yoke of bondage. ²Behold I Paul say unto you, that, if you may be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing. ³And again I witness to every man who is circumcised, that he is debtor to do the whole law. ⁴You have been divorced from Christ, whosoever are justified by law; you have fallen from grace.^a ⁵For we through the Spirit do await the hope of righteousness through faith. ⁶For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision or uncircumcision avails anything; but faith working through divine love.^b ⁷You were running well; who did hinder you that you should not obey the truth?^c ⁸The persuasion is not of the one calling you. ⁹A little leaven leavens the whole lump.^d ¹⁰I have confidence in reference to you in the Lord, that you shall be none otherwise minded: but the one troubling you shall bear the judgment, whosoever he may be.^e ¹¹But I, brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why do I still suffer persecution? then the offence of the cross would be done away. ¹²I would that those troubling you shall indeed cut themselves off.

¹³For you were called unto liberty, brethren; only use not the liberty unto an occasion to the flesh, but through divine love serve one another. ¹⁴For the whole law has been fulfilled in one word, in this; Thou shalt love thy neighbor with divine love as thyself.^f ¹⁵But if you bite and devour one another, take heed that you may not be consumed one of another.

¹⁶And I say, Walk about in the Spirit, and do not perfect the lust of carnality. ¹⁷For carnality wars against the Spirit, and the Spirit against carnality; for these are antagonistical to one another; so that you may not do the things which you may wish. ¹⁸But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under law.^g ¹⁹But the works of carnality are manifest, which are fornication, uncleanness, debauchery, ²⁰idolatry, sorcery, enmities, strife, jealousy, animosities, selfseekings, divisions, heresies, ²¹envyings, drunkenness, revellings, and things like unto these: which I tell you beforehand, as I did previously say to you, that those doing such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.^h ²²But the fruit of the Spirit is divine love, joy, peace, long suffering, kindness, goodness, faith, ²³meekness, holiness;ⁱ against such things there is no law. ²⁴But those belonging to Christ Jesus have crucified carnality^j with the passions and lusts. ²⁵If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit. ²⁶Let us not be fond of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

CHAPTER VI.

*It is our duty to give counsel to the erring. The seed and the harvest.
Concerning false doctrine. We are to glory only in the cross of Christ.*

GALATIANS VI.

¹Brethren, if indeed a man may be overtaken in some transgression, you who are spiritual, perfect such an one in the spirit of meekness; watching yourself, lest you may also be tempted. ²Bear the burdens of one another, and so fulfill the law of Christ.^a ³For if any one seems to be something, being nothing, he deceives himself. ⁴But let each one prove his own work, and then he shall have rejoicing to himself alone, and not to another; ⁵for each one shall bear his own responsibility.^b

⁶But let the one who is taught the word communicate to the one teaching in all good things.^c ⁷Be not deceived; God is not mocked. For whatsoever a man may sow, that shall he also reap:^d ⁸because the one sowing to his own flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but the one sowing to the Spirit, shall of the Spirit reap eternal life. ⁹But let us not get weary doing that which is good: for in due time we will reap, fainting not.^e ¹⁰Then therefore, as we have opportunity, let us do good to all, especially to those who are of the household of faith. ¹¹You see with how large letters I have written unto you with my own hand. ¹²So many as wish to make a fair show in the flesh, these compel you to be circumcised; only that they do not suffer persecution on account of the cross of Christ. ¹³For neither do those who are circumcised keep the law; but they wish you to be circumcised, in order that they may glory in your flesh. ¹⁴But it would be impossible for me to glory, except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by which the world has been crucified to me, and I to the world: ¹⁵for neither is circumcision anything, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature.^f ¹⁶And so many as shall walk by this rule, peace and mercy be unto them, and unto the Israel of God. ¹⁷Finally let no one give me troubles: for I bear in my own body the marks of Jesus.

¹⁸The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, brethren:

EPHESIANS.

CHAPTER I.

He celebrates the blessings of God in behalf of the elect. He prays that they may come to know the wonderful salvation through Christ, and the majesty of Christ himself.

EPHESIANS I.

¹Paul, the apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, to the saints who are in Ephesus, and to the faithful in Christ Jesus.^a ²Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.^b

³Blessed is the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the one having blessed us with all spiritual blessing in the heavenlies in Christ:^c ⁴as he elected us in himself before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and blameless in his presence.^d ⁵in love having predestinated us unto the adoption of sons unto himself through Jesus Christ, according to the good pleasure of his will, ⁶unto the praise of the glory of his grace, with which he has blessed us in the Beloved: ⁷in whom we have redemption through his blood, the remission of transgressions, according to the riches of his grace,^e ⁸which he has abounded unto us in all wisdom and understanding, ⁹having made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his own good pleasure,^f which he purposed in himself ¹⁰in the economy of the fulness of the times,^g to rehead all things in Christ, those in the heavens, and those upon the earth; in him,^h ¹¹in whom we were also chosen by lot, having been predestinated according to the purpose of him who works all things within us according to the counsel of his own will;ⁱ ¹²that we should be unto the praise of his glory, who first exercised hope in Christ: ¹³in whom you also, having heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation, in whom, also having believed, you were sealed with the Holy Spirit of promise,^j ¹⁴who is the earnest of our salvation, unto the redemption of the possession, unto the praise of his glory.

Jesus, and your love which is toward all the saints,^k ¹⁶I do not cease giving thanks for you making mention of you in my prayers;^l ¹⁷in order that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of the glory, may grant unto you the spirit of wisdom and of revelation in the perfect knowledge of himself; ¹⁸the eyes of your heart having been enlightened, that you may know what is the hope of his calling, what the riches of the glory of his inheritance among the saints,^m ¹⁹and what the excellent majesty of his power toward us who believe, according to the working of the power of his might ²⁰which he has wrought in Christ, raising him from the dead, and seating him on his right hand in the heavenlies,ⁿ ²¹above all government, and authority, and power,^o and lordship, and every name named, not only in this age, but in the age to come:^p ²²and has subordinated all things beneath his feet, and given him to be head over all things to the church, ²³which is his body, the fulness of him who fills all things in all.^q

CHAPTER II.

Christ the salvation of sinners. The Gentiles themselves are called to the peace of Christ.

EPHESIANS II.

¹You, who were dead in trespasses and in your sins,^a ²in which at one time you walked about according to the age of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit which is now working in the sons of disobedience;^b ³among whom we all indeed at one time lived in the lusts of our flesh, doing the will of the flesh and of the thoughts, and we were by nature the children of wrath, like the rest also:^c ⁴but God, being rich in mercy, on account of his great love with which he loved us, ⁵created life in us in Christ, who were dead in trespasses,^d by grace you have been saved, ⁶and he has raised you up, and caused you to sit in the heavenlies, in Christ Jesus:^e ⁷in order that he may show in coming ages the superabounding riches of his grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus. ⁸For by grace you have been saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: ⁹not of works, in order that no one may boast: ¹⁰for we are his workmanship, having been created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God before prepared that we should walk in them.^f

¹¹Therefore remember, that when you were Gentiles in the flesh, called Uncircumcision by that which is called Circumcision, made in the flesh with hands;^g ¹²because you were at that time without Christ, being alienated from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers of the covenants of the promise, having no hope and being atheists in the world.^h ¹³But now you are in Christ Jesus, who being at one time far off have been made nigh by the blood of Christ. ¹⁴For he is our peace, the one having made both one, and having broken down the middle wall of partition, ¹⁵having destroyed the law of commandments in ordinances,ⁱ through his flesh, the enmity, in order that He might create the two in himself into one new man,^j making peace; ¹⁶and that he may reconcile both in one body to God through the cross, having slain the enmity on it.^k ¹⁷And having come he preached the gospel of peace to you, who were far away, and peace to them who were nigh:^l ¹⁸because through him we both have access in one Spirit to the Father.^m ¹⁹Then therefore you are no longer strangers and sojourners, but fellow-citizens of the saints, and members of the household of God, ²⁰having been built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief cornerstone,ⁿ ²¹in whom the entire edifice, being assimilated, increases into a holy temple in the Lord; ²²in whom also you are built together into a habitation of God in the Spirit.^o

CHAPTER III.

Mystery concerning the salvation of the Gentiles. Paul the Apostle of the Gentiles. Christ dwelling in the souls.

EPHESIANS III.

¹Therefore I Paul, the prisoner of Christ for the sake of you Gentiles,^a ²if indeed you have heard the economy of the grace of God which is given to me unto you; ³that according to revelation the mystery was made known to me, as I formerly wrote to you briefly,^b ⁴according to which you, reading, are able to know my understanding in the mystery of Christ;^c ⁵which in other generations was not made known to the sons of men, as it is now revealed to his holy apostles and prophets through the Spirit;^d ⁶that the Gentiles are to be fellow-heirs, and the same body, and partakers of the promise of Christ Jesus through the gospel, ⁷whose minister I became, according to the gift of the grace of God which was given unto me; according to the working of his power.^e ⁸To me, the least of all saints, was this grace given, to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ;^f ⁹and to shine forth what is the economy of the mystery which has been hidden from the ages in God who created all things;^g ¹⁰in order that the manifold wisdom of God through the church, may now be made known to the governments and authorities in the heavenlies, ¹¹according to the purpose of the ages which he made in Christ Jesus our Lord.^h ¹²In whom we have boldness and access with confidence through the faith of him.ⁱ

¹³Therefore I ask that you faint not in my tribulations in your behalf, which is your glory. ¹⁴For this cause I bow my knees to the Father, ¹⁵of whom the whole family in heavens and upon earth is named, ¹⁶in order that he may grant unto you, according to the riches of his glory, that you be strengthened with might^j by his Spirit in the inner man; ¹⁷that Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; ¹⁸being rooted and grounded in divine love, in order that you may be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth and length and depth and height, ¹⁹and to know the divine love of Christ which transcends knowledge, in order that you may be filled with all the fulness of God.

²⁰And to him who is able to do exceedingly above all things which we ask or think, according to the power^k working in us, ²¹to him be glory in the church indeed in Christ Jesus unto all the generations of the age of the ages: Amen.

CHAPTER IV.

The unity of the faith is to be conserved in the variety of the gifts of grace. The Church, the body of Christ. The new life conspicuous in our entire deportment.

EPHESIANS IV.

¹Therefore I, the prisoner in the Lord, exhort you to walk worthily of the calling with which you are called,^a ²with all humility and meekness, with long suffering, forbearing one another in divine love; ³endeavoring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.^b ⁴There is one body and one Spirit, as ye indeed are called in one hope of your calling; ⁵one Lord, one faith, one baptism,^c ⁶one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and above you all, and in all. ⁷And to each one of you grace is given according to the measure of the gift of Christ. ⁸Therefore he says, Having ascended upon high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts to the people.^d ⁹But what is that which ascended, except that which descended into the lower parts of the earth? ¹⁰But the one having descended and the one having ascended above all the heavens, that he might fill all things, is the same. ¹¹And he gave some, apostles; some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers;^e ¹²unto the perfection of the saints, in the work of the ministry, in the edification of the body of Christ: ¹³until we may all come into the unity of the faith, and of the perfect knowledge of the Son of God, into a perfect man, into the measure of the likeness of the fulness of Christ: ¹⁴in order that we may be no longer infants, tossed by the waves and carried about by every wind of teaching, in the caprice of the people, in their craftiness, pursuant to their method of delusion; ¹⁵but speaking the truth in divine love, let us grow up in him in all things, who is the head, Christ;^f ¹⁶from whom the whole body, being assimilated and knitted together through every joint of the supply, according to the working in each several part, makes increase of the body in the edification of itself in divine love.^g

¹⁷Therefore I say this, and witness in the Lord, that you no longer walk about as the Gentiles also walk about in the vanity of their mind, ¹⁸being darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God through the ignorance being in themselves, on account of the blindness of their heart;^h ¹⁹who being past feeling have given themselves up to debauchery, unto the working of all impurity with greediness. ²⁰But you did not so learn Christ; ²¹if indeed ye have heard him, and been taught in him, as the truth is in Jesus: ²²that with reference to your former life, you are to lay aside the old man, who is corrupt in the lusts of deception;ⁱ ²³and to be renewed in the spirit of your mind, ²⁴and to put on the new man, who has been created in harmony with God in the righteousness and holiness of the truth.

²⁵Therefore, having laid aside lying, speak the truth each one with his neighbors:^j because we are members of one another. ²⁶Be ye angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your provocation:^k ²⁷neither give place to the devil. ²⁸Let the one stealing steal no more: but rather let him labor, with his own hands doing that which is good, that he may have to give to the one having need. ²⁹Let no corrupt communication go forth out of your mouth, but if anything is good unto edification of need, in order that he may give grace to those who hear. ³⁰And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, by whom you were sealed unto the day of redemption.^l ³¹Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamor, and blasphemy, depart from you, with all evil.^m ³²But be ye kind toward one another, merciful, forgiving one another, as indeed God in Christ forgave you.

CHAPTER V.

God is to be imitated in love. It is necessary to study the integrity of life. The fruit of light. We are to deport ourselves prudently and piously. To wives and husbands. The mystery of matrimony.

EPHESIANS V.

¹Therefore be ye imitators of God, as beloved children; ²and walk about in divine love, as Christ also loved you, and gave himself for you, an offering and a sacrifice to God for an odor of sweet savor.^a ³But all fornication, and uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be named among you, as it becomes saints;^b ⁴and indecorum, or foolish talking, or indecent jesting, which is not becoming, but rather the giving of thanks: ⁵for you are knowing this, that no fornicator, or unclean person, or covetous, who is an idolater, has an inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.^c ⁶Let no one deceive you with empty words: for through these the wrath of God comes on the sons of disobedience. ⁷Therefore be not partakers along with them. ⁸For at one time ye were darkness, but now ye are light in the Lord: walk about as children of the light,^d ⁹(for the fruit of the light is in all goodness and righteousness and truth),^e ¹⁰proving what is acceptable to the Lord; ¹¹and have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather indeed convict them.^f ¹²For it is disgraceful even to speak of those things which are done by them in concealment: ¹³but all things being convicted by the light are made manifest; for everything made manifest is light. ¹⁴Therefore he says, Awake, thou sleeper, and arise from the dead, and Christ will shine upon thee.^g ¹⁵Therefore see how you walk about circumspectly, not as unwise, but wise;^h ¹⁶buying in the opportunity, because the days are evil. ¹⁷Therefore be not unwise, but understand whatsoever is the will of the Lord. ¹⁸Be not drunk with wine, in which there is riot, but be ye filled with the Spirit; ¹⁹speaking one to another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord,ⁱ ²⁰always giving thanks for all things in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to God, even the Father;^j ²¹being submissive to one another in the fear of Christ. ²²Wives, be submissive to your own husbands, as to the Lord, ²³because the husband is the head of the wife, as Christ is also the head of the church, being himself the saviour of the body,^k ²⁴But as the church is submissive to Christ, so also let the wives be to their husbands in everything.^l ²⁵Husbands, love your wives with divine love, as Christ also loved the church with divine love, and gave himself for her; ²⁶in order that he might sanctify her, having purified her by the washing of water through the word, ²⁷in order that he might present to himself the glorious church, having not spot or wrinkle or any of such things; but that she might be holy and blameless.^m ²⁸So the husbands ought to love their own wives with divine love as their own bodies. The one loving his own wife is loving himself: ²⁹for no one ever yet hated his own flesh; but he nourishes and cherishes it, as Christ also the church; ³⁰because we are members of his body: ³¹on account of this a man shall leave his father and mother and cleave unto his wife; and they two shall be one flesh.ⁿ ³²This is a great mystery: but I speak in reference to Christ and the church. ³³Moreover you also each one thus love his own wife with divine love as himself; and that the wife also reverence the husband.

EPHESIANS VI.

¹Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right.^a ²Honor your father and mother, which is the first commandment with promise,^b that it may be well with you, and you may live long upon the earth.^b ⁴And fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the Lord.^c

⁵Ye servants,^d obey those who are your masters according to the flesh, with fear and trembling, in purity of your heart, as unto Christ; ⁶not with eyeservice, as menpleasers, but as the servants of Christ doing the will of God from the soul;^e ⁷serving with good will as the Lord, and not men: ⁸knowing that if each one may do good, he will receive this with the Lord, whether bond or free.^f ⁹And, ye masters, do the same things to them, forbearing threatening: knowing that their Master and yours is in the heavens, and that there is no respect of persons with him.^g

¹⁰Finally, be filled up with dynamite in the Lord, and in the power of his might. ¹¹Put on the panoply of God, that you may be able to stand against the methods of the devil, ¹²because there is not to us fighting against blood and flesh, but against the governments, against the authorities, against the world-rulers of this darkness, against the spirits of wickedness in the heavenlies. ¹³Therefore take the panoply of God, that you may be able to stand in the evil day, and having done all things, to stand. ¹⁴Stand therefore, being girded about as to your loins with truth, and being invested with the breastplate of righteousness, ¹⁵and being shod as to your feet with the preparation of the gospel of peace;^h ¹⁶in all things taking the shield of faith, with which you shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked one. ¹⁷And receive the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God:ⁱ ¹⁸praying with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit in every place, and watching unto this same thing in all perseverance and prayer for all the saints, ¹⁹and for me that the word may be given unto me in opening of my mouth, boldly to make known the mystery of the gospel, ²⁰for which I am an ambassador in chain; in order that in it I may preach boldly, as it behooves me to speak.^j

PHILIPPIANS.

CHAPTER I.

He gratefully and lovingly cares for the salvation of the Philippians. The fruit of the chains of Paul. For the sake of the church he prefers to live rather than to die. It is necessary to suffer in behalf of Christ.

PHILIPPIANS I.

¹Paul and Timothy, the servants of Jesus Christ, to all the saints who are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons.^a ²Grace and peace unto you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.^b ³I thank my God for every mention of you, ⁴always in all my prayer with joy making supplication,^c ⁵for your fellowship in the gospel from the first day until now; ⁶having confidence as to this same thing, that the one having begun a good work in you will perfect it unto the day of Jesus Christ: ⁷as it is righteous for me to think in behalf of you all, because I have you in my heart, both in my bonds and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, that you are all my fellow-partakers of the grace. ⁸For God is my witness, how I long after you in the affections of Jesus Christ.^d ⁹And I pray this, that your divine love may yet more and more abound in perfect knowledge and all understanding; ¹⁰in order that you may distinguish those things which differ; that you may be pure^e and without offence in the day of Christ; ¹¹being filled with the fruit of righteousness, through Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.

¹²But I wish you, brethren, to know that the affairs appertaining to me have turned out rather unto the promotion of the gospel. ¹³So that my bonds in Christ are manifest in all the pretorian army, and to all the rest; ¹⁴and many of the brethren in the Lord, being confident through my bonds, are bold to speak the word of God more fluently without fear. ¹⁵Some indeed through envy and strife, and some through good will, are preaching Christ: ¹⁶the latter from divine love, knowing that I am set for the defence of the gospel: ¹⁷the former from self-seeking are proclaiming Christ insincerely, thinking that they will add affliction to my bonds. ¹⁸For what is it? moreover that in every place, whether in pretext or in truth, Christ is proclaimed; and I rejoice in this, yes, and I will rejoice. ¹⁹For I know that this will turn out to me unto salvation, through your prayer and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ, ²⁰according to my earnest expectation and hope, that I shall be ashamed in nothing, but with all boldness, as always, even now Christ will be magnified in my body, whether by life, or by death. ²¹For Christ is my life, and death is my gain. ²²But if to live in the flesh, this shall be to me the fruit of the work, indeed I know not what I shall ask. ²³But I am in a strait between two, having a desire to depart and to be with Christ; for this is far better: ²⁴but to remain in the flesh is safer on account of you. ²⁵And having confidence in this, I know that I shall abide with you all, unto your promotion and the joy of your faith; ²⁶in order that your rejoicing in Christ Jesus may abound in me through my coming again unto you.

²⁷Only live worthily of the gospel of Christ: in order that, whether coming and seeing you or being absent, I hear those things concerning you, that you are standing in one spirit, with one soul contending for the faith of the gospel; ²⁸and not being intimidated in anything by the adversaries: which is to them the manifestation of destruction, but of your salvation, and this is from God; ²⁹because the blessing is conferred on you in behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but indeed to suffer for him: ³⁰having the same conflict as you saw in me, and now hearing me.

CHAPTER II.

We are to love the example of Christ. The humility and glory of Christ. Salvation is to be sought with every care. Praises of Timothy and Epaphroditus.

PHILIPPIANS II.

¹If then there is any consolation in Christ, if there is any comfort of divine love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any affection and mercies, ²fill my joy, that you may think the same thing, having the same divine love, being like-minded, thinking this one thing;^a ³that nothing is to be according to self-seeking nor according to vain glory, but in humility esteeming one another better than yourselves; ⁴looking not each after your own interests, but each after that of others.^b ⁵Think the same thing among yourselves, which is also in Christ Jesus: ⁶who, being in the form of God, thought it not usurpation to be equal with God,^b but he humbled himself, having taken the form of a servant,^c being in the likeness of men; and having been found in fashion like a man;^d ^ehe humbled himself, being obedient even unto death, yea, the death of the cross. ^fTherefore God has indeed exalted him, and given him a name above every name; ^gthat at the name of Jesus every knee must bow, of things in heaven and things upon the earth and things beneath the earth,^e ^hand every tongue shall confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, unto the glory of God the Father.

ⁱSo, my beloved brethren, as you have always harkened, not only in my presence, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling;^f ^gfor God is the one working in you both to will and to do, of his own good pleasure. ^hDo all things without murmurings and disputations;^g ⁱin order that you may be blameless and pure,^h the children of God, irreproachable, amid a crooked and perverse generation, among whom you shine as lights in the world, ^jhaving the word of life; unto my boasting in the day of Christ, because I did not run in vain, neither did I labor in vain.¹ ^kBut if indeed I am poured out^j for a sacrifice and an offering for your faith, I rejoice, and rejoice along with you all; ^lbut you also rejoice in this same thing, and rejoice along with me.^k ^mBut I hope in the Lord Jesus, speedily to send unto you Timothy, in order that I may also be delighted, having learned the things concerning you. ⁿFor I have no one like-minded, who will nobly remember the things concerning you; ^ofor all are seeking after their own, and not the things of Jesus Christ. ^pBut you know his integrity, that, as a child a father, he served along with me in the gospel.¹ ^qIndeed then I hope to send him, so soon as I may learn the things concerning myself: ^rbut I trust in the Lord that I myself will come speedily.

^sBut I thought it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother and fellow-laborer and fellow-soldier, and apostle and the minister of my necessity; ^tsince he was longing after you all, and grieving, because you heard that he was sick. ^uFor he was indeed nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not only him, but me also, in order that I may not have sorrow upon sorrow. ^vTherefore I the more diligently, in order that, seeing him, you may rejoice again, and I may not be without sorrow. ^wThen receive him in the Lord with all joy, and have such in honor: ^xbecause he was nigh unto death on account of the work of Christ, having jeopardated his life, in order that he might fulfill your deficiency of ministry towards me.^m

PHILIPPIANS III.

¹Finally, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord.^a To write the same things to you indeed is not burdensome to me, but it is safe to you. ²Beware of dogs,^b beware of the evil workers, beware of the counterfeit circumcision.^c ³For we are the circumcision, who serve the Spirit of God, and boast in Christ Jesus, also having no confidence in the flesh: ⁴even though also having confidence in the flesh. If any other one seems to have confidence in the flesh, I the more: ⁵in circumcision the eighth day, of the race of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of the Hebrews; as touching the law, a Pharisee;^d ⁶in reference to zeal, persecuting the church, according to righteousness which was in the law being blameless.^e ⁷Those things which were gained to me, these I counted loss for the sake of Christ. ⁸Yes truly, I even counted all things loss on account of the excellency of Christ Jesus my Lord, for the sake of whom I suffer the loss of all things, and I consider them but excrements, that I may gain Christ, ⁹and may be found in him, not having my own righteousness, which is of law, but that which is through faith of Christ, the righteousness of God through faith: ¹⁰to know him, and the power^f of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death;^g ¹¹if perchance I may attain unto the resurrection which is out from the dead.^h

¹²Not that I already received it, or have already been made perfect: ¹³but I persevere, if I may receive that for which I have indeed been received by Christ Jesus. ¹⁴Brethren, I do not consider that I have yet received it; ¹⁵but there is one thing, indeed forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forward to those which are before, I press toward the goal unto the mark of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.^j ¹⁶Therefore let us, so many as are perfect,^k think the same thing: and if you think otherwise in any respect, God will also reveal this to you: ¹⁷only, whereunto we have already attained, to walk by the same rule.^l

¹⁸Be ye my imitators, brethren, and mark those thus walking about as you have us an example. ¹⁹For many walk about, of whom I frequently spoke to you, and now I speak even weeping, the enemies of the cross of Christ: ²⁰whose end is destruction, whose God is their stomach, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things. ²¹For our citizenship is in the heavens; whence we are indeed looking for our Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ: ²²who will transform the body of our humility, similitudinous to the body of his own glory, according to the energy by which he is able indeed to subdue all things to himself.

Exhortations. He praises the munificence of the Philippians. Vows and salutations.

PHILIPPIANS IV.

¹So, my beloved and longed for brethren, my joy and my crown, stand fast in the Lord, beloved.

²I exhort, Eurdia, and I exhort Syntyche, to think the same thing in the Lord. ³Yea, I also entreat thee, noble yoke-fellow, assist those women, whosoever labored with me in the gospel, both along with Clement, and the rest of my fellow-workers, whose names are in the book of life.

⁴Rejoice in the Lord always: I say to you again, Rejoice.^a ⁵Let your clemency be made known to all men; the Lord is nigh. ⁶Be solicitous about nothing; but in all prayer and supplication, let your request be made known to God. ⁷And the peace of God, that passes all understanding, will keep your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus.

⁸Finally, brethren, so many things as are true, so many things as are noble, so many things as are righteous, so many things as are pure, so many things as are lovely, so many things as are of good report; if there is any virtue, and if there is any praise, think on these things. ⁹Whosoever things you have indeed learned and received and heard and seen in me, do the same: and the God of peace will be with you.^b

¹⁰But I greatly rejoice in the Lord, because indeed you have at length revived to think about me; in whatsoever you indeed were thinking, nevertheless you lacked opportunity. ¹¹Not that I speak concerning deficiency: for I have learned to be content with those things amid which I am. ¹²I indeed know how to be poor, and I know how to abound: in every thing and in all things I learned both to flourish and to be poor, both to abound and to be destitute. ¹³I can do all things through him who fills me up with dynamite.^c ¹⁴Moreover you did beautifully, communicating with my tribulation. ¹⁵And you indeed know, O Philippians, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I came out from Macedonia, no church communicated with me in the word of giving and receiving, except you alone;^d ¹⁶because also in Thessalonica both once and twice you sent to my need. ¹⁷Not that I seek a gift; but I seek fruit abounding to your credit. ¹⁸But I have all things, and I abound: I am full, having received from Epaphroditus those things from you, an odor of a sweet savor, a sacrifice acceptable, well-pleasing to God. ¹⁹But my God will supply all your need according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus. ²⁰To God even our Father be the glory unto the ages of the ages. Amen.

The Epistle of Paul the Apostle

COLOSSIANS.

CHAPTER I.

He praises the Colossians, with Epaphras their teacher, exhorting them to persevere. The divine dignity of Christ, the Redeemer of all men. Paul rejoicing in his labors.

COLOSSIANS I.

¹Paul, the apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and brother Timothy, ²to the saints who are in Colossæ and the faithful brethren in Christ. Grace to you and peace from God our Father.^a

³We give thanks to God even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, always praying for you, ⁴having heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and the divine love which you have toward all the saints,^b ⁵on account of the hope which awaits you in the heavens, which you heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel,^c ⁶having come to you, as it is indeed in the whole world bearing fruit and increasing, as also among you, from the day on which you heard and have known the grace of God in truth; ⁷as you have learned from Epaphras our beloved brother, who is the faithful minister of Christ in your behalf,^d ⁸who also having revealed to us your divine love in the Spirit. ⁹Therefore we, from the day on which we heard, do not cease praying for you, and asking that you may be filled with the perfect knowledge of his will in all wisdom, and spiritual understanding,^e ¹⁰that you may walk worthily of the Lord in all loyalty, in every good work bearing fruit, and increasing in the perfect knowledge of God,^f ¹¹being impowered with all power,^g according to the might of his glory, in all patience and longsuffering with joy; ¹²giving thanks to the Father, who has made us worthy unto a participation of the inheritance of the saints in light; ¹³who delivered us from the power of darkness, and transplanted us into the kingdom of the Son of his love; ¹⁴in whom we have redemption, the remissions of sins:^h ¹⁵who is the image of the invisible God, being the first begotten of all creation,ⁱ ¹⁶because in him all things are created, in the heavens and upon the earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or lordships or governments or au-

²⁴Now I rejoice in sufferings in your behalf, and am filling up the residue of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh in behalf of his body, which is the church; ²⁵whose minister I became, according to the economy of God which was given to me unto you, to fulfill the word of God,^r ²⁶the mystery which has been hidden from ages and from the generations: but is now made manifest to his saints, ²⁷to whom God willed to make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles, who is Christ in you, the hope of glory:^s ²⁸whom we preach, admonishing every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, in order that we may present every man perfect in Christ; ²⁹unto which I also labor, agonizing according to his energy, working in me with power.^t

COLOSSIANS II.

¹For I wish you to know how great a conflict I have in behalf of you, and those in Laodicea, and so many as have not seen my face in the flesh;^a ²in order that their hearts may be comforted, being knitted together in divine love, and in all the riches of the full assurance of understanding, unto the perfect knowledge of the mystery of God, of Christ, ³in whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.^b ⁴I say this in order that no one may deceive you with a persuasive speech. ⁵For if I am absent in the flesh, but I am present with you in spirit,^c rejoicing and seeing your order, and the establishment of your faith toward Christ. ⁶Therefore as you received Christ Jesus the Lord, walk about in him.

The First Epistle of Paul the Apostle

THESSALONIANS.

CHAPTER I.

The Thessalonians are made a noble example of faith.

I THESSALONIANS I.

¹Paul, and Silvanus, and Timothy, to the church of the Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. Grace to you and peace.^a ²We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention in our prayers;^b ³incessantly remembering your work of faith and labor of love and patience of hope of our Lord Jesus Christ, before God even our Father;^c ⁴knowing, brethren beloved of God, your election, ⁵because our gospel came not unto you in word only, but in power,^d and in the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance; as you know what sort we were among you for your sakes. ⁶And you became imitators of us, and the Lord, having received the word in much tribulation, with the joy of the Holy Ghost;^e ⁷so that you are an example to all the believers in Macedonia and in Achaia. ⁸For from you the word of the Lord echoed out, not only in Macedonia and in Achaia, but in every place your faith which is towards God has gone forth; so that we have no need to say any thing: ⁹for they proclaim concerning what kind of reception we had unto you; and how you turned to God from the idols, to serve the true and the living God,^f ¹⁰and to await his Son out of the heavens, whom he raised from the dead, Jesus the one delivering us from the wrath to come.

were bold in our God to speak to you the gospel of God in much conflict.^a ³For our exhortation was not from delusion, nor from impurity, nor in guile: ⁴but as we were approved of God that the gospel should be intrusted unto us, so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God who is proving our hearts.^b ⁵For at that time we were not in word of flattery, as you know, nor in a pretext of covetousness, God is our witness;^c ⁶nor seeking glory from men, nor from you, nor from others, being able to be burdensome, as the apostles of Christ;^d ⁷but we were gentle in the midst of you, as if a nurse may cherish her children; ⁸being so desirous of you, that we are anxious not only to give the gospel of God, but our own souls, because you are beloved unto us. ⁹For you remember, brethren, our labor and toil: night and day working, that we should burden no one of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God.^e ¹⁰You are witnesses, and God, how sacredly and righteously and blamelessly we were unto you who believed: ¹¹as you know, exhorting each one of you, as a father of his own children, and comforting you,^f ¹²and testifying, that you walk worthily of God, who calls you into his own kingdom and glory.^g ¹³And on account of this we also give thanks to God incessantly, because, receiving the word of God from us by hearing, you received it not as the word of men, but, as it truly is, the word of God, who indeed works in you who believe.^h ¹⁴For ye, brethren, became imitators of the churches of God which are in Judea in Jesus Christ: because you suffered the same things from your fellow tribes, as they also from the Jews; ¹⁵who even killed the Lord Jesus and the prophets, and persecuted us, and are displeasing to God, and hostile to all men; ¹⁶forbidding that we should speak to the Gentiles in order that they may be saved; that they mayⁱ fill up their sins always: but the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

¹⁷But, brethren, we having been absent from you for the space of an hour, in presence, not in heart, we were the more exceedingly anxious to see your face with much desire. ¹⁸Because we wish to come to you, I Paul indeed both once and twice; and Satan hindered me. ¹⁹For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of rejoicing, except you, in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at his coming? ²⁰For you are our glory and joy.

know that for this we are appointed. ⁴For indeed, when we were with you, we foretold you that we are about to suffer tribulation; as indeed took place, and you know it. ⁵Therefore I indeed, no longer containing, sent that I might know your faith, lest perhaps the tempter tempted you, and our labor may be in vain. ⁶But Timothy, having already come to us from you, and proclaimed to us the good news of your faith and your divine love, and that you always have a good mention of us, longing to see us, as we do to see you;^c ⁷therefore we were comforted, brethren, over you in all our distress and tribulation on account of your faith; ⁸because we now live, if you stand in the Lord. ⁹For what thanks are we able to render unto God in your behalf, for all the joy with which we rejoice on account of you before our God; ¹⁰night and day praying incessantly that we may see your face, and perfect the deficiencies of your faith?

¹¹But God himself, even our Father, and our Lord Jesus, direct our way unto you: ¹²and the Lord fill you and cause you to superabound in divine love toward one another, and toward all, even as we also do towards you; ¹³in order to establish your hearts blameless in holiness in the presence of God even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus with all his saints: amen.

CHAPTER IV.

We are to walk in holiness and love. Concerning the dead, and the return of Christ.

I THESSALONIANS IV.

¹Finally therefore, brethren, we pray you and exhort you in the Lord Jesus, that as you received from us how it behooves you to walk about and to please God, as you do indeed walk about, in order that you may abound more and more. ²For you know what promises we gave unto you through our Lord Jesus. ³For this is the will of God, your sanctification, that you abstain from fornication;^a ⁴that each one of you know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honor, ⁵not in the passion of lust, as indeed the Gentiles who do not know God;^b ⁶that one should overreach and defraud his brother in a business transaction: because the Lord is the avenger concerning these things, as we indeed before told you and witnessed to you. ⁷For God did not call us to uncleanness, but in sanctification. ⁸Therefore the one rejecting (sanctification), does not reject man, but God, who indeed gives to you his Holy Spirit.^c

⁹But concerning brotherly love you have no need that I write to you: for you yourselves are taught of God to love one another with divine love;^d ¹⁰for you indeed are doing the same thing unto all the brethren in all Macedonia.^e And we exhort you, brethren, that you abound more and more; ¹¹and that you aspire to be quiet, and to prosecute your own employments, and work with your hands, as we proclaimed unto you;^f ¹²in order that you

¹³For we do not wish you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning those who are asleep; in order that you may not sorrow, even as those having no hope.^h ¹⁴For if we believe that Jesus died and is risen, so also will God bring with him those who sleep in Jesus.ⁱ ¹⁵For we speak this to you in the word of the Lord, that we who are alive, who are left unto the coming of the Lord, can not anticipate^j those who are asleep, ¹⁶because the Lord himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first;^k ¹⁷then we who are alive, who are left, will at the same time along with them be caught up in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air; and so we will be always with the Lord. ¹⁸So comfort one another with these words.

CHAPTER V.

The day is going to come suddenly; hence the necessity of watching. Our leaders are to be appreciated. Various admonitions. Vows.

I THESSALONIANS V.

¹But concerning the times and seasons, brethren, you have no need that I write to you; ²for you yourselves know well, that the day of the Lord is so coming like a thief in the night.^a ³When they may say, Peace and safety, then sudden destruction comes on them, as travail upon a woman in gestation; and they can not escape. ⁴But you, brethren, are not in darkness, that the day may overtake you like a thief: ⁵for you are all the sons of light, and the sons of day: we are not of night, nor of darkness;^b ⁶then therefore let us not sleep like the rest, but watch and be sober. ⁷For those sleeping, sleep in the night; and those who are drunken, get drunk in the night: ⁸but let us, who are of the day, be sober, having put on the breastplate of faith and divine love; and the helmet, the hope of salvation:^c ⁹because God did not put us forth unto wrath, but unto the obtaining of salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, ¹⁰the one having died for us, in order that, whether we are awake or asleep,^d we shall at the same time live with him. ¹¹Therefore exhort one another, and edify either the other, as you indeed are doing.

¹²But we intreat you, brethren, to know those who are laboring among you, and standing before you in the Lord, and admonishing you;^e ¹³and that you yourselves esteem them exceedingly in divine love for the sake of their work.^f Live in peace among yourselves. ¹⁴And we exhort you, brethren, admonish the unruly, comfort the small-souled people, support the weak, be longsuffering toward all. ¹⁵See that no one may return evil for evil to any one; but always pursue good toward one another, and

THESSALONIANS.

CHAPTER I.

He applauds the faith of the Thessalonians. The reward awaits the godly; punishment the ungodly.

2 THESSALONIANS I.

¹Paul, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the Church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.^a ²Grace to you and peace from God our Father and our Lord Jesus Christ. ³We ought always to give thanks to God for you, brethren, as it is worthy, because your faith increases, and the divine love of you all towards one another abounds more and more;^b ⁴so that we ourselves rejoice over you in the churches of God, on account of your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations which you endure; ⁵the manifestation of the righteous judgment of God, that you may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which you indeed suffer: ⁶if indeed it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them who are troubling you, ⁷and to you who are troubled, rest with us, in the revelation of the Lord Jesus from heaven with the angels of his power^c ⁸in the fire of flame, dispensing vengeance to those who know not God, and to those who do not obey the gospel of our Lord Jesus:^d ⁹who shall suffer vengeance, eternal destruction from the face of the Lord and from the glory of his might, ¹⁰when he may come to be glorified among his saints, and among all those who believe, to be wondered at in that day, because our testimony was believed by you. ¹¹Unto which indeed we are praying incessantly for you, in order that our God may count you worthy of the calling, and may fulfill all the good pleasure of his goodness and work of faith, with power;^e ¹²in order that the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you, and you in him, according to the grace of our God and our Lord Jesus Christ.

Antichrist precedes the advent of Christ. It is necessary to persevere in good faith.

¹But we beseech you, brethren, concerning the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and our gathering unto him; ²that you be not suddenly shaken from your mind, nor disturbed, whether by a spirit, or through word, or a letter as by us, as that the day of the Lord has come.^a ³Let no one deceive you in any way: because unless there may first be an apostasy and the man of lawlessness may be revealed, the son of perdition,^b ⁴the one opposing and exalting himself above everything that is called God or divinity; so that he sits in the temple of God, showing himself off that he is God.^c ⁵Do you not remember that still being with you, I told you these things?^d ⁶And now you know that which hinders,^e that he should be revealed in his time.^f ⁷For already the mystery of lawlessness is working: only there is one now hindering, until he may be taken out of the midst; ⁸then indeed will the lawless one be revealed, whom the Lord Jesus will remove by the spirit of his mouth,^g and will exterminate by the brightness of his coming; ⁹whose coming is according to the energy of Satan in all power and signs and wonders of falsehood, ¹⁰and in all the deception of unrighteousness to those who perish; because they did not receive the divine love of the truth, that they might be saved.^h ¹¹And on this account God sends to them the working of delusion, that they should believe a lie: in order that they may all be condemned who did not believe the truth, but took pleasure in unrighteousness.

¹²But we ought to give thanks to God always for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God chose you from the beginning unto salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth; ¹³unto which He also called you through our gospel, unto the possession of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. ¹⁴Then therefore, brethren, stand, and hold fast the traditions which you have been taught, whether by word, or by our epistle: ¹⁵and our Lord Jesus Christ himself and God our Father, the one having loved us and given eternal consolation and good hope through grace, ¹⁶comfort your hearts, and establish you in every good work and word.ⁱ

⁶And we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you withdraw from every brother who walks about disorderly, and not according to the teaching they received from us.^c ⁷For you yourselves know how it behooves you to imitate us;^d because we were not disorderly among you; ⁸neither did we eat bread with any one gratuitously, but with labor and toil, night and day working, that we might not burden any one of you:^e ⁹not because we have not the right, but in order that we may give ourselves an example to you, that you may imitate us.^f ¹⁰For indeed when we were with you, we proclaimed this to you, that if any one does not wish to work, let him not eat. ¹¹For we hear that there are certain ones walking about among you disorderly, doing nothing, but they are busybodies: ¹²but we command such and exhort them in the Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietude working, they must eat their own bread. ¹³But you, brethren, be not weary doing well.^g ¹⁴But if any one does not obey our word through the epistle, note him; do not keep company with him; in order that he may be ashamed;^h ¹⁵consider him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.ⁱ ¹⁶The Lord of peace himself grant unto you peace always in every way. The First Epistle of Paul the Apostle

CHAPTER I.

Simplicity of the gospel to be looked after. Law and grace of Christ. Hymenæus and Alexandr.

I TIMOTHY I.

¹Paul, the apostle of Jesus according to the commandment of God our Saviour, and Jesus Christ our hope;^a ²to Timothy, my beloved son in the faith. Grace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Jesus Christ our Lord. ³As I exhorted you to remain in Ephesus, I going into Macedonia, in order that you may command certain ones not to teach heterodoxy,^b ⁴nor to give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which present questions, rather than the economy of God which is in faith:^c ⁵but the end of the commandment is divine love out of a clean heart and a good conscience and faith free from hypocrisy: ⁶from which certain ones having deflected have gone out into empty talking,^d ⁷wishing to be teachers of the law, not knowing either what they are saying, or concerning what things they do affirm. ⁸But we know that the law is good, if any one may use it lawfully;^e ⁹knowing this, that the law is not made for the righteous, but for the unrighteous and disorderly, for the ungodly and for sinners, for the unholy and the profane, for patricides, matricides and homicides,^f ¹⁰for fornicators, for Sodomites, for kidnapers, for liars, for perjurers, and if any things else is opposed to healthy teaching;^g ¹¹according to the gospel of the glory of the blessed God, with which I am intrusted. ¹²I give thanks to Jesus Christ our Lord, the one having filled me up with dynamite, because he considered me faithful, having put me in the ministry; ¹³being antecedently a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and an insulter: but I obtained mercy, because I did it in unbelief being ignorant;^h ¹⁴but the grace of our Lord with faith and the divine love which is in Christ Jesus superabounded.ⁱ

Amen.^k ¹⁸This charge I commit unto you, O child Timothy, according to the prophecies that went before on you, that you may war a beautiful warfare in the same; ¹⁹having faith and a good conscience; which some having cast away have made shipwreck concerning the faith; of whom is Hymenæus and Alexander, whom I have delivered to Satan, that they may learn not to blaspheme.^l

CHAPTER II.

Public prayers. There is one God, and mediator. The attitude of those praying. Woman in the church.

I TIMOTHY II.

¹Moreover, first of all things, I exhort you, that prayers, supplications, intercessions, thanksgivings, be made in behalf of all men; ²for kings and all who are in authority; in order that we may lead a peaceable and quiet life in all godliness and honesty. ³This is beautiful and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour; ⁴who wishes all men to be saved, and to come to the perfect knowledge of the truth.^a ⁵For there is one God, and there is also one mediator of God and men, the man, Christ Jesus,^b ⁶the one having given himself a ransom for all, a testimony in due time;^c ⁷in which I have been placed a herald and an apostle I speak the truth, I lie not, a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and in truth.^d ⁸Therefore I wish that men in every place would all pray, holding up holy hands, without wrath and doubting: ⁹likewise that the women adorn themselves in comely apparel, with modesty and prudence; not with braided hair, and gold or pearls or costly garments;^e ¹⁰but whatsoever becomes women professing godliness, through good works. ¹¹Let a woman learn in silence in all submission; ¹²but I do not permit a woman to dictate or usurp authority over her husband, but to be in silence.^f ¹³For Adam was first created, then Eve.^g ¹⁴And Adam was not deceived, but the woman being deceived was in the transgression;^h ¹⁵but she shall be saved through child-bearing,ⁱ if they may abide in faith and in divine love and in sanctification with prudence.

CHAPTER III.

Bishops and deacons. The mystery of godliness.

I TIMOTHY III.

¹It is a faithful saying, If any one desires the episcopacy, he covets a beautiful work.^a ²Therefore it behooves the bishop^b to be blameless, the husband of one wife, modest, prudent, orderly, hospitable, competent to teach,^c ³not given to wine, not a controvertist; but gentle, peaceable, not a money lover; ⁴ruling his own house beautifully; having children in subordination with all gravity; ⁵but if any one does not know how to rule his own house, how will he take care of the church of God? ⁶not a novice, lest being puffed up he may fall into the condemnation of the devil. ⁷But it also behooves him indeed to have a beautiful testimony from the aliens, in order that he may not fall into reproach and the snare of the devil.^d ⁸Likewise let the deacons be grave, not double tongued, not given to much wine, not fond of filthy lucre; ⁹having the testimony of faith in a pure conscience. ¹⁰And let them also first be proven; then let them minister the office of deacon, being irreproachable. ¹¹Likewise let their wives be grave, not tattlers, modest, faithful in all things.^e ¹²Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses beautifully. ¹³For those having ministered the office of a deacon beautifully procure to themselves beautiful progress, and much boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

¹⁴I write these things to you, hoping to come to you more speedily; ¹⁵but if I tarry, in order that you may know how it behooves you to deport yourself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth. ¹⁶And assuredly great is the mystery of godliness; Who is manifested in the flesh, was justified in the spirit, was seen of angels, was preached among the Gentiles, was believed on in the world, was taken up in glory.

CHAPTER IV.

False teachers about to come. Precepts are given to the youthful Timothy.

I TIMOTHY IV.

¹But the Spirit says positively, that in the last times certain ones will depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits and to the teachings of demons,^a ²speaking lies in hypocrisy, having been cauterized as to their own conscience, ³forbidding to marry,^b commanding to abstain from meats,^b which God created for reception with thanksgiving to the faithful and to those perfectly knowing the truth. ⁴Because every creature of

God is good, and nothing rejected, being received with thanksgiving: ⁵for it is sanctified by the word of God and by prayer. ⁶Submitting these things to the brethren, you will be a beautiful minister of Jesus Christ, being nourished by the words of faith, and the beautiful teaching which you have followed; ⁷but reject the unsanctified and silly stories: ⁸but exercise yourself unto godliness. ⁹For bodily exercise is profitable unto little; but godliness is profitable unto all things, having the promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come. ¹⁰This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance. ¹¹For unto this we toil and agonize, because we have hope in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, especially of the faithful. ¹²

¹¹Command and teach these things. ¹²Let no one look with contempt upon your youth; but be you an example of the faithful, in word, in deportment, in divine love, in faith, in purity. ¹³Until I come, give attention to reading, to exhortation, to teaching. ¹⁴Do not neglect the gift which is in you, which was given unto you through prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery. ¹⁵Be diligent in these things; give yourself wholly unto them; in order that your progress may be manifest to all. ¹⁶Take heed to yourself and the teaching: continue in these things; for doing this you will indeed save yourself and those who hear you.

CHAPTER V.

Concerning admonitions. Concerning widows and elders. Concerning sinners.

I TIMOTHY V.

¹Rebuke not an elder, but exhort him as a father; the younger men as brothers: ²the elderly women as mothers; the younger women as sisters, in all purity. ³Honor widows who are truly widows. ⁴But if any widow has children, or grandchildren, let them first learn to show piety to their own house, and to give benefactions to their ancestors: for this is acceptable in the sight of God. ⁵She who is truly a widow, and left alone, hopes in God, and abides in prayers and supplication night and day; ⁶but she who is wanton is dead though living. ⁷Indeed command these things, in order that they may be blameless. ⁸But if any one provides not for his own, and especially those of his own house, he has denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel.

⁹Let a widow not be taken into account under three score years, the wife of one husband, ¹⁰being witness in beautiful works; if she has brought up children, if she has entertained strangers, if she has washed the feet of saints, if she has succored those in tribulation, if she has followed in every good work. ¹¹But reject the younger widows: for when they may wax wanton against Christ, they wish to marry; ¹²having condemnation, because they have rejected their first faith: ¹³and at the same time they learn to be idle, going about houses; and not only idle, but also loquacious even busybodies, speaking things which they ought not. ¹⁴Therefore I wish the younger women to marry, to raise up children, to rule the house, to give no occasion to the adversary for the sake of reproach; ¹⁵for already certain ones have turned away after Satan. ¹⁶If any faithful woman has widows, let her support them, and let not the church be burdened; in order that she may give her attention to those who are truly widows.

¹⁷Let the elders who stand before the people beautifully, be considered worthy of double remuneration, especially those laboring in the word and teaching.^c ¹⁸For the scripture says, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn:^d and, The laborer is worthy of his hire.^e ¹⁹Bring not an accusation against an elder, except before two or three witnesses.^f ²⁰Convict those who sin before all, in order that the rest may also have fear.

²¹I testify before God, and Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that you must guard these things without prejudice, doing nothing by partiality.^g ²²Lay hands quickly on no one, and be not partaker of other men's sins.^h ²³Keep yourself pure. No longer drink water, but use a little wine for the sake of your stomach and on account of your frequent sickness. ²⁴The sins of some men are manifest beforehand, going before to judgment; and some men they also follow after: ²⁵likewise truly are good works manifested beforehand; and those which are otherwise are not able to be hidden.

CHAPTER VI.

Concerning servants, false teachers, and avaricious people; concerning the strife of the man of God; concerning the duties of the rich.

I TIMOTHY VI.

¹Let the servants^a so many as are under the yoke, esteem those who are their masters worthy of all honor, in order that the name and doctrine of God may not be blasphemed.^b ²But let those that have faithful masters not despise them, because they are brethren; but rather let them serve them, because they are the faithful and beloved who are partaking of the benefaction.^c Command these things and exhort them.

³If any one teaches another doctrine, and does not give heed to the sound words which belonged to our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness; ⁴he has been inflated, knowing nothing, but doting about questions and controversies, from which come envy, strife, blasphemies, evil surmisings, ⁵wranglings of men having been corrupted as to their mind and turned away from the truth, considering that gain is godliness.^d ⁶Godliness with contentment is great gain, ⁷for because we have brought nothing into the world, we are not able to carry anything out; ⁸however having food and raiment we shall be contented with these. ⁹But those wishing to be rich fall into temptation and a snare and many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown the people in destruction and perdition. ¹⁰For the love of money is a root of all evils: which some seeking after have wandered from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

¹¹But you, O man of God, fly from these things; and pursue righteousness, godliness, faith, divine love, patience, meekness.^e ¹²Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, into which you have been called, and witnessed a beautiful testimony before many witnesses. ¹³I charge you before God, who creates life in all things, and Jesus Christ, who witnessed a beautiful testimony before Pontius Pilate,^f ¹⁴that you keep the commandment, spotless and pure, unto the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ:^g ¹⁵which the blessed and only Sovereign, the King of the kings, and Lord of the lords, will manifest in his own due times; ¹⁶he alone having immortality, inhabiting light unapproachable; whom no one of men has seen, or is able to see: to whom be honor and power eternal. Amen.^h ¹⁷Charge the rich in this world not to think high things, nor to hope in uncertain riches, but in God, who richly supplies us all things for our enjoyment; ¹⁸that they do good, be rich in good works, be cheerful givers, ready communicators; ¹⁹laying up for themselves a good foundation for the future, that they may lay hold on the life which is life indeed.

CHAPTER I.

Exhortation and praise of Timothy. Lois and Eunice. Faith is to be heroically conserved. The house of Onesiphorus.

2 TIMOTHY I.

¹Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, according to the commandment of life which is in Christ Jesus,^a ²to Timothy, my beloved child. Grace, mercy, peace from God our Father and Jesus Christ our Lord.

³I give thanks to God, whom I serve from my ancestors with a clean conscience, as I have incessant mention of you in my prayers, night and day^b ⁴longing to see you, remembering your tears, in order that I may be filled with joy; ⁵having received the remembrance of the un hypocritical faith which is in you; which dwelt first in your grandmother Lois, and your mother Eunice; and, I am persuaded that it is in you also. ⁶On account of which cause I remind you to revive and rekindle the gift of God which is in you by the laying on of my hands.^c ⁷For God has not given us the spirit of cowardice; but of power^d and divine love and prudence.^e ⁸Therefore do not be ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor me his prisoner: but suffer affliction for the sake of the gospel according to the power^d of God; ⁹the one having saved us, and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given to us in Christ Jesus before the eternal times,^f ¹⁰but now having been made manifest through the appearing of Jesus Christ our Saviour, the one having indeed destroyed death, and lighted up life and immortality through the gospel,¹¹ unto which I have been placed a herald, and an apostle, and teacher:^g ¹²on account of which cause I indeed suffer these things: but I am not ashamed; for I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that he is able to stand guard over that which is committed unto me unto that day. ¹³Hold fast the form of sound words which you heard with me, in the faith and divine love which is in Christ Jesus:^h ¹⁴stand guard over the beautiful deposit through the Holy Ghost who dwells in us.ⁱ

¹⁵You know this, that all who are in Asia, of whom are Phygelus and Hermogenes have turned away from me.^j ¹⁶May the Lord grant mercy to the family of Onesiphorus, because frequently he refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain,^k ¹⁷and, being in Rome, he diligently sought me, and found me. ¹⁸May the Lord grant unto him to find mercy with the Lord in that day. And so many things as he ministered in Ephesus, you know better.

CHAPTER II.

The crown of the soldiers of Christ. Deportment of a good teacher. Against Hymenæus and others teaching vain things.

2 TIMOTHY II.

¹Therefore, my child, be thou filled up with dynamite in the grace which is in Christ Jesus, ²and whatsoever things thou hast heard with me through many witnesses, commit thou the same to faithful men,^a who will be able also to teach others. ³Suffer affliction, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.^b ⁴No one operating as a soldier is entangled with the affairs of life; in order that he may please his commander.^c ⁵But if indeed any one may fight, he is not crowned unless he may fight lawfully. ⁶It behooves the toiling farmer first to partake of the fruits. ⁷Know what I say; for the Lord will give you understanding in all things. ⁸Remember Jesus Christ, who is risen from the dead, from the seed of David, according to my gospel:^d ⁹in whom I suffer affliction as an evil-doer, even unto bonds; but the word of God is not bound.^e ¹⁰On account of this I endure all things for the sake of the elect, in order that they may also have the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory. ¹¹It is a faithful saying: For if we die along with him, we will also live with him:^f ¹²if we endure, we will truly reign with him:^g if we shall deny him, he will also deny us:^h ¹³if we are unfaithful, he remains faithful; for he is not able to deny himself.

¹⁴Remember these things, testifying before God, that they shall not fight with words, profitable unto nothing, for the overturning of those who hear. ¹⁵Study to present yourself to God approved, a workman not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth. ¹⁶But reject the un-sanctified empty talks: for they will proceed unto more of ungodliness,ⁱ ¹⁷and their word like gangrene will have eating. Of whom are Hymenæus and Phyletus;^j ¹⁸who have made shipwreck concerning the truth, saying that the resurrection has already come, and they overturn the faith of some. ¹⁰The foundation of God stands solid indeed, having this seal, The Lord knows them that are his: and, Let every one naming the name of the Lord depart from iniquity.^k ²⁰But in a great house there are not only gold and silver vessels, but also wood and stone, the former truly indeed unto honor, but the latter unto dishonor.^l ²¹Therefore if any one may cleanse himself from these,^m he shall be a vessel unto honor, having been sanctified, well pleasing to the Lord, having been prepared unto every good work. ²²But fly from youthful lusts, and pursue righteousness, faith, divine love, peace, with those who call upon the Lord out of a clean heart.ⁿ ²³But reject foolish and undisciplinatory questions, knowing that they gender strife.^o ²⁴But it does not behoove the servant of the Lord to strive,^p but to be gentle toward all, competent to teach, enduring evil, ²⁵in meekness correcting the adversaries; if peradventure God may grant unto them repentance into the perfect knowledge of the truth, ²⁶and they may escape from the snare of the devil, having been taken captive by him (the Lord's servant) according to his will.^q

Wickedness and misery of the last time. Scripture inspired.

2 TIMOTHY III.

¹But know this, that in the last days perilous times shall come.^a ²For men will be lovers of themselves, moneylovers, arrogant, proud, blasphemous, disobedient to parents, ungrateful, unholy,^b ³without natural affections, covenant breakers, devilish, intemperate, furious, opposed to good, ⁴traitors, headstrong, puffed up, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God; ⁵having a form of godliness, but denying the power^c of the same: and from these turn away. ⁶For of these are those creeping into houses, and leading captive little, silly women^d laden with sins, being led by divers lusts, ⁷always learning, and never able to come into the perfect knowledge of the truth.^e ⁸In the manner in which Jannes and Jambres also resisted Moses, so these indeed resist the truth;^f men who are corrupt as to their mind, reprobate concerning the faith.^g ⁹But they shall proceed no further: for their insanity will be manifest to all, as theirs also was.^h ¹⁰But you have followed my teaching, leadership, purpose, faith, long suffering, divine love, patience, ¹¹persecutions, sufferings; such as came to me in Antioch, in Iconium, in Lystra; such persecutions as I endured: and the Lord delivered me out of them all.ⁱ ¹²But truly all wishing to live godly in Christ Jesus will suffer persecution. ¹³But wicked men and seducers will wax worse and worse, deceiving and being deceived.

CHAPTER IV.

2 TIMOTHY IV.

¹In the presence of God, and Jesus Christ, the one about to judge the living and the dead, I testify to, both his appearing and his kingdom;^a ²preach the word: be instant in season and out of season; convict, exhort, rebuke, with all longsuffering and teaching. ³For the time will come when they will not endure healthy teaching;^b but according to their own lusts they will heap to themselves teachers itching as to their hearing; ⁴and they will indeed turn their hearing from the truth, and be turned unto fables^c. ⁵But be thou sober in all things, suffer affliction, do the work of an evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry.^d ⁶For I am now feady to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand.^e ⁷I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith:^f ⁸finally there is a crown of righteousness laid up for me, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will give me in that day: not only to me, but to all those who with divine love, do love his appearing.^g

CHAPTER I.

To Titus his beloved son. The affairs in Crete are to be administered by Titus. The lying Cretans. To the pure all things are pure.

TITUS I.

¹Paul, the servant^a of God, and apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of the elect of God, and the perfect knowledge of the truth which is according to godliness,^b ²in the hope of eternal life, which God who cannot lie, promised before the eternal times,^c ³and manifested in his own seasons his word by preaching, with which I am intrusted, according to the commandment of God our Saviour;^d ⁴to Titus, my beloved son according to the common faith. Grace and peace from God the Father and Jesus Christ our Saviour.^e

⁵Therefore I left you in Crete, in order that you may set in order remaining things, and establish elders in every city, as I commanded you;^f ⁶if any one is irreproachable, the husband of one wife, having faithful children, not in accusation of riot or incorrigible. ⁷For it behooves the bishop^g to be blameless, as the steward of God; not audacious, not irascible, not given to wine, not a controvertist, not fond of filthy lucre;^h ⁸but hospitable, loving the good, prudent, righteous, holy, temperate; ⁹holding that which is according to the teaching of the faithful word, in order that he may be able both to exhort with healthy teaching, and to convict the opposers. ¹⁰For many are incorrigible, speaking vain things and egotistical, especially those from the circumcision, ¹¹whose mouths it is necessary to stop; who overturn whole families, teaching those things which it does not behoove, for the sake of disgraceful gain. ¹²A certain one of them, their own prophet, said, The Cretans are all liars, evil beasts, slow stomachs. ¹³This testimony is true: on account of which cause convict them sharply, in order that they may be sound in the faith, ¹⁴not giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men turning away from the truth. ¹⁵To the pure all things are pure: but to the corrupted and unbelieving there is nothing pure; yea, their mind and their conscience are polluted.¹ ¹⁶They profess to know God, but deny him by their works, being abominable, and unbelieving, and reprobate unto every good work.

CHAPTER II.

To old men, old women, young people, servants. Saving grace.

TITUS II.

¹But speak you those things which become healthy teaching. ²That the elderly men be sober, grave, prudent, sound in faith, in divine love, in patience: ³likewise that the elderly women be reverent in demeanor, not tattlers, not given to much wine, teachers of that which is good; ⁴in order that they instruct the young women to love their husbands, to love their children,^a ⁵to be prudent, chaste, domestic, good, submissive to their own husbands, in order that the word of God may not be blasphemed.^b ⁶Likewise exhort the young men to be prudent: ⁷concerning all things exhibiting yourself an example of good works; in teaching; purity, gravity, ⁸the sound word, irrefutable, in order that the adversary may be ashamed, having nothing evil to say concerning us.^c ⁹That servants submit to their own masters, that they be obedient in all things; not speaking back; ¹⁰not purloining, but exhibiting all good faith, that they may adorn the teaching of God our Saviour in all things.^d

¹¹For the grace of God, that brings salvation to all men, has appeared, ¹²teaching us, that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we must live prudently and righteously and holily in this present age; ¹³looking for the blessed hope even the appearing of the glory of our great God and our Saviour Christ Jesus; ¹⁴who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify to himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works.^e

CHAPTER III.

The things which become the regenerated of Christ. Concerning the heretic. Sundry commandments.

TITUS III.

¹Remind them to submit to the governments, authorities, to obey the rule over them, to be ready unto every good work,^a ²to speak evil of no one, that they should be peaceable, gentle, showing all meekness to all men.^b ³For when we also were without understanding, being disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in sin and envy, hateful, hating one another; ⁴but when the goodness and philanthropy of God our Saviour appeared,^c ⁵not from works which are in righteousness, which

PHILEMON.

To Philemon, Apphia, Archippus. He praises Philemon, and prays that he may grant pardon to Onesimus, his fugitive slave. He pre-announces that he is going to return.

PHILEMON.

¹Paul, the prisoner of Jesus Christ, and brother Timothy, to Philemon the beloved also our fellow-laborer, ²and to sister Apphia, and Archippus our fellow-soldier, and the church in your house.^a ³Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.^b

⁴I give thanks to my God always, making mention of you in my prayers,^c ⁵hearing about your divine love, and the faith which you have toward the Lord Jesus, and all the saints; ⁶in order that the fellowship of your faith may be efficient in the perfect knowledge of every good thing which is in you toward Christ. ⁷For I had much joy and consolation over your divine love, because the affections of the saints have been refreshed by you, O brother. ⁸Therefore, having much boldness in Christ to command you to that which is appropriate, ⁹on account of the divine love, I the more exhort you, being such as Paul the aged, and now also the prisoner of Jesus Christ. ¹⁰I exhort you concerning my son, whom I begat in my bonds, Onesimus, ¹¹him at one time unprofitable to you, but now profitable both to you and to me: whom I have sent back to you,^d ¹²him, that is my own heart. ¹³Whom I did wish to have with me, in order that he might minister unto me in your stead in the bonds of the gospel: ¹⁴but without your consent I did not wish to do anything; in order that your good might not be by constraint, but by the free will: ¹⁵for on this account he suddenly departed from you for an hour, that you might have him back forever; ¹⁶no longer as a slave, but more than a slave, a brother beloved, especially to me, and much more to you, both in the flesh and in the Lord: ¹⁷if then you have me a comrade, receive him as myself. ¹⁸If he has wronged you as to anything, or owes you anything, charge this to me. ¹⁹I Paul have written with my own hand, I will pay it: not that I may say to you that you even owe yourself to me. ²⁰Yea, brother, let me rejoice over you in the Lord: refresh my heart in Christ.

EPISTLE TO THE HEBREWS.

CHAPTER I.

The Son of God, the climax of all things, far greater than the angels.

HEBREWS I.

¹On many occasions and in many ways in the olden time, God having spoken to the fathers through the prophets, at the last of these days has spoken to us through his Son, ²whom he put forth the heir of all things, and through whom he created the ages; ³who being the brightness of his glory, and the character of his person, and holding up all things by the word of his power,^a having made purgation of the sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high;^b ⁴being so much greater than the angels, that he has inherited a name so much more excellent than they. ⁵For to which one of the angels at any time did he say, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee?^c and again, I will be unto him a Father, and he shall be unto me a Son?^d ⁶And again when he may lead in the first begotten into the world, he says, Indeed let all the angels of God worship him.^e ⁷And to the angels he says, he maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire:^f but to the Son he says, ⁸Thy throne, O God, is unto the age of the age; and the scepter of righteousness is the scepter of thy kingdom.^g ⁹Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity; therefore God, thy God, has anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy comrades. ¹⁰And thou, at the beginning, O Lord, didst lay the foundations of the earth, and the heavens are the works of thy hands.^h ¹¹These shall perish; but thou dost remain: truly all these shall wax old like a garment; ¹²and thou shalt roll them up like a mantle, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail thee. ¹³And to which one of the angels has he at any time said, Sit thou on my right hand, until I may make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet?ⁱ ¹⁴Are not all these ministering spirits, having been sent forth unto ministration for the sake of those who are about to inherit salvation?

CHAPTER II.

It is necessary to obey the Son of God, rather than the law which has been transmitted through the angels. Christ having become a man, suffered for the sake of his brethren.

HEBREWS II.

¹Therefore it behooves us the more earnestly to give heed to the things which we have heard, lest at some time we may leak out. ²For if the word having been spoken by angels was steadfast, and every disobedience and transgression received a just recompense of reward; ³how shall we escape, having neglected so great a salvation? which having received the beginning to be spoken by the Lord, was confirmed unto us by those who heard it; ⁴God at the same time witnessing, by signs and indeed by wonders, and various dynamites, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his will.

⁵For he did not submit the world to come, concerning which we speak, to angels. ⁶But somewhere one testified, saying, What is man, that thou art mindful of him? Or the Son of man, that thou visitest him?^a ⁷Thou didst humiliate him somewhat comparatively with the angels; thou didst crown him with glory and honor; ⁸thou didst subordinate all things beneath his feet.^b

For in subordinating all things beneath him, he left nothing which is not subordinated beneath him. ⁹But we see Jesus humiliated somewhat in comparison with the angels, having been crowned with glory and honor on account of the suffering of death, in order that by the grace of God he might taste death for every one. ¹⁰For it became him, on account of whom are all things, and through whom are all things, in leading many sons to glory, to make the captain of their salvation perfect through suffering.^c ¹¹For both the one sanctifying and they who are sanctified are all of one: on account of which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren,^d ¹²saying, I will proclaim thy name to thy brethren, in the midst of the church will sing praises to thee.^e ¹³And again, I will put my trust in him: and again; Behold, I and the children which God has given unto me.^f ¹⁴Then since the children have inherited blood and flesh, he likewise also received the same, in order that through death he might set at nought him who has the power of death, that is, the devil;^g ¹⁵and might reconcile them whosoever were subject to bondage all their life through the fear of death. ¹⁶For not yet does he take upon himself the nature of angels, but he takes upon himself the seed of Abraham. ¹⁷Therefore he ought in all things to be made like unto his brethren, in order that he might be a merciful and faithful High Priest in things appertaining to God, to the end that he may atone for the sins of the people. ¹⁸For in that he himself suffered being tempted, he is able to succor those who are tempted.

CHAPTER III.

Christ greater than Moses. Moses only a member of God's house, but Christ the Builder.

HEBREWS III.

¹Therefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider Jesus, the Apostle and High Priest of our profession; ²being faithful to him who appointed him, as indeed Moses in all his house.^a ³For he is esteemed worthy of more honor than Moses, inasmuch as the One having built it, has more honor than the house. ⁴For every house is built by some one; and the one having built all things is God. ⁵And Moses was indeed faithful in all his house as a servant, unto the testimony of those things which shall be spoken;^b ⁶but Christ was as a son, over his own house; whose house we are, if we hold fast the boldness and rejoicing of hope firm unto the end.^c

⁷Therefore as the Holy Spirit says, This day if you hear his voice,^d ⁸harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness,^e ⁹whom our fathers tempted in proving me, and saw my works forty years. ¹⁰Therefore I was provoked with this generation, and I said, They do always err in their heart: and they have not known my way, ¹¹as I swore in my wrath, They shall not enter into my rest.^f

¹²See, brethren, lest at some time there shall be in some one of you an evil heart of unbelief, in turning away from the living God: ¹³but exhort one another each day, while it is called to-day; in order that no one of you may be hardened with the deceitfulness of sin: ¹⁴for we have been made partakers of Christ, if indeed we may hold fast the beginning of confidence firm unto the end. ¹⁵In that it is said, This day if you hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation:^g ¹⁶for who were those, having heard, who were hardened? yea, were they not all those having come out of Egypt under Moses? ¹⁷And with whom was he provoked forty years? was it not with those that sinned, whose carcases fell in the wilderness?^h ¹⁸And to whom did he swear that they should not enter into his rest, but to those who believed not? ¹⁹And we see that they were not able to enter in on account of their unbelief.ⁱ

CHAPTER IV.

The rest having been promised to the pious Jews, was given through Christ. The force of the divine word.

HEBREWS IV.

¹Then let us fear, lest at some time, the promise to enter into his rest having been left, some of you may appear to have come short. ²For

we truly have had the gospel preached unto us, as they did also: but the word of hearing did not profit them, not being mixed with faith to those hearing. ³For we who have believed, do enter into rest; as he has said, As I swore in my wrath, They shall not enter into my rest: the works truly having been from the foundations of the world.^a ⁴For he somewhere has spoken thus in reference to the seventh day, And God rested on the seventh day from all his works.^b ⁵And in this again he has said, They shall not enter into my rest. ⁶Then since it remains that some do enter into it, and those formerly having had the gospel preached unto them did not enter in on account of unbelief, ⁷again he appoints a certain day, saying in David, as has previously been said, This day, after so long a time; If you may hear his voice this day, harden not your hearts.^c ⁸For if Joshua had given them rest, he would not speak concerning another day after these things. ⁹Therefore there is a sabbatism^d left for the people of God. ¹⁰For the one having entered into his rest has ceased from his works, as God did from his own.

¹¹Therefore let us hasten to enter into that rest, lest some one may fall by the same example of unbelief. ¹²For the word of God is living, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, and piercing unto the dividing of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and a quick discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. ¹³And no creature is hidden in his presence: but all things are naked and have been laid open to the eyes of him to whom the word is unto us.

¹⁴Therefore having a great high priest, having entered into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast the testimony.^e ¹⁵For we have not a high priest who is not able to be touched with our infirmities; but one having been tempted as to all things like unto us, apart had no greater one by whom to swear, swore by himself,^d ¹⁴saying, If from sin. ¹⁶Therefore let us draw nigh with confidence to a throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and find grace in every opportune need.^f

CHAPTER V.

Christ the High Priest forever, a priest like unto Melchizedek. Spiritual infancy.

HEBREWS V.

¹For every high priest, being received from men, presides over men in the things appertaining to God, in order that he may offer gifts and sacrifices for sins:^a ²being able to sympathize with the ignorant and erring, since himself is also compassed about with infirmity; ³and on this account he has need, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer sacrifices for sins. ⁴And no one takes this honor to himself, but the one called of God, as indeed Aaron was.^b ⁵Likewise Christ also did not glorify himself to become a high priest, but the one having spoken to him, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee:^c ⁹as also he says in another place, Thou art a priest forever after the order of Melchizedek.^d ⁷Who in the days of his flesh, having with strong crying and tears offered up both prayers and supplications unto him who is able to save him from death, and having been heard on account of his piety,^e ⁸indeed being a Son, he learned obedience from those things which he suffered; ⁹and having been made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation to all those who obey him; ¹⁰having been ordained of God a high priest after the order of Melchizedek.

¹¹Concerning whom there is much word to us, and difficult to speak, since you are dull of hearing. ¹²For indeed you, who ought to be teachers so far as time is concerned, have need that some one again teach you what are the rudiments of the beginning of the oracles of God; and you have need of milk, not solid food.^f ¹³For every one partaking of milk is unskilful in the word of righteousness; for he is a babe; ¹⁴but solid food belongs to the perfect, those having their senses disciplined by use unto the discernment both of the good and the evil.

CHAPTER VI.

HEBREWS VI.

¹Therefore having left the word of the beginning of Christ, let us be carried to perfection; not again laying the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God, ²of the teaching of baptisms, and of the laying on of hands, and of the resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgment. ³And we will do this, if God may permit.^a ⁴For it is impossible that those having been once enlightened, and tasted the heavenly gift, and have been made partakers of the Holy Ghost, ⁵and having tasted the beautiful word of God, and the dynamites of the coming age, ⁶indeed having fallen away, to renew them again unto repentance; having crucified to themselves again the Son of God, and put him to an open shame. ⁷For the earth drinking the rain coming often upon her, and bringing forth the herb nutritious to those by whom it is also cultivated, receives blessings from God: ⁸but that which produces thorns and thistles, is reprobate, and nigh unto the curse; whose end is unto burning.

⁹But, beloved, we are persuaded better things concerning you, and things appertaining to salvation, if indeed we do thus speak. ¹⁰For God is not unrighteous to forget your work and the divine love which you manifested in his name, having ministered to the saints, and ministering.^b

¹¹But we desire each one of you to exhibit the same diligence unto the full assurance of hope unto the end:^c ¹²in order that you may not be dull, but imitators of those who through faith and longsufferings do inherit the promises. ¹³For God having promised Abraham, since he had no greater one by whom to swear, swore by himself,^d ¹⁴saying, If indeed blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee: ¹⁵and thus having waited long, he received the promise. ¹⁶For men swear by the greater: and an oath of confirmation is to them an end to all controversy: ¹⁷but God, in this wishing more abundantly to show forth to the heirs of the promise the immutability of his counsel, confirmed it by an oath: ¹⁸that through two immutable things in which it was impossible that God should lie, we who have fled may have a strong consolation to lay hold of the hope set before us, ¹⁹which we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast and entering into that which is in the veil, ²⁰whither Jesus the forerunner has entered in our behalf, having been made a high priest forever after the order of Melchizedek.

CHAPTER VII.

Melchizedek greater than Abraham and the Levites; and Christ our High Priest forever.

HEBREWS VII.

¹For this Melchizedek, the king of Salem, priest of the Most High God, the one having met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him,^a ²to whom Abraham divided the tenth from all first, being interpreted, King of righteousness, and then King of Salem, which is, King of peace; ³without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but being made like unto the Son of God, he abides a priest continually.

⁴You see how great this man was, to whom the patriarch Abraham even gave the tenth part of the chief spoils. ⁵And those indeed of the sons of Levi receiving the priesthood have a commandment to tithe the people according to the law, that is, their brethren, even though having come out from the loins of Abraham:^b ⁶but he who did not derive his lineage from them has tithed Abraham, and blessed him having the promises.^c ⁷For without contradiction the less is blessed by the better. ⁸And here indeed men dying, receive tithes; however there, he is witnessed to that he lives. ⁹And, so to speak a word, Levi, the one receiving tithes, has also been tithed through Abraham. ¹⁰For he was still in the loins of his father, when Melchizedek met him.

¹¹Then indeed if perfection was through the Levitical priesthood, for unto it the people have been tithed, what need is there still that another priest shall rise after the order of Melchizedek, and not be called after the order of Aaron? ¹²For the priesthood being changed, of necessity there is a change of the law. ¹³For he unto whom these things were spoken belongs to another tribe, from which no one ministers at the altar: ¹⁴for it is evident that our Lord sprang from Judah; in reference to which tribe Moses spoke nothing concerning priests. ¹⁵And it is still more abundantly evident, if after the similitude of Melchizedek another priest rises,¹⁶ who was not made after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life.^d ¹⁷For it is testified, Thou art a priest forever after the order of Melchizedek.^e

¹⁸For there is a disannulling of the preceding commandment, on account of its weakness and inadequacy ¹⁹for the law made nothing perfect, but the bringing in of a better hope, by which we draw nigh unto God. ²⁰And in as much as it is without an oath, for the priests were made without an oath; ²¹but He with an oath through the one saying to him, The Lord hath sworn, and will not regret it; thou art a priest forever; ²²insomuch that Jesus has also been made the mediator of a better covenant.^f ²³And indeed many have been made priests, because they were prohibited by death from continuing: ²⁴but he, because he abides forever, has an unchangeable priesthood: ²⁵wherefore he is also able to save to the uttermost those coming unto God through him, ever living to intercede for them.

²⁶For such a high priest was indeed appropriate unto us, holy, free from sin, undefiled, having been separated from the sinners, and being higher than the heavens; ²⁷who had not daily need, as the high priests, first to offer up sacrifices for their own sins, then those of the people: for he did this, having offered up himself once.^g ²⁸For the law institutes men high priests, having infirmity; but the word of the oath, which is after the law, the Son, having been made perfect forever.

CHAPTER VIII.

HEBREWS VIII.

¹But in addition to the things which having been spoken this is the principal thing: We have such a high priest, who sat on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in heaven, ²The minister of the holy things, and of the true tabernacle, which God pitched, and not man. ³For every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices: whence it is necessary to have something even that which he may offer.^a ⁴If then indeed he was on the earth, he would not be a priest, there being those offering gifts according to law, ⁵whosoever serve the pattern and shadow of heavenly things,^b as Moses about to complete the tabernacle was commanded: for, he says, See that you shall make all things after the pattern which was shown to you in the mount:^c ⁶but now he has obtained a more excellent ministry, insomuch that he is also the mediator of a better covenant, which has been founded on better promises.^d ⁷For if that first covenant had been faultless, a place would not have been sought for the second. ⁸For finding fault with them, he says, Behold the days are coming, says the Lord, and I will perfect upon the house Israel, and upon the house of Judah, a new covenant:^e ⁹not according to the covenant which I made with their fathers, in the day that I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they abode not in my covenant, and I regarded them not, says the Lord. ¹⁰Because this is my covenant which I will establish with the house of Israel after these days, says the Lord; having given my laws in their mind, I will also write them on their heart; and I will be to them a God, and they shall be unto me a people.^f ¹¹And they shall no longer teach each one his neighbor, each one his brother, saying, Know ye the Lord: because all shall know me, from their small even unto the great. ¹²Because I will be merciful unto their iniquities, and I will remember their sins no more.^g

¹³In that he calls it new, he has made the first one old; but that which is old and antiquated is night unto vanishing.^h

CHAPTER IX.

The old sanctuary, and the heavenly sanctuary of Christ. Mosaic imperfect expiation, and the perfect atonement of Christ.

HEBREWS IX.

¹Then indeed the first tabernacle also, had ordinances of service, and a sanctuary for this world. ²For the first tabernacle was made; in which there were candlesticks, and the table, and shew-bread; which is called, Holy.^a ³And after the second veil, was the tabernacle called Holy of holies; ⁴having the golden altar, and the ark of the covenant overladen on all sides with gold, in which was the golden pot having the manna, and the rod of Aaron which budded, and the tables of the covenant; ⁵and above this was the cherubim of glory overshadowing the mercy seat; concerning which things it is not pertinent to speak specifically.^b ⁶And these having been thus adjusted, the priests come continually into the first tabernacle, performing the services: ⁷and into the second comes the high priest alone once a year, not without blood, which he offers for himself, and the errors of the people;^c ⁸the Holy Spirit showing this, the way of the holies has not yet been made manifest, the first tabernacle yet standing: which is a figure unto the present time, in which gifts and sacrifices are offered, not being able to make the worshiper perfect, as to his conscience; ⁹consisting only in meats and drinks, and divers baptisms, ordinances of the flesh, abiding until the time of restitution.

¹¹But Christ being a high priest of good things to come, through a greater and a more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is, not of this world;^d ¹²neither through the blood of goats and bullocks, but through his own blood, came once into the holies, having found eternal redemption. ¹³For if the blood of goats and bulls, and the ashes of a heifer sprinkling those who have been defiled, sanctifies unto the purification of the flesh; ¹⁴how much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered up himself without spot to God, purify our conscience from dead works to serve the living God?^e

¹⁵And on this account he is mediator of the new covenant, since there being death, unto the redemption of the transgressions unto the first covenant, those having been called may receive the promise of eternal inheritance.^f ¹⁶For where there is a covenant, it is necessary to bear the death of the covenanter; ¹⁷for a covenant is valid in case of the dead: since it has no force while the covenanter lives. ¹⁸Neither was the first covenant therefore dedicated without blood.^g ¹⁹For every commandment having been spoken by Moses to all the people according to law, having taken the blood of bullocks and goats, with water, and scarlet wool, and hyssop, he sprinkled both the book itself and all the people,^h ²⁰saying, This is the blood of the covenant which God established unto you.ⁱ ²¹And he likewise also sprinkled the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the ministry, with blood. ²²And according to the law, almost all things are purified by blood; and without the shedding of blood there is no remission.^j ²³Therefore it is necessary that the pattern of the things in these heavens be purified; and the heavenly things themselves with greater sacrifices than these. ²⁴For Christ did not come into the sanctuaries made with hands, the pattern of the true; but into heaven itself, now to be made manifest unto the face of God in our behalf: ²⁵neither in order that he may frequently offer up himself, as the high priest goes into the holies once a year with the blood of another; ²⁶since it behoved him frequently to suffer from the foundation of the world: but now in the end of the ages he has been made manifest unto the removal of sin through the sacrifice of himself. ²⁷And inasmuch as it is appointed unto men once to die, and after this is the judgment: ²⁸so also Christ, having once been offered up to bear away the sins of many, will appear the second time apart from sin unto salvation to those expecting him.

CHAPTER X.

The law a shadow of the new covenant. Expiations of the law, and true expiation of Christ. Sacrifices abolished. The grave crime of apostasy. Praise of the abiding faith.

HEBREWS X.

¹For the law having the shadow of good things to come, not the real image of the things, annually with the same sacrifices which they offer continually, is by no means able to make perfect those coming to it:^a ²since in that case would they not have ceased being offered, because the worshippers having once been purified would have had no more conscience of sins? ³But in the same sacrifices there is a remembrance of sins annually; ⁴for it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take away sins. ⁵Therefore, coming into the world, he says; Sacrifice an offering thou willest not, but thou hast perfected for me a body:^b ⁶whole burnt offerings and offerings for sins thou wast not pleased with: ⁷then I said, Lo, I come in the volume of the Book it has been written of me to do thy will, O God. ⁸Saying above, that Sacrifices and offerings and whole burnt offerings and offerings for sin thou didst not will, neither wast well pleased with; whatsoever are offered according to law;^b ⁹then he has said, Lo, I come to do thy will. He takes away the first, that he may establish the second; ¹⁰by which will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

¹¹And every high priest indeed stands daily ministering, and frequently offering the same sacrifices, which are never able to take away sins: ¹²and he, having offered up one sacrifice for sins, forever sat down on the right hand of God;^c ¹³finally waiting until his enemies may be made the footstool of his feet. ¹⁴For by one offering he has forever perfected the sanctified. ¹⁵And the Holy Ghost truly does witness to us: for afterward he said, ¹⁶This is the covenant that I will make unto them after these days, says the Lord;^d having given my laws on their hearts, and I will also write them in their mind; ¹⁷and I will remember their sins and iniquities no more.^e ¹⁸But where there is removal of these, there is no more offering for sin.

¹⁹Then, brethren, having boldness unto the entering in of the holies through the blood of Jesus,^f ²⁰by which he has opened unto us a new and living way, through the veil, that is, of his flesh, ²¹and having a great high priest over the house of God; ²²let us draw nigh with a true heart in a full assurance of faith, having been sprinkled as to our hearts from an evil conscience, ²³and washed as to our body with purifying water: let us hold fast the testimony of hope stedfast;^g for the one having promised is faithful; ²⁴and let us recognize one another in the provocation of divine love and good works: ²⁵not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together as is the custom to some; but exhorting: and this the more, as you see the days drawing nigh.

²⁶For we sinning willingly after we have received the perfect knowledge of the truth, there is left no more sacrifice for sins,^h ²⁷but a certain fearful anticipation of judgment and violence of fire, about to devour the adversaries. ²⁸The one having rejected the law of Moses dies without mercy before two or three witnesses:ⁱ ²⁹of how much more terrible punishment, do you think, the one having trodden under foot the Son of God, and counted the blood of the covenant, by which he was sanctified, common,^j and insulted the Spirit of grace; be counted worthy! ³⁰For we know him who said, Vengeance belongs to me, I will repay; and again, The

CHAPTER XI.

Definition and examples of faith: Abel, Enoch, Noah, Abraham, Sarah; the patriarchs, Joseph, Moses, and others.

HEBREWS XI.

¹But faith is the confidence of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen. ²For by it the elders receive the witness of the Spirit. ³By faith we understand that the worlds were created by the word of God, and that which was seen was not made from things which are manifest.^a ⁴By faith Abel offered up to God a more acceptable sacrifice than Cain, through which he received the witness that he was righteous, God witnessing to his gifts: and through it he having died is still speaking. ⁵By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and he was not found because God translated him. For before he was translated he had the witness of the Spirit, that he pleased God:^b ⁶but without faith it is impossible to please him: for it behooves the one coming unto God to believe that he is, and he is a rewarder unto them who seek him out.^c ⁷By faith Noah, being warned concerning things not yet seen, being moved with fear, prepared an ark for the salvation of his family; by which he condemned the world, and became heir to the righteousness which is according to faith. ⁸By faith Abraham, being called to go out into a place which he was about to receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and went out, not knowing whither he goes.^d ⁹By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as a strange country, dwelling in tents with Isaac and Jacob, fellow-heirs of the same promise: ¹⁰for he anticipated a city having foun-

¹³These all died in the faith, not having received the promises, but seeing them afar off, and embracing them, and confessing that they are strangers and pilgrims on the earth.^g ¹⁴For those speaking such things declare that they are seeking after a country of their own. ¹⁵If indeed they remember that country from which they came out, they would have had an opportunity to return; ¹⁶but now they seek a better country, that is, a heavenly. Therefore God is not ashamed to be called their God: for he has prepared for them a city.^h ¹⁷By faith Abraham, being tested, offered up Isaac: and the one having received the promises offered up his only begotten son,ⁱ ¹⁸in reference to whom it was said, In Isaac shall thy seed be called:^j ¹⁹considering that God is able to raise him from the dead; whence he also received him in a figure. ²⁰By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau concerning things to come.^k ²¹By faith Jacob, when dying, blessed each one of the sons of Joseph, and worshiped, on the hilt of his staff.^l ²²By faith Joseph, dying, made mention concerning the exodus of the children of Israel; and commanded concerning his own bones.^m ²³By faith Moses, having been born, was hidden three months by his parents, because they saw that he was a beautiful child; and did not fear the commandment of the king.ⁿ ²⁴By faith Moses, having become an adult, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter; ²⁵choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasure of sin for a season; ²⁶esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt: for he was looking unto the recompense of reward. ²⁷By faith he left Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king: for he went out, as seeing the invisible one.^o ²⁸By faith he instituted the passover, and the sprinkling of blood, in order that the one destroying the first-born might not touch them.^p ²⁹By faith they pass through the Red sea as through dry land: the undertaking of which the Egyptians having entered upon were drowned.^q ³⁰By faith the walls of Jericho fell, having been encompassed about seven days.^r ³¹By faith Rahab the harlot^s perished not with the unbelievers, having received the spies with faith.

HEBREWS XII.

¹Therefore let us indeed, having around us so great a cloud of witnesses, having laid aside every weight, and the sin that doth so easily beset us, run with patience the race which is set before us, ²looking unto Jesus the beginner and perfecter of our faith; who for the joy that was placed before him, endured the cross, looking with contempt at the shame, and has sat down on the right hand of the throne of God.^a ³For consider him who has endured so great a contradiction of sinners against himself, in order that you may not become weary, fainting in your souls.

⁴For you have not yet resisted unto blood, fighting against sin; and you have forgotten the exhortation which reasoneth with you as with sons, My son regard not lightly the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art proven of him:^b ⁵for whom the Lord loves he chastises, and scourges every son whom he receives. ⁶Endure unto chastisement; God deals with you as with sons; for what son is there whom the father does not chastise? ⁷And if you are without chastisement, of which all have been partakers, then are you bastards, and not sons. ⁸Then indeed, we had fathers of our flesh who chastised us, and we endured: how much more then shall we submit to the Father of spirits, and live? ⁹For they indeed for a few days were accustomed to chastise us according to that which seemed right to them; but he made unto our profit, in order that we might partake his holiness. ¹⁰Indeed no chastisement for the present seems to be truly joyful, but sorrowful: but afterward it yields the peaceable fruit of righteousness to them who have been disciplined by it.

¹⁸For you have not come to the mountain that can be touched, and that is burnt with fire, and unto blackness and darkness, and tempest,^h ¹⁹and to the sound of the trumpet, and the voice of words; which those having heard requested that the word should not be spoken unto them:ⁱ ²⁰for they could not endure that which was spoken, If a wild beast should touch the mountain, it shall be pierced through with a dart: ²¹and the sight was so fearful, Moses said, I exceedingly fear and tremble:^j ²²but you have come to mount Zion, and to the heavenly Jerusalem, to the city of the living God, and to myriads of angels,^k ²³to the whole company, and to the church of the first-born, who have been written in the heavens, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of justified people who have been made perfect, ²⁴and to Jesus the mediator of the new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, speaking something better than the blood of Abel.^k ²⁵See that you do not reject the one speaking: for if they escape not having rejected the one delivering them the divine oracles on earth, how much more shall we not escape, who turn away from the one speaking from the heavens: ²⁶whose voice then shook the earth; but now he has promised, saying, I will still once shake not only the earth, but also heaven.^l ²⁷But he would yet once show the removal of the things shaken, as having been created, in order that the things unshaken may remain. ²⁸Therefore receiving an unshaken kingdom, let us have grace, through which we may worship God acceptably with reverence and fear: ²⁹for our God is a consuming fire.^m

¹⁷Obey your leaders, and be submissive: for they are watching for your souls, as they shall give an account that they may do this with joy and not with grief, for this is profitable to you.

¹⁸Pray for us: for we are persuaded that we have a good conscience, wishing in all things to deport ourselves in harmony with the beauty of holiness. ¹⁹But I the more exhort you to do this, that I may the more speedily be restored unto you.

²⁰And the God of peace, the one having raised up from the dead our Lord Jesus Christ, the great shepherd of the sheep, make you perfect, through the blood of the everlasting covenant,^g ²¹in every good thing to do his will, doing that which is acceptable in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory unto the age of the ages. THE EPISTLE OF JAMES.

CHAPTER I.

It is useful to be tempted. Ask God for wisdom. Our riches perish. Man is the author of failure, and God of success. Hear the law and do it. Subdue the tongue.

JAMES I.

¹James, the servant of God and the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes who are in the Dispersion, greeting.

²Count it all joy, my brethren, when you may fall into manifold temptation.^a ³Knowing that the trial of your faith works out endurance.^b ⁴But let endurance have its perfect work, in order that you may be perfect and whole in every part, lacking in nothing. ⁵But if any of you lack wisdom, let him ask God, who gives to all cheerfully and upbraids none; and it will be given unto him.^c ⁶But let him ask in faith, doubting as to nothing; for he that doubts is like unto the sea driven by the winds and tossed by the tempest. ⁷For let not that man think that he will receive anything from the Lord, ⁸the double-minded man, the most unstable in all his ways. ⁹But let the humble brother boast in his exaltation: ¹⁰and the rich man, in his humility: because as the flower of the grass he will pass away. ¹¹For the sun with a scorching wind has risen, and dried up the grass, and its flower fell off, and the beauty of its countenance perished: so indeed the rich man will pass away in his days.^d

¹²Happy is the man who endures temptation: because, being proved, he will receive a crown of life, which God has promised to those who love him with divine love.^e ¹³Let no one being tempted say, I am tempted from God. For God can not be tempted with evils, and he tempts no one:^f ¹⁴but each one is tempted by his own lusts, being drawn out, and enticed. ¹⁵Then the lust, conceiving, brings forth sin; and sin, having been perfected, produces death.^g ¹⁶Be not deceived, my beloved brethren. ¹⁷Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of the lights, with whom there is no variation or shadow of change. ¹⁸Of his own will begat he us by the word of truth, that we should be some first fruits of his creations.^h ¹⁹Know, my beloved brethren; but let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow toward wrath: ²⁰for the wrath of man works not the righteousness of God. ²¹Therefore having laid aside all filthiness and excess of evil, receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls.¹ ²²But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves. ²³For if any one is a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like a man beholding his natural face in a mirror:² ²⁴for he recognized himself, and has gone away, and immediately forgot what kind he was. ²⁵But the one having looked into the perfect law which is the law of liberty, and having remained in it, not being a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, he shall be happy in his work. ²⁶But if any one seems to be religious, bridling not his own tongue, but deceiving his own heart, the religion of that man is vain. ²⁷Pure religion and undefiled with God even the Father is this, to relieve the orphans and widows in their affliction, and keep himself unspotted from the world.

CHAPTER II.

Do not depreciate the poor beneath the rich. The whole law is to be fulfilled. Faith is to be proven by the works. Abraham and Rahab.

JAMES II.

¹My brethren, do not hold the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect to persons. ²For if a gold-ringed man may come into your synagogue, in shining apparel, and a poor man may also come in with soiled clothing; ³and you may look upon the one wearing the shining garment, and say, Sit thou here in a good place; and may say to the poor man, Stand thou there, or sit down beneath my footstool: are you not condemned among yourselves, and have you not become the judges of evil reasonings?

⁴Hear, my beloved brethren. Has not God chosen the poor in the world rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he has promised to those who love him with divine love?^a ⁵You have dishonored the poor. Do not the rich domineer over you, and drag you into courts? ⁷Do they not blaspheme the good name which has been called upon you?^b ⁸If indeed you keep the royal law according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbor with divine love as thyself, you do well.^c ⁹But if you have respect of persons, you commit sin, being convicted by the law as transgressors. ¹⁰For whosoever may keep the whole law, and fail in one item, has become guilty of all. ¹¹For the one saying, Thou shalt not commit adultery also said, Thou shalt not murder; but if you do not commit adultery, but murder, you have become a transgressor of the law. ¹²So you say, and so you do, as about to be condemned by the law of liberty. ¹³For judgment is without mercy to him that shows no mercy; but mercy glorieth against judgment.

^a 1 Cor. 1. 27.

¹⁴But what is it profitable, my brethren, if one may say he has faith, but has not works? whether is faith able to save him? ¹⁵If a brother or sister may be naked, and may be destitute of daily food, ¹⁶and one of you may say to them, Go in peace, be ye warmed, and be ye fed; and give them not the necessaries of the body; what profit is it?^d ¹⁷So indeed faith, if it may not have works, is dead, as to itself.^e ¹⁸But one will say, You have faith, and I have works: Show me your faith apart from works, and I will show you my faith by my works. ¹⁹Do you believe that there is one God? you do well: the demons also believe and tremble.^f ²⁰Do you wish to know, O vain man, that faith apart from works is inefficient? ²¹Was not Abraham our father justified by works, having offered up his son Isaac on the altar? ²²You see that faith wrought with his works, and by works the faith was made perfect; ²³and the scripture was fulfilled, saying, And Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called the friend of God.^g ²⁴You see that a man is justified by works, and not only by faith.^h ²⁵And likewise also was not Rahab the harlotⁱ justified by works, having received the spies, and sent them out by another way? ²⁶For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, so faith also apart from works is dead.

CHAPTER III.

JAMES III.

¹Be ye not many teachers, my brethren, knowing that we shall receive the greater judgment. ²For we all fail in many things; if any one fails not in word, the same is a perfect man, able even to bridle the whole body. ³But if we put bridles into the mouths of the horses, that they may obey us; and we manage their whole body; ⁴behold also the ships, being so great, and driven by fierce winds, are managed by the smallest rudder, whithersoever the will of the steersman prefers; ⁵so also the tongue is a little member, and it boasts great things. Behold, how great a wood a little fire kindles! ⁶The tongue, a fire, the world of iniquity: the tongue sits down in the midst of our members, and corrupting the whole body, and setting on fire the course of nature; and it is set on fire from hell. ⁷For every nature both of wild beasts, and of birds, and of creeping things, and of oceanic animals, is subdued, and has been subjugated to human nature: ⁸but no one of men is able to tame the tongue; an incorrigible evil, full of deadly poison.^a ⁹With it we bless the Lord, even the Father; and with it we scold the people, who have been made after the image of God: ¹⁰out of the same mouth come forth blessing and scolding. My brethren, these things ought not so to be. ¹¹Whether does the fountain out of the same chink sent forth sweet water and bitter? ¹²My brethren, whether is the fig-tree able to produce olives, or the vine figs? Neither is the bitter fountain able to produce sweet water.

¹³Who is wise and instructed among you? Let him show forth out of beautiful conduct his works in meekness of wisdom. ¹⁴But if you have bitter envy and strife in your heart, do not boast, and lie against the truth. ¹⁵This is not the wisdom that comes down from above, but it is earthly, intellectual, and demoniacal. ¹⁶For where there are envy and strife, there are contention and every evil work. ¹⁷But the wisdom which is from above is indeed first pure, then peaceable, gentle, easily persuaded, full of mercy and of good works, free from partiality and hypocrisy. ¹⁸But the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace to those who are making peace.

CHAPTER IV.

Vain lust is to be fled away from. Against stubbornness and self-confidence.

JAMES IV.

¹Whence come wars and whence come battles within you? are they not from thence, from your pleasures warring in your members?^a ²You lust, and you have not: you murder, and you strive, and you are not able to obtain: you fight and you war; and have not, because you do not ask: ³you ask, and you receive not, because you ask wickedly, that you may expend it in your pleasures. ⁴O adulteresses,^b do you not know that the friendship of the world is enmity to God? Whosoever therefore may wish to be the friend of the world renders himself the enemy of God.^c ⁵Whether do you think that the scripture says in vain, 'The spirit who dwells in us fights against envy?' and he gives more grace. Therefore he says, God resists the proud, and gives grace to the humble.^d ⁷Therefore draw nigh unto God; and resist the devil, and he will flee from you: ⁸draw nigh unto God, and he draws nigh unto you.^e Purify your hands, ye sinners; and cleanse your hearts, ye double-minded. ⁹Weep, and mourn, lament: let your laughter be turned into mourning, and your joy into sorrow. ¹⁰Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will raise you up.

¹¹Do not calumniate one another, brethren: the one speaking against his brother, and judging his brother, speaks against the law, and judges the law: if you judge the law, you are not a doer of the law, but a judge. ¹²There is one lawgiver and judge, who is able to save and to destroy: but who are you, the one judging your neighbor.^f

¹³Come now, ye who are saying, To-day or to-morrow we will go into that city, and abide there a year, and trade and accumulate: ¹⁴whosoever do not know that which belongs to the morrow: for what is your life? For you are a vapor, appearing for a moment, and then vanishing away; ¹⁵on the contrary you should say, If the Lord will, and we live, we will indeed do this, or that.^g ¹⁶But you are now boasting in your arrogances: all such boasting is wicked. ¹⁷Therefore to him that knows to do good, and does it not, to him it is sin.^h

CHAPTER V.

Exhortation to the rich. Patience of the pious. There is to be no swearing. Care for the sick, power of prayer. Concerning the fallen.

JAMES V.

¹Come now, ye rich, weep mourning over your calamities which are coming on you. ²Your riches are corrupted, and your garments have become moth-eaten: ³your gold and your silver are cankered; and their rust shall be for a witness against you, and eat your flesh like fire. You laid up treasures in the last days. ⁴Behold, the wages of the laborers having reaped your fields, which is fraudulently kept back by you, is crying out: and the voices of the reapers have come into the ears of the Lord of hosts. ⁵Ye flourished upon the earth, and were wanton; you nourished your hearts in the day of slaughter. ⁶You condemned, you murdered the righteous; nothing antagonizes you.

⁷Therefore, O brethren, suffer long, until the coming of the Lord. Behold, the farmer receives the precious fruit of the earth, waiting for it, until he may receive the former and latter rain: you also suffer long; establish your hearts; because the coming of the Lord is nigh. ⁸Do not complain against one another, brethren, in order that you may not be judged: behold, the judge stands before the doors.^a ¹⁰Brethren, receive the prophets who spoke in the name of the Lord as an example of suffering evil and longsuffering.^b

¹¹Behold, we pronounce them happy who have endured: you have heard the patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord, because the Lord is very merciful, and sympathetic.

¹²But, my brethren, before all, swear not, neither by heaven, or by earth, or any other oath: but let your conversation be yes yes; and no no; lest you may fall under condemnation.^c

¹³Who is afflicted among you? let him pray. Who is merry? let him sing psalms. ¹⁴Is any one sick among you? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord. ¹⁵Truly the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord will raise him up; if he may have committed sins, they shall be forgiven unto him. Therefore confess your sins to one another, and pray for one another, in order that you may be healed: the inward working prayer of a righteous man avails much. ¹⁷Elijah was a man of like suffering to us, and he prayed with prayer^d that it might not rain, and it

The First Epistle General

CHAPTER I.

Christ our salvation. Adversities prove faith. Testimony of the prophets to us. Being redeemed and regenerated by the word of God, it is necessary to live holy.

I PETER I.

¹Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the elect sojourners of the Dispersion of Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, ²according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ. Grace to you, and peace, be multiplied.

³Blessed is the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the one having according to his great mercy begotten us again into a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead,^a ⁴unto an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and never fading, having been kept in the heavens unto you, ⁵who are preserved by the power of God through faith unto the salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.^b ⁶In whom you rejoice, if however it is needful, being grieved a little while among manifold temptations: in order ⁷that the trial of your faith, which is more precious than gold that perishes, however being tried by the fire, may be found unto praise and glory and honor in the revelation of Jesus Christ:^c ⁸whom you not seeing, love with divine love; on whom, not looking, but believing, you rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory: ⁹receiving the end of your faith, the salvation of your souls. ¹⁰Concerning which salvation the prophets, who prophesied concerning the grace towards you, sought out and investigated, ¹¹searching into what, or what kind of time the Spirit of Christ who was in them, witnessing the sufferings towards Christ, and the glories after these, did show: ¹²to whom it was revealed, because they were ministering not these things for themselves, but for you, which are now proclaimed unto you by those who preach to you the gospel with the Holy Ghost having been sent from heaven; into which things the angels desire to look down.

¹³Therefore having girded up the loins of your minds, being perfectly sober, hope unto the grace which is conferred on you in the revelation of Jesus Christ. ¹⁴As children of obedience, not being fashioned after your former lusts in ignorance:^d ¹⁵but according to the Holy One who has called you. Be ye also holy in all your deportment; ¹⁶because it has been written, Ye shall be holy; because I am holy. ¹⁷And if you call upon the Father, the One judging without respect of persons according to the work of each, pass the time of your sojourn with fear, ^e ¹⁸knowing that you have been redeemed from your depraved character transmitted from your ancestors, not by corruptible things, silver or gold, ¹⁹but by the precious blood of Christ, as a lamb without blemish and spotless: ²⁰foreknown indeed before the foundation of the world, but having been made manifest at the last of the times for the sake of you, ²¹who through him are faithful toward God, who raised him from the dead, and gave him glory; so that your faith and hope are toward God.

²²Having purified your souls through obedience of the truth unto unhypocritical, brotherly love, fervently from the heart love one another with divine love: ²³having been begotten again, not of corruptible seed, but incorruptible, through the word of God, who lives and abides. ²⁴Therefore all flesh is as grass, and all its glory as the flower of grass: the grass is withered, and the flower fell off: ^f ²⁵but the word of the Lord abides forever. And this is the word which has been preached unto you.

CHAPTER II.

Living stones, the holy race of God. Life pure for the sake of the Gentiles. Obedience to the commandments. We are to suffer according to the example of Christ.

I PETER II.

¹Therefore having laid aside all evil, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envyings, and all calumniations; ^a ²like newly born babes, desire the pure milk of the word, in order that you may grow thereby unto salvation: ^b ³if you have tasted that the Lord is good. ⁴Unto whom going forth, to a living stone, indeed rejected by men, but elect with God, precious, ^c ⁵and you, as living stones, are built up a spiritual house, into a holy priesthood, to offer spiritual sacrifices, acceptable unto God through Jesus Christ. ^d ⁶Because it runs thus in the scripture, Behold, I lay in Zion a chief cornerstone, elect, precious: and the one believing on him can not be ashamed. ^e ⁷Therefore to you who believe he is precious: but to the unbelievers, the stone which the builders rejected, the same has become the head of the corner, and the stone of stumbling, and the rock of offence, ^f ⁸who stumble over the word, disbelieving: unto which they indeed were appointed. ⁹But you are an elect race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people unto conquest; in order that you may proclaim the virtues of the one having called you out of darkness unto his own marvelous light: ¹⁰who at one time were no people, but now you are the people of God: who had not obtained mercy, but just now having received mercy. ^g

¹¹Beloved, I exhort you as pilgrims and strangers, to abstain from the carnal desire which wars against the soul;^h ¹²having your deportment beautiful among the Gentiles: in order that in whatsoever they calumniate you as evil doers, seeing from your beautiful works, they may glorify God in the day of his visitation.¹

¹³Submit to every human creature for the sake of the Lord: whether to the king as supereminent, ¹⁴or to governors, as those having been sent out by him unto the condemnation of evil doers, and the praise of those doing good;^j ¹⁵because thus it is the will of God, that doing good you should put to shame the ignorance of the ignorant people: ¹⁶as free, and not as having the freedom as a cover of evil, but as servants of God.^k ¹⁷Honor all people; love the brotherhood with divine love; fear God; honor the king. ¹⁸Servants,^l be submissive to your masters with all reverence; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the wicked.^m ¹⁹For this is grace, if, through the conscience of God, one bears sorrows and suffering unjustly. ²⁰For what glory is there, if, committing sin and being buffeted, you endure it? But if, doing good and suffering you endure it, this is grace with God. ²¹For unto this you have been called: because Christ suffered for you, leaving you an example, that you may follow in his steps:ⁿ ²²who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth, who, being reviled, reviled not again; suffering, he threatened not, but gave up to the one judging righteously:^o ²⁴who himself has borne our sins in his own body on the wood, in order that we, being made free from sins, may live unto righteousness: by whose stripe you are healed.^p ²⁵For you have wandered away like sheep; but you have now turned to the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.^q

CHAPTER III.

To wives and husbands. Love, temperance, patience, are commended. Suffering of Christ, and his descension into Hades. Baptism.

I PETER III.

¹Likewise, ye wives, be submissive to your own husbands; in order that, if any do not believe the word, they shall be gained through the deportment of their wives, without the word;^a ²beholding your chaste deportment which is with reverence: whose beauty, let it not be the external beauty of braiding the hairs, and wearing golds, or putting on of outer garments;^b ⁴but let their beauty be the hidden man of the heart, in the purity of the meek and quiet spirit, which in the sight of God is perfection complete.^c ⁵For in this way in olden times the holy wives, the ones having hope toward God, were indeed accustomed to beautify themselves, submissive to their own husbands: as Sarah submitted to Abraham, calling him Lord: whose children you have become, doing good, and not fearing any calamity.^d Likewise, ye husbands, dwelling with the wife according to knowledge, as the weaker vessel, extending to them honor, as indeed the equal heirs of the grace of life; that your prayers should not be hindered.^e ⁸And finally, all being like-minded,^f sympathetic, loving the brethren, merciful, humble: ⁹not giving evil for evil, or railing for railing: but on the contrary blessing; because unto this you have been called, that you may inherit the blessing.^g ¹⁰For let the one wishing to love life, and to see good days, cease his tongue from evil, and his lips from speaking guile:^h ¹¹let him depart from evil, and do good; let him seek peace, and pursue it:ⁱ ¹²because the eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and his ears are open to their cry: but the face of the Lord is against those doing evil.

¹³Who is the one about to harm you, if you may be zealots of the good? ¹⁴But if indeed you suffer for righteousness' sake, you are happy. Fear not their fear, neither be troubled;^j but sanctify the Lord Christ in your hearts: being always ready for an answer to every one asking you a reason for the hope which is in you, but with meekness and fear:^k ¹⁵having a good conscience, in order that, in whatsoever you are calumniated, those traducing your good deportment in Christ may be ashamed.^l

¹⁶For it is better, doing good, if the will of the Lord should will it, to suffer, rather than doing evil.^m ¹⁸Because Christ indeed once died for our sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, indeed being put to death in the flesh, but quickened in spirit:ⁿ ¹⁹by which also having gone he proclaimed to the spirits in prison;^o ²⁰who at one time were disobedient, when the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, the ark being prepared, in which a few, that is, eight souls were saved through the water.^p ²¹Which antitype baptism does even now save you, not the removal of the filth of the flesh, but the seeking after a good conscience toward God, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ:^q ²²who is on the right hand of God, having gone up into heaven; angels and authorities and powers being subordinated unto him.^r

CHAPTER IV.

The new life is to be dedicated to God and the brethren. We are to rejoice over calamity during our probation.

I PETER IV.

¹Therefore Christ having suffered in the flesh, you also arm yourselves with the same mind:^a because the one having suffered in carnality has ceased from sin; ²that he may no longer live the remaining life in carnality, but in the will of God.^b ³For the past time is sufficient to have wrought the will of the heathens, walking in impurities, in lusts, in wine-drinkings, in revelries, in intemperance, and in unlawful idolatries: ⁴in which they are astonished you not running to the same excess of wrath, blaspheming; ⁵who shall give an account to him who is ready to judge the living and the dead. ⁶For, unto this the gospel was also preached to the dead, in order that they may indeed be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.^c

⁷But the end of all things is at hand. Therefore be prudent, and sober unto prayers:^d ⁸before all things having divine love stedfast toward one another; because divine love covers a multitude of sins:^e ⁹being hospitable to one another without grudging;^f ¹⁰as each one received the gift of grace, ministering the same to one another, as the good stewards of the manifold grace of God:^g ¹¹if any one speaks, let him speak as the oracles of God; if any one ministers, as from the strength which God supplies; in order that God may be glorified in all things through Jesus Christ;^h to whom there is glory and power unto the ages of the ages.ⁱ Amen.

¹²Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial among you, coming upon you unto your testing: as some strange thing happening to you: ¹³but as you participate in the sufferings of Christ, rejoice; in order that you may also rejoice in the revelation of his glory, being glad.^j ¹⁴If you suffer as a murderer, or a thief, or an evil-doer, or as a meddler in other spirit of the glory and the spirit of God rest on you.^k ¹⁵But let no one of you suffer as a murderer, or a thief, or an evil-doer, or as a meddler in other people's business: ¹⁶but if as a Christian, be not ashamed, but glorify God in this name. ¹⁷Because it is time that judgment should begin from the house of God: and if it is first from us, what shall be the end of those who obey not the gospel of God?

¹⁸And if the righteous is scarcely saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?^m ¹⁹So let those indeed suffering according to the will of God submit their souls to the faithful Creator, in good work.ⁿ

CHAPTER I.

The studies of heroism are to be increased. Peter is going to die in a short time; he is a witness of the transfiguration. The word of prophecy.

2 PETER I.

¹Simon Peter, the servant^a of God and apostle of Jesus Christ, to those receiving like precious faith with us in the righteousness of our God and our Saviour Jesus Christ.^b ²Grace to you and peace be multiplied in the perfect knowledge of Jesus Christ, our Lord.^c

³As His divine power having given unto us all things which appertain to life and godliness, through the perfect knowledge of the one having called us to his own glory and virtue: ⁴through which precious and greatest promises have been given unto us; that through these you may be partakers of the divine nature, escaping the corruption that is in the world through lust. ⁵And in harmony with this same thing also, add to your faith heroism; and to heroism, knowledge; ⁶and to knowledge holiness;^d and to holiness patience; and patience, godliness; ⁷and to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness divine love. ⁸For these things, being in you and overflowing, render you neither barren nor unfruitful in the perfect knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ; ⁹for he unto whom these things are not present is blind, not seeing afar off, having received the forgetfulness of his purgation from his old sins. ¹⁰Therefore, brethren, be the more diligent to make your calling and election sure: for doing these things you can never fall. ¹¹For in this way an entrance will be administered unto you abundantly into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

¹²Therefore I will be about to always remind you concerning these things, even though knowing them, and being established in the present truth.^e ¹³But I consider it righteous, so long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by remembrance;^f ¹⁴knowing that the laying aside of my tabernacle is swift, as our Lord Jesus Christ also showed to me.^g ¹⁵And I will endeavor to have each one of you after my departure make mention of these things.^h ¹⁶For not having followed cunningly devised fables, have we made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but having been eyewitnesses of his majesty. ¹⁷For having received from God the Father the honor and glory of such a voice having been borne to him from the excellent glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.¹ ¹⁸We, being with him in the holy mount, heard this voice borne from heaven.^j ¹⁹And we have the more certain word of prophecy; to which you do well giving heed, as to a light shining in a dark place, until the day may dawn, and the morning-star may rise in your hearts: ²⁰know this in the first place, that no prophecy of scripture is of private interpretation. ²¹For in the olden time prophecy did not come by the will of man: but men moved by the Holy Ghost spoke from God.

CHAPTER II.

False teachers about to come. Examples of the punishment which awaits the incorrigible seducers.

2 PETER II.

¹However there were indeed false prophets among the people, as there will also be false teachers among you, whosoever shall bring in destructive heresies, even denying the Lord who bought them, bringing on themselves swift destruction.^a ²And many will follow their impurities; through whom the way of truth will be slandered: ³and in their covetousness they will sell you with their soft speeches:^b unto whom judgment from olden time tarries not, and their destruction does not slumber. ⁴For if God spared not the angels who sinned, but having sent them down to hell, committed them to chains of darkness to be kept unto judgment;^c ⁵and spared not the old world, but delivered Noah the eight person, the preacher of righteousness, brings the flood upon the world of the ungodly;^d ⁶and having destroyed the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah, with a catastrophe he condemned them, having put them forth as an example to those about to be ungodly:^e ⁷and he delivered righteous Lot, being grieved by the deportment of the ungodly in their debauchery:^f ⁸(for the righteous man dwelling among them, by seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds:)^g ⁹for the Lord knows how to rescue the godly out of temptations, and to keep the unrighteous unto the day of judgment enduring punishment: ¹⁰and especially those going after the flesh in the lust of pollution, and despising lordship.^h Audacious darers, blaspheming, they do not tremble at glories; ¹¹where the angels, being greater in strength and power, do not bring a blasphemous judgment against them before the Lord.^h ¹²But these, like irrational animals having been born naturally for capture and destruction, blaspheming those things in which they are ignorant;¹ in their own corruption they will indeed corrupt themselves; ¹³receiving the reward of unrighteousness, esteeming pleasure which is in the daytime; luxury; spots and blemishes, swelling in their deceits, feasting along with you,^j ¹⁴having eyes full of an adulteress, and unable to cease from sin; beguiling unestablished souls: having a heart which has been made fat with covetousness; children of the curse: ¹⁵leaving the straight way, they have wandered off, following in the way of Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the reward of iniquity; and had the conviction of his own conscience:^k ¹⁶the dumb workbeast having spoken with the voice of a man, rebuked the madness of the prophet. ¹⁷These are fountains without water, and mists driven away by the storm, for which the blackness of darkness has been reserved.¹ ¹⁸For speaking swelling words of vanity, in the lusts of the flesh they beguile with their impurities, those that have but partially escaped, who are still moving about in their delusion;^m ¹⁹promising them liberty, they themselves being the slaves of corruption: for to whatsoever any one has been subordinated, to this he has become enslaved.ⁿ ²⁰For if having escaped the pollutions of the world through the perfect knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, and having again become entangled in these things, they are overcome, the last state has to them become worse than the first.^o ²¹For it was better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, having known it, to turn away from the holy commandment which has been delivered unto them. ²²It has happened unto them according to the old proverb, The dog having returned to his own vomit; and the sow that had washed to wallowing in the mire.^p

CHAPTER III.

*The burning of the world and its renewal; the return of Christ sudden.
The new heavens. Concerning the epistles of Paul.*

2 PETER III.

¹I indeed, beloved, write unto you this second epistle; in which I stir up your pure mind by remembrance:^a ²to remember the words which have been spoken hitherto by the holy prophets, and the commandment of the Lord and Saviour by your apostles:^b ³knowing this first, that at the last days mockers will come forth in scoffing, walking according to their own lusts,^c ⁴and saying, Where is the promise of his coming? for from the day when the fathers fell asleep, all things remain as from the beginning of creation. ⁵For they willingly forget this, that the heavens were in the olden time, and the earth standing out of the water and through the water, by the word of God; ^dby which the world at that time, being flooded with water, perished: ^dbut now the heavens and the earth have been kept according to the same word, being reserved for fire in the day of judgment and the destruction of the ungodly people. ^eBut let not this one thing be forgotten, beloved, that one day with the Lord is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. ^fThe Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some people count slackness; but is long-suffering for your sakes, not wishing that any should perish, but all come to repentance. ^g

¹⁰But the day of the Lord will come like a thief; in which the heavens will pass away with a great noise, and the elements being scorched up will be dissolved, and the earth and the works in it will be burnt up. ^h¹¹Then all these things being dissolved, what kind of people does it behoove you to be in holy deportment and godliness, ¹²looking for and hastening the coming of the day of God, in which the heavens being on fire will be dissolved, and the elements being scorched up are melted? ¹³But, according to his promises, we are looking for new heavens and a new earth, wherein righteousness dwells.

¹⁴Therefore, beloved, looking for these things, be diligent to be found spotless and blameless unto him in peace: ¹⁵and consider the longsuffering of the Lord's salvation; as our beloved brother Paul according to the wisdom which was given unto him has written unto you; ^j¹⁶as also in all his epistles, speaking in the same concerning these things; in which there are some things hard to understand, which the unlearned and unestablished wrest, as they also do the other scriptures, to their own destruction. ¹⁷Then you, beloved, foreknowing watch, lest, having been led away by the delusion of the ungodly, you may fall from your own stedfastness: ^k¹⁸but grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. ^lTo him be glory both now and unto the day of the age. ^m

CHAPTER I.

Testimony concerning Christ. God the light. The blood of Christ.

I JOHN I.

¹That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have beheld, and our hands have handled, concerning the Word of the life;^a ²and the life was made manifest, and we have seen, and we testify, and we proclaim to you the life which is eternal, which was with the Father, and has been made manifest unto us;^b ³that which we have seen and heard we also proclaim to you, in order that you may have fellowship with us. And our fellowship is indeed with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.^c ⁴And we write the same things to you, in order that our joy may be full.

⁵And the same message which we have heard from him, we also proclaim to you, that God is light and in him there is no darkness.^d ⁶If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth: ⁷but if we walk in the light, as He is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin.^e ⁸But if we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.^f ⁹If we confess our sins, he is faithful and righteous that he may forgive us our sins, and cleanse us from all unrighteousness.^g ¹⁰If we may say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.^h

Father, Jesus Christ the righteous:^a ²he is the expiator for our sins: and not ours only, but indeed for the whole world.^b ³And in this we know that we have known him, if we are keeping his commandments. ⁴The one saying, I have known him, and keeping not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him;^c ⁵but whosoever shall keep his word, truly the divine love of God has been made perfect in him. In this we know that we are in him.^d ⁶The one saying that he abides in him ought himself so to walk about, as he also did walk about. ⁷Beloved, I write no new commandment to you, but the old one which you had from the beginning; the old commandment is the word which you have heard.^e ⁸Again I do write a new commandment to you, which is true in him and in you: because the darkness is passing away, and the true light is already shining. ⁹The one saying that he is in the light, and hating his brother, is in the darkness until now.^f ¹⁰The one loving his brother with divine love abides in the light, and there is no stumbling in him. ¹¹But the one hating his brother is in darkness, and walks about in darkness, and does not know whither he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.^g ¹²I write unto you, little children, because your sins are forgiven through his name. ¹³I write unto you, fathers, because you have known him who is from the beginning.^h I write unto you, young men, because you have conquered the wicked one.ⁱ I have written unto you, little children, because you have known the Father. ¹⁴I have written unto you, fathers, because you have known him from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because you are strong, and the word of God abides in you, and you have overcome the evil one. ¹⁵Love not the world, nor the things that are in the world.^j If any one loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him: ¹⁶because this is all that is in the world; the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, which is not of the Father, but is of the world. ¹⁷The world and its lust are indeed passing away; but the one doing the will of God abides forever.

¹⁸Little children, it is the last hour: and as you have heard that antichrist is coming, even now many antichrists have come,^k from which we know that it is the last hour.^l ¹⁹They came out from us, but they were not of us; for if they were of us, they would have remained with us: but in order that they might be made manifest that they are not all of us.^m ²⁰You have an unction from the Holy One, and you all know.ⁿ ²¹I have not written unto you because you do not know the truth, but because you do know it, and that no lie is of the truth. ²²Who is a liar except the one denying that Jesus is the Christ?^o This one is the antichrist, the one denying the Father and the Son.^p ²³No one denying the Son has the Father: the one confessing the Son has also the Father.^q ²⁴Let that which you heard from the beginning abide in you. the beginning may abide in you, you also are abiding in the Son, and in the Father.^r ²⁵This is the message which he proclaimed unto you, eternal life.^s

²⁶I have written these things unto you concerning those deceiving you. ²⁷And the unction which you received from him abides in you, and you have no need that any one may teach you: but as his unction teaches you concerning all things, and it is true, and it is no lie, and as he has taught you, abide in him.^t

²⁸And now, little children, abide in him; in order that, if he may appear, we may have boldness, and not shrink with embarrassment from him in his presence.^u ²⁹If you may know that he is righteous, know that every one doing righteousness has been born of him.^v ,

CHAPTER III.

The sons of God are happy through hope, pure from sin, loving the brethren; hateful to the world. The love of the neighbor, and of God. God is greater than our heart.

I JOHN III.

¹Behold, what manner of love the Father has bestowed upon us, that we should be called the children of God; and we are. And on this account the world does not know us, because it did not know him.^a ²Beloved, now are we the children of God, and it is not yet manifest what we shall be. We know that, if he may be made manifest, we shall be like him; because we shall see him as he is.^b ³Indeed every one having this hope on him purifies himself, even as he is pure. ⁴Every one doing sin does also a transgression of the law: and sin is the transgression of the law.^c ⁵And you know that he was manifested that he might take away sins; and in him there is no sin. ⁶No one abiding in him is sinning:^d every one sinning does not see him, nor know him.^e ⁷Little children, let no one deceive you. The one doing righteousness is righteous, as he is righteous. ⁸The one doing sin is of the devil; because the devil sins from the beginning.^f Unto this the Son of God was made manifest, that he might destroy the works of the devil. ⁹Every one having been born of God does not sin; because his seed remains in him: and he is not able to sin, because he has been born of God.^g ¹⁰In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: every one not doing righteousness is not of God, and the one not loving his brother with divine love.^h ¹¹Because this is the message which you heard from the beginning, that we must love one another, ¹²not as Cain was of the evil one, and slew his brother; and on account of what did he slay him? Because his own works were evil, and those of his brother righteous.

¹³And be not astonished, brother, if the world hates you. ¹⁴We know that we have passed out of the death into the life, because we love the brethren with divine love; ¹the one loving not with divine love, abides in the death. ¹⁵Every one hating his brother is a murderer: and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in himself. ¹⁶In this we know the divine love, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren. ¹⁷Whosoever may have the sustenance of the world, and see his brother having need, and shut up his sympathies from him, how dwells the divine love of God in him? ¹⁸Little children, let us love with divine love not in word, nor in tongue; but in deed and in truth. ¹⁹And in this we shall know that we are of the truth, and we shall assure our hearts before him; ²⁰because if our heart may condemn us, it is because God is greater than our heart, and he knows all things.

²¹Beloved, if our heart may not condemn us, we have boldness toward God: ²²and whatsoever we may ask, we receive from him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things pleasing before him. ²³And this is his commandment, that we may believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and we may love one another with divine love, as he has given to us commandment. ²⁴And the one keeping his commandments abides in him, and he in him; and in this we know that he abides in us, he has given us of his Spirit.^o

CHAPTER IV.

False spirits are to be avoided. The love of God in us is to be imitated in the love of the brethren.

I JOHN IV.

¹Beloved, believe not every spirit, but prove the spirits if they are of God: because many false prophets have gone out into the world. ²In this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit which confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is of God: ³and every spirit which does not confess Jesus is not of God: and this is the spirit of antichrist, which you have heard that he is coming; and now he is already in the world.^b

⁴You are of God, little children, and you have conquered them; because he who is in you is greater than he who is in the world.^c ⁵They are of the world: on this account they speak of the world, and the world hears them.^d ⁶We are of God: the one knowing God hears us; he who is not of God does not hear us. ⁷Beloved, let us love one another with divine love: because divine love is of God; and the one loving with divine love has been born of God, and knows God.^e ⁸The one not loving with divine love does not know God; because God is divine love.^f ⁹In this the divine love of God has been made manifest in us, because God has sent his only begotten Son into the world that we may live through him.^g ¹⁰In him is divine love, not because we loved God with divine love, but because he loved us with divine love, and sent his Son an expiation for our sins.^h

¹¹Beloved, if God so loved us with divine love, we ought also to love one another with divine love.ⁱ ¹²No one has seen God at any time; if we love one another with divine love, God abides in us, and his divine love has been made perfect in us.^j ¹³In this we know that we abide in him, and he in us, because he has given us of his spirit. ¹⁴And we have seen and we testify that the Father has sent forth his Son the Saviour of the world.^k ¹⁵Whosoever may confess that Jesus is the Son of God, in him God abides, and he in God.^l ¹⁶And we have known and we have believed the divine love which God has in us.^m God is divine love; and the one abiding in divine love abides in God, and God abides in him.

¹⁷In this the divine love has been made perfect in us, that we may have boldness in the day of the judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world.ⁿ ¹⁸There is no fear in divine love; but perfect divine love casts out the fear: because the fear has torment; and the one fearing has not been made perfect in the divine love. ¹⁹Let us love with divine love, because he himself first loved us with divine love.^o ²⁰If any one may say, I love God with divine love, and may hate his brother, he is a liar: for the one not loving his brother whom he has seen, with divine love, is not able to love God, whom he has not seen, with divine love. ²¹And we have this precept from him, that the one loving God with divine love also loves his brother with divine love.^p vine love and keep his commandments. ³For this is the divine love of God, that we may keep his commandments;^b and his commandments are not heavy:^c ⁴because everything which has been born of God conquers the world: and this is the victory which has conquered the world, our faith.^d ⁵Who is the one conquering the world, except the one believing that Jesus is the Son of God?^e

⁶He is the one having come through water and blood, Jesus Christ; not by water only, but by water and blood; the Spirit is the one who bears witness, because the Spirit is the truth. ⁷Because there are three who are bearing witness, ⁸the Spirit and the water, and blood: and these three are one. ⁹If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: because this is the witness of God that he has testified concerning his Son.^f ¹⁰The one believing on the Son of God has the witness in himself: the one not believing God has made him a liar; because he has not believed in the testimony which God has testified concerning his Son. ¹¹And this is the testimony, that God has given unto us eternal life, and this life is in his Son.^g ¹²The one having the Son has the life; the one not having the Son of God has not the life.^h

¹³I have written these things unto you, in order that you may know that you have eternal life; to those who believe on the name of the Son of God.ⁱ ¹⁴And this is the testimony which we have toward him, that, if we may ask anything according to his will, he hears us.^j ¹⁵And if we know that he hears us as to whatsoever we may ask, we know that we have the petitions which we have asked from him. ¹⁶If any one may see his brother sinning a sin not unto death, he shall ask, and he will give him life to those sinning not unto death. There is a sin unto death;^k concerning this I do not say that you may ask. ¹⁷All unrighteousness is sin: and there is sin not unto death.^l

¹⁸We know that every one who has been born of God, sins not; but the one having been born of God keeps himself, and the evil one does not touch him.^m ¹⁹We know that we are of God, and the whole world lies in the evil one.ⁿ ²⁰But we know that the Son of God has come and has given unto us intelligence, that we know the truth. OF

CHAPTER I.

Cyria is praised with her children. We are to persevere in divine love. Seducers are to be avoided. The hope of seeing them.

¹The elder to the elect Cyria, and to her children, whom in truth I love with divine love; and not I, but also those having known the truth; ²on account of the truth which abides in us, and shall be with us forever. ³Grace, mercy, peace, shall be with us from God our Father and from Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and in divine love.^a ⁴I rejoice exceedingly because I have found some of thy children walking about in truth, as we received commandment from the Father.^b ⁵And now I entreat thee, O Cyria, not as writing to thee a new commandment, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another with divine love. ⁶And this is the divine love, that we may walk about according to his commandments; ^cthis is the commandment, That, as you heard from the beginning, that you may walk about in it. ⁷Because many deceivers have gone out into the world, who do not confess that Jesus Christ is coming in the flesh; the same is the deceiver and the antichrist.^d ⁸Take heed to yourselves, that you may not destroy those things which you have wrought, but may receive a full reward. ⁹Every one going forth, and not abiding in the teaching of Christ, has not God; the one abiding in the teaching, the same has both the Father and the Son.^e ¹⁰If any one comes to you, and does not bring this doctrine; ¹¹do not receive him into your house, and do not bid him God speed: ¹²for the one bidding him God speed partakes of his evil deeds.

¹³Having many things to write to you, I would not write them with paper and ink: but I hope to come to you, and mouth to mouth to speak to you, in order that our joy may be full.^h ¹⁴The children of thy elect sister salute thee.ⁱ

The Third Epistle

JOHN.

The hospitality of Gaius is praised. Diotrephes and Demetrius.

¹The elder to the beloved Gaius, whom I truly love with divine love.^a ²Beloved, I pray that you may prosper concerning all things and be well, as your soul prospers. ³I rejoice exceedingly, the brethren coming and witnessing to thy truth, as thou art walking about in truth.^b ⁴I have no greater joy than this, that I may hear of my children walking about in truth. ⁵Beloved, whatsoever faithful deed thou mayest do to the brethren, thou art also dispensing to the strangers, ⁶who have witnessed to thy divine love before the church: whom you will do well, having sent forth worthily of God. ⁷For the sake of his name they went out, receiving nothing from the Gentiles. ⁸Therefore we ought to receive such, in order that we may be fellow-workers with the truth.

⁹I wrote something to the church, but Diotrephes, loving the pre-eminence over them, does not receive us. ¹⁰On account of this, if I may come, I will remember his works which he is doing, berating with wicked speeches: and not content with these, he does not receive the brethren, and he prohibits them wishing to receive them, and casts them out of the church.

¹¹Beloved, imitate not the evil, but the good. The one doing good is of God: the one doing evil has not seen God.^c ¹²To Demetrius it has been testified by all, and by the truth itself: and we also testify: and you know that our testimony is true.^d ¹³Having many things to write to you, but I do not wish to write them to you with ink and paper:^e ¹⁴but I hope to see you immediately, and mouth to mouth we will speak. ¹⁵Peace be unto you. The friends salute you; salute the friends by name.

The Revelation

OF

ST. JOHN THE DIVINE.

CHAPTER I.

John to the seven churches speaks greeting. He divinely visited on Patmos. The vision of the Son of man with the seven golden candlesticks, and the stars.

REVELATION I.

¹The Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave to him, to show unto his servants the thing which it behooves speedily to come to pass; and he signified having sent by his angel to his servant John;^a ²who witnessed the word of God, and the testimony of Jesus Christ, as to so many things as he saw.^b ³Blessed is the one reading, and those hearing the word of the prophecy, and keeping the things which have been written in it: for the time is at hand.^c

⁴John to the seven churches which are in Asia: Grace to you, and peace, from the one who is, and who was, and who is coming; and from the seven Spirits which are before his throne; ⁵and from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, the firstbegotten of the dead, and the prince of the kings of the earth.^d To the one loving us with divine love, and having washed us from our sins in His own blood,^e and He made us a kingdom, priests unto God even his Father; to him be glory and dominion unto the ages of the ages; amen.^f

⁷Behold, he is coming with clouds; and every eye shall behold him, even those who pierced him, and all the tribes of the earth will wail at him; yes, Amen.^g ⁸I am Alpha and Omega, says the Lord God, who is and who was, and who is coming, the Almighty.^h

⁹I John, your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and in patience in Jesus, was in the island which is called Patmos, on account of the word of God, and on account of the testimony of Jesus.ⁱ

¹⁰I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and I heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet ¹¹saying, Write what you are seeing in a book, and send it to the seven churches; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamum, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea.^j ¹²And I turned to see the voice which was speaking with me; and having turned, I saw seven golden candlesticks; ¹³and in the midst of the candlesticks one like the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to his feet, and girded about the breast with a golden girdle.^k ¹⁴And his head and his hairs were as wool, white as snow; and his eyes were like a flame of fire;^l ¹⁵and his feet were like brass, as having been burned in a furnace; and his voice as the sound of many waters,^m ¹⁶and having in his right hand seven stars: and out of his mouth is going forth a sharp two-edged sword: and his countenance like the sun shines in his strength.ⁿ ¹⁷And when I saw him, I fell at his feet like a dead man; and he laid his right hand on me, saying, Fear not; I am the first and the last:^o ¹⁸the living one, and I was dead; and, behold, I am alive unto the ages of the ages, and I have the keys of death and of Hades. ¹⁹Therefore write the things which you have seen, and the things which are, and the things which are about to take place after these; ²⁰and the mystery of the seven stars which you saw in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and the seven golden candlesticks are the seven churches.

CHAPTER II.

To the Ephesians. To the Smyrneans. To the Pergameans. Antipas. Balaam. The Nicolaitans. To the Thyatircans. Jezebel. Punishment is imminent unless they repent.

REVELATION II.

¹To the angel which is in the church at Ephesus write; The one holding the seven stars in his right hand, the one walking about in the midst of the golden candlesticks, says these things;^a ²I know your works, and your labor, and your patience, and that you are not able to hear the wicked; and you have tried those who say they are apostles, and are not, and have found them to be liars: ³and you have patience and have borne with them for my name's sake, and have not fainted.^b ⁴But I have something against you, because you have left your first love. ⁵Remember therefore whence you have fallen, and repent, and do your first works; lest I come to you, and shall move your candlestick out of its place, if you do not repent. ⁶But you have this, that you hate the works of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.^c ⁷Let the one having ears, hear what the Spirit says to the churches; to him who conquers I will give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the Paradise of God.^d

¹²To the angel of church in Pergamum write; The one having the sharp, two-edged sword says these things;ⁱ ¹³I know where you dwell, where the throne of Satan is: and you are holding fast my name, and did not deny my faith, in the days when Antipas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwells.^j ¹⁴But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there those holding the teachings of Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumblingblock before the sons of Israel, and to eat things sacrificed to idols, and to commit fornication.^k ¹⁵So you also have those in a similar manner holding the teaching of the Nicolaitans. ¹⁶Repent; otherwise I am coming to you quickly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.^l ¹⁷Let the one having ears hear what the Spirit says to the churches; unto the one conquering will I give to him of the hidden manna, and I will give him a white stone, and on the stone my new name having been written, which no one knows but the one receiving it.^m

To the Sardinians. To the Philadelphians. The new Jerusalem. To the Laodiceans. The lukewarm.

REVELATION III.

¹And to the angel of the church in Sardis write; The one having the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars, says these things;^a I know your works, that you have a name that you are living, and are dead. ²Be you watchful, and strengthen the remaining things, which are about to die.^b For I have not found your works perfect before my God. ³Remember therefore how you have received and heard, and hold fast, and repent.^c If you do not watch, I will come as a thief, and you shall not know what hour I will come upon you.^d ⁴But you have a few names in Sardis who have not defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me in white: because they are worthy. ⁵The one conquering shall thus be clothed in white garments; and I will not blot out his name from the book of life, and I will confess his name before my Father, and in presence of his angels.^e ⁶Let the one having ears hear what the Spirit says to the churches.^f

CHAPTER V.

The book of the seven seals, which is to be opened, is given to the Lamb. The Lamb is celebrated by the heavenly singers.

REVELATION V.

¹And I saw upon the right hand of the one sitting upon the throne a book having been written within and without, having been sealed with seven seals. ^aAnd I saw a mighty angel crying with a great voice, Who is able to open the book, and to loose its seals? ^bAnd no one in the heaven, nor upon the earth, nor beneath the earth, was able to open the book, and to look into it. ^cAnd I was weeping much, because no one was found worthy to open the book, or to look into it. ^dAnd one of the elders says to me; Weep not: ^ebehold, the Lion of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has conquered to open the book, and the seven seals.

^fAnd I saw, in the midst of the throne and the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, the Lamb standing as having been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God having been sent into all the earth.^d ⁷And he came and took the book out of the right hand of the one sitting upon the throne.^e ⁸And when he took the book, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb,^f having each a harp, and golden bowls filled with incense, which are the prayers of the saints. ⁹And they sing a new song, saying, 'Thou art worthy to receive the book, and to open its seals: because thou wast slain, and didst with thy blood redeem unto God out of every tribe, and tongue, and people, and nation; ¹⁰and didst make them a kingdom and priests unto our God: and they shall reign on the earth.'^g ¹¹And I saw, and I heard as it were a voice of many angels round about the throne, and the living creatures, and the elders: and their number was myriads of myriads,^h and thousands of thousands;ⁱ ¹²saying with a great voice; 'Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and might, and honor, and glory, and blessing.'^j ¹³And I heard all creation, which is in the heaven, and upon the earth, and beneath the earth, and in the sea, and all things which are in them, indeed saying,^k to the one sitting upon the throne, and to the Lamb, blessing, and honor, and glory, and dominion, unto the ages of the ages.^l ¹⁴And the four living creatures continued to say, Amen. And the elders fell and worshiped.^m

CHAPTER VI.

The Lamb opens the first six seals. The first signifies the victory of Christ. Slaughter and calamities follow, till the sixth proclaims the winding up of all things.

REVELATION VI.

¹And I saw when the Lamb opened the first of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures speaking, like a voice of thunder, Come. ²And I saw, and behold, a white horse: and the one sitting on him having a bow; and a crown was given unto him: and he went forth conquering, and that he might conquer.^a ³And when he opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature saying; Come. ⁴And there went out a red horse: and to him sitting on him it was given to take peace from the earth, and that they shall slay one another: and a great sword was given him.

⁷And when he opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature saying, Come. ⁸And I saw, and behold a livid horse: and the one sitting on him, to him the name was Death,^c and Hades followed along with him: and power was given unto them over the fourth part of the earth, to slay with the sword, and with famine, and with death, and with the wild beasts of the earth.^d

⁹And when he opened the fifth seal, I saw beneath the altar the souls of those who had been slain on account of the word of God, and the testimony which they had.^e ¹⁰And they cried with a great voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, do you not judge and avenge our blood from those who dwell upon the earth?^f ¹¹And a white robe was given to each of them; and it was said to them, that they should wait a little while, until their fellow-servants and brethren, who are about to be slain as they were should be fulfilled.^g

¹²And I saw when he opened the sixth seal, and there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the full moon became like blood;^h ¹³and the stars of the heaven fell upon the earth, as a fig-tree casting her unripe figs, when shaken by a mighty wind;ⁱ ¹⁴and the heaven rolled away as a book is rolled up;^j and every mountain and island were moved out of their places.^k ¹⁵And the kings of the earth, and the mighty men, and the chiliarchs,^l and the rich men, and the mighty men, and every slave, and every free man, hid themselves in the caves and in the rocks of the mountains,¹⁶ and they say to the mountains and to the rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of the one sitting upon the throne, and the wrath of the Lamb: ¹⁷because the great day of their wrath has come; and who is able to stand?^m

⁵Out of the tribe of Judah twelve thousand were sealed; of the tribe of Reuben twelve thousand; out of the tribe of Gad, twelve thousand;^d ⁶of the tribe of Asher, twelve thousand; of the tribe of Napthali, twelve thousand; of the tribe of Manasseh, twelve thousand; ⁷of the tribe of Simeon, twelve thousand; of the tribe of Levi, twelve thousand; of the tribe of Issachar, twelve thousand; ⁸of the tribe of Zebulun, twelve thousand; of the tribe of Joseph, twelve thousand; of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.

CHAPTER VIII.

REVELATION VIII.

¹And when he opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven about half an hour. ²And I saw the seven angels who stood before God; and seven trumpets were given unto them.^a ³And another angel came and stood before the altar, having a golden censer; and much incense was given to him, that he shall offer with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which is before the throne.^b ⁴And the smoke of the incense went up out of the hand of the angel, with the prayers of the saints, before God. ⁵And the angel took the censer, and filled it with the fire of the altar, and cast it to the earth: and there were thunders, and voices, and lightnings, and an earthquake.^c ⁶And the seven angels, those having the seven trumpets, prepared themselves that they should sound. ⁷And the first sounded, and there were hail and fire mingled with blood, and cast to the earth:^d and the third of the earth was burnt up, and the third of the trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

⁸And the second angel sounded, and as it were a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea:^e and the third part of the sea became blood; ⁹and the third of the creatures which were in the sea, those having life, died; and the third part of the ships was destroyed.

¹⁰And the third angel sounded; and a great star, burning like a lamp, fell from the heaven, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of the waters.^f ¹¹And the name of the star is called Apsinth.^g And the third part of the waters became apsinth;^h and many of the men died from the waters, because they were bitter.

¹²And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars, were smitten; and the third part of them was darkened, and the day did not shine the third part of it, and likewise the night.ⁱ ¹³And I saw, and I heard one eagle flying in the midst of heaven, saying with a great voice; Woe, woe, woe, to those dwelling upon the earth, on account of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, who are about to sound.^j

CHAPTER IX.

Fifth and sixth trumpets. The locusts out of the bottomless pit, indicating the hosts of the enemies along with King Abaddon. The four angels loosed along with an army about to destroy men.

REVELATION IX.

¹And the fifth angel sounded; and I saw a star^a having fallen from the heaven to the earth; and the key of the pit of the abyss was given to him.^b ²And he opened the pit of the abyss, and smoke came out of the pit, like the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened from the smoke of the pit.^c ³And locusts came out of the smoke into the earth: and power was given unto them, as the scorpions of the earth have power. ⁴And it was said to them that they shall not hurt the grass of the earth, nor any green thing, nor any tree; only the men who have not the seal of God upon their foreheads.^d ⁵And it was given to them that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when he may strike a man. ⁶And in those days men will seek death, and will not find it; and they will desire to die, and death flies from them.^e ⁷And the shapes of the locusts are like horses having been made ready for war; and upon their heads as it were crowns like gold, and their faces are like the faces of men.^f ⁸And they had hair as the hair of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of lions.^g ⁹And they had breastplates as breastplates of iron; and the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots of many horses rushing to war.^h ¹⁰And they have tails like scorpions, and stings: and their power is in their tails, to hurt men five months: ¹¹and they have over them a king, the angel of the bottomless pit, to him the name is Abaddon in Hebrew, and in Greek he has the name Apollyon.ⁱ ¹²One Woe is past; behold two Woes come yet after these things.^j

¹³And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard one voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God, ¹⁴saying to the sixth angel the one having the trumpet, Loose the four angels which have been bound at the great river Euphrates.^k ¹⁵And the four angels were loosed, who were prepared for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year, that they should slay the third part of the men. ¹⁶And the number of the armies of the cavalry was two myriads of myriads:^l I heard the number of them. ¹⁷And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and those sitting on them, having breastplates as of fire, and of hyacinth, and of brimstone: and the heads of the horses were as of the heads of lions; and out of their mouths proceeds fire and smoke and brimstone.^m ¹⁸And from these three plagues the third of the men were slain, from the fire, and from the smoke, and from the brimstone, coming out of their mouth. ¹⁰For the power of the horses is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their tails are like serpents, having heads, and with them they do hurt. ²¹And the rest of the men who were not slain by these plagues did not repent of the works of their hands, that they should not worship demons, and idols of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and wood; which are neither able to see, nor to hear, nor to walk: ²¹and they did not repent of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

CHAPTER X.

John eats up the book of the angel.*

REVELATION X.

¹And I saw another mighty angel coming down out of the heaven, encircled with a cloud:^a and a rainbow was upon his head, and his face was like the sun, and his feet like pillars of fire:^b ²and having in his hand a little open book. And he placed his right foot upon the sea, and his left upon the earth, ³and he cried with a loud voice, as a lion roars. And when he cried the seven thunders uttered their voices. ⁴And when the seven thunders spoke, I was about to write: and I heard a voice speaking from the heaven, Seal those things which the seven thunders spoke, and write them not.^c ⁵And the angel, which I saw standing upon the sea and upon the land lifted up his right hand to the heaven,^d ⁶and he swore by him that liveth unto the ages of the ages, who created the heaven, and the things in it, and the earth, and the things in it, and the sea, and the things in it, that there shall be time no longer:^e ⁷but in the day of the voice of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound, and the mystery of God may be finished, when he has preached the gospel to his servants the prophets.^f ⁸And the voice which I heard from the heaven again speaking with me, and saying, Go, take the little book which is open in the hands of the angel who stands upon the sea and upon the land. ⁹And I went away to the angel, saying to him, to give me the little book. He says to me, Take it, and eat it up; and it will make your stomach bitter, but in your mouth it will be sweet as honey.^g ¹⁰And I took the little book out of the hand of the angel, and I ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and when I ate it, my stomach was bitter. ¹¹And they say to me, It behooves you again to prophesy before the many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings.

The temple is to be measured. The two witnesses, slain by the beast, revive, and ascend into heaven. The seventh trumpet. Hymn. Temple of God.

REVELATION XI.

¹And a reed like a rod was given unto me: saying, Arise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and those worshiping in it.^a ²And the outer court of the temple leave out, and measure it not; because it is given to the Gentiles: and they will tread down the holy city forty-two months. ³And I will give to my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred and sixty days, clothed in sackcloth.^b ⁴These are the two olive-trees, and the two candlesticks which are standing before the Lord of the earth.^c ⁵And if any one wishes to hurt them, fire goes forth out of their mouth, and devours their enemies:^d and if any one wishes to hurt them, thus it behooves him to be killed. ⁶They have power to shut up the heaven, that the rain may not fall during the days of their prophecy: and they have power over the waters to turn them into blood, and to smite the earth with every plague, so often as they may wish.^e ⁷And when they may finish their testimony, the beast which ascends up out of the bottomless pit will make war against them, and conquer them, and slay them.^f ⁸And their dead body will lie in the street of the great city, which is spiritually called Sodom and Egypt, where the Lord also was crucified. ⁹And those of the peoples and of tribes and of the tongues and of the nations see their dead body three days and a half, and do not suffer their bodies to be put in a sepulchre. ¹⁰And those dwelling on the earth rejoice over them, and make merry, and send gifts to one another; because these prophets tormented those dwelling upon the earth.^g ¹¹And after three and a half days the spirit of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell on those seeing them.^h ¹²And they heard a great voice out of the heaven saying to them, Come up hither; and they ascended up into the heaven in a cloud; and their enemies saw them. ¹³And at that hour there was a great earthquake, and the tenth of the city fell, and there were killed by the earthquake seven thousand persons: and the rest were affrighted, and gave glory to the God of the heaven.ⁱ ¹⁴The second Woe is passed; behold, the third woe comes quickly.^j

¹⁵And the seventh angel sounded; and there were great voices in the heaven, saying,^k The kingdom of this world has become the kingdom of our Lord, and his Christ; and he will reign until the ages of the ages.^l

CHAPTER XII.

The woman giving birth to the Meſſiah. The dragon. The dragon having been conquered by Michael, persecutes the woman and her seed.

REVELATION XII.

¹And there was a great sign in the heaven,^a a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars;^b ²and being in gestation, she also cries, travailing in pain, and suffering to bring forth.^c ³And there appeared another sign in the heaven; and behold the great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his heads seven diadems:^d ⁴and his tail draws the third of the stars of the heaven, and casts them to the earth. And the dragon stood before the woman about to bring forth, in order that he may eat up her child when she may bring it forth.^e ⁵And she brought forth a male son,^f who is about to shepherdize all the nations with an iron rod:^g and her child was caught up to God, and to his throne. ⁶And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she has there a place prepared of God, that they may there nourish her a thousand and two hundred and sixty days.^h ⁷And there was war in the heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon. ⁸And the dragon and his angels fought, and they did not prevail; neither was their place found any more in the heaven. ⁹And the great dragon, the old serpent, the one called the devil, and Satan, the one deceiving the whole world, was cast out: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.ⁱ ¹⁰And I heard a great voice in the heaven saying, Now has come salvation, and power, and the kingdom of our God, and the authority of his Christ: because the accuser of our brethren, the one accusing them before our God day and night, is cast out.^j ¹¹And they conquered him through the blood of the Lamb, and the

the book of life of the Lamb that was slain from the foundation of the world, will worship him.^f ⁹If any one has ears, let him hear. ¹⁰If any one leads into captivity he goes into captivity: if any one kills with a sword, it behooves him to be killed with a sword.^g Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

¹¹And I saw another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb, and he continued to speak as the dragon. ¹²And he exercises all the authority of the first beast before him. And he makes the earth and those dwelling in it, that they shall worship the first beast, whose wound of his death was healed.^h ¹³And he performs great signs, so that he can indeed make fire descend out of the heaven to the earth in presence of the people. ¹⁴And he deceives those dwelling upon the earth through the signs which it was given unto him to perform in the presence of the beast, saying to those dwelling on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, who had the wound of the sword, and did live.ⁱ ¹⁵And it was given unto him to give spirit to the image of the beast, in order that the image of the beast may indeed speak, and he may cause so many as will not worship the image of the beast that they should be killed.^j ¹⁶And he causes all, small and great, both rich and poor, both free and bond, that they may give them a mark on their right hand, or on their forehead:^k ¹⁷that no one may be able to buy or sell, except the one having the mark, the name of the beast, or the number of his name.^l ¹⁸Here is wisdom. Let the one having understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man. And his is, Six hundred and sixty-six.^m from heaven, as the sound of many waters, and as the sound of a great thunder: and the sound which I heard was as the sound of harpers harping with their harps:^b and they are singing a new song before the throne, and in presence of the four living creatures, and the elders.^c And no one was able to learn the song except the hundred and forty-four thousand, who have been redeemed from the earth.^d ⁴These are they who have not been defiled with women; for they are virgins. These are they who follow the Lamb whithersoever he may go. They have been redeemed from men, the first fruit unto God and the Lamb. ⁵And in their mouth no lie is found: for they are blameless.

⁶And I saw another angel flying in the midst of heaven, having the eternal gospel to preach to those dwelling upon the earth, and to every nation, and tribe, and tongue, and people,^e saying with a great voice, Fear God, and give glory to him; because the hour of his judgment is come: and worship him who made the heaven, and the earth, and the sea, and the fountains of the waters. ⁸And another second angel followed, saying, Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, who has made all the nation to drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.^f

⁹And another, the third angel followed these, saying with a great voice, If any one worships the beast and his image, and receives a mark upon his forehead, or upon his hand,^g and he shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, having been poured out without mixture in the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb.^h ¹¹And the smoke of their torment, ascends up into ages of ages:ⁱ and they have no rest day and night, who worship the beast and his image, and if any one receives the mark of his name.^j ¹²Here is the faith of the saints: who keep the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus. ¹³And I heard a voice from the heaven saying, Write; Blessed are the dead immediately, who die in the Lord.^k Yea, says the Spirit, that they shall rest from their labors; for their works do follow along with them.

¹⁴And I saw, and behold a white cloud, and on the cloud one sitting like the Son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.^l ¹⁵And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a great voice to the one sitting on the cloud, Send forth your sickle, and reap: because the hour of reaping has come; because the harvest of the earth is fully ripe.^m ¹⁶And the one sitting on the cloud thrust in his sickle to the earth; and the earth was reaped. ¹⁷And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, himself also having a sharp sickle: ¹⁸and another angel came out from the altar, having power over the fire; and he called with a great voice to the one having the sharp sickle, Send in thy sharp sickle, and reap the clusters of the vintage of the earth; because her grapes are fully ripe. ¹⁹And the angel cast his sickle into the Thy hymn of the conquerors of the beast. Seven angels with seven bowls of wrath.

REVELATION XV.

¹And I saw another sign in the heaven, great and wonderful, seven angels having the seven last plagues; that in them the wrath of God is finished.^a

²And I saw as it were a sea of glass mingled with fire: and those who conquer from the beast, and from his image, and from the number of his name, standing on the sea of glass, having the harps of God. ³And they are singing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb,^b saying, Great and wonderful are thy works, O Lord God Omnipotent; true and righteous are thy ways, thou King of the nations:^c ⁴Who may not fear, O Lord, and will not glorify thy name? because thou alone art holy; because all the nations shall come and worship before thee; because thy righteous acts have been made manifest.^d

⁵And after these things I saw, and the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in the heaven was open: ⁶and the seven angels, having the seven plagues, came out from the temple, clothed in clean, bright linen, and encircled about the breast with golden girdles.^e ⁷And one of the four living creatures gave to the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of God who liveth unto the ages of the ages.^f ⁸And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power; and no one was able to enter into the temple, until the seven plagues of the seven angels may be finished.^g

CHAPTER XVI.

The seven bowls of wrath are poured out; they become so many plagues upon the earth.

REVELATION XVI.

¹And I heard a great voice out of the temple saying to the seven angels, Go and pour out the seven bowls of the wrath of God upon the earth.^a ²and the first went away, and poured out his bowl upon the earth. And a destructive and grievous sore came on the men having the mark of the beast, and those worshipping his image.^b ³And the second poured out his bowl upon the sea; and it became as it were the blood of a dead man: and every soul of life died, whatsoever were in the sea.

⁴And the third poured out his bowl upon the rivers and fountains of the waters; and they became blood. ⁵And I heard the angel of the waters saying, Thou art worthy, who is, and who was, the Holy One, because thou hast judged these things; ⁶because they shed the blood of saints and of prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink; they are worthy.^c ⁷And I heard one speaking from the altar, Yes, Lord God Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgments.^d

⁸And the fourth poured out his bowl upon the sun; and it was given unto him to scorch the people with fire.^e ⁹And the people were scorched with a great heat, and blasphemed the name of God, Who has power over these plagues: and they did not repent to give him glory.^f

¹²And the sixth poured out his bowl upon the great river Euphrates; and his water was dried up, that the way of the kings who are from the rising of the sun may be prepared.^h ¹³And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet; ¹⁴for these are the spirits of demons, working miracles, which go forth to the kings of the whole earth, to lead them together into the war of the great day of God Almighty.ⁱ ¹⁵Behold, I am coming as a thief; blessed is the one watching and keeping his garments, in order that he may not walk about naked, and they may see his shame.^j ¹⁶And he led them into the place called Har-Magedon in the Hebrew.^k

CHAPTER XVII.

REVELATION XVII.

¹And one of the seven angels having the seven bowls, came and spoke with me, saying,^a Come hither, I will show thee the judgment of the great harlot, the one sitting upon many waters: ²with whom the kings of the earth committed fornication, and those dwelling upon the earth were made drunk from the wine of her fornication.^b ³And he carried me away in the Spirit into the wilderness. And I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast, having the names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.^c ⁴And the woman was clothed in purple and scarlet, and gilded with gold and precious stones and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand full of abominations and the impurities of her fornication:^d ⁵and upon her forehead her name was written; Mystery, Babylon The Great, The Mother of Harlots And The Abominations of The Earth.^e ⁶And I saw the woman drunken from the blood of the saints, and from the blood of the martyrs of Jesus: and seeing her, I was astonished with great astonishment. ⁷And the angel said to me, Wherefore wast thou astonished? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman and of the beast which carries her, having the seven heads and ten horns. ⁸The beast which you saw was, and is not; and is about to come up out of the abyss, and go into perdition:^f and those dwelling upon the earth, whose name has not been written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, will be astonished, seeing the beast, because he was, and is not, and will be.^g ⁹Here is a mind having wisdom. CHAPTER XVIII.

The fall of Babylon, the great harlot, is announced. The pious are commanded to come out of her. Weeping and mourning over her fall. The execration of the angel.

REVELATION XVIII.

¹After these things I saw another angel coming down out of the heaven, having great authority; and the earth was lighted with his glory.^a ²And he cried with a strong voice, saying, Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, and has become the habitation of demons, and the hold of every unclean spirit, and the den of every unclean and hateful bird;^b ³because all nations have fallen of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth have become rich from the costliness of her delicacy.^c

⁴And I heard another voice out of the heaven, saying, Come out from her, my people, in order that you may not partake of her sins, and in order that you may not receive of her plagues; ⁵because her sins have mounted up to heaven, and God has remembered her iniquities. ⁶Give unto her as indeed she has given, and double unto her double according to her works:

The hymn of the celestials in reference to God the Righteous Judge. The nuptials of the Lamb are made ready. Christ with his armics conquers the beast and his worshipers. Banquet of the birds.

REVELATION XIX.

¹After these things I heard as it were a great voice of a vast multitude in the heaven, saying, Hallelujah! Salvation, and glory, and power, belong to our God:^a ²because his judgments are true and righteous; because he has judged the great harlot, who corrupted the earth by her fornication, and he has avenged the blood of his servants from her hand.^b ³And a second time they said, Hallelujah! and her smoke is going up unto the ages of the ages.^c ⁴And the twenty-four elders and the four living creatures fell down and worshiped God who sitteth upon the throne, saying, Amen; Hallelujah!^d ⁵And a voice came out from the throne, saying, Praise our God, all ye his servants, ye who fear him, small and great.^e ⁶And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the sound of many waters, and as the sound of mighty thunders, saying, Hallelujah! because the Lord our God Omnipotent reigned.^f ⁷Let us rejoice and be glad, and give glory to him! because the marriage of the Lamb has come, and his wife has made herself ready.^g ⁸And it was given unto her that she should be clothed in linen, bright and clean.^h For the linen is the righteous acts of the saints. ⁹And he says to me, Write, Blessed are they who have been called to the marriage supper of the Lamb.ⁱ And He says to me, These are the true words of God. ¹⁰And I fell down before his feet to worship him. CHAPTER XXII.

The river and the tree of life. Eternal happiness. John, the faithful witness. Promises and threatenings of God. The faithful words are to be sacredly guarded. The return of Christ certain.

REVELATION XXII.

¹And he shewed me a river of the water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out from the throne of God and the Lamb.^a ²In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, is the tree of life, producing twelve manner of fruits, yielding its fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree are for the healing of the nations.^b ³And there shall be no more curse. And the throne of God and the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him: ⁴and they shall see his face; and his name shall be on their foreheads.^c ⁵And there shall be no more night; and they have no need of the light of a candle, nor the light of the sun; because the Lord God shines on them: and they shall reign until the ages of the ages.^d

⁶And he said to me, These words are faithful and true: and the Lord God of the spirits of the prophets has sent his angel to show to his servants the things which it behooves quickly to come to pass.^e ⁷Behold, I indeed am coming quickly. Blessed is the one keeping the words of the prophecy of this book.^f

⁸And I John am the one seeing and hearing these things; and when I heard and saw, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel, the one showing me these things. ⁹And he says to me, See that you do it not: I am your fellow-servant, and one of your brethren the prophets, and of those keeping the words of this book: worship God.^g

¹⁰And he says to me; Seal not the sayings of the prophecy of this book: for the season is nigh.^h ¹¹Let the unrighteous one still continue to do injustice; and let the filthy one still be filthy; and let the righteous one still do righteousness; and let the holy one still be sanctified.ⁱ ¹²Behold, I am coming quickly; and my reward is with me, to give unto each one as his work is.^j ¹³I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end. ¹⁴Happy are those who wash their robes, that they may have right to the tree of life, and enter in through the gates into the city.^k ¹⁵For without are dogs, and sorcerers, and harlots, and murderers, and idolaters, and every one doing and loving falsehood.^l ¹⁶I Jesus sent my angel to testify unto you these things in the churches.^m I am the root and offspring of David, the bright and morning-star.ⁿ

¹⁸I testify to every one hearing the words of the prophecy of this book.^p If any one may add to these things, God will add unto him the plagues which are written in this book: ¹⁹and if any one may take from the words of the book of this prophecy, God will take his part from the tree of life, and from the holy city, from the things which are written in this book.^q

²⁰The one testifying these things says, Yes, I am coming quickly. Amen, come Lord Jesus.^r

APOLOGUE.

To God be all the glory for permitting me to do this hardest work of my life. A solid dozen years, His dear people from the Atlantic to the Pacific have been constantly importuning me to translate our Lord's precious Word, as revealed in the New Covenant. I have not only spent my life sitting at the feet of Jesus, taught by the Holy Ghost the deep things of God; and at the same time availing myself of the facilities and instructions of the greatest critics of Christendom, especially those of Germany and England, among whom Tischendorf and Alford stand pre-eminent. In this translation I have used the text of the sainted Tischendorf, which God in His mercy hid away in a Christian convent on Mt. Sinai, before the bright light of the Apostolic Age had suffered the sad eclipse of apostasy and barbarism, which came upon the world about the beginning of the fourth century; and as it was Satan's millennium, it continued a thousand years, significantly known in history as the Dark Ages; darkness so dense, literature and science having retreated into the convents and monasteries, not one man in a thousand could read or write: meanwhile the Goths, Huns, and Vandals, who destroyed the Roman Empire, the upholder of ancient civilization, did their utmost to burn up the books, thus exterminating every vestige of light and learning; meanwhile sparing not the Word of God, as they were all heathens. This sweeping tide of blood and desolation was espoused and promoted by the Mohammedans, who arose in the seventh century, unfurling their bloody banner of the world's conquest, under the bold allegations of the False Prophet, as he boldly proclaimed his commission from God to wage a holy war to the ends of the earth, killing every one who would not accept the Koran as his only inspired authority, and Mohammed as God's greatest and last prophet. The Mohammedan wars, waged avowedly for the extermination of all other religions from the earth, and especially Christianity, lasted five hundred and fifty years, in fulfillment of prophecy Rev. ix. God in His great mercy kept a complete copy of the New Testament, safely hidden through the long, dark, and dreary centuries, from the Apostolic Age down to A. D. 1859, when He revealed it to His faithful servant, the learned Tischendorf. That was the year of my collegiate graduation. I had the fortune soon to procure a copy from Germany, which has been the constant companion of my life in all my peregrination by land and by sea. Of course the Sinaitic manuscript discovered by Tischendorf soon passed under the scrutinizing eyes of all the great critics of the world, receiving their appreciative indorsement.

You have in this translation, as I candidly believe before God and the saints whom I will soon meet in the judgment, the most literal, lucid, and perspicuous translation now extant in the English tongue.

The marginal references, as you will see, are quite copious and voluminous, succinctly focalizing the salient Scriptures of both Testaments on every passage. You may rely upon them as correct. If you do not find the corroboration in the identical verse, you will find it in the immediate vicinity, sufficiently convenient for all practical purposes.

You will find this volume a practical compendium of the whole Bible, and eminently convenient for the thorough investigation of all revealed truth. I can assure you, on my part, it is a living monument of my life-labor. You will find it the climacteric concomitant of my Commentaries, as well as all the important exegetical works wrought by the saints of all ages, expository of the precious Word.

I feel that the Holy Spirit has wonderfully assisted me in this arduous work by His heavenly illuminations, and will use this translation efficiently to the honor and glory of God; stirring up the saints in all lands to read the blessed Bible, and at the same inspiring them with fresh illuminations, enabling them to look deeper into the deep things of God, and themselves to realize a profounder, interior crucifixion to all transitory things, and sink down into the profound depths of self-annihilation, and realize a more glorious identification with God and heaven, and a richer fulness of faith and the Holy Ghost.

Now to the Holliness People, the dear saints of all nations, is this translation, with the nineteen books, which the Holy Spirit has hitherto given us; respectfully, fraternally, and lovingly dedicated. You constrained me to translate. Through the blessed providence and precious grace of our loving heavenly Father, in the name of our blessed Saviour, glorious Lord, and coming King; by the quickening illuminations, presence, and power of the Holy Ghost; I have done my work. So I now turn it over to you, to read, circulate, and utilize under the leadership of the Holy Ghost, for the glory of God. I do believe you are going to appreciate it, and thus honor and glorify the Father, Son, and Spirit, and expedite the return of our blessed, heavenly King, to bring to an end the reign of Satan, the wickedness of the world; establish His glorious millennial theocracy in all the earth to reign forever. "And unto Him who is able to keep you from falling, and to establish you blameless in the presence of His glory, with rejoicing; to God our only Saviour, through Jesus Christ our Lord, be glory, majesty, dominion, and authority before every age, and now, and unto all the ages; amen."
